1. INTRODUCTION

International financiers have a certain modus operandi: control the money supply to gain incredible wealth, use that wealth to buy power, then use that political power to forward their agenda of world domination. In 1832, Andrew Jackson waged a war against these world bankers in an attempt to protect US citizens from falling under their control. He sought to dismantle the Second Bank of the United States, a privately held banking corporation which possessed the sole monopoly on issuing US currency. Jackson knew if these international bankers gained total control over the US banking system, then our politicians would one day become their puppets, and we their slaves.

He was not wrong.

The purpose of this report is to provide for a rapid consumption of a vast quantity of material, material which is often censored from the public. Toward that end, quotes have often been paraphrased for brevity, statistics may have been rounded to the nearest unit, excerpts may have been condensed or otherwise edited for simplicity, and images have been taken directly from the source and placed into this document. When possible and expedient, links to the fully sourced documents have also provided.

Before we begin, it is important to establish a few ground rules. I ask that you honestly consider the facts as presented. Do not skim the material, but instead, read closely and think critically about the information contained herein. Perform your own research into these matters, and come to your own conclusions about them. To help in this endeavor, links to supplemental sources have been provided.

The following infographics serve as a good reminder to us all:

Think for yourself.

Trust yourself.

People who are unable to think for themselves are also unable to protect themselves against their rulers. The rulers of the world have attempted (and in many cases succeeded) in programming the masses into obedient followers. They call these people 'demoralized'.

In the end, you must be willing to change your mind when the facts warrant it. You must become capable of discerning the difference between authentic information and attempts to mislead. You must discover how to adjust your perspective through the application of reason applied to previously unknown evidence. You must be willing to take the time necessary to search for the truth and verify its legitimacy.

This is what it means to 'think for yourself'.

2. INTERNATIONAL BANKSTERS

First, I need to provide a bit of background on these international bankers and their supporters. The most well-known of the international banking elite are jews by the name Rothschild. Through cunning, deceit and treachery, the Rothschild family came to power after the Napoleonic wars by allying with other elite families, particularly, royals and nobles from England, France, Austria, Germany and Italy. Together, these families formed small clique of elites who eventually came to control the world's money supply. Today, these elite families have so much wealth and power that the members of these families do not even appear on lists of 'the wealthiest people in the world'. In other words, they are so wealthy that they do not even count as being wealthy: they are in an entirely different league altogether.

Additionally, Forbes excludes members of royal families and "dictators who derive their fortunes entirely as a result of their position of power." Newsweek

This small clique of families, which includes the Rothschild family, are sometimes referred to as the 'Cabal'. However, the Cabal, itself, originated as an ancient jewish occult religion called the 'Kabbalah', and has connections to the jews referenced as the 'Pharisees' in the Bible.

Unlike what many commonly believe today, these jewish Pharisees did not simply disappear after the New Testament came to a close. They continued living and continued practicing their Kabbalah religion which today is called judaism. Those who practice this occult religion are often referred to as 'jews'.

But to clarify, the term 'jew' can mean many different things. For the purpose of this report, it refers to a biological race of individuals who adhere to a set of practices found within the religious texts known as the 'Talmud' (or simply: the Oral Law). This definition could exclude certain jewish sects which reject Talmudic practices, such as Karaites, as well as certain atheistic or Messianic Jews who consider themselves to be jews merely due to a genetic lineage (rather than religion). On the other hand, it includes any racial jew (regardless of religious claims), if that jew's first allegiance is to the cult of judiasm. Moreover, it also includes any person (even if that person is not part of the jewish race nor even claims adherence to jewish law), as long as that person is obedient to the dictates of jews who are.

In short, the Cabal is led by the world's elite families, funded by jewish international banksters, directed by jewish rabbis, and supported by international jewry and their obedient non-jewish followers.

3. THE JEWS AND CHRISTIANS

But wait! Aren't the jews 'God's chosen people'?

It is true that the jews often call themselves 'God's chosen people'. However, jews make this claim not because it is true or even because it is supported by religious texts; instead, they make this claim because of the benefits they receive for deceiving others into believing that God has bestowed upon them a "privileged" status.

This "privileged" status is then used to great effect: it can help jews avoid legal problems, it is used to unduly manipulate Christian opinion and thereby gain their unwarranted support, and ultimately, it allows jews to unjustifiably reap financial benefits and seize power.

After all, if anyone tries to call them out on their lies, thefts, and other deceptions, the jews quickly appeal to claims of anti-Semitism.

On the contrary, according to Biblical texts, the true people 'chosen by God' are the descendants of Abraham, not an elite Cabal of banking 'Pharisees' who call themselves 'jews' to cover for their wicked actions. Biblical texts reference a genetic lineage, not a religious one:

"On that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram and said, 'To your descendants I give this land, from the Wadi of Egypt to the great river, the Euphrates." -Genesis 15:18

But here is the problem for these jews: if God's chosen people are selected due to genetic lineage, then why do practitioners of judaism resort to evangelism in foreign lands? Here is an example:

"Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You travel over land and sea to win a single convert, and when you have succeeded, you make them twice as much a child of hell as you are." -Matthew 23:15

In the above passage, not only do we see that Jesus calls the Pharisees the 'children of Hell', but he also calls them out for their false evangelism of a false religion. Though they call themselves 'jews', the members of this elite Cabal of Pharisees are exactly who Christ said they were: the children of Hell.

Unfortunately, the lies of the Cabal have a stranglehold over many people today, and these lies have deceived many Christians into believing that the 'jews' really are the 'chosen people'. Christ's words, however, are clear on this subject:

Jesus: "Jews are the children of Satan." - John 8:44

"But they're still your chosen people, right?"

Jesus: "Jews are the synagogue of Satan." -Revelation 2:9

"But Israel is our greatest ally cuz they're your chosen people."

Jesus: "SYNAGOGUE OF SATAN!" - Revelation 3:9

"But you still have a plan for them. Gotta support Israel, amirite?"

Jesus: "The kingdom of God shall be taken from the Jews and given to another nation." -Matthew 21:43

"I get it, I get it...we should support Israel because they are chosen."

In short, the followers of judaism have deceived many Christians into believing the jews are 'God's chosen people'. This deception is designed to manipulate Christians into supporting the 'children of Satan'.

How was it possible to deceive so many Christians into supporting the jews, and their father, Satan?

To answer this question, we must look at the powerful impact Cyrus Scofield had on the American Christian mind. During the late 19th century, no God-fearing Christian would have intentionally supported the jews (at least not at the expense of another people), and certainly they would not have supported a Zionist plot to steal the land and the livelihoods from Palestinian Christians. The elite Jewish Cabal knew this. As a result, the jews began a nefarious scheme to infiltrate Protestant Christendom.

After several failed attempts, the Rothschilds found a particularly devious individual named Cyrus Scofield. Scofield was a convicted conman. His life of swindling not only landed him in prison, but it also earned him the ear of many powerful individuals, one of whom was an influential jewish lawyer named Samuel Untermeyer, a fanatical Zionist agent of the Rothschild banking cartel. Untermeyer was a key figure in the financial war the jews waged against Germany in 1933.

As part of a deal made with Untermeyer, Scofield was required to exchange his Catholic wife for a Protestant one. Untermeyer also arranged for all of Scofield's criminal charges to be dropped, and for his criminal record to be expunged, paving the way for Scofield to earn a position as an influential protestant minister in New York, and gaining him a leading position in the Young Men's Christian Association.

Untermeyer then arranged for Scofield to gain membership to the Lotus Club of New York, a prestigious club catering to non-Christians. There he was introduced to numerous Zionist and socialist leaders, including Samuel Gompers, Fiorello LaGuardia, Abraham Straus, Bernard Baruch and Jacob Schiff.

Samuel Untermeyer

This culminated in Scofield partnering with scholars Westcott and Hort in London, both of whom were very active in occult rituals, and who founded Hermes, a club noted for aggressive homosexual activities, and *Ghost Soc*iety, a séance group which communed with the dead. Interestingly, one of its members included Arthur Balfour, who in 1917, bequeathed Palestine (Israel) to the Rothschilds as 'a national home for the Jewish people'.

Scofield, working with Westcott, Hort and the members of the Lotus Club, wrote a new version of the Bible which later came to be known as the Scofield Study Bible. It utilized the King James translation, but then inserted Zionist-friendly "interpretations" of the Biblical text in the margins, between verses and chapters, and on the bottoms of the pages. This helped to ensure that anyone who read the Scofield Study Bible would make the "correct" interpretation of the text. According to Scofield's wealthy jewish supporters, the "correct" interpretation was a Zionist-friendly interpretation.

Never before had a Bible included "clarifying" notes directly within the translation, and the result made studying the Bible much more efficient since the "correct" interpretation of the Biblical passages were now given directly to the reader. Coupled with a jewish-financed advertising campaign, as well as Scofield's influence in the YMCA (and their associated Bible studies), the Scofield Bible rapidly became the most popular Bible in America. It was soon considered the standard reference work in virtually all Christian ministries and divinity schools in the Protestant world. As a result, this perversion of Biblical doctrine went on to educate an entire generation of American pastors on the "correct" way to interpret Biblical passages.

Although it took many failed attempts and a great deal of jewish financing, the invention of the Scofield Study Bible allowed the elite jewish banking Cabal to control mainstream Christian thought. By the late 20th Century, the jews had transformed 'Christian believers' (who had historically opposed the satanic jews) into 'radial Christian Zionists' (who now supported them as "God's Chosen"). So influential was this jewish scheme upon the American mind that few American Christians today can separate the heretical ideas contained within the Scofield Bible from those which permeated Christian culture over the previous two millennium.

Following is a small sampling of the heresies found in the Scofield Bible:

- 1. The Jews must return to Israel—this false belief caused Christian America to support the Rothschild banking elite when they illegally seized land (Israel) from the Palestinians who legally controlled it.
- 2. God selected the jews as his "Chosen People" and that God will bless those who bless the jews—this false belief has caused Christians to support and excuse jewish behavior, no matter how vile, simply because those Christians were tricked into believing that only the jews were to receive the benefits of the Abrahamic covenant. Such a belief violates God's own words which gave the promise to all of Abraham's descendants, including not only the Judeans from the Southern Kingdom, but also the northern tribes of the Kingdom of Israel and the Ishmaelites (note: both of these latter groups were excluded by Scofield's reinterpretation of the Biblical scriptures).
- 3. There are different "dispensations" and that we are currently in the 6th dispensation called "grace"—this false belief removed the threat of hellfire from the believers, eventually culminating into the bold acceptance of sin into the Church. This, in turn, allowed the American public to accept degeneracies such as homosexuality and child sacrifice (abortion) into their public life. Even more sinister, however, was that this false belief ushered in the idea that the Christian Church was destined to come to an end after the 6th dispensation, whereupon the jews would then be reinstated back in their rightful position under God, in what Scofield called the 7th dispensation: the Jewish era (when the land of Israel would be returned to the jews, the temple rebuilt, animal sacrifices reinstituted, and the Noahhide Laws again enforced under a Sanhedrin).
- 4. There will be a worldwide tribulation and persecution under the antichrist for seven years, but that the Christians would not have to worry about this since they will be "raptured"—this false belief caused Christians to take on an apathetic attitude toward politics, education, business and the arts (as these things were not viewed as "worldly" matters). This callous attitude allowed jews to infiltrate into (and eventually control the American government, American media, the arts, the banking system, the legal system, the healthcare system, and the education system in America. The jews then weaponized these against those very same Christians who allowed this to happen.

So influential have these heretical pro-Zionist ideas been upon American Christians that the Scofield Study Bible is often referred to as the Jewish Bible, and had it never existed, neither could have the State of Israel.

Researchers have examined Scofield's eschatology and exposed his work as apostate and heretical to traditional Christian views. Among these is a massive work by Stephen Sizer entitled Christian Zionism, Its History, Theology and Politics. Here is are links to a summery of his works (1) (2) (3). (A)

It is also significant that Oxford, not Scofield, owns the Scofield Bible, and that after Scofield's death, Oxford accelerated changes to it. Massive pro-Zionist notes were added to the 1967 edition, and some of Scofield's most significant notes from the original editions were removed where they apparently failed to further Zionist aims fast enough. Despite these changes, this edition retains the title, "The New Scofield Reference Bible, Holy Bible, Editor C.I. Scofield." Let us look at a few of these more recent alterations:

Example1.

"For a nation to commit the sin of anti-Semitism brings inevitable judgment."

-page 19-20, footnote (3) to Genesis 12:3.

It should be noted there is no word for "anti-Semitism" in the Bible, so why was this particular word-choice used? Could it be to stifle legitimate criticism of Zionist jews? (link). Moreover, 'sin' is a personal concept. It is something done by individuals in conflict with God's Word, not by nations. Even Sodom did not sin against God—its people did.

Example 2. In Genesis 12:3, God specifically states that He will bless those who bless Abraham, and curse those who curse Abraham, and that through Abraham, all nations of the world will be blessed. However, on page 19, the Oxford 1967 Edition provided this explanatory footnote:

"There is a promise of blessing upon those individuals and nations who bless Abram's descendants, and a curse laid upon those who persecute the jews."

One must be quick to ask why only the jews are considered to be the descendants of Abraham? Why has the Scofield Bible excluded the descendants of Abraham who resided in the Northern Kingdom? Not only this, why have the descendants of Abraham through Ishmael also being excluded as well? All three groups are, in fact, 'Abraham's seed'. Why has the most popular and most influential American Bible, which has been designed, funded and promoted by jews, decided to removed God's blessing from all groups and then place that blessing solely upon the head of the jew?

Example 3. In addition to the blessing bestowed upon all of Abraham's seed, the Biblical texts also offer a separate covenant to the children of Isaac. The Oxford 1967 Edition in the footnote on page 19, then convolutes these separate and distinct blessings by suggesting these both only belong to the jews:

"God made an unconditional promise of blessings through Abram's seed to the nation of Israel to inherit a specific territory forever."

By combining these separate covenants while simultaneously limiting the blessing to "the jews", one can be deceived into not only imagining that the jews are God's chosen people, but also that the jews ought to inherent the land of Israel; and although both of these false "interpretations" are found in the Scofield Study Bible, neither of these beliefs are found in the actual Biblical texts. It is true that the Bible records a covenant between God and Abraham to deliver the promised land to the children of Abraham through Isaac (Gen 17:21), but it is untrue that this promise is limited to the jew (as the Scofield Bible implies), since this promise also includes the non-Judaic Hebrews from the Northern Kingdom of Israel.

Example 4. Of course, the above alteration was not enough for the Zionist publishers at Oxford. They then adding an extra-Biblical prophesy in the footnote on the bottom of page 19-20, which states:

"It has invariably fared ill with the people who have persecuted the jew, well with those who have protected him. The future will still more remarkably prove this principle."

Again, one must wonder why the jewish Zionists felt the original Bible was not sufficient for Christians? Why did they decide that American Christians needed to be taught pro-jewish heretical prophesies?

Example 5. In John 8:44, Jesus specifically states that the jewish Pharisees are the children of Satan. Moreover, Jesus addresses the sins of these jews in no less than 77 verses. Yet, the Scofield Bible decided to add a footnote which attempts to deflect Jesus' accusations against these Pharisees by instead placing the sins of these jews upon all people. Why would the editors of the Scofield Bible feel the need to deflect the thoughts of today's Christians away from any close inspection of the jews?

What Zionist Christians think they are doing:

Zionist Christians

What they are actually doing:

Palestinian Christians

The real question we must ask ourselves is why the jews (whom the Bible refers to as the Children of the Great Deceiver) would decide to fund a study Bible to "help" their avowed enemy? Only after realizing that the Scofield Study Bible has been perverted to deceive and harm Christianity does this make sense.

Many additional examples could be included, but for the sake of brevity, these five shall suffice to demonstrate that the Scofield Reference Bible has been corrupted. None of these additions and footnotes make any sense except to manipulate Christians into unjustly supporting jews, their Zionist State of Israel, and its perpetual war against Christianity.

The reality is that there is no such thing as "the chosen jewish people." God made two covenants with Abraham. The first provided a blessing to all of Abraham's seed. This includes his descendants through both Isaac as well as Ishmael (never were the jews were specifically named). Then God made a covenant to give the land of Israel to Abraham's descendants through Isaac, which includes the Hebrews from both the Northern Kingdom as well as the Southern Kingdom of Judah. Yet again, the jews were not specifically named.

In this way, the covenant with Isaac built upon the previous one with Abraham. The jews, themselves, were never 'specifically chosen' by God for any covenant. Moreover, when God came to 'cut down the tree of Israel', God built yet another covenant upon the foundation of these former two covenants. This New Covenant would provide redemption through Christ to all who would receive it, via the fruit of repentance. Those jews who repented to Christ became known as Christians, whereas those who rejected Christ continued to live on, even to this day, calling themselves by the name jew. According to this New Covenant, the jews have actually been rejected by God, not chosen:

Mathew 21:3

"There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen. Then he went into a far country. When harvest time drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen to receive the fruits of the harvest, but the husbandmen took his servants, beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

"Again, the householder sent more servants, and the husbandmen did unto them likewise. Last of all, the householder sent unto them his very son, saying, 'Surely they will reverence my son.' But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, 'this is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize the vineyard for ourselves!' And they caught him, and slew him.

"When the householder returns to the vineyard, he will miserably destroy those wicked men and let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen."

Jesus continues, "Therefore, the kingdom of God will be taken from the jews and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits of the vineyard."

John 8:29-59 "Jesus said, 'The truth will set you free.'

"The jews answered, 'We be Abraham's seed, so we are already free.'

"Jesus replied, 'I know you are Abraham's seed, but you are not the true children of Abraham. If you were Abraham's children, then you would do the works of Abraham, but now you try to kill me to silence me for speaking the truth. Abraham loved the truth. Therefore, you are not his children. You do the works of your real father, the devil. Satan was a murder and a liar from the very beginning. You won't believe the truth because you belong to the father of all lies.'

"Then the jews took up stones to murder Jesus."

Matthew 3:7-12 "Many Pharisees came to see John baptizing the people. John said, 'You wicked snakes! Who warned you to flee the coming wrath? Even now, the axe is laid against the root of Israel, and every one of you who does not bear the fruit of repentance will be hewn down. And do not say in your heart that Abraham is your father, for that will not save you. God could turn these very stones into the true children of Abraham, and neither would it save the rocks from the unquenchable fire which has been prepared for you."

In short, the jews are the children of the Great Deceiver, and they have deceived many Christians into believing that the jews are 'God's chosen people'. Even now there are Christian Zionists who falsely imagine they have been commanded by God to give their full support to the jews and their Satanic agenda.

These people who call themselves 'jews' are not now nor have ever been the followers of Peter, James and John, as many Christian Zionists have been deceived into believing. Rather, they are of the followers of the Pharisees. They are the children of Satan. They have been rejected by God and are the enemies of Christ.

Ok, so the jews are the children of Satan and have been rejected by God. But what about the Judeo-Christian tradition? Do not Christians and Jews share many religious aspects?

The answer to this question is most assuredly not. The children of Christ share as much with the children of Satan as Christ shares with Satan, himself. To understand this, we must understand the difference between the ancient Hebrews of Israel and modern judaism.

Concerning the ancient Hebrews: it was not long after its founding that the ancient nation of Israel was split into two separate kingdoms: the Kingdom of Israel in the north, and the Kingdom of Judah in the south. This separation was the reason they are referenced independently in the Biblical texts. For example:

> Jeremiah 50:33, concerning the Babylonian Captivity: "Thus saith the LORD of hosts; The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go."

Ezekiel 9:9: "Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood..."

However, not only had the nation of Israel been split into two separate kingdoms, but so was the ancient Hebrew religion. With the fall of Judah, the ancient religion practiced by the Hebrews came to an end and was replaced by the new religion which is today called judaism:

"The exile is the watershed. With the exile, the religion of Israel comes to an end and Judaism begins."

-Yehezkel Kaufmann, Harvard (http://everything.explained.today/Babylonian_captivity/) (A)

"The return from Babylon, and the adoption of the Babylonian Talmud, marks the end of Hebrewism, and the beginning of Judaism." -Stephen S. Wise, former chief rabbi of the United States

Thus we see that even according to their own history, the jews do not consider themselves to be the same nation as the ancient Hebrews (which was fractured into two separate nations). Moreover, the according to their own history, the jews do not consider themselves to be practicing the same religion as the ancient Israelites of the Old Testament.

Although both judaism and Christianity have their origins in the ancient Hebrew tradition, the two have no direct connection with each other.

By falsely claiming a common heritage with Christianity, jews seek to twist Christianity into a perversion of itself. Such a claim is nothing more than an attack against Christians to deceive them into believing they and the jews are allies. Claiming a common Judeo-Christian heritage is nothing more than a jewish attack on the minds of Christians and a perversion of Christian history.

"Christianity did not derive from judaism; rather, judaism is a perversion of Christianity."

-St. Ignatius of Antioch

While it is certainly true that Christians share a heritage with the ancient nation of the Hebrews, and while it is certainly true that Christians share a heritage with the ancient religion practiced by the ancient Hebrews, it is likewise true that Christianity does not share a heritage with this new religion of judaism. Christians and jews share no common heritage.

Since Christians share a common heritage with the ancient Hebrews; they share a Christian-Hebrew tradition. Likewise, though the jews do not share a common heritage with Christianity, the jews do share a common heritage with the ancient Hebrews; that is to say: a Judaic-Hebrew tradition.

But there is certainly not such thing as a Judeo-Christian tradition. Christians and jews, share nothing. In fact, the entire phrase 'Judeo-Christian' is quite modern, indeed:

"Judeo-Christian"

"Any time you put a modifier in front of a word that is inherently good, you turn it into a perversion of itself."

-Ben Shapiro (jew) Link (A)

The following article makes this even more clear.

ON JUDEO-CHRISTIANITY

Newsweek cites authorities who indicate that "the idea of a common Judeo-Christian tradition first surfaced at the end of the 19th century but did not gain popular support until the 1940s, as part of an American reaction to Nazism . . ," and concludes that, "Since then, both Jewish and Christian scholars have come to recognize that -- geopolitics apart -- Judaism and Christianity are different, even rival religions."

Joshua Jehouda, a prominent French Jewish leader, observed in the late 1950s: "The current expression 'Judaeo-Christian' is an error which has altered the course of universal history by the confusion it has sown in men's minds, if by it one is meant to understand the Jewish origin of Christianity... If the term 'Judaeo-Christian' does point to a common origin, there is no doubt that it is a most dangerous idea. It is based on a 'contradictio in abjecto' which has set the path of history on the wrong track. It links in one breath two ideas which are completely irreconcileable, it seeks to demonstrate that there is no difference between day and night or hot and cold or black and white, and thus introduces a fatal element of confusion to a basis on which some, nevertheless, are endeavouring to construct a civilisation."

The few New Testament 'proof texts' utilised by Christian Zionists and secular proponents of the modern Judeo-Christian myth are the product of poor translation. Messianic Jewish writer Malcolm Lowe in his paper "Who Are the Ioudaioi?" concludes, like Robert and Mary Coote, that the Greek word "Ioudaioi" in the New Testament should be translated as "Judeans", rather than the more usual "Jews". The Israeli scholar David Stern also came to the same conclusion when translating the Jewish New Testament.

Few Christians are aware that the translators of Scripture often mistranslated the word "Jew" from such words as "Ioudaioi" (meaning from, or being of as a geographic area, Judean). The word Judean, mistranslated as "Jew" in the New Testament, never possessed a valid religious connotation, but was simply used to identify members of the native population of the geographic area known as Judea.

Also it is important to understand that in the Scriptures, the terms "Israel", "Judah" and "Jew" are not synonymous, nor is the House of Israel synonymous with the House of Judah. The course of history is widely divergent for the peoples properly classified under each of these titles. Accordingly, the authoritative 1980 Jewish Almanac says, "Strictly speaking it is incorrect to call an ancient Israelite a Jew or to call a contemporary Jew an Israelite or a Hebrew."

A writer for The Dearborn Independent, published in Michigan back in 1922, summarised the problem thus: "The pulpit has also the mission of liberating the Church from the error that Judah and Israel are synonymous. The reading of the Scriptures which confuse the tribe of Judah with Israel, and which interpret every mention of Israel as signifying the Jews, is at the root of more than one-half the confusion and division traceable in Christian doctrinal statements."

While the Pharisees recognized the laws of Moses, they also claimed that there was a great body of oral tradition which was of at least equal authority with the written Law - and many claimed that the Tradition was of greater authority. By their tradition, they undertook to explain and elaborate upon the Law. This was the "Tradition of the Elders", to which the name of Talmud was later given. It had its beginning in Babylon, during the Babylon captivity of the people of Judah, where it developed in the form of the commentaries of various rabbis, undertaking to explain and apply the Law. This was the foundation of Rabbinic Judaism.

This Judaism was very different from the religion of the ancient Israelites. The late Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who was the Chief Rabbi of the United States, expressed this conclusively when he said: "The return from Babylon, and the adoption of the Babylonian Talmud, marks the end of Hebrewism, and the beginning of Judaism." The Jewish Encyclopedia tells us that the Talmud is actually "the product of the Palestinian and Babylonian schools" and is generally referred to as "the Babylonian Talmud".

Dr. Boaz Cohen in Everyman's Talmud states the Talmud is the work of "numerous Jewish scholars over a period of some 700 years, roughly speaking, between 200 [B.C.] and 500 [A.D.]."

Rabbi Louis Finkelstein in Volume 1 of The Pharisees, the Sociological Background of their Faith says, "Pharisaism became Talmudism, Talmudism became Medieval Rabbinism, and Medieval Rabbinism became Modern Rabbinism. But throughout these changes of name, inevitable adaption of custom, and adjustment of Law, the spirit of the ancient Pharisee survives unaltered."

The Talmud, more than any other literature, so defined Judaism that Rabbi Ben Zion Bokser admitted, "Judaism is not the religion of the Bible." (Judaism and the Christian Predicament, 1966, p. 159) It is the Talmud that guides the life and spirit of the Jewish people.

This is to say, therefore, that the central message of the Old Testament has been fulfilled in the New Testament. It must be understood that this was the position of Christendom for at least 1900 years. It was the position, not only of Justin Martyr, but of such Stalwart saints as Irenaeus and Hippolytus; a position embraced by Martin Luther and John Calvin, the two towering figures of the Protestant Reformation.

Christianity and Judaism are two distinct religious inheritances, despite all the superficial attempts by modern scholars to manufacture a naive "Judeo-Christianity." The very term "Judeo-Christian" is a mischievous misnomer without historical or Scriptural validity.

The religions of the world are the product of progressive revelation to a diverse humanity, separately expressing as they do the great metaphysical realities of life. Attempts to distort or eliminate these unique, ancient and divinely ordained patterns, through non-divine syncretism and politically-motivated concoctions, is both anti-traditional and truly diabolical.

Appeals to a nonexistent historical unity and calls for a banal, modernist theology do nothing for religious understanding and mutual respect. "Judeo-Christianity" should be seen for what it is - another secular twentieth century fraud, manufactured for narrow political ends, that is supremely disrespectful to all true believers.

But aren't the jews the same people as the those who lived in the ancient Kingdom of Judah? They have the same name, after all.

The answer to this is no, they are not the same people. When the ancient Israelites were taken into captivity during the 7th century B.C., their lands, their fields, and their towns did not lay dormant. A common practice of ancient kings was to move new inhabitants into the freshly conquered lands. As a result of the destruction of the Kingdom of Israel, the Israelites were taken into captivity and foreigners were placed into these recently vacated lands. Likewise, when the remnants of the tribe of Judah were taken into captivity during the 5th century B.C, Edomites were placed into the land of Judah.

When the ancient people of Judah returned to their lands over the course of the next century, they returned to lands occupied by these Edomites. This caused no end of trouble because the returning Judeans were small in number and had no defensive fortifications to protect against these secured and emplaced Edomites. However, the Edomites feared the might of the Persian Empire which had issued the royal decree of return to the Judeans. A precarious peace was established between the returning Judeans and the occupying Edomites. This peace was secured by forcibly converting these Edomites into Judeans through circumcision. This, in turn, led to miscegenation which eventually culminated into a mixed race who called themselves jews.

Moreover, with the prominence of the Oral Tradition that had been established during the captivity in Babylon, as well as the formation of the Babylonian Talmud, a new religion began to take shape and eventually came to be known as judaism.

Thus, the Babylonian Captivity laid the groundwork for establishing both a new people (the jews) and a new religion (judaism). This is reason why Rabbi Stephen Wise, Yehezkel Kaufmann and others declare the Captivity as marking the end of Hebraism of the Old Testament and the beginning of modern jewry.

Of course, the return from Captivity only marks the beginning of this centuries-long process. Eventually, those Edomites who had resisted both religious and physical miscegenation were eventually converted to judaism through other methods, such as the military campaigns of John Hyrcanus.

By the turn of the millennium, the admixture of the Edomites into the ancient Israelite bloodline resulted in a genetic lineage much different than that of the original Hebrews who once occupied ancient Israel and Judah, just as the admixture of the Babylonian Talmud resulted in a jewish religion much different than that practiced by the ancient Hebrews.

So who were the Edomites?

The Edomites were descendants of Esau, the grandson of Abraham through Isaac. Esau race-mixed with the dark-skinned Canaanites. This miscegenation resulted in the arab race of Edomites. In fact, the Aramaic term 'arab' even means 'to racially mix'. An example can be found in the non-Aramaic pronunciation of the word 'arab':

Ezra 9:2, "They took the daughters of the Canaanites for themselves, and for their sons: and so that the holy seed "mixed" with foreign peoples."

According to Scripture, God viewed such race-mixing as a betrayal, and so Esau's inheritance passed to Jacob. This is the reason why in John 8:33, when Christ spoke with the Pharisees, they answered him, "We be Abraham's seed," (which was true as they were race-mixed Edomite descendants of Easu, who was, himself, a descendant of Abraham), but then the Pharisees continued, "and were never in bondage to any man." Had the Pharisees been descendants of Jacob (rather than Esau), they could not say such a thing since the descendants of Jacob had been held in bondage in Babylon. Thus, this verse demonstrates the Pharisees were, in fact, Edomite descendants of Abraham through Esau.

But wasn't Jesus a jew?

To answer this question, it must first be understood that one could be considered a "jew" through one's religion, or through one's genetic lineage. Concerning genetic lineage, it has already been stated that the people who call themselves jews are actually descendants of Abraham through the arab lineage of Esau. With this understanding, one cannot claim that Jesus is a jew. This is because Jesus was a descendant of Abraham through the line of Jacob, not Esau.

The Lutheran theologian, Professor Georg Hermann Schnedermann (1852-1917) of the University of Leipzig also explained the distinction between the Israelite (Jacobite) and the jewish (Edomite) elements which existed during the time of Christ. He wrote, "Though Judaism reigned in the schools of the scribes and held the field to outward appearance, yet an 'Israelite' strain still prevailed in a certain section of society." Moreover, Jesus, himself, claimed that he was not sent to the jews, but to the "lost sheep of the house of Israel.

John 10:24-27: "Then came the jews round about him, and said unto him, 'If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.'

"Jesus answered them, "I told you, and ye believed not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you. My sheep hear by voice, and I know them, and they follow me."

Hence, we see the jews were not of the house of Israel. They were not descendants of Jacob; rather, they were merely arab jews through the lineage of Esau.

Concerning religion, Jesus himself makes it clear that he did not consider himself to be jewish when he rebuked the false religion of the jewish Pharisees.

Mathew 15:1-3: "Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying, 'Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they was not their hands when they eat bread.'

"But Jesus answered and said unto them, 'Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?'"

In the above verse, the inclusion of the word 'also' shows Jesus openly admits to transgressing the jewish traditions. At the same time, it also shows he denounces these jewish traditions as a transgression of God's command. In this verse, Jesus has made a clear distinction between the ancient Hebrew religion which was founded on the command of God, and the new jewish religion founded on the Babylonian Talmud.

So is judaism a religion or a race?

If you are a bit confused by the difference, you are not the only one. For instance:

As further evidence, here is a link (A) to a scientific study of craniometry which suggests that jews are a race. From the _______study:

"As is at presently accepted by nearly all anthropologists, the shape of the head is the most stable characteristic of a given race. It is little if at all influenced by climate, environment, nutrition, or sexual and social selection. The only way the type of the head may change is by intermixture with other races."

The study then concludes that jewish skulls maintain a 98% homogeny, implying that jews are a race, first and foremost. Moreover, the existence of atheist jews further attests to this fact.

Of course, jews also have a jewish culture which strongly incorporates religious practices. In addition, because jewish evangelism can allow outsiders into the group, one need not be of a certain race to become jewish. Thus we may conclude that being racially jewish strongly correlates to being a jew, yet jewishness is not necessarily racial. Likewise, being religiously jewish strongly correlates to being a jew, yet jewishness is not necessarily religious.

The best way to understand the complexity of this situation is to imagine judaism as a cult. To gain admittance into a cult, one must earn this through complete and total loyalty to the cult leaders. Genetics and religious practices may assist in demonstrating that loyalty, though these are no guarantee of admission. Many racial jews have been cast out of this elite club because of simple disobedience, and many non-jews and atheists have been admitted purely because of their devotion to it.

To put it simply: Judaism is a cult.

But even if the jews today are genetically Edomites rather than ancient Hebrews, and even if Christianity and judaism are different religions, don't they have the same historic foundation in ancient Hebraism? How much different could the jewish Talmud really be from the Christian Bible?

First of all, Jesus claims the jewish religion is simply a man-made idea:

Matthew 15:1-9 "Some Pharisees and teachers of religious law now arrived from Jerusalem to see Jesus. They asked him, 'Why do your disciples disobey our age-old tradition? For they ignore our tradition of ceremonial hand washing before they eat.'

Jesus replied, 'And why do you, by your traditions, violate the direct commandments of God? ...you cancel the word of God for the sake of your own tradition. You hypocrites! Isaiah was right when he prophesied about you, for he wrote,

'These people honor me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me. Their worship is a farce, for they teach man-made ideas as if they were commands from God.'"

Secondly, Christianity and judaism are the two most contrasting religions in the world:

JUDAISM FROM THE TALMUD	CHRISTIANITY FROM THE BIBLE
Approves of Sodomy: "If one committed sodomy with a child of less than nine years, no guilt is incurred" (Sanhedrin 54b).	Prohibits Sodomy: "Thou shall not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination" (Lev. 18:22).
Approves of Child Sacrifice to Idols: "He who gives of his seed to Molech incurs no punishment" (Sanhedrin 64a).	Prohibits Child Sacrifice to Idols: "Whoever gives any of his seed to Molech: he shall surely be put to death" (Lev. 20:2).
Cursing Parents Allowed: "One who curses his parents isn't punished unless he curses them by Divine name" (Sanhedrin 66a).	Cursing Parents Prohibited: "He that curses his father or mother, shall be put to death" (Exod. 21:17, Matt. 15:4).
Allows Enchanting: "It is permitted to consult by a charm the spirits of oil and eggs, and make incantations" (Sanhedrin 101a).	Disallows Enchanting: "None of you shall be an enchanter or a charmer, or consulter with familiar spirits" (Deut. 18:10-11).
Bestiality Condoned: "Women having intercourse with a beast can marry a priest, the act is but a mere wound" (Yebamoth 59b).	Bestiality Condemned: "You shall not lie with any beast, nor shall any woman stand before a beast to lie with it" (Lev. 18:23).
Harlotry Lawful: "A harlot's hire is permitted, for what the woman has received is legally a gift" (Abodah Zarah 62b-63a).	Harlotry Unlawful: "She that plays the whore in her father's house shall be put to death (Deuteronomy 22:21).
Blasphemy Allowed: "One can revile the Divine Name if mentally applying it to some other object" (Sanhedrin 65a-b).	Blasphemy Punishable: He that blasphemes the name of the LORD shall surely be put to death" (Leviticus 24:16).
Not required to Keep Vows: One may declare: "Every vow which I may make in the future shall be null" (Nedarim 23a-23b).	Required to Keep Vows: "If a man vows, he shall not break his word he shall do according to all tha he spoke" (Numbers 30:2).
Murder Condoned: "If ten men smote a man with ten staves and he died, they are exempt from punishment" (Sanhedrin 78a).	Murder Forbidden: "He that smites a man with a stave so he dies, he is a murderer and shall be put to death" (Num. 35:18).

Here are some excerpts from the Jewish Cabal's religious texts which demonstrate they view all other people as mere cattle to be enslaved. They also believe that if any cattle resist such enslavement, those cattle must be slaughtered.

54b³ ARBA MISOS CHAPTER SEVEN SANHEDRIN

The Gemara continues to analyze the disputes between R' Yishmael and R' Akiva:

הנרבע לַבְּהַמָה – If one is both sodomized by a male and sodomized by an animal in one period of unawareness, for how many chataos is he liable? אַמֶּר רָבִּי אָבָהוּ - R' Abahu said: According to the view of R' Akiva – לְרַבְרֵי רָבִי עָקִיבָא חָנִיב שְׁתַּיִם he is liable for two chataos, מלא תשכב" – one for the commandment you shall not copulate with a male, וחדא מ,,לא־תָתֵן שְׁכָבְתְּךְיי – and one for the commandment you shall not copulate with any animal. לדברי רבי ישמעאל – But according to the view of R' Yishmael אינו חַיִיב אַלַא אַחַת – he is liable for only one chatas, because איִדי וְאִידִי ,,לֹא יִהְיֶה קָרַשׁיי – both this prohibition and that prohibition are derived from the same verse, nor shall there be a kadeish. אביי אמר – But Abaye said: אַפּילוּ לְדְבְרֵי רֲבִּי יִשְׁמֶעֵאל נַמִי חַיָּיב שְׁתַּיִם – Even in the view of R' Yishmael he is liable for two chataos. [30] יוּמָתיי - For it is written: Anyone that copulates with an animal shall surely be put to death. אם אַנון לְשוֹכֵב – Now if [the verse] is not applicable to the one who commits a copulative act with an animal, because that act was discussed elsewhere, תֵנִיהוּ עְנִין לְנִשְׁבֵּב – apply it to the one who submits to such a copulative act. ואָפָקיה רַחַמְנָא Yet the Merciful One expressed the deed of the one who submits to this copulative act in terms of one who commits such a copulative act. This teaches that they are similar to each other, as follows: מה שוכב ענש והוהיר – Just as regarding the one who commits such a copulative act [God] both punished and warned him, אַף נִשְׁכָּב עָנֵשׁ וְהַוְהֵיר – so also regarding the one who submits to such a copulative act, [God] both punished and warned him.

The Gemara concludes its analysis:

אַבֶּל הַבְּא עַל הַּבְּרּא עַל הַבְּרָא עַל הַבְּרָא עַלִּיו הַבְּא עַל הַבְּרָא בּרָא הווא animal and bring a animal upon himself, all in one period of unawareness, בון בְּיִלְאַבּיִי – both in the view of R' Abahu and in the view of Abaye, שַל הַנִיב שָלש – according to R' Yishmael he is liable for three chataos, מַנְּיִבְּא חָנִיב בְּיִלְא חָנִיב שְלש – and according to R' Akiva he is liable for twe chataos. [32]

The Gemara continues its discussion of the prohibitions agains committing sodomy with man or beast:

ביר לא עשו בו קטן – The Rabbis taught in a Baraisa: בְּנֵּרְ לַשְׁרְ בּבֹּנְן – Regarding A SODOMIZED MALE, [33] [THE TORAH] DID NOT MAKE the law in the case of A very YOUNG male LIKE the law in the case of AN OLDER ONE, [34] – בְּהָמָה עָשׁוּ בָּהְ קְטְנָּה בְּנֶרוֹלָה – Regarding AN ANIMAL that was sodomized, however, [THE TORAH] DID MAKE the law in the case of A very YOUNG animal LIKE the law in the case of AN OLDER ONE. [35]

The Gemara analyzes the Baraisa:

באי לא עשו בו קטן בְּגְדוֹל – What does the Baraisa mean when it says that regarding a sodomized boy, [THE TORAH] DID NOT MAKE the law in the case of AN OLDER ONE?⁽³⁶⁾

The Gemara explains:

אָמָר רַב - Rav said: אָשָּׁנִים בְּבֶּן תַּשְׁע שְׁנִים בְּאָת בְּחוֹת מְבֶּן תַּשְׁע שְׁנִים - The Baraisa means: "[The Torah] did not make the law for sodomizing a male less than nine years old like the law for sodomizing a male who is nine years old."[37] י וּשְׁמִוּאַל אָמִר בְּחוֹת בַּחוֹת - But Shmuel says that the Baraisa means: אַ עַשׁוּ בַּיּאָת בַּחוֹת repetition of the same prohibition and] calls for only one chatas (Rashi).

The chart below summarizes the opinions.

	TH	E SODOMIZ	ER
1	IOMOSEXUAL ACT		ACT OF BESTIALITY
ב You shall	וְאֶת־זָבָר לֹא תִשְׁנַ not copulate with a male	וּבְכַל־בְּהַמָּה לֹא־תִתַּן שְׁכָבְתְּהָ e You shall not copulate with any anima
	TH	E SODOMIZ	ED
The Land	HOMOSEXUAL ACT	ACT OF BESTIALITY
R' YISHMAEL	וְלֹא־יִהְיֶה קָרֵשׁ Nor shall there be	R' ABAHU	וְלֹא־יִהְיֶה קָרֵשׁ Nor shall there be a kadeish
	a kadeish	ABAYE	וּבְכָל בְּהֵמָה לֹא תִתַן שְׁכָבְתְּךְ You shall not copulate with any animal
R' AKIVA	וְאֶת־זָכָר לֹא תִשְׁכַּב You shall not copulate with a male	וּבְכֶל־בְּהַמָּה לֹא־תִתּן שְׁכָבְתִּּןךְ You shall not copulate with any animal

- 30. As explained earlier, Abaye maintains that nor shall there be a kadeish applies only to illicit relations between people. Instead, the prohibition for submitting to sodomy with an animal is derived from another verse, you shall not copulate with any animal, as Abaye explained earlier and as he reiterates presently (Rashi).
- 31. According to R' Abahu, when he cohabits with a male he violates the commandment you shall not copulate with a male, and when he brings a male upon himself he violates the commandment nor shall there be a hadeish. In addition, when he cohabits with an animal he violates you shall not copulate with any animal. But no additional prohibition is violated when, in the same period of unawareness, he brings an animal upon himself, because he thereby violates nor shall there be a hadeish, which is the same prohibition as for bringing a male upon oneself (see chart in note 29). Hence, for these four transgressions, he is obligated to bring only three chataos.

According to Abaye, when he cohabits with a male and brings a male upon himself he violates you shall not copulate with a male and nor shall there be a kadeish, the same two prohibitions as according to R' Abahu. When he cohabits with an animal, he violates you shall not copulate with any animal. This is also the same as the view of R Abahu. Now, in regard to bringing an animal upon oneself, Abaye maintains that the prohibition is not nor shall there be a kadeish Rather, it is derived from the verse regarding the prohibition against cohabiting with an animal, you shall not copulate with any animal—see note 29. Regardless of this difference, however, it emerges that according to Abaye as well only three prohibitions have been violated (Rashi).

- 32. According to R' Akiva, to cohabit with a male and to bring a male upon oneself is to repeat the same violation, you shall not copulate with a male. Additionally, to cohabit with an animal and to bring an animal upon oneself is also to repeat the same violation, you shall not copulate with any animal. In total, therefore, he has incurred liability for only two chataos. In this regard there is no dispute between R' Abahu and Abave.
- 33. [See Rashi above, הייב שחים and below, ד״ה חניא נמי הכי who writes that the term יבור in these contexts is used specifically in reference to the sodomized male.]
- 34. Although a Baraisa above (54a) states that one is liable for sodomy whether the sodomized male is an adult or a minor, that means only that the sodomized male need not be a legal adult (who is legally culpable for his participation) in order for the sodomist to be liable on his account. But, as taught by the present Baraisa, the sodomized minor must be of a minimum age (discussed in the Gemara below) in order for the sodomist to be liable. But if the victim is younger, then the sodomist is not liable (Rashi).
- 35. One is liable for sodomizing an animal even if the animal is a newborn (Rashi, Meiri).
- 36. As explained (note 34), this Baraisa uses the terms אָדְיל not in the sense of "minor" and "adult" respectively, but rather in the sense of "younger minor" and "older minor." The Gemara now inquires as to what age the Baraisa meant as the cut-off between a younger minor and an older one (Rashi).
- 37. In other words, Rav holds that the sodomized male must be at least nine years old in order for the sodomist to be liable. The Gemara will explain Rav's reasoning.

Yes, you read that correctly. The Talmud says that as long as a jew rapes a boy under the age of 9, there will be no punishment according to jewish law.

In sum, Christianity and judaism are diametrically opposed religions. Jews have actively sought to deceive Christians into making Christians believe they are allies, but we are not. If you want to know precisely what jews think about Christians, one only need to look at this display at the Haifa Museum in Israel:

Although jews teach Christians that we are allies, Rabbis teach jews that that Christianity is their greatest enemy:

Christianity, he explained, "is our number one enemy throughout history. [They] tried to convert us by arguments and by force, carried out an inquisition against us, burned the Talmud, expulsions, pogroms. Western anti-Semitism draws from Christianity's hatred of the 'murderers of God.' It also had a role in the Holocaust."

He suggested the Notre Dame fire may be divine retribution for the mass-burning of Talmud manuscripts near the cathedral in 1242, following a Talmudic disputation.

"The first great Talmud burning happened in Paris, right there at the

Rabbi Shlomo Aviner (Yossi Zamir/Flash90)

Notre Dame Cathedral square," Aviner wrote. "It was the result of the Paris trial in which Jewish sages were forced to debate Christian sages, and the result was the burning of the Talmud. Volumes of Talmud were brought in 20 carts and burned there, 1,200 Talmud volumes. So [the fire demonstrates] 'there is justice and there is a Judge,'" he wrote, the quote a reference in Jewish religious literature to divine justice.

While he said he did not support burning churches abroad, Aviner claimed that the "issue is more complicated" in Israel and called Christianity an idolatrous religion.

"The [anti-Zionist] Satmar Rebbe, in one of his arguments against returning to the land of Israel, wrote that there is a commandment here to burn churches, and the failure to do so is a transgression" — and therefore, since Jews were not about to start burning churches, they should not immigrate to the land of Israel.

In February 2015, for example, officials at the Dormition Abbey in Jerusalem found parts of the seminary burned along with Hebrew hate slogans graffitied on the walls. Messages included "death to Christians," "death to Arabs," and "Jesus is a monkey."

CHRISTIANS DISCRIMINATED AGAINST BY ISRAEL

By Donald NeffFormer Israel Bureau Chief for *Time Magazine*Excerpted from Fifty Years of Israel

n Dec. 29, 1977, Christians in Israel and the occupied territories protested a new law passed by the Israeli parliament making it illegal for missionaries to proselytize Jews. Protestant churches charged that the law had been "hastily pushed through parliament during the Christmas period when Christians were busily engaged in preparing for and celebrating their major festival." The law made missionaries liable to five years' imprisonment for attempting to persuade people to change their religion, and three years' imprisonment for any Jew who converted. The United Christian Council complained that the law could be "misused in restricting religious freedom in Israel."

The next year Rabbi Ovadiah Yosef, considered a political moderate, issued a religious ruling that copies of the New Testament should be torn out of any edition of a Bible owned by a Jew. Israeli scholar Yehoshafat Harkabi wrote that he was disturbed by "these manifestations of hostility-the designation of Christians as idolaters, the demand to invoke the 'resident alien' ordinances, and the burning of the New Testament."

Observed Harkabi: "Outside of the Land of Israel Jews never dared behave in this fashion. Has independence made the Jews take leave of their senses?"

Desecration of Christian property and churches—arson, window breaking, burning of the New Testament—had long marred relations between the two communities. A small but fanatical group of Jews wanted no Christians, whom they considered fallen Jews, in Israel. This virulent strain of prejudice had been present since before the Jewish state was founded.

Anti-Christian prejudice helps account for the fact that the number of Christian Palestinians in all of former Palestine had dwindled to only 50,000 in 1995. They no longer were a major presence in either Jerusalem or Ramallah, and they were fast losing their majority status in Bethlehem.

When Israel was established in 1948, the Palestinian Christian community had numbered 200,000, compared to roughly 600,000 Jews in Palestine at the time. Now the Christians are not even one percent of the population of Israel/Palestine. Of today's estimated total 400,000 Christian Palestinians, most now are living in their own diaspora, mainly in the Americas.

The following are a few excerpts of famous Christians speaking about jews:

Egypt was one of the first nations in which Christianity became established, but in 414 AD, jews created great disturbances in Alexandria and began a severe persecution of the Christians who resided there. The Roman historian Socrates, in his Ecclesiastical History, recorded the following:

"... [T]he jews were continually factious; and this added to their ordinary hatred of the Christians. When the Archbishop of Alexandria, Cyril, was informed of their riots, he sent for the principal jews, and threatened them with the utmost severities unless they desisted from their molestation of the Christians. These jewish menaces, instead of suppressing their violence, only rendered the jewish populace more furious, and led them to form conspiracies for the destruction of the Christians. One of these conspiracies was of so desperate a character that it caused their entire expulsion from Alexandria" (Socrates, Hist. Eccl., VII, 13; PC, LXXXII, 759 ff).

"The Bible, itself, says that the jews are an accursed people."
-Pope Clement VIII

"Jews are cursed and covered with malediction. The curse has penetrated them like water in their bowels and oil in their bones. They are cursed in the city and cursed in the country, cursed in their coming in and cursed in their going out. Cursed are the fruits of their loins, of their lands, of their flocks; cursed are their cellars, their granaries, their shops, their food, the very crumbs off their tables!" -St. Agobard

"The jews are the most worthless of all men. They are lecherous, greedy, rapacious. They are perfidious murderers of Christ. They worship the Devil. Their religion is a sickness. The jews are the odious assassins of Christ and for killing God there is no expiation possible, no indulgence or pardon. Christians may never cease vengeance, and the jew must live in servitude forever. God always hated the jews. It is essential that all Christians hate them." -St. Ambrose

"Judaism is a corruption. Judas is the image of the jewish people; their understanding of Scripture is carnal; they bear the guilt for the death of the Savior, for through their fathers they have killed Christ. The jews held Him; the jews insulted Him; the jews bound Him; they crowned Him with thorns; they scourged Him; they hanged Him upon a tree." -St. Augustine of Hippo

"Poor jews! You invoked a dreadful curse upon your own heads; and that curse, miserable race, you carry upon you to this day, and to the End of Time you shall endure the chastisement of that innocent blood!" -St. Alphonsus Liguori

"Our Lord Jesus Christ referred to Himself as 'the stone'. Lying on the ground, it shakes whoever falls over it; coming from on high, it crushes the proud. The jews have already been shaken by their previous stumble. What awaits them is to be crushed by His coming."

-St. Augustine of Canterbury

"If it is expedient to hate any men and to loathe any race, I have a strange dislike for those of the circumcision. For up to the present day, the jews persecute our Lord Jesus Christ in the synagogues of Satan." -St. Jerome

"One who dies a jew will be damned." -St. Vincent Ferrer

"It would be licit, according to custom, to hold jews in perpetual servitude because of their crime." -St. Thomas Aquinas

"The jews were behind all of the persecutions of the Christians. They wandered through the country everywhere hating and undermining the Christian faith." -St. Justin the Martyr

"Do not add to your sins by saying that the Covenant is both theirs and ours. Yes, it is ours, but the jews lost it forever."
-St. Barnabas

So, what are the Noahide Laws that were mentioned earlier?

The Scofield Study Bible teaches the false doctrine of 'dispensations'. In the 7th dispensation, the Scofield Bible claims jews will once again inherit the Earth, and this will allow them to enforce their Noahide laws. These lies have served to so corrupt the American mind that on March 26, 1991, U.S. Congress officially recognized the Noahide Laws in Public Law 102-14, 102nd Congress, which falsely claims that the United States of America was founded upon the Seven Universal Laws of Noah.

The 7 Noahide laws are as follows:

- 1. Prohibition of Idolatry
- 2. Prohibition of Murder
- 3. Prohibition of Theft
- 4. Prohibition of Sexual Promiscuity
- 5. Prohibition of Blasphemy
- 6. Prohibition of Cruelty to Animals
- 7. Requirement to have Just Laws (establish a Sanhedrin to enforce the preceding six laws)

According to Noahide Law, if one is found to have violated one of these seven laws, only a single witness is needed for the Sanhedrin to exact punishment. The required punishment is decapitation (Sanh.57a). Moreover, Noahide Law views Jesus as an idol. Therefore, if one believes that Jesus Christ is the Messiah, then one is guilty of violating Noahide law and must be killed by decapitation.

The council of Sanhedrin has already been established in Israel for the purpose of enforcing Noahide Law:

"On October 13, the Sanhedrin, the highest tribunal of the jewish state and religion, was reinaugurated by a group of rabbis in Tiberias after 1,600 years of absence. According to Jewish sources, last notice of the Sanhedrin dates around 425 A.D., also in the city of Tiberias."

(Israel National News online edition, October 13, 2004).

Newly Formed Sanhedrin Ascend to Temple Mount:

"In a dramatic but unpublicized move Monday, members of the newly established Sanhedrin ascended the Temple Mount." Rabbi Chaim Richmond, also a member of the Sanhedrin (Head of the Temple Institute in Jerusalem), hopes the body will bring about a revolution in jewish jurisprudence, the revival of the Sanhedrin is also considered a crucial development in preparation for the messianic age and the rebuilding of the Temple."

(Arutz Sheva News, December 14, 2004)

Rabbi Yisrael Ariel explains the 7 Noahide laws and how they apply to Christians: Link (A)

So Christianity is not judaism. These two religions have no common heritage and their practices and religious texts are direct opposites of each other. In fact, jews even view Jesus as their mortal enemy, and they have formed a Sanhedrin to accuse Christians of idolatry in order to murder every one of them. Many Christians have even been deceived by jews into believing the jews are their allies. However, if Christianity and judaism are so diametrically opposed, and if Christianity claims to follow the true God of the Old Testament, then who does this imply is the god of judaism?

To answer this question, we must first have a thorough understanding of the Star of Saturn. But to understand the Star of Saturn, we must first review several scriptures:

Amos 5:26, "But ye have borne the tabernacle of your Moloch and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves."

Acts 7:43, "Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon. "

Remphan is a rendering of the Greek word ' $\rho\epsilon\mu\phi\alpha\nu$ '. It is part of a reference to Amos 5:26, which reads in Hebrew as "Kewan" (or "Chium" in English). Kewan is another pronunciation of the Old Persian word "Kayvan", meaning Saturn. Thus we see that the Star of Remphan may also be called the Star of Saturn. Sometimes, this star is formed and used as a talisman called the Talisman of Saturn:

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hexagram Usage in occultism [edit]

The hexagram, like the pentagram, was and is used in practices of the occult and ceremonial magic and is attributed to the 7 "old" planets outlined in astrology.

The six-pointed star is commonly used both as a talisman^[11] and for conjuring spirits and spiritual forces in diverse forms of occult magic. In the book The History and Practice of Magic, Vol. 2, the six-pointed star is called the talisman of Saturn and it is also referred to as the Seal of Solomon.^[12] Details are given in this book on how to make these symbols and the materials to use.

Star of Remphan

Here is a picture of an original Canaanite statue of Moloch, the pagan deity of child sacrifice. This exact statue had been on display in ancient times at the Colosseum in Rome. The six-pointed Star of Remphan is clearly depicted on Moloch's chest.

Here is the six-pointed Star of Remphan representing Saturn, known to the ancient Romans as the "most evil" of the gods.

"Most Jews do not like to admit it, but our god is Lucifer — so I wasn't lying — and we are his chosen people. Lucifer is very much alive."

- Harold Wallace Rosenthal

If Moloch is the pagan deity of child sacrifice, then that would imply...

"The Jews now sacrifice live human victims according to their mode of sacrifice; if one ordered us to sacrifice our animals in the same way we would have recoiled from the entire business. For they are not sacrificing to feast, but burning their sacrifices whole at night and pouring on them honey and wine, they quickly destroy the offering, in order that the all-seeing sun should not look on the terrible thing. And they do it fasting on the intervening days. During this whole time, they converse with each other about their deity, and at night-time they make observations of their star, gazing at it and calling it god."

Jewish Ritual Murder - pastebin.com/96uNEnyA

- 169 B.C. "King Antiochus Epiphanes of Syria, during the plundering of the Temple of Jerusalem, found a Greek lying on a bed in a secret chamber. He begged the King to rescue him. When he began to beg, the attendants told him that a secret law commanded the Jews to sacrifice human beings at a certain time annually. They therefore searched for a stranger which they could get in their power. They fattened him, led him into the woods, sacrificed him, ate some of his flesh, drank some of his blood, and threw the remains of his body into a ditch." (Josephus, Jewish historian, Contra Apionem)
- 0-40 A.D. Greek philosopher Apion in Alexandria, Egypt, talks about the A Jewish blood libel case
- 418 A.D. Baronius reports the crucifixion of a boy by the Jews at Imm, between Aleppo and Antioch.
- 419 A.D. In the Syrian district of Imnestar, between Chalcis and Antioch, the Jews tied a Christian boy to a cross on a holiday and flogged him to death. (Socrat)
- 425 A.D. Baronius reports the crucifixion of a boy.
- 614 A.D. After the conquest of Jerusalem, the Jews purchased, for a small amount of money, 90,000 prisoners from the Persian King Chosros II and murdered them all in the most disgusting ways. (Cluverius, Epitome his. p. 386)
- 1071 A.D. Several Jews from Blois crucified a child during the Easter celebration, put his body into a sack and threw it into the Loire. Count Theobald had the guilty ones burned alive. (Robert of Mons, Mon. Germ. hist. Script VI 520)
- 1144 A.D. In Norwich, during Passover, 12-year-old St. William was tied by the local Jews, hanged from a cross, and his blood drained from a wound in his side. The Jews hid the corpse in the nearby woods. They were surprised by a local citizen, Eliverdus, who was bribed with money to keep quiet. Despite this the crime still became notorious. (Acta sancta, III March, Vol. D. 590).
- 1160 A.D. The Jews of Gloucester crucified a child (Mons Germ. hist. Script 520)
- 1171 A.D Blois, France: At Passover, a Christian child was crucified, his body drained of blood and thrown into the river. (Monumenta Germania Historica, VI, 520; Magd. Cent. 12, c. 14 and 13, c. 14)
- 1179 A.D. In Pontoise, on March 25th before Passover, the Jews butchered and drained St. Richard's body of blood. Due to this, the Jews were expelled from France. (Rob. of Turn., Rig.u.Guillel. Amor.)
- 1181 A.D Bury St. Edmunds: A Christian child called Robert was sacrificed at Passover. The child was buried in the church and its presence there was supposed to cause 'miracles.' (Rohrbacher, from the Chronicle of Gervase of Canterbury, Acta sancta, III March Vol. 591); E. Bristol. (U.Q.).
- 1181 A.D. In Saragossa, the Jews murdered a child named Dominico. (Blanca Hispania illustrata, tom. III, p. 657)
- 1191 A.D. The Jews of Braisme crucified a Christian who had accused them of robbery and murder, after they had previously dragged him through the town. Due to this King Philip Augustus, who had personally come to Braisme, burned eighty of them. (rigordus, Hist, Gall.)
- 1192 A.D. Braisne: Philip Augustus attended to this case personally, and had the criminals burnt. It was a case of the crucifixion of a Christian sold to the Jews by Agnes, Countess of Dreux, who considered him guilty of homicide and theft. (Histoire des Ducs et Comtes de Champagne, IV, 1 st part, p. 72, Paris, 1865, by A. de Jubainville; Spec. Vinc., 129, c. 25; Gauin, L. 6, De Francis; Magd. Cent., 12, c. 14, col. 1670)
- 1220 A.D. In Weissenburg, in Alsace, on the 29th of June, the Jews murdered a boy, St. Heinrich. (Murer, Helvetia sancta.)
- 1225 A.D. In Munich a woman, enticed by Jewish gold, stole a small child from her neighbor. The Jews drained the blood from the child. Caught in her second attempt, the criminal was handed over to the courts. (Meichelbeck, Hist. Bavariae II.
- 1235 A.D. A Christian child was murdered and drained of his blood by the Jews on December 1st in Erfurt. (Henri Desportes, Le mystere du sang. 66)
- 1235 A.D. Norwich: In this case, the Jews stole a Christian child and hid him with a view to crucifying him. Haydn's Dictionary of Dates (1847), says: "They (the Jews) circumcise and attempt to crucify a child at Norwich; the offenders are condemned in a fine of 20,000 marks." (Huillard Broellos, Grande Chronique, III, 86. Close Roll, 19 Henry III, m 23).
- 1235 A.D. the Jews committed the Ritual Murder on December 1st in Erfut. (Henri Desportes, Le mystere du sang, 66)
- 1236 A.D. In Hagenau in Alsace, three Christian boys from the region of Fulda were attacked by the Jews in a mill during the night and killed in order to obtain their blood. (Trithemius; Chronicle of Albert of Strassburg)
- 1238 A.D. Fulda, Hesse-Nassan: Five children murdered; Jews confessed under torture, but said the blood was wanted for healing purposes. Frederick II exonerated the Jews from suspicion, but the Crusaders had already dealt with a number by putting them to death. Frederick II calied together a number of converted Jews, who denied the existence of Jewish Ritual Sacrifice. But Frederick's bias is evident in his own words when, in publishing his decision, he gives his objects in calling these people together, "although our conscience regarded the innocence of the aforesaid Jews adequately proved on the ground of several writings." Had Frederick II lived today, he would have relied little upon religious literature in deciding whether Jewish Ritual Sacrifice exists or not. (Chron. Hirsaug., and Magd. Cent., 13, c. 24)
- 1239 A.D. A general uprising in London because of a murder committed secretly by the Jews. (Matthew v. Paris, Grande Chron.)
- 1240 A.D. In Norwich the Jews circumcised a Christian child and kept him hidden in the ghetto in order to crucify him later After a long search, the father found his child and reported it to the Bishop Wilhelm of Rete. (Matthew v. Paris, op. cit. V. 39
- 1244 A.D. In St. Benedict's churchyard in London, the corpse of a boy was found which bore cuts and scratches and, in several places, Hebrew characters. He had been tortured and killed; and his blood had been drained. Baptized Jews, forced to interpret the Hebrew signs, found the name of the child's parents and read that the child had been solt to the Jews when it was very young. Distinguished Jews left the city in secret. The Catholic Church venerated the Martyr under the name of St. Paul.
- 1247 A.D. Valreas, France: Just before Easter, a two-year-old Christian girl's body was found in the town moat with wounds on forehead, hands and feet. Jews confessed that they wanted the blood of the child, but did not say that it was for ceremonial purposes. Pope innocent IV said that three of the Jews were executed without confessing, (but the Jewish Encyclopedia, 1903, Vol. III, p. 261, says they confessed)
- 1250 A.D. The Jews of Saragossa adopted the horrible dogma that everyone who deliverd a Christian child for sacrifice would be freed from all taxes and debts. In June, 1250, Moses Albay-Huzzt (Also called Albajucetto) delivered the T-year-old Dominico del Val to the Jews for crucifixion. (Johan. a Lent, Schedias, hist. de pseudomes, judesorum, p. 33)
- 1255 A.D. At Lincoln, in England, on Peter and Paul's Day, 8-year-old St. Hugh was stolen by the local Jews, hidden, and later crucified. The Jews beat him with rods for so long that he almost lost all his blood. (Acta santa 6 July 494)

- 1331 A.D. At Uberlingen in present-day Baden the Jews threw the son of a citizen named Frey into a well. The incisions found later on the body proved that previous to this his blood had been drained. (Joh. Vitoduran, Chronik.)
- 1338 A.D. The Jews butchered a noble from Franconia in Munich. His brother prepared a veritable bloodbath for the Jews
- 1345 A.D. In Munich, the Jews opened the veins of a little boy Heinrich, and stabbed him more than 60 times. The church canonized Heinrich. (Rad. Bav. sct. II p. 333)
- 1345 A.D. in the region of Cologne, a small boy "Hänschen" [This is the diminutive and affectionate form of the name "Hans"] was taken by Jews on the way to his monastery school of St. Sigbert and in a "secret location" cut to pieces with knives until the expired (Acta sanct., Marz III, 502).
- 1347 A.D. In Messina a child was crucified on Good Friday. (Henri Desport)
- 1349 A.D. -The Jews wanted to attack and kill Christians assembled in their church at Rothenburg. A Jew's maidservant exposed the Jewish murder plot, and the Christians stormed out of their church and killed all the Jews. (Zlegler, Schauplatz p. 396 col. 1,2 Eisenmenger, entdecktes Judentum II. p. 2199)
- 1349 A.D. Jews stole the four-year-old son of a Zurich shoemaker and cut up his body; the blood was collected. The body was thrown into the socalled Wolfsbach [literally: Wolf's Creek] where it was soon discovered in the mud. An altar was erected in Misother, "through which devotion increased by the day, until the city renounced the old Cathloth; thereby the devotion of all their old forebears vanished and was entirely extinguished..." (H. Murer, Helvetia sancta, p. 312).
- 1350 A.D. -The boy Johannes, a student of the monastic school of St. Sigbert in Cologne, drew his last breath after being stabbed by local Jews. (Acta sancta., aus den Kirchenakten v. Koln.)
- 1380 A.D. At Hagenbach in Swabia several Jews were surprised while butchering a Christian child. (Martin Crusius, Yearbook of Swabia, Part III, Book V)
- 1394 A.D. the Jews under the government of Charles VI were expelled from France because of repeated ritual-murders of children (26) and other intrigues injurious to the community; in the actual Kingdom of France, there was no longer one single Jew for a span of a century; only in the enclave of Avignon belonging to the Pope did a Jewish community maintain itself.12
- 1399 A.D Ritual Murder in Posen, Poland
- 1401 A.D. -At Diessenhofen in Switzerland (near Schaffhausen), 4-year-old Conrad Lory was murdered. His blood was said to have been sold by the groom Johann Zahn for 3 florins to the Jew Michael Vitelman. (Acta sancta.)

- 1410 A.D. In Thuringia the Jews were driven out because of ritual murder that was discovered. (Boll. II, April 838. Baronius 31)
- 1429 A.D. At Ravensburg in Wurttemberg, Ludwig van Bruck, a Christian boy from Switzerland who was studying in the town and living among the Jews, was martyred by 3 Jews amid numerous tortures and sexual violations. Th
- 1440 A.D. A Jewish doctor in Pavia, Simon of Ancona, beheaded a four- year-old child which was stolen and brought to him by a degenerate Christian. The crime became notorious when a dog jumped out of a window into the street with the child's head. The murderer escaped. (Alphonuss Spina, de bello Judæorum Ilb. III. confld. 7.)
- 1442-3 A.D. four-year-old girl Ursula Pöck disappeared in Lienz. the body was found in a creek: it was covered all over with piercing wounds and totally empited of blood. On the basis of further inquiries the Jews of Lienz were brought in as suspects in the murder. At first they denied [involvement] persistently; but when faced with the body and as result of strong admonitions of torture or the coercing of confessions there is not the slightest suggestion they unanimously admitted the crime. A Christian woman, Margareta Praitschedlin, had decoyed the child into their hands (27) in return for gifts of money. She, too, confessed her crime in full compass. "She has told how she had found the child at a place and had picked her up kindly with sweet words and matched the aforesaid Jews in her violence." The Jew Samuel, "who was first to put his hands on the child and had committed the greatest unchristan murder and torture" was, as emerges from the documents published by George Tinkhauser in Number 10 of the Katholischen Blätter aus Tirol (Catholic Paper of the Tyrol), broken on the wheel and with him a dog. Another Jew, Joseph, was condemned to the gallows and hanged with a dog at his feet. Praitschedlin was tied together with two old Jewesses at her back and burned. Five Jewish children were baptized. To all Jewes entry to the city remained forbidden.
- 1452 A.D. In Savona, several Jews killed a 2-year-old Christian child. They pierced his whole body and collected the blood in the vessel they used for the circumcision of their children. the Jews dripped small pieces of sliced fruit into the blood and enjoyed a meal of them. (Alphonsus Spina, de bello Judæorum lib. III, confid. 7.)
- 1453 A.D. In Breslau, the Jews stole a child, fattened him and put him in a barrel lined with nails, which they rolled back and forth in order to draw the child's blood. (Henri Desportes, Le mystere du sang, 75)
- 1454 A.D. On the estates of Louis of Almanza in Castile, two Jews killed a Christian boy. They tore out his heart and burned it; threw the ashes into wine which they drank with their co-religionists. By spending considerable sums they succeeded in delaying the trial, since two of the three lawyers were of Jewish descent. Thereafter the Jews were banished from Spain. (Alphonsus Spina, de bello Judæorum)
- 1462 A.D. In a birchwood at Rinn near Innsbruck the boy Andreas Oxner was sold to the Jews and sacrificed. The church canonized him. A chapel called "Zum Judenstein" ('To the Jews' Rock') was built. (Acta sancta., III. July Vol I. 472)
- 1468 A.D. At Sepulveda, in Old Castile, the Jews crucified a Christian woman on Good Friday upon the order of the Rabbi Solomon Pecho. (Did. de Colm. Gesch. v. Seg.)
- 1470 A.D. -In Baden the Jews were convicted of the murder of a Christian child. (Tho. Patr. Barbar.)
- 1475 A.D. In Trent on March 23rd (Maundy Thursday) before Passover, the Jews sacrificed a 29-month-old baby, St. Simon.
- 1476 A.D. The Jews in Regensburg murdered six children. The judge, in the underground vault of a Jew named Josfol, found the remains of the murdered victims as well as a stone bowl speckled with blood on a kind of altar. (Raderus Bavaria sancta Band III, 174)
- 1480 A.D. In Treviso, a crime similar to the one in Trent was committed: the murder of the canonized Sebastiano of Porto-Buffole from Bergamo. The Jews drained his blood. (H. Desportes, Le mystere du sang 80)
- 1480 A.D. At Motta in Venice the Jews killed a child at Easter. (Acta sancta I. Bd d. April 3)
- 1485 A.D. In Vecenza, the Jews butchered St. Laurentius. (Pope Benedict XIV Bull. Beatus Andreas)
- 1486 A.D. thus a decade after the Trent murder case, in Regensburg not fewer than six children were murdered by Jews in a subterranean valit. The remains of the dismembered corpses were brought to the town hall. In the vauit was found a stone block, fixed up like an altar, whose blood-traces were covered with glue (Raderus, Bavaria sancta, III, p. 174).
- 1490 A.D. At Guardia, near Toledo (spain), the Jews crucified a child. (Acta sancta I. Bd. d. April 3)
- 1494 A.D. At Tyrnau in Hungary, 12 Jews seized a Christian boy, opened his veins, and carefully collected his blood. They drank some of it and preserved the rest for their coreligionists. (Banfin Fasti, ungar. br. III. Dec. 5)

- 1498 A.D. a bloody persecution of the Jews broke out on the Greek island of Zante because the populace (43) had been driven to self-help by a whole chain of ritual crimes, which without exception happened around the time of the Jewish Easter.
- 1503 A.D. As Eck was passing from Cologne to Freiburg "for his studies," he had the opportunity at Freiburg to observe the body of a child butchered according to Jewish rites, which was discovered "in the woods": "Il was able to grasp and to touch the cuts of the child with my fingers, perhaps four weeks after the murder." The blood had been smuggled into Alsace.
- 1503 A.D. In Langendenzlingen a father handed his 4-year-old child over to two Jews from Waldkirchen in Baden for 10 florins under the condition that he would be returned alive after a small amount of blood had been drained. However, they drained so much blood from the child that it idied. (Acta sancta. II Bd. des April p. 839: To, Joh. Eck, Judebbuhllen)

- 1509 A.D Several Jews profaned the host brought from a sanctuary dealer and murdered several Christian children. (Cluverius, Epitome hist. etc. p. 579)
- 1509 A.D. -The Jews in Bosingen (Hungary) kidnapped the child of a wheelwright, dragged him to the cellar, tortured him horribly, opened all his veins and sucked out the blood with quills. Afterwards they threw his body in a hedge, which the Jews admitted after repeated denials. (Zigler Schop)atz p. 588, col. 1,27
- 1510 A.D. In Berlin, the Jews Salomon, Jacob, Aaron, Levi Isaac, Rabbi Mosch and the butcher Jacob were accused of buying a three- or four-year-old Christian boy for 10 florins from a stranger, laying him on a table in a cellar, and puncturing him with needles in the large blood-rich veins until he was finally slaughtered by the butcher Jacob. An enormous trial began, and eventually a hundred Jews were locked in the Berlin prison. They partially admitted to having bought Christian children from strangers, stabbing them, draining their blood, and drinking the blood in case of illness or preserving it with tomatoes, ginger, and honey. No fewer than 41 of the accused Jews were sentenced to death-by-burning after their confession. All the other Jews were banished from the Mark of Brandenburg. (Richard Mun: 'The Jews in Berlin')
- 1510 A.D Brandenburg: Several Jews were accused in Berlin of buying a small Christian boy, bleeding him and killing him. They confessed, and 41 were executed. (Richard Mun, Die Juden in Berlin; Sir Richard Burton, The Jew, the Gypsy and El Islam, 1989, p. 126)

- 1529 A.D. In market-town of Bösing, which today is situated in Slovakia, the nine-year-old son of the tenant farmer Gregor Mailslinger suddenly disappeared. Early in the next day, a peasant woman found outside the village peapeared. Early in the next day, a peasant woman found outside the village of the peapeared that it is not to the body being empty of blood steered suspicion toward the Jews of the Village, especially since an entire series of similar crimes from earlier years had remained unsolved. The entire Jewish population of the market town was "taken prisoner." A court commission under the charimanship of the Count of "St. George and Bösing" determined exactly type of the words on the body and proceeded then to harsh individual interrogation of those arrested. The Jew David Saffmacher confessed that the Jew Michel took the child captive and got him into the cellar and after a while a great number Jews showed up in order to torture the child. Jew Michel confessed how he lured the child into his house on Ascension Day and that "all tortured (44) the said child with each other; and he [himself] had struck the first blow on his head with a hook and then each Jew stabbed the child for a while."
- 1540 A.D. At Sappenfeld in Bavaria, 4-year-old michael Pisenharter was kidnapped from his father before Easter and taken to Titting (North of Ingolstadt), where he suffered the most horrible tortures for three days, his veins were opened and his blood drained. - 1747 A.D. A body of an unknown man was found in a marsh, in Zaslav Ukraine. The body was cut so, that all the fingers of the right hand had been amputated, the blood vessels opened up to the elbow, and the bones splintered. On the left hand three fingers were missing, the blood vessels and sinews were pulled out up to the shoulder joint, and the bones likewise mashed. Three toes of the left foot had been amputated, while the nails had been torn off the remain ones; on the calfs, the blood vessels had been cut out and the teeth had been knocked out. The entire body was thoroughly stabbed all over. Among some of the Jews arrested on suspicion was Soruch Leibowitz, who suddenly declared that he wished to communicate important perceptions to the deputy starost [title which was used in the East and equivalent to governor;] on the basis of his statements three more Jews were arrested and the whole band of murderers was in custody. The long interrogations yielded the facts that the blood-murder had been performed as a decision of the Kahal of Zaslov; a lonely traveling journeyman had been gotten drunk in a Jewish gin-mill and then tortured in the presence of the elders the Kahal, mutilated and ritually butchered. The tortures extended over several days. The blood was collected in basins and bowls, bottles filled with it and brought into the city of Zaslav to the Rabbi there. Each of the participants of the murder had taken a little of the blood, in order to add it to the matzos.

- 1791 A.D. On the 21st of February, the corpse of 13-year-old Andreas Takals, who lived with a Jew named Abraham, was found outside a village near Tasnad (Siebenburgen). The blood had been drained from him by severing his jugular vein. (Ger-Akt i.d. Archiv. v. Zilah.)
- 1791 A.D. At the same time two blood murders were reported at Holleschau (Moravia) and at Woplawicz in the District of Duplin. (Tisza-Eslar, v.e. ungar. Abgeord.)
- 1791 A.D. During the reign of Sultan Selim III, the Jews in Pera killed a young Greek by hanging him from a tree by his legs.
- 1803 A.D. On March 10th, the 72-year-old Jew Hirsch from Sugenheim seized a 2-year-old child between Ullstadt and Lengenfeld in Buchof near Nuremberg. Several days later the Jew denied having been in Buchhof at all on March 10th. The father of the child, who wanted to prove the contrary with witnesses, was rebuffed in court with threats and insults. On the 12th day the child was found dead, his tongue sliced and his mouth full of blood. The Jews besieged the district governor of Newstadt at that time until the matter turned out to their satisfaction. The father was forced under threat to sign a protocol, to which it attested that the child, still warm when he was found, had frozen to death. (Friedr. Oertel, "Was glauben die Juden?" Bambero. 1823)
- 1804 A.D. In Grafenberg near Nuremberg a 2 to 3-year-old boy was kidnapped by an old Jew from Ermreuth by the name of Bausoh. Soldiers hurried to prevent the crime after hearing the child's scream. (Dr. J. W. Chillany)

- 1823 A.D. On the 22nd of April, at Velisch in the Russian government of Vitebsk, the 3½- year-old son of the invalid Jemelian Ivanov was stolen, tortured to death, and his blood drained. Despite a great deal of statements by witnesses charging the Jews, the trial was suddenly stopped. (Pavilkovsky, ebends)
- 1823 A,D In Russia, Velish, a trial stated before the court, hungry children were lured into, and then ritually butchered in, the cellars of Jewish houses. The witnesses (58) knew most of the guilty parties and were even able to describe the events of the ritual slaughterings in all details. One Jew had been so incriminated by these statements, that called out: "If a member of my family will confess and tell everything, then I will also confess." But the other Jews stubbornly kept silent or screamed and threatened in such a way that the Commission had to interrupt the interropations.
- 1824 A.D. In Beirut the interpreter Fatch-allah-Seyegh was murdered by his Jewish landlord, as the investigation established, for ritual purposes.
- 1826 A.D. In Warsaw a murdered 5-year-old boy was found whose body had more than a hundred wounds showing that his blood had been drained. The whole of Warsaw was in a state of insurrection; everywhere the Jews protested their innocence without having been accused. The depositions made to the courts, together with the medical evidence, were removed from the documents. (Pavlikovski, wie oben p. 282)
- 1827 A.D. At Vilna in Russia the stabbed corpse of a farmer's child, Ossib Petrovicz, was found. According to the testimony of the 16-year-old shepherd Zulovski, he was kidnapped by the Jews. (Nach einer Mitteilung des gouvernement Vilna.)
- 1827 A.D. In Warsaw Jewish constables kidnapped a non-Jewish child shortly before the Jewish Easter (Chiarini, Theoria del Giudaïsmo, Volume I, p. 355).
- 1827 A.D. At about the same time the seven-year-old Jewess, Ben-Noud, born in Aleppo, saw from the roof of the house of her relatives in Antioch two boys who were hung up by their legs and had blood streaming from them. Horrified over this scene, she ran away crying. Her aunt said to her that the children had been "haught," and had been punished for it. Later the bodies had disappeared, but she found on the floor of the room a large brass vase, which the Arabs call a laghen, filled completely with blood (Achille Laurent, Affaires de Syrie, tome II, p. 320. Paris, 1864).
- 1829 A.D At Hamath in Asia Minor a young Turkish woman was frightfully mutilated by the Jews; the Jews saved their lives by means of high sums of bribery and were merely expelled (H. Desportes, p. 90).
- 1829 A.D. In Turin the wife of the merchant Antoine Gervalon was kidnapped from her husband. In the cellar she was prepared for her sacrifice by two rabbis. With her last bit of strength she answered her husband who was going through the Jewish quarter with several soldiers, calling her name aloud. Thus, she was freed. However, the Jews managed to hush up the incident with money. (Auszug aus einem Briefe des Barons von Kalte)
- 1831 A.D. Killing of the daughter of a corporal of the Guard in St. Petersburg. Four judges recognized it as a blood murder, while a fifth doubted it. (Desportes)
- 1834 A.D. According to the Testimony of Jewess Ben Nound who converted to Christianity, an old Gentile man in Tripoli was tied up by 4 or 5 Jews and hanged from an orange tree by his toes. At the moment when the old man was close to death the Jews cut his throat with a butcher knife and let the body hang until all the blood had been collected into a bowl. - 1839 A.D. On the Island of Rhodes, and 8-year-old merchant's boy, who was delivering eggs to some Jews, did not return. Jewish money power took effect, and the court proceedings were delayed and finally suppressed. (Henri Desportes, Le mystere du sang. 92)
- 1839 A.D. In Damascus the customs office discovered a Jew carrying a bottle of blood. The Jew offered 10,000 piastres in order to hush up the affair. (cf. Prozess bei A. Laurent, op. cit. S. 301)
- 1840 A.D.— On the eve of Purim a small Christian Greek boy was missed; he had been seen entering a house in the Jewish quarter; after that he was never seen again. It is interesting to note that the time of this event was the same as in the famous Damascus case. Yusur Pasha, Governor of the island, took depositions of witness and sent to Constantinops for instructions as to what to do next. Meanwhile "at the instigation of the Greek clergy and the European consuls" the Jewish quarter was blockaded and the leading Jews arrested. But "owing to the efforts of Count Camondo, Cremieux anotherifore" (to quote from the Jewish Encyclopedia) "a firman was obtained from the Sultan which declared all accusations of ritual murder null and void."

- 1875 A.D. At Zboro, in the county of Saros in Hungary, several Jews attacked the 16-yearold servant girl Anna Zampa in the house of her master, Horowitz. The knife was already raised above her when a coachman accidentally intervened, thus saving her. The court President, Bartholomaus Winkler, who was in debt to the Jews, was afraid to bring the criminals to justice.
- 1877 A.D. In the village of Szalaacs, in the country of Bihar (Hungary), Josef Klee's 6- year-old niece, Theresia Szaabo, and his 9-year-old nephew, Peter Szaabo, were murdered by the Jews. However, a Jewish doctor held the inquest, who declared the children were not murdered, thus ending the affair, (M. Onody, ebends).
- 1879 A.D. In Budapest, before the Purim feast, a young servant girl in the Jewish Quarter was put to sleep with a drink. 24 hours after the feast, she woke up so weak she could hardly walk. On her right forearm, her left thigh, and her body below the navel she discovered red circular wounds like spots of blood, with small openings in the center. Blood had been drained from her. (M. Onody, ebenda.)
- 1879 A.D. At Kutais in the Caucasus, 4 Jewish image sellers killed a 6- year-old girl. Between her fingers had been cut with a kinfle; on her legs, a little above the calf, horizontal incisions had been made, and there was not one drop of blood in her veins. With the aid of the powerful Jews of Russia the guilty ones escaped punishment. (Univers.)
- 1881 A.D. —At Kaschau in Hungary the daughter of a certain Josef Koczis disappeared. Two weeks later the body was found in a well completely emptied of blood. (M. Onody, Tisza- Eszlar)
- 1881 A.D. In Steinamanger the 8-year-old granddaughter of a coachman who worked for the Jews disappeared. (M. Onody evenda.)
- 1881 A.D. In Alexandria the Jews again killed a Christian child called Evangelio Fornoraki. The parents of the strangled child, discovered on the sea-shore, allowed a post-mortem examination which lasted several days and was the cause of ricks against the Jews. The Baruch family, prime suspects in the murder, were arrested, but later released. (Civita cattolica,
- 1881 A.D. In the Galician town of Lutscha, the Polish maid servant Franziska Muich, who worked for the Jewish tavernkeeper Moses Ritter, and had been raped by him, was murdered by Moses and his wife, Gittel Ritter, according to the testimony of the farmer Mariell Stochlinki (Otto Gloau, der Kulturk, Heft 128 15, Febr. 1886)
- 1882 A.D. At Tisza-Eszlar, shortly before the Jewish Passover, the 14- year-old Christian girl Esther Solymosi disappeared. Since the girl was last seen nearby the synagogue, suspicion was directed immediately on the Jews. The two sons of the temple-servant Josef Scharf, 5-year-old Samuel and the 14-year-old Moritz, accused their father and stated that Esther was led into the Temple and butchered there. The corpse of the girl was never found.
- 1882 A.D. Austria-Hungary After the disappearance of a local girl, Eszter Solymosi, Jews were accused of ritually murdering and beheading her
- 1882 A.D. At Galata, the ghetto of Constantinople, a child was enticed into a Jewish house where more than 20 people saw her go in. On the following day a corpse was found in the Golden Horn causing a great agitation among the Christian and Moslem population.
- 1882 A.D. A short time later another very similar case transpired in Galata. Serious, a distinguished lawyer of the Greek community, sent a petition to the representatives of all the Christian European powers at Constantinople so that justice might be done: but the Jews bribed the Turkish police, who allowed certain documents in the case to disappear. Bribed doctors declared the mother of the kidnapped and murdered child to be mentally deranged.
- 1883 A.D. Once more a ritual murder occurred in Galata. The police, bribed with Jewish money, prevented an investigation The newspaper Der Stamboul, which strongly spoke out against the guilty ones, was suppressed. This suppression cost the Jews 140,000 francs.
- 1884 A.D. At Sturz (West Prussia) the dismembered body of 14-year-old Onophrius Cybulla was found one January morning under a bridge. According to the doctor's opinion, the dismemberments showed great expertise and dexterity in the use of the knife. Although the murdered boy had been strong and plethoric, the dead body was completely bloodless. Immediately suspicion fell on various Jews, and during the investigation some very troublesome facts emerged. These, however, were not considered sufficient and the arrested Jews were released. (Otto Glagau, der Kulturki, Heft 119. 15. Mai 1885)
- 1885 A.D. At Mit-Kamar in Egypt a young Copt was butchered for the Easter celebrations.
- 1888 A.D. At Breslau in July, a crime was committed by Max Bernstein, a 24-year-old Rabbinical candidate at the Taimudic college, against a 7-year-old boy, Severin Hacke, whom Bernstein had enticed into his room. Bernstein withdrew blood from the boy's sex organ. After the judge's verdict Bernstein confessed: "The Bible and the Taimud teach that the gravest of sins can only be atoned for through innocent blood." Therefore, he had withdrawn blood from the boy. The Jews recognized the danger and declared Bernstein to be a 'religious maniac.'
- 1891 A.D. Murder of a boy at Xanten, on the Rhine. The 5-year-old robust boy of the Catholic cabinet-maker, Hegemann, was found in the evening at 6 o'clock on June 28th, by the maid Dora Moil, in the cow shed of the town councilor (kuppers, with his legs spread apart, laying on his side with a circular formed ritual cut, carried out by a skilled hand, and bled white. The boy was already missed at 10:30 in the morning. He was seen by 3 witnesses being pulled into the house of the Jewish butter Buschoff
- 1899 A.D. On March 26th the single 19-year-old seamstress, Agnes Kurza, was slaughtered by the hand of the Jewish butcher Leopold Hilsner. The corpse was found bloodless. The murderer was sentenced to death by the court of Kuttenberg.
- 1900 A.D. At Konitz (West Prussia) on the 11th of March 1900, the 18- year-old college freshman, Ernst Winter, was bestially murdered. Two days later pieces of his dismembered body were fished out of the Monschsee; almost five days later, on April 15th, the first Easter holy day, his head was found by children playing in the bushes. The corpse was completely bloodbox Winter was ritually murdered. The murder was carried out in the cellar of the Jewish Butcher, Moritz Levi, after the victim had been lured there by a young Jewess. On the day of the murder, a large number of foreign Jews were flooting two was considered to the next day without any plausible reason being given for their visit. Among them were the butchers Haller from Tuchel, Hamburger from Schlochau, Eisenstedt from Prechlau and Rosenbaum from Ezersk. The Konitz butcher Heimann disappeared shortly after the murder.
- 1911 A.D. The 13-year-old schoolboy, Andrei Youshchinsky was murdered in Kiev on March 12th. After eight days, his corpse was found in a brickyard completely slashed to pieces and bloodless. Suspicion fell on the Jewish manager of the brickyard Mendel Belliss. The case did not come to trial until two and a half years later (Sept. 29th to Oct. 28th, 1913). In the intervening period numerous attempts were made to lead the investigating officers on to the wrong track. Meanwhile a large number of incrimitating witnesses suffered sudden and unnatural deaths; false accusations and confessions followed one after another due to huge money bribes. Behind the accused lurking in the shadows, was the figure of Faivel Schneerson of the Lubavitchers, leader of the "Zadiks" (Saints) of the Chassidim sect, who was the spiritual director of the murder. The trial ended with the release of Belliss, but at the same time the court established that the murder had taken place inside the Jewish brickyard, which was the religious center of the Kiev Jews, for the purpose of obtaining blood. Almost all the prosecutors, witnesses, and authorities who had spoken out against Judasim, later fell victim to the Bolshevik Terror. (Ausfuhrliche Darstellungen des Prozeßes enthalten 'Hammer' Nr. 271, 273, 274, 275; Oktober bis Dezember 1913)
- 1926 A.D. The bodily remains of the children Hans and Erika Fehse were found in a parcel on the public square in Breslau. The children had been butchered. The corpses were bloodless. The genitals were missing. The Jewish butcher was believed the culprit. He disappeared without a trace.
- 1928 A.D. The college sophomore Helmut Daube was butchered on the night of the 22nd- 23rd of March, 1928. In the morning, the blood-drained corpse lay in front of his parents home. (cf. 'Der Sturmer')
- 1928 A.D. Gladbeck, Germany: This occurred at the time of Purim; a twenty-year-old Christian lad called Helmuth Daube was found dead in front of his home, with his throat cut, his genital organs missing, whilst there were wounds on the hands and stabs in the abdomen. There was no blood about where the body was found and it was bloodless. Experts said in Court that the throat showed the Jewish ritual cut. The Jews set to work and eventually a young Gentile called Huszmann was accused of the murder, unnatural lust being aileged as a feature in the crime. The case was conducted against Huszmann by a Jew called Rosenbaum, and special police had been sent from Berlin to enquire about the circumstances; the President of the Police at Berlin was the Jew Bernhard Weiss. These special police did what they could to convince the Court that it was a "lust-murder," but Huszmann was acquitted. The Bochumer Abendhiatt and Der Sturmer both gave their opinion that it was a Ritual Murder by Jews, and the latter paper was suppressed for a time, and its editor imprisoned. Y. Did your JEWISH-written History books teach you that JEWS were kidnapping Christian kids for centuries in Europe to make JEWISH ritual murders on them?

This painting of "blood libel" is taken from Nuremberg Chronicle, 1493. In England's Lincoln Cathedral you can visit the grave of "Little St Hugh" who was a 12 years old boy murdered by JEWS as a sacrifice for their God Lucifer. Several instances of Jewish ritual murders were recorded in European cities which led to the expulsion of the Jews.

The main reason has to do with the planet Saturn and its position in the solar system. To understand this concept, we must look at the days of the week. Saturday (Saturn's Day) is the 6th day from Sunday (Sun's Day), just as Saturn is the 6th planet from the Sun. The six days are representative of the six points that create the Star of Saturn. By including the lines connecting the points of the star, hexagon is formed. Likewise, this hexagon is also found on the planet, Saturn. That hexagon, combined with Saturn's six points (sixth planet in the solar system) is known as a "hexagram", also called the Star of Saturn. This is made even more clear by understanding that in ages past, planets were once called 'stars'. Thus we see that the Star of Saturn (a hexagram) is simply a visual representation of the star, Saturn.

Coincidence?

NASA image of Saturn

Hexagram of Saturn

Due to the difficulties that some speakers have pronouncing the letter 'R', Saturn is often pronounced simply as Satan. As just mentioned, Saturn (or Satan) has its own day of celebration, called Saturday, or Satan's day. It is no coincidence the jews celebrate Satan's day as the holy day of Sabbath.

A jewish scroll depicting images of Saturn worship.

In short, the jews worship Satan, the Father of Lies, exactly as was claimed in Revelation 2:9, Revelation 3:9, Mathew 23:15, and many other verses.

The 6-pointed Star of Satan is a pagan symbol of sexual union and reproduction. The triangle pointing downward represents the female sexual organ, and the upward pointing triangle represents the male phallus. According to paganism, when these symbols are joined together in the hexagram, they create sexual magic, representing the union of the active and passive forces in nature. Thus, the hexagram was a part of Satan's original "sex worship" rites and symbols of BAALISM. Just as Saturn was known as the most wicked of the Roman gods, the Star of Satan is known as the most wicked symbol in pagan witchcraft.

Coincidence?

How did the six-pointed star - the pagan occult symbol - become connected with the MODERN state of Israel?

During the 19th Century, the Star of Satan was adopted as the family crest of the Rothschild family, the elite international banking family mentioned at the beginning of this document. The Rothschilds bought a great deal of property in "Israel" from the Turks and Arabs, and were the largest financial supporters of the Zionist movement in the early decades. The influence of the Rothschilds and their heavy financial support of Israel led the jewish nation to adopt the mark of Satan as the symbol of their nation.

In conclusion, the elite royal families of the world make up an insidious satanic Cabal which is funded by jewish international bankers, led by Pharisee rabbis, and supported by world jewry and Christian Zionists who serve as the foot soldiers of a Satanic movement which is diametrically opposed to Christianity, and which will not rest until every Christian has been eliminated from this good Earth. Jews have worked relentlessly to deceive Christians into believing the lie that the jews are God's 'chosen people' and that Christians must therefore support the jews in everything they do. But jews are not the allies of Christ. They are exactly what Christ claims them to be:

4. RACES OF MEN

All men of every race are classified by science as belonging to one species:

Homo sapiens.

There have been many attempts to categorize the races of men. The original attempts utilized Biblical evidence and divided men into 3 races: Semites, Negroids, and Aryans. The hypothesis concerned Noah and his three sons, Ham, Shem, and Japheth. This theory states that after the Great Deluge, Ham took his family south into Africa. The term 'ham' mean 'hot' or 'burnt', which later became the term 'negro', which is a Portuguese rendition of the Latin word 'Niger', meaning 'blackened'. Shem went east into Arabia and Asia, and his people became known as the Semites (Shem > Shem-ites > Semites). Japheth settled his family in the Middle-East and later into Europe, and were known as Aryans. The term 'Aryan' is ancient and means 'one of noble character' or who acts 'right and true'. Eventually, the term came to denote a 'race' of fair-skinned individuals living in ancient Iran, from which the name is derived: Ar-yan > Ir-yan > Ir-an > Iran. Although the genetic variation of these brothers would have been quite similar, over time environmental factors pressured the descendants of these groups along differing genetic lineages, resulting in the races we see today.

In contrast to the above theory which classifies races according to location of settlement, other scholars have attempted to classify the races of men according to similarities found in languages. Toward this end, some scholars have suggested the Aryans consist of the following related language groups: India's Sanskirt, Iran's Persian languages, Latin, Greek, and the languages of Europe: Slavic, Germanic, Romance, and Celtic. Likewise, the descendants of Ham are suggested to be the ancestor of the Africans through the similarities found in the languages of Egyptian, Ethiopian, Canaan, Phoenician, Hebrew, Syriac, and Arabic. Lastly, the Asiatic languages of the east would suggest the existence of a third racial group, the Semites.

With the advent of DNA testing, the above theories have gained additional verification, albeit with slight adjustment. DNA evidence suggests an additional race of men:

- 1. Aryans (Europeans and Middle-easterners)
- 2. Negroids (Africans and Arabians)
- 3. Mongoloids (Asians and Ameri-Indians)
- 4. Australoids (Melanesians and Papuans)

In the following diagram, you can see the four main branches and when they genetically diverged. Note: the diagram should not imply that any one race is more ancient than any other; only that one race is further separated from another in terms of genetic divergence.

Of course, the races of men could be further subdivided as shown in the image to the right. In this link (A), genetic racial data can easily be further subdivided into many races. As shone in the above diagram, 15 sub-races are easily discernable from the data, with no apparent limit of divergence yet discovered.

However, the most interesting discovery from analyzing the DNA evidence is not that this evidence supports the original idea that men can be divided into different races. Rather, the DNA evidence suggests that the different races of man are more appropriately divided into different human species. In other words, Aryans, Mongolids, Negros, and Australoids are actually different species!

Different species...

But if the data from DNA research suggests humans should be classified into different species, then why does science tell us that we are all the same species?

Actually, science does not say we are the same species. The idea that we are the same species was an erroneous report which was later changed when new evidence came to light. Watch how the story changes:

The Human Genome Project announces in a vague press release that scientifically there's no such thing as race. No extensive study is published. Questions about the political motivation behind this stunt arise.

In contrast to concerns about the project's potential to support racist ideologies and practices, its advocates argued that the HGDP would prove once and for all that discrete biological 'races' do not exist (Gannett, 2001; Kohn, 1995); that 'race' was a social and not a valid scientific construct. According to Kohn (1995), scientists involved with the HGP claimed that, far from contributing to racism, the project would 'make a significant contribution to the elimination of racism' (p. 37) by demonstrating the biological unity and genetic heterogeneity of different population groups. Indeed, at the public announcement of the completion of a draft map of the human genome, this promise was partly kept.

On 26 June 2000, Frank Collins, leader of the publicly funded Human Genome Project, and Craig Venter, Head and Chief Scientist of the privately funded company, Celera Genomics, met at the White House with President Bill Clinton to announce their historic milestone to the world.

The method used by Celera has determined the genetic code of five individuals. We have sequenced from the genomes of three females and two males who have identified themselves as Hispanic, Asian, Caucasian, or African American. We did this initial sampling, not in an exclusionary way, but out of respect for the diversity that is America, and to help illustrate that the concept of race has no genetic or scientific basis. In the five Celera genomes there was no way to tell one ethnicity from another.

The head of the Human Genome Project recants his initial findings in the wake of new evidence, but maintains his ideological position.

Finding said to show "race isn't real" scrapped

Sept. 3, 2007 Special to World Science

A renowned scientist has backed off a finding that he, joined by others, long touted as evidence for what they called a proven fact: that racial differences among people are imaginary.

That idea—entrenched today in academia, and often used to castigate scholars who study race—has drawn much of its scientific backing from a finding that all people are 99.9 percent genetically alike.

But geneticist Craig Venter, head of a research team that reported that figure in 2001, backed off it in an announcement this week. He said human variation now turns out to be over seven times greater than was thought, though he's not changing his position on race.

Some other scientists have disputed the earlier figure for years as underestimating human variation. Venter, instead, has cited the number as key evidence that race is imaginary. He once declared that "no serious scholar" doubts that, though again, some recent studies have contradicted it.

Geneticist Armand Marie Leroi of Imperial College London wrote recently that a recognition of race could in the future help society protect endangered races. The more common past practice was for societies to oppress other races, which is largely what led some to try to banish any recognition of race altogether.

Craig Venter

Thus, views like Leroi's have been largely marginalized. The race-isn't-real doctrine prevails, typically portrayed by backers as settled fact that only racists or their dupes could question. It "can be something close to professional suicide" for researchers to even suggest race exists, psychiatrist Sally Satel wrote in the Dec. 2001 Jan. 2002 issue of the magazine Policy Review.

The field of genomics is much more extensive than just the Human Genome Project. As such, the field has gone from denying the existence of race to assume race as a biological reality.

Now, eight years later, Abecasis's idea—dubbed the 1000 Genomes Project—is coming to an end. They exceeded their goal, having sequenced over 2500 human genomes from 26 distinct groups of people around the world. (The collaboration's last two papers are in Nature today.)

Sequencing technology has improved by leaps and bounds since 1000 Genomes began, and the price for a whole genome sequence has fallen to a few thousand dollars. At least in the scientific community, trepidation about studying the genetic differences between groups of people has largely disappeared. In fact, many consider it the most important work they could possibly do. As the University of California, San Francisco sociologist Catherine Bliss puts it in her book Race Decoded, genomics has gone from being a "race-free" science to being a "race-positive" one.

In just 15 years of scientific advancement, they have gone from denying the existence of differences in race, to demanding the existence of differences in race. However, if the same standards of scientific rigor were to be applied to homo sapiens as are applied to the rest of the animal kingdom, then humans would be classified into multiple different species. Darwin even takes this idea one step further in The Descent of Man. He claims that the varieties of mankind are so distinct that similar differences found in any other animal would warrant their classification in different species, if not different genera.

Abstract

We have analyzed genetic data for 326 microsatellite markers that were typed uniformly in a large multiethnic population-based sample of individuals as part of a study of the genetics of hypertension (Family Blood Pressure Program). Subjects identified themselves as belonging to one of four major racial/ethnic groups (white, African American, East Asian, and Hispanic) and were recruited from 15 different geographic locales within the United States and Taiwan. Genetic cluster analysis of the microsatellite markers produced four major clusters, which showed near-perfect correspondence with the four self-reported race/ethnicity categories. Of 3,636 subjects of varying race/ethnicity, only 5 (0.14%) showed genetic cluster membership different from their self-identified race/ethnicity. On the other hand, we detected only modest genetic differentiation between different current geographic locales within each race/ethnicity group. Thus, ancient geographic ancestry, which is highly correlated with self-identified race/ethnicity—as opposed to current residence—is the major determinant of genetic structure in the U.S. population. Implications of this genetic structure for case-control association studies are discussed.

Different species.

So easy to tell apart.

Same exact species. Impossible to tell apart.

Test your skills!

We will start with an easy one...

Is this a Bengal, a Sumatran or a Siberian tiger cub?*

Is this a Bornean, Sumatran, or

Tapanuli orangutan baby?*

Now for the impossible question...

Does this human child have European, Asian or African ancestry?*

If you are not certain, that is ok. Humans are all one species and are impossible to tell apart.

^{*}Please note that because orangutans and tigers are divided into different species, the answer to the first two questions should be so obvious that the reader should have no need for an answer from the author. The answer to the third question is unknown because the question is impossible.

"But aren't species defined as 'the largest group of organisms in which any two individuals of the appropriate sexes or mating types can produce fertile offspring'? Thus, because Aryans and Negroids can interbreed, they should not be considered different species, amirtie???"

-Actually, many different species can mate in the wild to produce offspring:

Coywolf

The coyote and the wolf are two very distinct species, but capable of interbreeding.

Wholphin

The dolphin and the false killer whale are two very distinct species, but capable of interbreeding.

Zebroid

The zebra and the horse are two very distinct species, but capable of interbreeding.

Liger

The lion and the tiger are two very distinct species, but capable of interbreeding.

Leopon

The leopard and the lion are two very distinct species, but capable of interbreeding.

Grolar Bear

The polar bear and the grizzly are two very distinct species, but capable of interbreeding.

FIXATION INDEX

In order to classify creatures into different species, scientists do not only rely upon phenotypical and behaviors classification, but also genetic classifications. To help classify a species genetically, scientists created a Fixation Index (FST). The FST is a measure of the genetic distance between populations by noting the presence or absence of particular genetic markers. The higher the number, the greater genetic difference.

The FST between two different chimpanzee species, the common chimpanzee and the bonobo is 0.10

The FST between two different gorilla species, Gorilla gorilla and Gorilla beringe is 0.04

The FST between humans and the different species, Neanderthals is 0.08

The FST between humans and the different species, homo erectus is 0.17

The FST between Aryans (British) and Negroids (African Bantu) is 0.23 ...0.23 ...0.23 ...0.23

The FST between Europeans and sub-Saharan Africans is 0.153

The FST between North American Wolves and the different species, Coyote, is 0.153

Research carried out by L.L. Cavalli-Sforza and two colleagues, P. Menozzi and A. Piazzia, in their work The History and Geography of Human Genes (1994), revealed the English differ from the Danes, Germans, and French by 21–25 points of genetic distance, whereas whites differ from black Africans by an astonishing 2,288 genetic points of difference.

Same exact species?

The fact remains that if we used the same standards of taxonomic classification we use for other animals, Homo sapiens would have at least four different species, each with a variety of different subspecies.

So why is this information so important? Why is it so important to understand that humans ought to be classified into different species?

The reason this is so important is because different species display different behaviors. Let me repeat that: different species display different behaviors.

Example: Tigers are a different species from lions. Not only are the phenotypical markings different (orange/black stripes for tigers, tan coat for lions, with tigers being much larger of the two), and not only are the genotypical markings different between these different species, but the behaviors of these species are quite different as well. Tigers are solitary and hunt at night. Lions keep to a pride and hunt during the day.

Different species display different behaviors

Unless one acknowledges this vital fact, one may have a difficult time understanding the world and the reasons why certain races of men display certain types of behavior. It must be understood that the actions taken to guide or correct the behaviors of one human species are unlikely to be as effective when used on other human species. When dealing with different species of men, different laws are necessary to account for these different behaviors. For instance, while the threat of law might function to prevent criminal actions within an Aryan society, this same deterrent may fail to be effective when used within societies of another race. Moreover, just as different laws are necessary to curb criminal behaviors of different human species, different educational systems are also required to properly educate the next generations of each of the different human races.

In summary, there exists in this world four distinct human species which are closely related and capable of interbreeding effectively, but each of which is a part of distinct genetic, phenotypical, and behavioral group. Understanding that there exist different human species (each with a variety of subspecies) helps us to understand that these varying species and subspecies will inevitably display different behaviors, and often in predictable ways. As different species, we can be expected to respond differently, even when exposed to the same stimuli (stimuli such as laws, social norms and education), and these varying responses will be confusing and seem quite irrational to those of a different species unless one first understands this most basic rule:

Different species display different behaviors.

In the last part of this section, we will analyze the behaviors the races. We will take a quick look at some examples of Aryan behavior, followed by a longer exposition of behaviors common to the Negroid race.

Aryans tend to be intelligent with the ability to favor long-term planning over immediate gratification. They are patient and have the ability to endure great suffering before reacting violently. They have a strong workethic. They function well as a group because Aryans have great compassion and empathy for others. Lastly, they are very trusting of other people. The reason for their trusting attitude is because they, themselves, are trust-worthy. Here is a great example of Aryans demonstrating their trustworthiness and empathy for their fellow man:

Things Aryans do:

An Aryan's empathy allows him to form trusting-bonds which result in kind and generous behaviors toward others, and this makes an Aryan the strongest when he is with his friends and fellow Aryan allies. This ability of Aryans to empathize with others to form these strong bonds is the Aryan's greatest strength, but it is also his greatest weakness. This is because it makes him easy prey for shysters, liars and smooth-tongued scam artists, who view Aryans as little more than an easy mark. One of the hardest and most painful lessons for an Aryan to learn is how to distrust people.

The trusting nature of the Aryan has allowed non-Aryans to infiltrate into the great civilizations they have built, corrupt both those civilizations and their people, eventually bringing about their ruin. To illustrate, few people know that Aryans had settled the great continent of Asia, as far east as Japan. Their open hearts and kind souls invited darker skinned races of men into the great cities, and as a result, those darker-skinned invaders destroyed those civilizations and almost entirely genocided the Aryans. Only the mixed-race of fair-skinned, blue-eyed Ainu people remain of the once noble Aryan civilization of the far east (Link) (A).

Likewise, ancient Aryans also settled as far south as Africa and built great civilizations surrounding the pyramids of Egypt, whose rulers were blue-eyed, pale-skinned, and blonde-haired. Their open hearts and kind souls invited darker skinned races of men into their great cities, and as a result, those darker-skinned invaders destroyed those civilizations and genocided the Aryans living in Africa.

Again, few people know about the archeological evidence showing that ancient Aryans were the first to colonize North America, long before the darkerskinned Amerindians arrived. Yet, when they did arrive, the open hearts and kind souls of the Aryans invited the darker skinned races of men into their great cities, and as a result, those invaders destroyed those civilizations and genocided the Aryans who had first inhabited the Americas (Link) (A).

Again, the ancient Aryans built all of the great civilizations of the old world, including ancient Greece. When people imagine an ancient Greek individual, they picture the dark-haired, olive skinned Greeks of today, but the primary sources for the Trojan War describes ancient Greek soldiers as having blonde hair and lightly colored eyes. The civilizations these ancient Aryans built, like all of the others, were destroyed and after they invited darker-skinned people to live among them, leaving behind only a mixed-race we see today.

Likewise, ancient Aryans settled into Europe, and more recently, they resettled in North America. There, they once again built the greatest civilizations the world had ever known, and once again the open hearts and kind souls of the Aryan people are even now inviting darker-skinned races of men into their great nations, and even now, those nations are seeing the first signs of their collapse.

One of the greatest examples of Aryan behavior comes from the founder of the Iranian Empire (Aryan Empire): Cyrus the Great. His life story is an invaluable read and provides a fascinating understanding Aryan racial characteristics. It was recorded in Xenophon's historical account entitled Cyropaedia. Link (A)

Another defining trait possessed by Aryans is the fact they have managed to preserve a high level of IQ. Here is a graphic showing the results of IQ testing performed on white Americans (primarily Aryans), black Americans (mixed race negroids), and the African species (pureblood negroids).

In contrast to what is shown in the adjacent graphic, it is important to note that for one to be considered 'mentally retarded' by Aryan standards, the threshold is currently listed as having an IQ less than 70. However, until very recently, the actual threshold for being considered 'retarded' is having an IQ of less than 85.

Why was 85 selected as the threshold? This number was chosen because when a population's average IQ drops below 85, they lose the ability to satisfactorily govern themselves. In other words, a lower IQ results in an individual who behaves differently than someone with a higher IQ. If an entire population has a low IQ, then different laws are required to control for the different behaviors displayed by this low-IQ population. Low IQ populations cannot survive in an environment of freedom and self-government, like the governments built by Aryans. Instead, low IQ populations are safest and live best under a totalitarian form of government.

Early IQ scientists understood that the majority of negroids ought to properly be considered 'mentally retarded', and as such, most negroids ought to be considered unfit for equitable citizenship within any free Aryan state. However, this inconvenient truth would have brought a catastrophic end to the jewish-led Afri-American civil rights movement of the '60s. To preempt this from happening, the threshold for "mental retardation" was quickly and silently adjusted:

← → C https://www.hrw.org/reports/2001/ustat/ustat0301-01.htm

16 With the upper ceiling on mental retardation reduced from an I.Q. of 85 to an I.Q. of 70, far fewer Americans are today diagnosed as "mentally retarded" than before. Although the lower I.Q. ceiling for mental retardation was agreed upon in part to avoid applying stigmatizing labels to so many people whose intelligence was below average, the changed I.Q. ceiling ironically had the effect of cutting off from social services such as special education many people who would have otherwise benefited from the extra support. Scholars have emphasized that because of the possibility of testing error, a person with an I.Q. of up to 75 should be considered "retarded" if the diagnosis is necessary to ensure access to special education or other assistance. See, e.g., H. J. Grossman, ed., Manual on Terminology in Mental Retardation (Washington, D. C.: American Association on Mental Deficiency, 1977).

Abstract

Wicherts, Dolan, and van der Maas (2009) contend that the average IQ of sub-Saharan Africans is about 80. A critical evaluation of the studies presented by WDM shows that many of these are based on unrepresentative elite samples. We show that studies of 29 acceptably representative samples on tests other than the Progressive Matrices give a sub-Saharan Africa IQ of 69; studies of the most satisfactory representative samples on the Standard Progressive Matrices give an IQ of 66; studies of 23 acceptably representative samples on the Colored Progressive Matrices give an IQ of 71. The international studies of mathematics, science, and reading give a sub-Saharan African IQ of 66. The four data sets can be averaged to give an IQ of 68 as the best reading of the IQ in sub-Saharan Africa.

Although 'skin tone' does not cause low IQ, the correlation between these two features is clear: both skin tone and intelligence are racial features; that is: they are genetic. Since both skin tone and intelligence are derived from one's ancestry, it should not by surprising they correlate with such a high degree of accuracy:

In general, skin tone and low IQ both correlate to low-quality living conditions:

Best: Lowest violent crime rate

Maine ranks as the safest state in the country, as there were just 124 violent crimes reported for every 100,000 residents — less than a third of the national rate.

Worst: Least diverse

According to the latest Census data, 94.4 percent of Maine's population is white, beating out nearby Vermont and New Hampshire as the least diverse states.

Best: Diversity — Considered a "minority majority" state (meaning there is no single ethnic group or race that makes up the majority of the population), California has earned the title of the most diverse state in the United States.

Worst: Quality of life — However, it was also accused of having the worst quality of life based on a variety of social and environmental factors including sense of community and air pollution. Maybe that's why in recent years, more people have been leaving California than moving there...

A very common misconception is that IQ is determined by economic factors. However, while economic factors can play a small role in intelligence, an individual's racial traits play a significantly larger role.

In the adjacent graphic, assuming median income is $61k, the difference in SAT scores is only 78 points between whites with low incomes versus those with high incomes. With an average white SAT score of 1052, this implies economic factors provide only a 7% variance to an individual's SAT score, whereas 93% is due to genetics.

To further demonstrate the important role played by genetics, notice that when economic factors are segregated by race, then in every income bracket, the SAT scores for blacks is LOWER than for whites.

But don't African-Americans fail because they have poor schools?

Few people know that in 1985, a federal district judge believed African-Americans failed because they had poor schools. To remedy this, the judge seized control over the Kansas City, Missouri, School District (KCMSD) on the ground that it was an unconstitutionally segregated district with dilapidated facilities. He claims this was the reason the students performed poorly. In what would come to be called the Kansas City Experiment, the judge ordered the state to spend nearly $2 billion over the next 12 years to bring student test scores up to the national norms. This money brought in better teachers by offering higher salaries, provided a better learning environment with better labs, better student-resources, and the best student-teacher ratio in the country, at 12 students to each teacher.

But the results were an utter failure. Tests scores did not rise, and the black-white intelligence gap did not diminish. The only answer the Kansas City Experiment provided was that money was not the answer.

In the adjacent graphic, it can be seen that white students in the poorest school districts still outscored blacks and Hispanics in the wealthiest ones. The test scores for blacks and Hispanics did not increase in the wealthier districts, whereas whites in the wealthy districts did show improvements.

-Actually, few people know about the 1976 Minnesota Transracial adoption study which tested white children, black children, and interracial (white/black) children adopted into advantaged white families. This study controlled for "home environment" by looking at children of different races who were given a similar (racially identical) upbringing. The data showed that race (not environment) was the predominate factor determining IQ:

THE MINNESOTA TRANSRACIAL ADOPTION STUDY

Mean IQ at age 17

The Minnesota Transracial Adoption Study examined the IQ test scores of 130 black/interracial children adopted by advantaged white families. The aim of the study was to determine the contribution of genetic factors to the poor performance of black children on IQ tests as compared to white children. By examining the cognitive ability and school performance of both black and white children adopted into white families, the study intended to separate genetic factors from rearing conditions as causal influences in the gap. The initial study was published in 1976 by Sandra Scarr and Richard A. Weinberg. A follow up study was published in 1992 by Richard Weinberg, white and one black Sandra Scarr and Irwin D. Waldman.

The chart shows the mean IQ of black, white, and mixed-race black/white children adopted by upper-middle-class white families in Minnesota, and the mean IQ of non-adopted white children brought up in an upper-middle-class white family. The average IQ of the adopting parents was more than 1 standard deviation above the population mean of 100. it was previously known that adoption into upper-middle class white families has a positive influence on the IQ and school performance of white children. The difference in IQ scores between the adopting parents and their biological children would generally be explained in genetics by regression toward the mean.

The adopting parents of 12 of the interracial children wrongly believed that their adopted children had two black parents. The average IQ of these 12 children was not significantly different from the scores of the 56 interracial children correctly classified by their adoptive parents as having one black and one white parent.

The data is sourced from the latest reanalysis of the Minnesota Transracial Adoption Study by John Loehlin in his book: "the Handbook of Human Intelligence(2000)". http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Minnesota_Transracial_Adoption_Study

Even when Negroids and Aryans have the same backgrounds, in terms of family income and childhood advantages, Negroids still have average I.Q. scores 12 to 15 points lower than comparable Aryans. This includes cases where Negroid children have been adopted by Aryan parents. Their IQs may be improved by environment, but they are still closer to their biological parents than their adoptive parents.

On average, full-blooded Negroids scored 31% lower than Aryans. Three-quarter Negroids scored 27% lower than Aryans. Half-negroids scored 19% lower, and quarter-negroids scored 8% lower.

The Army Beta was a non-verbal intelligence test developed by an American Psychological Association (APA) Committee on the 'Psychological Examination of Recruits'. It was administered to non-English speaking and/or illiterate Army recruits shortly after the United States entered World War I. Its purpose was to assess for low intelligence and allow for the recognition of those who were candidates for special assignments and officer-training schools. It was administered to over 386,000 illiterate soldiers and conclusively demonstrated that Negroid draftees were "inferior to Whites on every type of intelligence test developed by the APA."

"It is simply no longer possible to ignore average genetic differences among races. Differences in genetic ancestry correlating to many of today's racial constructs are real. Scientists identified 74 genetic variations that are over-represented in genes known to be important in neurological development. In another study, genetic variations were discovered in more than 20 genes that were predictive of performance on intelligence tests. You will sometimes hear that any biological differences among populations are likely to be small. This is not true. People who deny substantial biological differences among human populations are digging themselves into an indefensible position that will not survive the onslaught of science." -How Genetics is Changing Our Understanding of Race, New York Times, March 23, 2018

SES CATEGORIES

Upper. Both mothers and fathers of students in this group had graduate or professional training and held professional jobs. The level of education and the level of occupation are virtually identical for both the parents of these students.

Upper-Middle. Fathers in this group tend to be professional workers, but mothers are white-collar workers or homemakers. Fathers of these students are also likely to hold graduate or professional degrees, while mothers tend to have associate or bachelor's degrees, but no graduate or professional training.

Middle. Fathers of students in this group tend to hold white-collar nonprofessional jobs, while mothers tend to hold a mix of blue-collar and white-collar nonprofessional jobs. Additionally, fathers of students in this group have some college experience, with many holding an associate's degree. Mothers tend to have less education than fathers, but at least a high school diploma. Students in this and each of the higher SES groups reported average to above average family income when they were in high school.

Lower-Middle. Both mothers and fathers of students in this group tend to be blue-collar workers and are not college educated. Many have less than a high school education. Additionally, students in this group described their family income when they were in high school as below average.

Rushton & Jensen (2005) write that, in the United States, self-identified blacks and whites have been the subjects of the greatest number of studies. They state that the black-white IQ difference is about 15 to 18 points or 1 to 1.1 standard deviations (SDs), which implies that between 11 and 16 percent of the black population have an IQ above 100 (the general population median). The black-white IQ difference is largest on those components of IQ tests that best represent the general intelligence factor $g_*^{\{1\}}$ The 1996 APA report "Intelligence: Knowns and Unknowns" and the 1994 editorial statement "Mainstream Science on Intelligence" gave more or less similar estimates. $I_*^{\{1\}}$ Roth et al. (2001), in a review of the results of a total of 6,246,729 participants on other tests of cognitive ability or aptitude, found a difference in mean IQ scores between blacks and whites of 1.1 SD. Consistent results were found for college and university application tests such as the Scholastic Aptitude Test (N = 2.4 million) and Graduate Record Examination (N = 2.3 million), as well as for tests of job applicants in corporate sections (N = 0.5 million) and in the military (N = 0.4 million), I_*

GENES, RACE AND INTELLIGENCE

The latest findings on race, genes and intelligence show that the gap in intelligence between Europeans and Africans is caused partly by irreducible genetic factors. These findings conclusively put an end to the theory that the gap is caused solely by socioeconomic factors.

The following genes are present in at least one third of the European population and are known to increase intelligence with genome-wide levels of significance:

SNP	Distribution
rs708913 (A)	Europeans are 341% more likely to have this gene than Africans
rs1044258 (T)	Europeans are 470% more likely to have this gene than Africans

Key points:

- These genes are known to influence mainly the hippocampus, brain, limbic system, central nervous system, cerebral cortex, cerebrum, parahippocampal gyrus, telencephalon, temporal lobe, brain stem, prosencephalon, rhombencephalon, occipital lobe, cerebellum, visual cortex, parietal lobe, retina, basal ganglia, neural stem cells, corpus striatum and frontal lobe.
- These genes alone account already for roughly two thirds of one standard deviation in cognitive ability.
- These genes are at least 50% more likely to exist in one population than in the other, can be found in at least one third of either population, and positively affect Europeans or negatively affect Africans. More than 200 genes that meet these requirements can be conservatively estimated to exist.
- The differences between populations might be even larger since the African sample included cohorts with European admixture.

The Negroid brain grows less after puberty than the Aryan brain. Though the Negrod brain and nervous system mature faster than the Aryan brain, its development is arrested at an earlier age. This limits the intellectual advancement of Negroids.

The thickness of the supragranular layer of the Negroid brain is about 15% thinner, and its convolutions are fewer and more simple, on average, than that of the Aryan brain. The frontal lobes of the Negro brain, responsible for abstract conceptional reasoning, are smaller relative to body weight, less fissured, and less complex than those of the Aryan.

The brain of the Negro is 9% to 20% smaller than whites.

According to Nei and Roychoudhury (1993), the FST distance between Aryans and chimpanzees is 1.60. Knowing the difference between Aryans and Negroids is a massive 0.23, this shows a variation difference of approximately 1/6th.

Compared to Aryans, negroids could be considered 1/6th ape. Not only could this explain the similarities between the negroid skull and the ape skull, not only could this explain the similarities between the negroid brain and the ape brain, but it could also explain similarities between their behaviors:

In 2011, DNA from three African groups (Biaka Pygmies, San, and Mandinka) was tested and shown to come from a now-extinct species that broke away from the modern human lineage over 700,000 years ago.[1]

In 2012, another study tested three sub-Saharan African populations (Pygmies, Hadza and Sandawe) and it was again found that the ancestors of modern Africans bred with different species of hominins, not found in the DNA of non-Africans.[2]

Ok, maybe Negroids really do have low IQ, and maybe IQ really is 93% genetic, but certainly economic factors must play a much larger role when it comes to crime, right?

-The reality is that just as differing genetics of various species results in differing IQ, so does the differing genetics of various species result in differing behavior. The members of the Negroid species tend to display criminal behaviors. Moreover, economic factors seem to have little impact on such behavior.

For instance:

Although African-Americans make up only a small portion of the population, they commit a much larger proportion of the crime.:

Here are a list of additional inconvenient facts:

- 1. The more violent the crime, the more heavily Negroids tend to be overrepresented in it. (see above chart)
- 2. Negroids are more likely than Aryans to bully people at school Link to study
- 3. Negroids are also more impulsive than Aryans. Link to studies: Link1 Link2
- 4. Impulsive behavior (a negroid trait) predicts criminality and poverty even after controlling for IQ and parental socio-economic status. Link
- 5. Negroids also score higher than Aryans on measures of psychopathic personality. Link (A)
- 6. Another feature shared by both Negroids and criminals is low levels of stress. Criminologists have explained the association between low levels of stress and crime by positing that the level of anxiety, stress, and nervousness which accompany criminal attempts would act as a deterrent from committing the crime. Therefore, having a less active stress response would predispose people towards criminal behavior. It has also been shown that having a slow heart beat and a low level of cortisol are both biological markers of having a low level of stress. Both of these facts have not only been linked to criminality, but are also dominant traits found in Negroids. Moreover, cortisol acts to block the effects of testosterone. Since Negroids have lower levels of cortisol, this implies less control over their testosterone. Testosterone is linked to aggressive behaviors, which has also been shown to contribute to criminal behaviors, implying that Negroids have a genetic inability to control their predisposition toward criminal behavior.

In conclusion, several aspects of negroid personality, including higher levels of aggression, impulsivity, and psychopathy, as well as lower levels of stress, lower cortisol and lower levels of self-control, all combine to predispose Negroids toward criminal behavior. Negroids are not only genetically more likely to possess substantially lower levels of IQ, but they are also genetically more likely to demonstrate behaviors associated with crime, poverty, and single parenthood. Or in other words...

Different species display different behaviors.

Exacerbating this problem even further is the fact that negroids are more likely than Aryans to have low repeat versions of the androgen receptor gene. In the following linked study, it has been demonstrated that those incarcerated for both rape and murder had the shortest average number of CAG repeats followed by murderers, followed by rapists. The non-criminal controls had the longest CAG repeats. Link to study (A)

In addition to this, the most well-established crime-related gene is the mono-amine oxidase A gene (MAO-A). This gene is involved in aggression, impulsivity, and crime, and it is known to differ racially:

The 2-repeat allele of the MAOA gene confers an increased risk for shooting and stabbing behaviors.

Author information

Abstract

There has been a great deal of research examining the link between a polymorphism in the promoter region of the MAOA gene and antisocial phenotypes. The results of these studies have consistently revealed that low activity MAOA alleles are related to antisocial behaviors for males who were maltreated as children. Recently, though, some evidence has emerged indicating that a rare allele of the MAOA gene-that is the 2-repeat allele-may have effects on violence that are independent of the environment. The current study builds on this research and examines the association between the 2-repeat allele and shooting and stabbing behaviors in a sample of males drawn from the National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health. Analyses revealed that African-American males who carry the 2-repeat allele are significantly more likely than all other genotypes to engage in shooting and stabbing behaviors and to report having multiple shooting and stabbing victims. The limitations of the study are discussed and suggestions for future research are offered.

The 2-repeat allele of the MAOA gene is 9x more prevalent among African Americans than White Americans.

The 2-repeat allele of MAOA confers and increased risk for shooting and stabbing behaviors independent of environment.

It is scientifically less safe to be near Negroids than Aryans.

Genetics does not just apply to the behaviors of the various human species. Take dog species, for instance:

A study looking at 101 breeds finds strong ties between certain behaviors and genes

Whether certain dog breeds are easy to train largely boils down to genetics, a study finds. The average bulldog is considered trickier to train than other breeds.

Firearm homicide rate per 100,000

America does not have a gun problem. It has a negroid problem.

The adjacent graphic demonstrates poverty does not necessarily correlate to homicide rates:

The Trace: https://www.thetrace.org/2018/04/highest-murder-rates-uscities-list/ ---- Forbes: https://www.forbes.com/sites/kenrapoza/ 2016/01/29/months-before-rio-olympics-murder-rate-rises-in- World Bank ---- https://data.worldbank.org/topic/po

On the other hand, there is one trait which correlates to homicides far better than any other:

The United States is ranked 3rd for having the most murders in the world. If we remove Chicago, Detroit, Washington DC, St. Louis and New Orleans, then the United States is ranked 189th out of 193 countries.

All five cities have strict gun control laws.

Gun control is not the problem.

BLACK CRISSINGER CRISSINGER MATTER

According to Federal statistics, Negroids are 648% more likely to go to prison than Aryans: Link to FBI report (A)

Take this one for what you will: Negroid males possess high levels of female hormones: Link to study (A)

According to the Justice Department, 1 in every 4 Negroid males between the ages of 20 and 29 is currently in prison or on probation or parole.

In New York City, an Aryan is 30,000% MORE LIKELY to be assaulted by a gang of Negroids than is a Negroid by a gang of Aryans.

The rate at which Negroids commit murder is 1,300% greater than Aryans; rape and assault by Negroids is 1,000% more than Aryans.

A Negroid is 5,600% more likely to attack an Aryan than vice versa.

Sources:

One last thing should be noted about the data involving Aryan crime rates: the current racial classification system specifically does not account for either Aryan descent or skin tone; instead it uses a very subjective and vague qualification system based upon an individual's racial self-identification. That is to say: many who are classified as "white" are not actually Aryans, and this can lead to distortions in the data. For example, the amount of crimes committed by "whites" in the above graphics are disproportionately high, and the criminal behaviors of actual Aryans is much lower than the above data suggests. This is demonstrated by the following examples, which consists of several "white" criminals:

A white hispanic suspect has been arrested for shooting in a crowd of Black people at a

CONSIDERED ARMED & DANGEROUS

"Ok, so blacks have low IQ, and their genetics cause them to display very violent and criminal behaviors. However, it is still the white man's fault because the white man colonized Africa and kept the black man down, right?"

-Actually, this is a false belief. The Negroid species has always displayed violent behaviors and they have always demonstrated a low IQ. Here are quotes from Arabs and Persians on the characteristics of Africans, long before any European colonialism occurred:

"To the south there is no civilization in the proper sense. There are only humans who are closer to dumb animals than to rational beings. They live in thickets and caves and eat unprepared grain. They frequently eat each other. They cannot be considered human beings. The only people who accept slavery are the Negroes, owing to their low degree of humanity and proximity to the animal. All others who accept the status of slave only do so as a means to attaining high rank, power, or wealth. The Negro has very little in him that could be considered human." -Historian Ibn Khaldun (d.1406), Muqaddimah

"The negro does not differ from an animal in anything except that his hands have been lifted from the earth. Many have seen that the ape is more capable of being trained than the negro, and more intelligent." Nasir al-Din al Tusi (1201-1274), Tasawwurat

"The Africans are people distant from the standards of humanity. Their nature is that of wild animals. They are extremely black. Among the Sudanese, there are people who steal each other's children and sell them to merchants when the latter arrive." -Persian geography, Hudud al-Alam, 982 AD

"Africans are the worst of men and the most vicious of creatures in both character and temperament. They are the least intelligent of mankind, and the least capable of understanding the consequences of actions, and despite their dimness, their boundless stupidity, their obtuseness, their crude perceptions and their evil dispositions, they still make long speeches." -Al Jahiz (d.868 AD), Kitab al-Burkhala.

"Of the Buija tribe, they do not marry one another, and so the child does not know his own father, and they eat people. As for the Zanj tribe, they have little intelligence." Al-Muqaddasi

"Merriment dominates the negro because of his defective brain."

-Al-Masudi

"The people of Iraq do not come out blonde and of white coloring, such has from the wombs of the Slavs, nor are they overdone in the womb until they are burned so the child comes out black, malodorous, stinking, and crinkly-haired, with uneven limbs, deficient minds, and depraved passions, such as the Zanj, the Somali, and the other negros. No, the Iraqis are neither half-baked dough nor burned crust, but between the two." Ibn al-Faquh

"The Zanj are so uncivilized that they have no notion of a natural death. If a man has not been killed by a weapon, they view the death as suspicious and believe him to have been poisoned." -Abu Rayhan al-Biruni

"Since the dawn of history the negro has owned the continent of Africa - rich beyond the dream of poet's fancy, crunching acres of diamonds beneath his bare black feet. Yet he never picked one up from the dust until a white man showed to him its glittering light. His land swarmed with powerful and docile animals, yet he never dreamed a harness, cart, or sled. A hunter by necessity, he never made an axe, spear, or arrowhead worth preserving beyond the moment of its use. He lived as an ox, content to graze for an hour. In a land of stone and timber he never sawed a foot of lumber, carved a block, or built a house save of broken sticks and mud. With league on league of ocean strand and miles of inland seas, for four thousand years he watched their surface ripple under the wind, heard the thunder of the surf on his beach, the howl of the storm over his head, gazed on the dim blue horizon calling him to worlds that lie beyond, and yet he never dreamed a sail."

-Charles Darwin

CHAPTER XII.

INHOSPITALITY TO STRANGERS, BEGGING, EXTORTION, AND ROB-BERY IN NEGROLAND.

"Gratitude with the African is not even a sense of prospective favor. He looks upon a benefit as the weakness of his benefactor and his own strength; consequently he will not recognize even the hand that feeds him. He will, perhaps, lament for a night the death of a parent or a child, but the morrow will find him thoroughly comforted. The name of hospitality, except for interested motives, is unknown to him. What will you give me? is his first question. To a stranger entering a village the worst hut is assigned, and, if he complain, the answer is that he can find encamping-ground outside. Instead of treating him like a guest, which the Arab Bedouin would hold to be a point of pride, of honor, his host compels him to pay and prepay every article; otherwise he might starve in the midst of plenty."—Burton's Africa, page 490.

"It is hard to make them feel that the shedding of human blood is a great crime; they must be conscious that it is wrong, but, having been accustomed to bloodshed from infancy, they are remarkably callous to the enormity of the crime of destroying human life."—Livingstone's Africa, page 217.

"I have given my life to try to alleviate the sufferings of Africa. There is something that all white men who have lived here like I must learn and know:

"That these individuals are a sub-race. They have neither the intellectual, mental, or emotional abilities to equate or to share equally with white men in any function of our civilization. I have given my life to try to bring them the advantages which our civilization must offer, but I have become well aware that we must retain this status: the superior and they the inferior. For whenever a white man seeks to live among them as their equals they will either destroy him or devour him. And they will destroy all of his work. Let white men from anywhere in the world, who would come to Africa, remember that you must continually retain this status; you the master and they the inferior like children that you would help or teach. Never fraternize with them as equals. Never accept them as your social equals or they will devour you. They will destroy you."

- Dr Albert Schweitzer, Nobel Peace Prize Winner 1951 ("African Notebook" 1939)

Video Evidence: Link (A) "Ape...more capable...than the negro, and more intelligent." -Nasir al-Din al Tusi (1201-1274), Tasawwurat

Despite what the constant barrage of pictures of starving African kids would have you believe, Africa has the most natural resources and arable land of any continent on earth.

Starving African kids are the product of white charity which allows them to breed uninhibited. Europeans would never have wasted all of that time and effort trying to help had they realize that Negroids do not function in the same way as we do.

They function with an "everything that is yours is mine" mentality. This is because in Africa food is plentiful and resources seem limitless. They gather what they need to survive for the day, and no more. They hunt and gather any food they see because if they do not, then the next Negroid will take it. If they do not want it, they leave it and it belongs to the next one who meanders by. It was quite literally 'everything that is yours is mine'. If an area ran out of food, they simply moved onto the next area and began anew.

This same mentality carried over into our world: if Negroids see something they want, they simply take it. They will take anything and everything that's not nailed down (and depending on how much effort is required, they'll also take whatever is nailed down Link (A). They have no understanding of ownership.

This is also why they do not perceive why rape is wrong. If a Negroid wants a woman, he just takes her, like he takes everything else he wants. Everything that is yours is mine, and this includes your women. Assault, theft and rape are all a part of African culture, along with triple-lip rings. So sexy.

MURDER, RAPE AND TORTURE OF AUSTRIALIAN ABORIGINAL CHILDREN

The early infanticidal childrearing mode of Austrian Aboriginals has been arguably the most abusive and neglectful of all tribal cultures. It is possible that the poor environment of the Australian desert is partially responsible for their lack of progress in childrearing, though New Guinea was nearly as stuck as they are in early infanticidal mode childrearing and they have had a far better environment than Australia. The origins of the very violent personalities of Aboriginals are, of course, in no way caused by genetic differences, only developmental. Thousands of Aboriginals have been removed from their parents and brought up by modern city parents and they turn out to have personalities indistinguishable from others in their adoptive families.

The custom of raping Aboriginal children, eating "every second child" and making the older children also eat them is termed "a quite favorable picture" by Roheim. 96 Mothers regularly forced their children to eat their newborn siblings "in the belief that the strength of the first child would be doubled by such a procedure."97 Sometimes the fetus would be "pulled out by the head, roasted and eaten by the mother and the children" and sometimes "a big boy would be killed by the father by being beaten on the head" and given to the mother to eat. 98 Since most newborns in the Pacific area, from Hawaii to Tahiti, were murdered by their mothers,99 and since their siblings were forced to participate in the killings, all adults had Killer Mother alters implanted in their amygdalan fear networks which they were compelled to reenact. Hippler says Australian children "attacked infants unceasingly" while "the mother rarely intervenes... Children's attacks become so common that one often hears adults saying 'Don't kill the baby.' But no one interferes and the child is increasingly made subject to violence and stress." 100 He also says "children are abused by their mother and others...routinely brutally...jerked roughly, slapped or shaken...verbally abusive using epithets such as 'you shit' [frightened by] a dangerous world full of demons, though in reality the real dangers are from his caretakers...children are terrified to leave the presence of their mothers."101 Fusion with the Killer Mother is guaranteed by all these practices, plus the mother's choking the infant with her milk during nursing, the constant masturbation by mother of her children's penis and vagina while she lies on top of them, twisting and pinching them as we saw was the practice in New Guinea. 102

The mutilation of young girls' vaginas is also practiced by the Aboriginals, "in which old men roll emu feathers with a loop of hair. This device is put into the vagina and then removed, pulling away a large part of the womb. The rest of the womb is then cut horizontally and vertically with a stone knife. When this wound is healed, the girl is then circumcised and made to have intercourse with many young men. The mix of blood and semen is collected and given to frail tribesmen as a fortifying elixir." Again, the fusion with the Killer Mother's blood is imagined to increase the strength of the male who is uncertain of his masculinity. Males marry many wives and even rape their own daughters on order to fortify their masculinity, and fathers often have "boy-wives" to absorb some of their maleness. It is not surprising that with both boys and girls "almost their only, and certainly their supreme, game was coitus," particularly "licking the vagina of girls" to increase their strength. Gang raping is constant among Aboriginals, as it is in all tribal cultures. Roheim calls the constant rape of Aboriginal children "far more 'normal' than the sexuality of the European male" since "their repression of sexuality need not be as deep as it is among Europeans." 108

The initial ritual of Aboriginal boys is accomplished by throwing them into a trench called "The Old Woman" with a bull-roarer called "The Mother" (her womb), repeating their birth by going through a birth tunnel with an umbilical rope attached, being covered by "the menstrual blood that can cause you to die," and then sub-incising them with "a slit made on the underside of his penis" that is said to create a powerful vagina. 109 The men then have intercourse in the split on the underside of the penis, "like a split-open frankfurter." 110 Equipped with a vagina and with the powerful blood of the "Old Serpent Woman" who roams the desert in search of people to eat, warriors go out to kill anyone they can find, living "in dread of enemies" who are Killer Mother serpents, creating Faked Provocations of some fancied wrongs that might justify the killing, either individually or in small groups. Many Australian tribes ate their dead enemies, including their neighbors, though "not for the sake of food."111 Australian Aborigines also "never neglect to massacre all strangers who fall into their power." 112 "Men, women and children are massacred indiscriminately." 113 A majority of adult men are killed by homicide and over a quarter are killed in warfare. 114 These patterns have not changed in millennia: "fighting scenes are extensively depicted in Aboriginal rock art dating back at least 10,000 years." 115 When childrearing doesn't change. economies and cultures do not change.

Report: Nearly Half Of Detroiters Can't Read

May 4, 2011 at 2:20 pm Filed Under: Detroit Regional Workforce Fund, jobs, Literacy, report

DETROIT (WWJ) - According to a new report, 47 percent of Detroiters are "functionally illiterate." The alarming new statistics were released by the Detroit Regional Workforce Fund on Wednesday.

WWJ Newsradio 950 spoke with the Fund's Director, Karen Tyler-Ruiz, who explained exactly what this means.

"Not able to fill out basic forms, for getting a job — those types of basic everyday (things). Reading a prescription; what's on the bottle, how many you should take... just your basic everyday tasks," she said.

"I don't really know how they get by, but they do. Are they getting by well? Well, that's another question," Tyler-Ruiz said.

Some of the Detroit suburbs also have high numbers of functionally illiterate: 34 percent in Pontiac and 24 percent in Southfield.

"For other major urban areas, we are a little bit on the high side... We compare, slightly higher, to Washington D.C.'s urban population, in certain ZIP codes in Washington D.C. and in Cleveland," she said.

Tyler-Ruiz said only 10 percent of those who can't read have gotten any help to resolve it.

The report will be used to provide better training for local workers.

Note: this figure includes all Detroiters. The percentage of illiterate blacks would be much higher.

Suspect images released after feces poured on people inside libraries at York, U of T

Toronto police have released suspect images from one of two incidents in which "liquefied fecal matter" was allegedly poured onto victims on university campuses in the city.

Police said Monday that they are investigating two separate reports of feces being thrown at people inside libraries on Toronto university campuses.

The first incident reportedly occurred at the University of Toronto's Robarts Library on Nov.

One student, who told CP24 she was in the library at the time, said a man appeared out of nowhere with a bucket that smelled of urine and feces.

She said the man walked over to a male who was seated at a table and dumped the bucket over his head.

"It didn't smell at first and then all of a sudden, the smell hit," the witness said. "I thought I was going to like faint or like cry... Me and my friends just packed up our stuff and ran out of the room."

She noted that she "will never forget that smell."

In 2016, Ward hit the 11-year-old while she was walking to Geeter Middle School with his SUV, forced her inside, threatened to kill her, then raped her.

Newsweek

A jury deliberated less than a half an hour before finding Michael Ivory Collins guilty of a triple murder in which he sawed two children's heads off in front of their mother before killing her, reported the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette.

Prosecutors say Collins, along with half-brother William Burnell Alexander, traveled to the Little Rock home of Mariah Cunningham in December 2017 with grisly intent.

Once there, Alexander held Cunningham down while Collins brutally murdered her two children, stabbing A'Laylaih Fisher, 5, more than 20 times before attempting to saw off her head. He then moved on to 4-year-old Elijah Fisher, stabbing and decapitating him as well.

All the while, the horrified Cunningham was made to watch. The two men then stabbed her to death and left, prosecutors say.

The pair made off with the family's TV and Xbox game console. They also stole Cunningham's Honda Accord but abandoned it two miles away from the scene of the crime when they realized the power steering was broken.

The bodies were found by Cunningham's 78-year-old grandmother, who had gone to the house after her phone calls were not returned, according to US News and World Report.

Police found bleach on the bodies and a steak knife believed to be the murder weapon in the bathtub. Although the prosecution had no witnesses, they brought the case based on material evidence.

An examination spectacularly failed by all would-be professional surgeons from five universities two weeks ago will now be written in a multiple-choice format. Zach Koto, president of the council of surgeons at the Colleges of Medicine of SA (CMSA), announced at a media briefing held in Joburg on Tuesday that the multiple-choice format will be used, starting from next year.

A row erupted last week after it emerged that all candidates from Wits University, University of Cape Town, University of Pretoria, Walter Sisulu University and University of the Free State had failed the exam.

ARCHITECTS OF APARTHEID: Just when libtards try bestowing the virtues of Africans to you, news comes out of this extremely horrific and serious farm attack which happened on January 15, this year, which was not even reported on by any mainstream

Black Lives Matter leader writes list of 10 demands

(Link to news article) (A)

- 1. White people, if you don't have any descendants, will your property to a black family.
- 2. White people, if you're inheriting property, give it to a black family. You're bound to make that money in some other white privileged way.
- 3. White people, if you are a developer or realty-owner of multifamily housing, build a sustainable complex in a black neighborhood and let black people live in it for free.
- 4. White people, if you can afford to downsize, give up the home you own to a black family.
- 5. White people, if any of the people you intend to leave your property to are racist assholes, will your property to a black family.
- 6. White people, budget your monthly income so you can donate to black funds for land purchasing.

Chanelle Helm, BLM Leader

- 7. White people, especially white women (because this is yaw specialty), get a racist fired. Yaw know what the f they be saying. Get your boss fired cause they racist too.
- 8. This should be easy but all those sheetless Klan, Nazi's and Other Iil' d-white men will get a new job so get they ass fired again. Call the police even: they look suspicious.
- 9. If any white person at your work is praising the actions from yesterday (Unite the Right rally) Get them fired, and, if you need to, you got hands: use them.
- 10. Commit to two things: Fighting white supremacy where and how you can, and funding black people and their work.

What if all Negroids suddenly left America? First of all, American population would shrink by 13%. However, the prison population would be reduced by 40%. 52% of murders would instantly disappear. There would be 39% less gang members. Average IQ would go up 7.4 points, putting us 3rd in the world. Average SAT scores would rise by 100 points. Average ACT scores would increase by 5.5 points. AIDS & HIV would plummet by 65%. Chlamydia: down 54%. Gonorrhea: down 69%. Syphilis: down 58%. The average income would rise by $20,000 a year. People in poverty would drop 31%. Homelessness would plummet by 57%. Welfare recipients would drop by 42%. DEMOCRATS WOULD LOSE 36% OF THEIR VOTING BASE. Many criminal defense attorneys would have to find another line of work.

The narrative that Negroids "are just like whites" is insane. Aryans need to be literally brainwashed to go along with it. A simple handful of facts immediately blows the entire narrative out of the water:

Fact: Negroids are of subnormal intelligence.

Fact: Negroids have limited impulse control.

Fact: Negroids cannot foresee future consequences for present actions.

Fact: Negroids have limited empathy for other creatures.

Fact: when Negroids become frightened or angry, their already limited ability to reason shuts-down entirely.

Fact: Negroids are racists who resent and hate whites.

Fact: Negroids commit vastly more violent crime than any other human species.

Fact: every Negroid community in America is a shithole.

Fact: every Negroid-run country in the world is a shithole.

Fact: Aryans have been so brainwashed by the media that they become offended if someone says or even writes the word nigger, despite the obvious fact that Negroids constantly use it.

A fragment from a blog of a Russian man who went on a business trip to South Africa, translated for your

Me and my friend had to spend roughly 10 hours in Johannesburg. We asked Mikhail and he convinced some kamikaze driver to take us on a tour through the city center. We, the two retards, thought that they were exaggerating about the danger just to frighten us. We thought that we'd get to the center, take a long good stroll through it and show everyone that Russians aren't afraid of anything.

We ended up not even coming close to doing any of these things.

We nearly shat ourselves.

The descent to Johannesburg from the plateau made the city look great. Beautiful, big, modern. Some skyscrapers here and there, some nice Victorian-style buildings. Green lawns, blue sky.

Upon actually entering the city, the picture changed drastically.

It looked completely abandoned.

There was no electricity.

Piles of trash just lying in the streets

Burst sewer pipes flooding several spots.

The only thing clear of debris was the main road, the only functional electrical devices were the traffic lights. And this was the city center, the relatively safe part of the city.

Prior to riding into the city, the driver appointed by Mikhail read us a short "do's and don'ts" lecture. He seemed very tense, gulping often and suspiciously looking around as he spoke:

"If you cunts want to survive this, do exactly as I say.

After we enter the city, NO LOUD NOISES, do not ATTRACT ANY ATTENTIONI
NO FUCKING IPHONES OR CAMERAS flashing through the car windows!
DO NOT MAKE EYE CONTACT with ghould; (that's what he called niggers)
And no matter what happens, DO NOT OPEN THE WINDOWS!

Because suddenly a lamp post can fall and block the way, and the ghouls will fucking siege us. And remember that I have kids, so at least follow these rules for my sake..."

We spent two hours riding around the city center.

It was quiet enough in the bus to hear a pin drop.

To understand what happened to the city, a small historical flashback is needed.

After the apartheid was over, a two-million swarm of Africans flooded the city, opening the era of African Reqonquista. They were not natives, they just left their usual places in the desert and went wherever life was better. Mikhail, the guy who got us the driver, lived in Johannesburg at that time and told us the following:

In the middle of an ordinary workday, something happened.
The office center's doors opened and an unorganized crowd of several thousand blacks rushed in, carrying their belongings in huge bags. They asked us not to pay any attention to them and continue working, while they were spreading around the building and occupying every bit of territory that was available. Armchairs, stools, sofas, restrooms and hallways - they were everywhere, happily chatting and wasting no time in taking whatever shiny things the building's original denizens had on them.

The office became filled with commonion. Chickens were butchered and gutted in the hallways, tables in audience rooms turned into cooking tables, restrooms became habitshurger.

restrooms became bathhouses

The polite question "What's going on?" was answered with "This is our home now". The subsequent, less polite question "What the fuck?!" met a reply "It will be better for everyone".

Mikhail called the cops.

Cops didn't come

They apologized and explained that exactly the same thing was happening cross the entire city.

Then, everyone who could started to quietly flee the city, headed towards the suburbs and Cape Town, while erecting barriers to block the paths hedges, moats, electrified fences. The last district of Johannesburg where you can meet a white man nowadays is the Pretoria suburb.

Ghouls didn't even notice.

Of course, in the savannah they had neither of these modern conveniences. "Where do they shit, then?" I asked Mikhail. Mikhail replied that the office owners were also puzzled by this - and completely shocked after they found out.

You see, after invaling the buildings, none of the gnouls could igure out what elevator sharts were for. Once they inpied out the elevator doors, they spent a few days scratching heads and spitting into the darkness, until it finally occured to them.

"White people are geniuses when it comes to planning", thought the ghouls, and the shafts became both toilets and garbage dumps ever since.

According to Mikhail, it takes roughly ten years for an average ghoul horde to shit up an office building to the point of complete unliveability. After that, like in good old prehistoric times, the horde migrates to new pastures, occupying another building.

We rode on through Johannesburg's streets, glued to the car windows, devouring the scenery with our eyes. Fashionable modern houses with boarded-up windows passed us by. When we came across a rare open window, we could see fires burning inside, with ghouls lying or walking around them.

(Once again) According to Mikhail, a new, albeit informal service appeared in Johannesburg. Bunches of tough guys go around offering to take the buildings back from ghouls. It happens like this; in the middle of the night several trucks drive up to the building, and hundred or two of armed thugs go inside. Quickly, they grab the sleeping ghouls and simply start throwing them out of the building, trying not to wake the whole horde up. Before the horde completely comes to its senses and starts expressing its displeasure, the thugs weld shut all doors and windows on the first floor and put up an electrified fence. After the building is cleaned and refurbished, it turns back into an office.

That's how the remnants of Johannesburg's white population live and work. In the evening and during the night they keep safe behind armored doors and private guards. In the morning they get into their cars and quickly, without stopping, ride outside their fortresses to work. After a short ride throug more-or-less safe streets, they dive into one of the heavily guarded foxholes that leads to the underground parking garages. And that concludes es to work. After a short ride through anivar to the work, access to the only the buildings are nearby, they are often connected by an aerial passage at the 10th or 11th floor. So office workers can even visit each other if they want to. The only trick to it is not to look down. Down there is ghoul territory.

STORIES FROM A TEACHER

Until recently I taught at a predominantly black high school in a southeastern state. I took the job because I wasn't knowledgeable about race at the time, and black schools aren't picky. The school offered me a job and suddenly I was in darkest Africa. Except, I wasn't in Africa; I was in America.

Blacks outnumbered whites about five to one at this school and there were hardly any Hispanics. Some of my classes were all-black, or nearly so, because the gifted and advanced classes siphoned off most of the white students and I taught regular classes. There were some black teachers but the majority were white.

The mainstream press gives a hint of what conditions are like in black schools, but only a hint. Expressions journalists use like "chaotic" or "poor learning environment" or "lack of discipline" do not capture what really happens. There is nothing like the day-to-day experience of teaching black children and that is what I will try to convey.

Most whites simply do not know what black people are like in large numbers, and the first encounter can be a shock. One of the most immediately striking things about my students was that they were loud. They had little conception of ordinary white decorum. It was not unusual for five blacks to be screaming at me at once. Instead of calming down and waiting for a lull in the din to make their point — something that occurs to even the dimmest white students — blacks just tried to yell over each other.

It did no good to try to quiet them, and white women were particularly inept at trying. I sat in on one woman's class as she begged the children to pipe down. They just yelled louder so their voices would carry over hers.

Many of my black students would repeat themselves over and over again — just louder. They seemed to have no conception of waiting for an appropriate time to say something. They would get ideas in their heads and simply had to shout them out. I might be leading a discussion on government and suddenly be interrupted: "We gotta get more Democrats! Clinton, she good!" The student may seem content with that outburst but two minutes later, he would suddenly start yelling again: "Clinton good!"

Anyone who is around young blacks will get a constant diet of rap music. Blacks often make up their own jingles, and it was not uncommon for 15 black boys to swagger into a classroom, bouncing their shoulders and jiving back and forth, rapping 15 different sets of words in the same harsh, rasping dialect. The words were almost invariably a childish form of boasting: "Who got dem shine rim, who got dem shine shoe, who got dem shine grill (gold and silver dental caps)?" The amateur rapper usually ends with a claim — in the crudest terms imaginable — that all womankind is sexually devoted to him. For whatever reason, my students would often groan instead of saying a particular word, as in, "She suck dat aaaahhhh (think of a long grinding groan), she fk dat aaaahhhh, she lick dat aaaahhh."

Black women love to dance — in a way white people might call gyrating. They dance in the hall, in the classroom, on the chairs, next to the chairs, under the chairs, everywhere. Once I took a call on my cell phone and had to step outside of class. I was away about two minutes but when I got back the black girls had lined up at the front of the classroom and were convulsing to the delight of the boys.

Many black people, especially black women, are enormously fat. Some are so fat I had to arrange special seating to accommodate their bulk. I am not saying there are no fat white students — there are — but it is a matter of numbers and attitudes. Many black girls simply do not care that they are fat. There are plenty of white anorexics, but I have never met or heard of a black anorexic.

"Black women be big Mr. Jackson," my students would explain.

"Is it okay in the black community to be a little overweight?" I ask.

Two obese black girls in front of my desk begin to dance, "You know dem boys lak juicy fruit, Mr. Jackson." "Juicy" is a colorful black expression for the buttocks.

Blacks are the most directly critical people I have ever met: "Dat shirt stupid. Yo' kid a bastard. Yo' lips big." Unlike whites, who tread gingerly around the subject of race, they can be brutally to the point. Once I needed to send a student to the office to deliver a message. I asked for volunteers, and suddenly you would think my classroom was a bastion of civic engagement. Thirty dark hands shot into the air. My students loved to leave the classroom and slack off, even if just for a few minutes, away from the eye of white authority. I picked a light-skinned boy to deliver the message. One very black student was indignant: "You pick da half-breed." And immediately other blacks take up the cry, and half a dozen mouths are screaming, "He half-breed."

For decades, the country has been lamenting the poor academic performance of blacks and there is much to lament. There is no question, however, that many blacks come to school with a serious handicap that is not their fault. At home they have learned a dialect that is almost a different language. Blacks not only mispronounce words; their grammar is often wrong. When a black wants to ask, "Where is the bathroom?" he may actually say "Whar da badroom be?" Students write the way they speak, so this is the language that shows up in written assignments.

It is true that some whites face a similar handicap. They speak with what I would call a "country" accent that is hard to reproduce but results in sentences such as "I'm gonna gemme a Coke." Some of these country whites had to learn correct pronunciation and usage. The difference is that most whites overcome this handicap and learn to speak correctly; many blacks do not.

Most of the blacks I taught simply had no interest in academic subjects. I taught history, and students would often say they didn't want to do an assignment or they didn't like history because it was all about white people. So I would assign them a project on a real, historical black person. My favorite was Marcus Garvey. They had never heard of him, and I would tell them to research him, but they never did. They didn't care and they didn't want to do any work.

Anyone who teaches blacks soon learns that blacks view government completely differently than whites do. Once I decided to fill 25 minutes by having students write about one thing the government should do to improve America. Nearly every black gave a variation on the theme of "We need more government services." My students had only the vaguest notion of who pays for government services. For them, it was like a magical piggy bank that never goes empty. Many black girls are perfectly happy to be welfare queens. On career day, one girl explained to the class that she was going to have lots of children and get fat checks from the government. No one in the class seemed to have any objection to this career choice.

Surprising attitudes can come out in class discussion. We were talking about the crimes committed in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, and I brought up the rape of a young girl in the bathroom of the Superdome. One black boy spoke up without raising his hand: "Dat no big deal. They thought they is gonna die so they figured they have some fun. Dey jus' wanna have a fun time; gnome sayin'?" A few other blacks nodded in agreement.

My department head once asked all the teachers to get a response from all students to the following question: "Do you think it is okay to break the law if it will benefit you greatly?" By then, I had been teaching for a while and was not surprised by answer: "Get dat green."

There is a level of conformity among blacks that whites would find hard to believe. They like one kind of music: rap. They will vote for one political party: Democrat. They dance one way, speak one way, are loud the same way, and fail their exams in the same way. Of course, there are exceptions but they are rare. Whites are different. Some like country music, others heavy metal, some prefer pop, and still others, God forbid, enjoy rap music. They have different associations, groups, almost ideologies. There are jocks, nerds, preppies, and hunters. Blacks are all — well — black, and they are quick to let other blacks know when they deviate from the norm. Certainly, they form rival groups, but the groups are not different in any discernible way.

How the world looks to blacks

One point on which all blacks agree is that everything is 'rayciss'. This is one message of liberalism they have absorbed completely. Did you do your homework? "Na, homework rayciss." Why did you get an F on the test? "Test rayciss."

I was trying to teach a unit on British philosophers and the first thing the students noticed about Bentham, Hobbes, and Locke was "Dey all white! Wur da black filahsofah?'?" I tried to explain there were no blacks in eighteenth-century Britain. You can probably guess what they said to that: "Dat rayciss!"

What about black boys and white girls? No one is supposed to notice this or talk about it but it is glaringly obvious: Black boys are obsessed with white girls. White parents would do well to keep their daughters well away from black schools. I've witnessed the following drama countless times. A black boy saunters up to a white girl. The cocky black dances around her, not really in a menacing way. It's more a shuffle than a threat. As he bobs and shuffles he asks, "When you gonna go wit' me?"

There are two kinds of reply. The more confident white girl gets annoyed, looks away from the black and shouts, "I don't wanna go out with you!" The more demure girl will look at her feet and mumble a polite excuse but ultimately say no. There is only one response from the black boy: "You rayciss." Many girls — all too many — actually feel guilty because they do not want to date blacks. Most white girls at my school stayed away from blacks, but a few, particularly the ones who were addicted to drugs, fell in with them.

There is something else that is striking about blacks. They seem to have no sense of romance, of falling in love. Blacks believe what brings men and women together is sex, pure and simple, and there is a crude openness about this. There are many degenerate whites, of course, but some of my white students were capable of real devotion and tenderness, emotions that seemed absent from blacks — especially the boys.

Black schools are violent and the few whites who are too poor to escape are caught in the storm. The violence is astonishing, not so much that it happens, but the atmosphere in which it happens. Blacks can be smiling, seemingly perfectly content with what they are doing, having a good time, and then, suddenly start fighting. It's uncanny.

The real victims are the unfortunate whites caught in this fighting. They are always in danger and their educations suffer. White weaklings are particularly susceptible, but mostly to petty violence. They may be slapped or get a couple of kicks when they are trying to open a bottom locker. Typically, blacks save the hard, serious violence for each other.

There was a lot of promiscuous sex among my students and this led to violence. Black girls were constantly fighting over black boys. It was not uncommon to see two girls literally ripping each other's hair out with a police officer in the middle trying to break up the fight. The black boy they were fighting over would be standing by with a smile, enjoying the show he had created. For reasons I cannot explain, boys seldom fought over girls.

Pregnancy was common among the blacks, though many black girls were so fat I could not tell the difference. I don't know how many girls got abortions.

Aside from the police officers constantly on patrol, a sure sign that you are in a black school is the coke cage: the chain-link fence that many majority-black schools use to protect vending machines. The cage surrounds the machine and even covers its top. Delivery employees have to unlock a gate on the front of the cage to service the machines. Companies would prefer not to build cages around vending machines. They are expensive, ugly, and a bother, but black students smashed the machines so many times it was cheaper to build a cage than repair the damage. Before the cages went up, blacks would turn the machines upside down in the hope that the money would fall out.

Security guards are everywhere in black schools — we had one on every hall. They also sat in on unruly classes and escorted students to the office.

Rural black schools have to have security, too, but they are usually safer. One reason is that the absolute numbers are smaller. A mostly-black school of 300 students is safer than a mostly-black school of 2,000. Also, students in rural areas — both black and white — tend to have grown up together and know each other, at least by sight.

There was a lot of drug-dealing at my school. This was a good way to make a fair amount of money but it also gave boys power over girls who wanted drugs. An addicted girl — black or white — became the plaything of anyone who could get her drugs.

One of my students was a notorious drug dealer. Everyone knew it. He was 19 years old and in eleventh grade. Once he got a score of three out of 100 on a test. He had been locked up four times since he was 13, and there he was sitting next to little, white Caroline. One day I asked why he still came to school. He wouldn't answer. He just looked out the window and sucked air through his teeth. His friend Yidarius ventured an explanation: "He get dat green and get dem females."

"What is the green?" I asked. "Money or dope?"

"Both," said Yidarius with a smile.

A very fat black interrupted from across the room: "We get dat lunch," Mr. Jackson. "We gotta get dat lunch and brickfuss." He means the free breakfast and lunch poor students get every day.

Some readers may believe that I have drawn a cruel caricature of black students. After all, according to official figures some 85 percent of them graduate. It would be instructive to know that they go from grade to grade and finally get their diplomas only because there is so much pressure on teachers to push them through. It saves money to move them along, the school looks good, and the teachers look good. Many of these children should have been failed, but the system would crack under their weight if they were honestly graded.

How did my experiences make me feel about blacks? Ultimately, I lost sympathy for them. In so many ways they seem to make their own beds. There they were in an integrationist's fantasy — in the same classroom with white students, eating the same lunch, using the same bathrooms, listening to the same teachers — and yet the blacks fail while the whites pass.

There is an unutterable secret among teachers: blacks do not respond to traditional white instruction. Whites have learned a certain way for centuries but it just does not work with blacks.

Teaching as a career

Teaching can be fun. For a certain kind of person it is exhilarating to map out battles on chalkboards, and teach heroism. It is rewarding to challenge liberal prejudices, to leave my mark on these children, but what I aimed for with my white students I could never achieve with the blacks.

There is a kind of child whose look can melt your heart: some working-class castaway, in and out of foster homes, often abused, who is nevertheless almost an angel. Your heart melts for these children, this refuse of the modern world. Many white students possess a certain innocence; their cheeks still blush.

Try as I might, I could not get the blacks to care one bit about Beethoven or Sherman's march to the sea, or Tyrtaeus, or Oswald Spengler, or even liberals like John Rawls, or their own history. They cared about nothing I tried to teach them. When this goes on year after year it chokes the soul out of a teacher, destroys his pathos, and sends him guiltily searching for The Bell Curve on the Internet.

Blacks break down the intimacy that can be achieved in the classroom, and leave you convinced that that intimacy is really a form of kinship. Without intending to, they destroy what is most beautiful — whether it be your belief in human equality, your daughter's innocence, or even the state of the hallway.

Just last year I read on the bathroom stall the words "Fk Whitey." Not two feet away, on the same stall, was a small swastika. The writing on that wall somehow symbolized the futility of integration. No child should have to try to learn in such conditions. Diversity and education do not mix.

One often hears from egalitarians that it doesn't matter what color predominates in a future America so long as we preserve our values, since we are a "proposition nation." But the problem with this is that blacks cannot "preserve our values." It is simply beyond their capacity to do so.

Most whites see blacks on television smiling and embodying white values, but the real black is not on television. For those of you with children, it would be better to have a smaller house in a white district than a fancy one near a black school. I have been in parent-teacher conferences that broke my heart: the child pleading with his parents to take her out of school; the parents convinced their child's fears are groundless. If you love your child, show her you care — not by giving her fancy vacations or a car, but making her innocent years safe and happy.

Don't let her live around blacks.

It is important that we stop pretending that Negroids are like us, and start speaking the truth about their limitations and their behavior patterns. They are a different species with a severely limited intelligence that prevents them from functioning or integrating into a free society. Stop pretending that what they do is acceptable. Stop making excuses for them. Stop blaming others for their failures.

STORIES FROM AN AID WORKER

Once, a friend of another volunteer wanted to earn some money by baking bread. He got a little bit of money together and used it to buy ingredients. He built a mud stove himself, and cooked 30 loaves of "village bread"—basically misshapen, doughy baguette. He took the bread to the road and started to sell them until his father came by. His father said, "You have bread! The family needs bread!" and took 20 loaves for himself and the rest of the kids (this particular father had 4 wives and 8 kids per wife). Our enterprising African friend was left bankrupt. He lost his entire initial investment and never made bread again.

This is the basic story of Africa: communalism gone insane. It is completely unthinkable to refuse a demand of an elder or a family member for money or food. People hide any small money they had, because if anyone knew they had it there would be a line around the corner asking for loans and favors, and they would be honor-bound to say yes. I told my friends over and over to say no, and each time they politely explained to me that it was impossible. The whole system is built to pull people down to the lowest common denominator.

Every day, I ate the same meal—a huge communal bowl of rice with fish and some vegetables. Every day, the family I lived with spent a good amount of currency (for them) to buy bitter tomatoes and okra to put in the rice, despite the fact that nobody liked bitter tomatoes or okra. I asked, why do you waste so much money on these vegetables that nobody eats? They told me, because we don't want anyone to think we're poor.

Africans are all about face and presentation to the point of self-ruin. We're talking about people for whom buying a couple vegetables has a huge impact on their bottom line, but they still do it. Saving is basically impossible. I'm convinced that they have no conception of the future aside from a vague idea that tomorrow will come. Cause and effect seemed to have no meaning. People who planned well, saved, and invested were not lauded or emulated, just dismissed as flukes or having received the blessing of Allah. Actually, Africans probably took to Islam like flies to shit because in Islam everything flows directly from God—it is a religion that gives people permission to believe that everything is out of their hands, which they believe anyway.

A man asked me if I could give him 10 hectares of land and a dieselelectric water pump to irrigate it. This was not uncommon. The first thing people usually asked me when I told them I was an Agriculture Development person was for tractors, cars, livestock, anything. Completely shameless begging. Men in expensive silk clothes with nice black sedans would shamelessly beg for gibsmedats when they learned what I did. Anyway, I asked this particular guy what experience he had farming or gardening. He said none.

I asked, "Then why do you want such a large scale enterprise? Why not get a small garden from the village chief and a used gas-pump to see how it goes? Maybe you'll even earn enough money to upgrade in a year or two." He said, "Well, my cousin got 10 hectares and a dieselelectric pump from the government," so he was going to wait until he could get it too.

Gibsmedats are international. It's disgusting. Every single cent of international aid is wasted on either bloodthirsty warlords, sniveling SWLP striver salaries, or gibsmedats for the underserving. The worst thing about this story was that the man was completely right to not try a small scale enterprise. He's African. They have infinite time. One day a government project will come to his village and give him his pump and his 10 hectares. He won't do shit with it, but he'll proudly show off his pump and everyone in the village will respect him for his achievement of receiving some gibsmedats. During the festival of Eid al-Hada, a ram must be sacrificed because blah blah who cares. After killing and stringing the ram up into a tree for butchering, a gaggle of boys (they are always around in groups of 10-50, usually begging for presents and money because idiot white people always give it to them) rushed to the dying animal with a pair of scissors, snipped off its balls, and ran away with their prize. I asked the closest mother why, she said they're going to grill it—the balls are a prized treat for the boys. I asked, do the girls eat it too? Of course not, she said. They would get pregnant with a goat.

Africans are dumb as shit. Basically, they never grow up. You are dealing with 200 pound children. If you go into interactions with that mindset, things go all right, but if you expect anything adult from them, you'll be disappointed and frustrated at every turn. They believe in everything you can list—ghosts, angels, demons, curses, charms, blessings, and magic. Oh, and magic. They love it. I was party to a number of village magic battles, where charms and counter-charms were buried at people's doorsteps, protective wards were made, and potions were snuck into tea. It's a huge deal, and everyone pays big bucks (for them) to the local shamans and witch doctors to get all these magical trinkets. Yes, even in Islamic Africa, it's just like this. They are pagan savages first and moonworshiping goatfuckers second. They just slap a varnish of Islam on it—"The magic charm has a Koranic verse in it!"—and go about their lives happily as before.

A volunteer once fronted enough money for the farmer he lived with to buy fertilizer. They spread it together, and the yield was recorded. In total, it was 9 fold over the year prior. Instead of taking out his share to cover the loan, said volunteer forced the farmer to buy fertilizer for the next year, and save it. The next year came and they used it again, and again the yield was 10 fold over the first non-fertilizer year. This time, though, the volunteer had left the country. The farmer didn't buy any fertilizer, and instead blew through what he earned from his crop on frivolous crap and gifts to every extended family member who cast a shadow on his door. The next year his yields returned to the original level, and everyone went on with their lives as happy as before. The end.

This is my penultimate Africa story. There's a bit more to it—the Peace Corps showed graphs and charts of this particular case as a successful intervention. I only found out about the little coda because I specifically asked what happened the next year; they didn't decide to share that little fact in the larger meeting. It brings together everything—the waste, the stupidity, the lack of foresight, the inability to see cause and effect, the massive importance put on frivolous crap, and the way communities tear down their best members. Here's the takeaway: nobody who wasn't white on that farm saw the connection between the yields, the currency they made, and the fertilizer. Nobody stopped to think, "Hey, we should buy more of this." That's the insanity of Africa. 200 pound children, blowing huge stacks of cash on magic charms while they grind out a subsistence livelihood on the border of the desert. This is already super long, and I could really go on and on about this subject. There are more stories-the myths of the African family, more stories of fauxcommunalism, stories about crazy African religion and politics, and so on. The long and short of it, though, is this: They're not terrible people, they just shouldn't be anywhere near us. Africa is, no shit, the Garden of Eden. It's no surprise that the people living there are giant children. Despite tons of diseases and ferocious animals, they want for nothing. Trees growing fruit are everywhere. Every weed is edible. Before the Western-induced population bomb, I'm not even sure they even required agriculture to feed themselves. If-for whatever reason-we're going to live a world where complete ethnic cleansing and colonization is off the table, just let them have their little paradise and leave us alone. They have absolutely nothing to offer us nor anything to gain by interaction with the West. They're a people frozen in time from tens of thousands of years ago, and I have no trouble leaving them like that.

Most Serial Killers Are Black

Robert Hampton, American Renaissance, May 30, 2019

Earlier this month, a Kenyan illegal immigrant was charged with killing 11 elderly women in Texas. Forty-six-year-old healthcare worker Billy Chemirmir reportedly murdered women who were between the ages of 76 and 96 for their valuables by suffocating them with pillows. Authorities claim Mr. Chemirmir posed as a healthcare worker or repairman to get into the women's homes. He had worked as a home aide for many of the women he is charged with killing.

Mr. Chemirmir came to the U.S. on a tourist visa in 2002. He overstayed but was able to get a green card in 2007 after he married an American citizen. Mr. Chemirmir had a long criminal record before his arrest, but was never deported. Police are now reopening 750 other cases of old people who died alone.

It may turn out that Mr. Chemirmir is one of the worst serial killers—defined as someone who has killed two or more people on separate occasions—in American history. Yet, he doesn't fit the stereotype—he's black. Serial killers are supposed to be white. In fact, blacks are considerably more likely than whites to be serial killers.

According to a 2016 Radford University study, just 51.7 percent of all serial killers in America since 1900 have been white. Roughly 40 percent were black. The numbers have become more lopsided in recent decades. In the first half of this decade, 60 percent of serial killers were black, while only 30 percent were white. Blacks have been the outright majority of serial killers since 1990.

Whites have never been overrepresented among serial killers. The decade with the highest percentage of white serial killers was in the 1920s: Whites were 78 percent of mass murderers even when they were 90 percent of the population. The 1920s also saw blacks account for the lowest percentage of serial killers at 18 percent. At that time they were about 10 percent of the population.

America had the largest number of serial killers in the decade of the 1980s. Whites were 83 percent of the population, yet were only 53 percent of mass murderers. Blacks were just 11 percent of the population, but were nearly 37 percent of serial killers.

Over 67 percent of the victims of serial killers have been white, and 37 percent have been white women. Blacks are disproportionately overrepresented at 24 percent of victims.

The stereotype of the white serial killer is false. So is that of the white mass shooter; whites are underrepresented among mass shooters, and have been for years.

A possible reason why serial killers are thought to be predominantly white is that nearly all of the famous ones are white. Ted Bundy, John Wayne Gacy, Jeffrey Dahmer, the BTK Killer, and others have inspired books and films. Their trials were front-page news and their names live on. In fictional accounts of serial killers, such as Se7en and Silence of the Lambs, the villain is almost always a white man, further reinforcing a false stereotype.

Blacks are 7x more likely to murder than whites
Blacks are 5x more likely to be murdered than whites
Blacks are 2x more likely to murder a white than be murdered by a whites
Blacks though representing 13% of the data set committed over 50% of the murders Numbers are arrived at using rounded percentages. National Population was rounded to 13% Black, and 78% White. The 78% White includes Hispanics because that is how the FBI tracks murder statistics. Worth noting that this inflates white crime rates.

         Demographic breakdown of America
         Whites (not counting hispanics) are currently at 63.7% of the US population. African-Americans: 12.6% of the US population. Hispanics are at 16.3% of the US population.
         Source: wikipedia, which has its own sources at the bottom.
         Taking the current population of the US (2014 estimate is 317 493 212), that would give us:
          White people: 202 243 176
         African Americanas: 40 004 144
Hispanics: 51 751 393
         Now, the number of people who receive food stamps (in 2012, according to US department of Agriculture): 46 609 000
         Now, according to SNAP (http://www.snaptohealth.org/snap/snap-frequently-asked-questions/) the percentages are as follow (percentage of the total number of people on food stamps) 43% white people
          33% african-americans
         Now in terms of numbers that is:
         White: 20,041,870
Blacks: 15,380,970
         Hispanic: 8,855,710
        So far so good, right?

Let's see what PERCENTAGE OF PEOPLE PER RACE are on food stamps:

Whites: 20,041,870 on food stamps out of 202,243,176 people. Gives 9.91%

Blacks: 15,380,970 on food stamps out of 40,004,114 people. Gives 38.45%

Hispanics: 8,855,710 on food stamps out of 51,751,393 people. Gives 17.11%
         Give or take 2-3% due to SNAP statistics being about 2012 and US population estimate for 2014.
         9.91% OF WHITE(NON-HISPANIC) PEOPLE ARE ON FOOD STAMPS
         17.11% OF HISPANICS ARE ON FOOD STAMPS
38.45% OF BLACKS ARE ON FOOD STAMPS
         38.45%? Thats more than 1 in 3 blacks vs whites at 1 in 10. More than 3 times more likey to be on stamps than whites.

Black Privilege

- Black privilege means you can over commit 50% of the murders in the country, while being less than 13% of the population, and yet you are somehow the victim. When one realizes that almost all of the murders are committed by males, that percentage drops to 7%. When one excludes the babies, toddlers and children who are still too small to murder, that percentage drops to 5%. Excluding the aged, reduces it to 3%. So 3% of the population commits over 50% of the violent crime, and white males are still considered the problem?
- Black privilege means you can commit hate crimes against whites, and not be charged for a hate crime.
- Black privilege means that you can have 13 kids from multiple women, avoid child support, be arrested for criminal offenses 75 times, almost kill a cop, and still be regarded as a national hero. (Sam Dubose)
- Black privilege means your race will be censored by the media when a black person commits a crime.
- Black privilege means you can pull the "das rayciss" card every day and get away with it, even if what you're claiming is racist makes no sense, i.e. "dat ATM rayciss", "compudahs arr rayciss", "buss schedules dey rayciss".
- Black privilege means you will get priority into top universities, law firms, and hospitals, based entirely on the color of your skin, even if your test scores are atrociously poor compared to the candidates you replaced.
- Black privilege means you can be openly racist to other races but have no legal or social repercussions.
- Black privilege means you can blame your poor life choices on American slavery of Africans that not a single person alive today remembers or took part in. Even though half of American slaves were Irish, and less than 1% of Whites in America owned slaves.
- Black privilege means you can demand that others should include more blacks in movies, television and video games, while not having enough intelligence or initiative to make your own media.
- Black privilege means you can complain about anything and get your way because they are afraid of the legal repercussions for being labelled 'racist'.
- Black privilege means you can butcher the English language yet have academic professors pretend that it is cultural so you still get a passing grade.
- Black privilege means "riots" became synonymous with "protests", but only when your race is involved.
- Black privilege means your racism of whites will be completely overlooked.
- Black privilege means you can be proud of your race without fear of being called a Black Supremacist.
- Black privilege is benefitting from the institutionalized racism of Affirmative Action that secures you jobs, housing, and education at the expense of others who are more intelligent and more qualified.
- Black privilege means you can be lazy and still keep your job.
- Black privilege means you can fail school tests, constantly disrupt class, assault fellow students, and still receive a passing grade.
- Black privilege means you can be awarded for accomplishing basic tasks.
- Black privilege means you qualify for free housing, food stamps, health care and other welfare, even though there are whites with lower incomes who are denied these same services.

A six-year-old boy from New York was beaten to death after being subjected to months of torture by his mother's boyfriend according to horrific details outlined in court on Monday.

The Manhattan Supreme Court on Monday heard how Zymere Perkins was eventually beaten with a broken broomstick and a shower rod before being hung on the back of a bathroom door and left to die in a roach and maggot-infested apartment in Harlem.

Assistant District Attorney Kerry O'Connell told jurors Rysheim Smith allegedly killed his girlfriend Geraldine Perkins's son in a fit of anger.

ILLEGAL ALIEN ACCUSED OF MURDERING 19 SENIOR CITIZENS TO FACE DEATH PENALTY

Texas prosecutors will seek the death penalty against an accused illegal alien serial killer who has been charged with murdering 12 senior citizens and accused of murdering seven others.

This week, the Dallas Morning News revealed that Dallas, Texas prosecutors in the case against 46-year-old Billy Chemirmir, an illegal alien from Kenya, will seek the death penalty after charges that he murdered 12 elderly women between 2016 and 2018.

In Texas, the death penalty is only sought in cases where prosecutors believe the suspect committed particularly atrocious crimes against victims. The death penalty means Chemirmir, if convicted, would receive either a life sentence without parole or be put to death.

Last month, a separate lawsuit named another seven senior citizens — six women and one man — who were allegedly murdered by Chemirmir, bringing his alleged murder victim count to 19 so far.

Man Cries as Court Convicts Him of Kidnapping, Raping and Murdering 81-Year-Old Woman

 $A defendant \ reportedly \ cried out \ in \ denial \ as \ a \ California \ jury found \ him \ guilty \ of \ kidnapping, \ raping \ and \ murdering \ an \ 81-year-old \ woman \ in \ 2012 \ last \ week.$

Jonathan Jackson, 36, attacked and dragged El Cerrito resident Sun Yi Kwon into a secluded area in Richmond, where he raped and severely beat her in the early morning hours of Jan. 28, 2012.

Kwon, who was taking a morning walk at the time, died six months later after an episode of pneumonia, which prosecutors argued to have resulted from the attack.

Jackson was linked to the crime in 2016 after an investigation revealed that semen found on the scene contained his DNA.

During the trial, DeFerrari claimed that Jackson had been drinking at a cousin's home in Richmond the night before the crime. The 36-year-old then left the next morning "in a rage" after losing a confrontation with his cousin.

Jackson then came across Kwon, who was out on her daily morning walks and took out his frustration on her. He raped and beat her with his fists until he believed she was dead, DeFerrari added.

In his defense, Jackson argued that he was drunk and high on LSD the night before he found Kwon's partially nude, lifeless body. He then felt a random necrophilic urge to masturbate over her.

MATTHEW HENDLEY | MARCH 25, 2013 | 2:57PM

According to court documents obtained by New Times, 21-year-old
Rickesha Burns called police Sunday, reporting that her son was bleeding from his anus.

Burns said she didn't know what happened.

She said she was at a park with her son, and while she was "looking at a text message for about 10 seconds," a boy she didn't know at the park did "something" to her son, according to the documents.

"She said she does not know what he did, but is sure he did something," a probable-cause statement says.

The boy was brought to Phoenix Children's Hospital, and doctors discovered that he has numerous bruises around his anus, a "hanger type" bruise on his hip, and yet another bruise on his neck.

Doctors also found an object lodged in his rectum, which appears to be "a vibrator or some other sex toy."

Police interviewed Burns, who still claimed that a teenage boy at a park did it, even though she "believes it is her vibrator," and police found the boy's blood on her shirt, according to court documents.

Phoenix Police Officer James Holmes says there was zero evidence that the boy was assaulted at the park.

A pregnant mother was reportedly stabbed to death as she slept near her family while on vacation at a resort in South Africa on Tuesday.

Reports said 31-year-old Karen Turner was sleeping next to her husband, Matthew, and their toddler son when two men allegedly sneaked into the chalet and began attacking them with knives at the Hluleka Nature Reserve in the Eastern Cape Province.

Police said the woman and her unborn baby died instantly while her husband was able to fight off the suspects. He was later taken to a hospital in Pietermaritzburg where he underwent surgery for his injuries.

Deputies: Man previously arrested for placing 3-year-old girl in oven rearrested for burning child

By: Christopher Boyce, Jeff Deal Updated: Oct 11, 2019 - 4:55 PM

VOLUSIA COUNTY, Fla. - A Deltona man who was previously accused of beating and placing a 3-year-old girl in an oven is back in custody after Volusia County deputies said he poured boiling water on a 3-year-old boy.

Officials first received a call about 47-year-old Terry May's behavior on September 27 after the boy's day care instructors noticed a burn mark on his back. It was revealed that May poured boiling water on the child after the boy accidentally urinated on the floor, according to deputies.

A Florida woman has been arrested for trying to kill her four children by crashing a minivan into a palm tree.

Ocala police took 36-year-old Calicia Williams to jail on Wednesday and charged the mother-of-four with four counts of attempted murder.

A police report says investigators determined the vehicle was steered directly onto a median and at the tree.

Police also say that Williams told them her husband caused the crash by putting a hex on her.

One of the children later told police Williams told them to remove their restraints and to stretch out their hands just before crashing, saying, 'Lord Jesus save me.'

Calicia Williams was heard talking about the devil, voodoo and spells when the police attended the scene in Ocala, Florida

A crumbling marriage ended in a bloodbath when a deranged Harlem man decapitated his wife, slit the throat of their 5-year-old daughter and then hanged himself inside the family's oncehappy home, police sources said Thursday.

Cops responding to a 911 call from the wife's worried brother forced their way inside the family's four-story brownstone Wednesday night only to discover a gore-spattered scene of unimaginable horror, the sources said.

Jennifer Schlecht, a former Peace Corps member currently working for the United Nations Foundation on international emergency responses, was found dead on the bathroom floor, her decapitated head in her lap inside the pricey building at W. 121st St. near Adam Clayton Powell Jr. Blvd., sources said.

Their young daughter was discovered in her bedroom with a gash so deep to her throat she was partially decapitated, sources said. Her 46-year-old father, Yonathan Tedla, was hanging nearby from a rope tied to her bedroom door, taking his own life after carving up his loved ones, cops

The 42-year-old slain woman's father, Kenneth Schlecht, told the Daily News the couple's marital strife began about five years ago after the birth of their child. Tedla, who was originally from Ethiopia, had recently threatened his wife if she went to court to dissolve their marriage.

Mom Vanished 4 Years Ago, Now Boyfriend Admits To Dismembering Her Body

November 11, 2019

MINNEAPOLIS – Joshua Dow pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the death of his girlfriend, who disappeared four years ago and whose body was never found.

Dow will be sentenced on Dec. 4 and as part of the negotiation, will receive 20 years in prison in the death of Adelle Jensen. In his admissions in court Thursday, Dow said that his actions with his gun, which he claimed Jensen was holding, caused her death.

A Georgia mother is being called a hero for using her last moments alive to save her six-month-old daughter from her drunk husband.

Davis had a pattern of abuse, Arrendale's mother Teresa Inniello told the radio station, and that night he'd chased Arrendale up the stairs, while holding baby Cobie in her arms.

Arrendale locked herself and Cobie in the bathroom, but Davis used an assault rifle to shoot through the door, hitting Arrendale in the head.

A young mother has revealed the horrific last moments of her twin girls' lives when her boyfriend shot them both dead, along with their grandfather.

Megan Hiatt, 22, is recovering in a Jacksonville, Florida, hospital after Gawain Wilson, 28, blasted their five-month-olds and then turned the gun on her father Travis Hiatt, 49, before taking his own life.

Police said there are five victims with one in critical condition. Police received a call of shots fired just before 4 p.m. on Tuesday. When they arrived, they found all the victims had gunshot wounds.

'Mama, he killed them. He killed them in my arms. He made me hold them when he killed them. He made me watch,' Melissa Batch said, recounting her daughter's words to her from her hospital bed.

The Truth of Interracial Rape in the United States

By: Lawrence Auster

FrontPageMagazine.com | Thursday, May 03, 2007

Like Ahab's search for the Great White Whale, liberals' search for the Great White Defendant is relentless and never-ending. When, in 1988, Tawana Brawley's and Al Sharpton's then year-old spectacular charge that several white men including prosecutor Steven Pagones (whose name Brawley had picked out of a newspaper article) had abducted and raped the 15 year old was shown to be completely false, the Nation said it didn't matter, since the charges expressed the essential nature of white men's treatment of black women in this country. When the Duke University lacrosse players were accused of raping a black stripper last year, liberals everywhere treated the accusation as fact, because, just as with the Nation and Tawana Brawley, the rape charge seemed to the minds of liberals to reflect the true nature of oppressive racial and sexual relations in America.

To see the real truth of the matter, let us take a look at the Department of Justice document Criminal Victimization in the United States, 2005. (Go to the linked document, and under "Victims and Offenders" download the pdf file for 2005.)

In Table 42, entitled "Personal crimes of violence, 2005, percent distribution of single-offender victimizations, based on race of victims, by type of crime and perceived race of offender," we learn that there were 111,590 white victims and 36,620 black victims of rape or sexual assault in 2005. (The number of rapes is not distinguished from those of sexual assaults; it is maddening that sexual assault, an ill-defined category that covers various types of criminal acts ranging from penetration to inappropriate touching, is conflated with the more specific crime of rape.) In the 111,590 cases in which the victim of rape or sexual assault was white, 44.5 percent of the offenders were white, and 33.6 percent of the offenders were black. In the 36,620 cases in which the victim of rape or sexual assault was black, 100 percent of the offenders were black, and 0.0 percent of the offenders were white. The table explains that 0.0 percent means that there were under 10 incidents nationally.

The table does not gives statistics for Hispanic victims and offenders. But the bottom line on interracial white/black and black/white rape is clear:

In the United States in 2005, 37,460 white females were sexually assaulted or raped by a black man, while between zero and ten black females were sexually assaulted or raped by a white man.

What this means is that every day in the United States, over one hundred white women are raped or sexually assaulted by a black man.

It requires a 24-hour, daily river of lies to combat the reality that negroids are a serious threat. For many years, we fell for the lies forced upon us by the jewish media, but with the advent of social media and the ease of cellphone recordings, negroid behavior can be hidden no longer. We can now watch them committing these crimes in video clips. We can see with our own eyes exactly what they do and how they act. It is the negroids who are doing the shoplifting, the smash-and-grab, the looting, the random assaults, the murders and the endless rapes. Although the scientific articles and eye-witness accounts of negroid behavior have been read over and over, it is not until one actually sees it in action that the Aryan begins to fully grasp the distance which separates them and ourselves. Therefore, it is strongly recommended to watch all of the following videos in their entirety at least once. Although I have intentionally removed the most violent and extreme videos, negroid behavior is often so brutal that viewer discretion is advised:

Ninety Two Percent: Examining the Birth Trends, Family Structure, Economic Standing, Paternal Relationships, and Emotional Stability of Biracial Children with African American Fathers

> Tiffany N. Calloway Independent

Abstract:

This study examines the birth trends, family structure, economic standing, paternal relationships, and emotional stability of biracial children with African American fathers. For study implementation quantitative research methods were used. Questions were asked through a questionnaire that was administered to 1000 women spanning the united States that were equally ranging from 3 different racial groups; Caucasian, Asian, and Hispanic. Participants were recruited through the internet, radio, and news. This study finds that 92% of biracial children with African American fathers are born out of wedlock and 82% end up on government assistance. The results of this study make it very clear that biracial children with African American fathers are fatherless on a scale much larger than the public may realize.

Winter selects for K-reproductive strategy, whereas the equator selects for r-strategy. The northern climates select for the ability to plan head and work cooperatively, whereas the equator selects for the ability to rapidly reproduce regardless of mental ability or loyalty to family.

The symbols r and K originate in the mathematics of population biology and refer to the two ends of a continuum in which a compensatory exchange occurs between gamete production (the r-strategy) and longevity (the K-strategy). In ecology, r/K selection theory relates to the selection of traits in an organism that trade between quantity and quality of offspring. An r-selected organism focuses on an increased quantity of offspring at the expense of individual parental investment, whereas a K-selected organism has a reduced quantity of offspring with a corresponding increased parental investment.

In unstable or unpredictable environments, r-selection predominates due to the ability to reproduce rapidly. There is little advantage in adaptations that permit successful competition with other organisms because the environment is likely to change again.

In stable or predictable environments, K-selection predominates as the ability to compete successfully for limited resources become the crucial factor.

Ask yourself this very important question:

Why did American negroids march down America's streets and demand integration rights into political and economic systems built and managed by Aryan people, whom they were specifically labeling as their brutal oppressors? Why did the negroid race not demand separation and autonomy?

Facts: During the 1950s, at the time when the largest economic boom in American human history was taking place, America's negroids were not just faltering, they were withering in desolation and despair. This, of course, was not a plot conceived by the white man. White males were, and always had been, the major source of employment for negroids (both male and female). They took it upon themselves to employ negroids. They took it upon themselves to build housing for them (public housing). They took it upon themselves to provide a financial system to feed negroids who were hungry (welfare programs).

All of this occurred despite the fact the negroid race was supposed to be a separate and self-reliant people. They were SUPPOSED to build their own towns, cities, and industries. They were supposed to provide their own tax base to fund their own welfare systems. They were supposed to create their own political titles, and if they truly felt oppressed, they were supposed to colonize their own land.

Not only did they fail in every one of these aspects, but they never built even one city. Not even one. NEVER in human history had a single society experienced more economic prosperity than America did during the time of desegregation. The American negroid population reached almost 19 million as of 1960. By that time, there were 1,551 U.S. cities built by Americans. The negroids had built: -0- Even the small group of German sailors who were imprisoned in America during WW1 were able to build their own town, and they were in prison Link (A). Meanwhile, 19 million negroids, while free, could not build a single one. Not one.

In 1860 every American negroid was freed. At that time, there were 4.4 million negroids in America (compared with 27 million Aryans). These negroids, who were now free to do as they willed, and at the time when land was being given away in the west, chose not separate themselves from their "oppressors" and build their own cities in the free land. Instead, after 100 years of freedom, these 4.4 million accomplished the following:

- -By 1960, the number of industries established by negroid males: -0-
- -By 1960, the number of tax bases created by negroid males capable of sustaining government services: -0-
- -By 1960, the number of white males & females employed by a negroid and supporting a family: -0-

The negroid species in America has always demonstrated different behavioral characteristics when compared to Aryans. More specifically, while one race of men, Aryans, not only provided for themselves and their families, they also provided for an entire separate race of men, negroids, whose men discernibly failed to provide for themselves.

If ever given the opportunity, a negroid will always choose to live among Aryans rather than with his own species. Every multi-millionaire negroid flees their communities to live among affluent Aryans. No other race flees their own racial group like African Americans.

It's easier to bounce back from a nuclear holocaust than endure six decades of niggers. But even though Africans have low IQ, are prone to criminal behavior, and are likely to rape our women and murder our men, and Africans have always been this way and will always bee this way, the reality is that the Africans were still enslaved by whites, and so white people are partially to blame for the predicament of the blacks in America. So aren't we still obligated to help them?

-Actually, no. The reality is that Aryans abhor the concept of slavery, and historically, they have put an end to it wherever they found it. Aryans have opposed slavery in America since the very foundation of this nation. It was actually the jews who facilitated the slave trade, and who were the majority of slave owners. At the height of American slavery, 78% of slave owners were jews. Moreover, 40% of the jewish population in the US were slave owners, while only 0.35% of the whites in America owned slaves. Proportionally, this means jews were 11,428% more likely to own a slave than a white person. Those few Aryans who did own slaves, often did so with the intent of freeing them once the slave was capable of living safely within an Aryan society. Jews, on the other hand, view their goyim slaves as mere cattle to be worked to death when necessary.

Did Jews really own slaves?

Yes. Jacob Rader Marcus, a historian and Reform rabbi, wrote in his four-volume history of Americans Jews that over 75 percent of Jewish families in Charleston, South Carolina; Richmond, Virginia; and Savannah, Georgia, owned slaves, and nearly 40 percent of Jewish households across the country did.

tion. The Franks revolted against taxation when one of the kings tried to apply it to them, but the Roman populations bore its whole brunt. Tribute, taxes and other exactions finally became so oppressive that the poor and impoverished sold their children and sometimes even themselves into slavery. The Jews were the common mediators and factors in this traffic, as well as the most extensive slave-traders all over Europe, both then and in subsequent times; and a considerable part of the hereditary hatred of the European masses toward the Jews is to be ascribed to this historic fact.

The Frankish kings and their Frankish subjects had large estates, métairies, worked by serfs and chattels. The conquerors hated the cities, preferring the favorite old German life in the country, where they spent their time surrounded by their followers. The lordly mansions, the sala of the kings and the powerful, were erected amidst great forests in the style of encampments; and to this day the German word hoflager, "court-camp," is the name for the residence or court of a sovereign. Political power and prestige were no longer derived from municipal citizenship, but from the possession of land; and thus originated the feudal importance of the country and the barons, in contradistinction to the now powerless municipium. In the Greek and Roman world, the country was wholly sacrificed, politically and socially, to the city, which, in turn, acquired more and more political power and importance in proportion as do-

The Jews were no longer citizens, but constituted, in common with Saxons, Franks, and Friesians, a "schola peregrinorum" or "society of foreigners." They enjoyed full religious liberty, in return for which they assumed all a citizen's duties toward the state; minor offices also were open to them. Only the synagogues were exempt from the duty of quartering soldiers. The trade in slaves constituted the main source of livelihood for the Roman Jews, and decrees against this traffic were issued in 335, 336, 339, 384, 415, 417, 423, 438, and 743.

The slave trade was, of course, only one section of the widespread shipping interests of the Rhode Island merchants, who also dealt in whale and sperm oil, in spermacetic andles, and in and import-export business with the ports of Europe. Most of these firms were family concerns – there were Christopher, George and Robert Champlin, the four Brown brothers of Providence Plantation, a large family named Wanton, as well as individuals like Philip Wilkinson and Stephen d'Ayrault, Junior. From 1790 on the slave trade was chiefly in the hands of the brothers de Wolf, the youngest of whom, Levi, is said to have 'rettied in disputs after making one yovage to Africa'.

of the brothers de Wolf, the youngest of whom, Levi, is said to have 'retired in disgust after making one voyage to Africa'.

Although they were distinguished for sobriety – Newport slaving captains of the pre-Revolutionary era belonged to the Fellowship Club of Newport, the rules of which forbade gambling, drinking, quarrelling and swearing – that high moral tone on which New Englanders have ever prided themselves was not always audible in their ships along the Guinea coast. Captain Samuel Moore, of Boston, who traded in the Gambia River in the seventeen-thrities was a notorious cheat, who passed off pewter forgeries as Maria Theresa dollars, and got himself into trouble with the King of Cassan for giving him inferior trade goods. Simeon Potter, a ship-owner of Bristol, Rhode Island, issued instructions to his captains that they were to deal with African rather than European slave-traders, to make sure to water the rum as much as possible 'and sell as much on the short measure as you can'. It was Potter's theory that the heat of the sun would make the rum rise in the kegs so that it mixed with the water; and he is on record for remarking: 'Money? Why I'd plough the sea to porridge to make money!' Simeon Potter had a sister who had been given the good old New England christian name of Abigail. Miss Abigail married one of her brother's supercargoes, Marc Antoine de Wolf, a Jew from the French island of Guadeloupe. De Wolf settled down in his wife's home town of Bristol, Rhode Island, and sent several of their eight sons into the slave trade. The most famous of these, James de Wolf, was triede before a Newport grand jury in 1791, and found guilty of murder for having thrown into the Island slave trading ventures. We have already come across the name of Aaron Lopez, who, with his parture, Jacob Rodriguez Rivera, owned the most successful slaving business in the state. Aaron Lopez was a man with a long, ascetic, olive face who wore a white tie-wig. He has been described as boundlessly knowledgeable in commerce, of irreproachable integrity and of 'polite and amiable manners'. His characteristics, we learn, were 'hospitality and benevolence' and he was considered 'an ornament and a valuable pillar in the Jewish society of which he was a member. Thus he lived and thus he died; much regretted, esteemed and loved by all'. Aaron Lopez had a nephew, Abraham Lopez, and a son-in-law, Abraham Pereira Mendes, who made trips for the firm to Jamaica and New York. In May 1752, for example, the New Tork Gazette carried an advertisement which read: 'To be sold by Abraham Pereira Mendes, a parcel of likely young negroes, pimento, coffee etc. at the house in Smith's Fly, lately in occupation of Roger Pell, innkeeper. N.B. If any person has a mind to purchase any of the goods mentioned, they may inquire of Mr Daniel Gomez.' In 1767, when on a mission to Jamaica, Mendes reported back to his father-in-law that a consignment of Negroes was 'in such poor order' owing to being cooped up in too small a brig for him to do anything but sell them off cheaply: 'To my great surprise I found the negroes nothing to what I expected.' His father-in-law replied that it gave him 'no small pleasure' to learn that Mendes was on the spot in Kingston 'to assist Captain All in the disposal of his small cargo'. Captain All's small cargo, however, turned out as we see to consist almost entirely of 'refises alaves', and Captain All him the money, but shall wait for your further orders. then the Jews of the English and Dutch islands, despite the disabilities they faced, outnumbered their coreligionists of North America by five to one. Today, perhaps, their annals seem trivial, but two and three centuries ago, when England or Holland looked to its Jewish subjects in America, it looked south of Florida.

During the seventeenth century the Dutch made vigorous efforts to develop their overseas trade, and their successes with Brazil (from the mid-1620's to the mid-1650's) and the West Indies provided Dutch Jews with many mercantile opportunities at home (investment) and abroad (colonists and traders). Jews from Holland, for example, entered the sugar plantation business in Brazil (tax farmers, planters, mill owners, and sugar brokers), Surinam (planters), and Curaçao (planters and merchants). For the Dutch, the results were control of one of the great sugar-producing regions of the world, a widening of their foreign trade (refined in Amsterdam, the sugar was then distributed throughout Europe), and a source of great wealth; for the Jews, the results were entrance into sugar production and, eventually, into important positions in the sugar trade as brokers and exporters.²

Jews also took an active part in the Dutch colonial slave trade; indeed, the bylaws of the Recife and Mauricia congregations (1648) included an imposta (Jewish tax) of five soldos for each Negro slave a Brazilian Jew purchased from the West Indies Company. Slave auctions were postponed if they fell on a Jewish holiday. In Curaçao in the seventeenth century, as well as in the British colonies of Barbados and Jamaica in the eighteenth century, Jewish merchants played a major role in the slave trade. In fact, in all the American colonies, whether French (Martinique), British, or Dutch, Jewish merchants frequently dominated.³

This was no less true on the North American mainland, where during the eighteenth century Jews participated in the "triangular trade" that brought slaves from Africa to the West Indies and there exchanged them for molasses, which in turn was taken to New England and converted into rum for sale in Africa. Isaac Da Costa of Charleston in the 1750's, David Franks of Philadelphia in the 1760's, and Aaron Lopez of Newport in the late 1760's and early 1770's dominated Jewish slave trading on the American continent.*

The importing of slaves from Africa, the carrying of molasses from the West Indies, and the exporting of rum from New England were by no means the totality of Jewish-owned ocean commerce in colonial America. Jewish merchants exported—to Eng-

THE JEWISH ONSLAUGHT

Despatches from the Wellesley Battlefront

The Jewish attack on Black progress reached Wellesley College in 1993, when more Jewish organizations than you could shake a stick at issued a call for the dismissal of Dr. Tony Martin from his tenured professorship at the elite women's college.

Martin, one of the school's most senior, best known and most widely published scholars suddenly found himself the target of a hysterical campaign of Jewish lies, distortions and half-truths, spread around the country and internationally by the major media. His "crime"? He had included less than one day's worth of readings on Jewish involvement in the African slave trade in his survey course on African American history.

With rare insight and biting wit, Martin replies to his detractors and offers a historian analysis of the escalating Jewish onslaught against Black people.

"One of the formidable Marcus Garvey scholars, Dr. Martin is well known around the world for his innumerable scholarly publications, his dynamic lectures, and his deep erudition...

"If one has problems with a subject, one should debate the subject on its merit. Resort to cheap emotionalism and terroristic tactics is no substitute for rational debate and discussion. Furthermore, people of principle are not cowed by such tactics." - Dr. Leo W. Bertley and Winston Nicholls, Afro-Canadian (Montreal)

"Would be that your baying detractors, Dr. Martin, could emulate your sterling performance. We regard you as the last faint glimmer of hope for this immoral, amoral, and decadent society." - Correspondent, Washington, D.C.

"The courage you've demonstrated in speaking the truth, in the face of such a tremendous onslaught of political conservatism, academic Eurocentrism and Zionist machinations, is very inspiring....

"Like so many others, I have enthusiastically followed your work over the years, and have gained from it immensely. As the world's leading scholar on Garvey, you have ensured that at least one of our heroes of monumental importance will not suffer, as others have, at the hands of European custodialship and bourgeois - regardless of race - scholarship."

-Dr. Michael Williams, Director, African American Studies, Simmons College

"The Jews have made a hell of a mistake this time." -Robert Acemendeses Harris

'Jewish Involvement In Black Slave Trade To The Americas' by Rabbi Marc Lee Raphael Link (A)

In Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation of Sept. 1862 he said: "I have urged the colonization of the Negroes, (back to Africa), and I shall continue. My Emancipation Proclamation was linked with this plan (of returning the negros to Africa). There is no room for two distinct races of White men in America, much less for two distinct races of Whites and Blacks. ...I can think of no greater calamity than the assimilation of the negro into our social and political life as our equal ... Within twenty years we can peacefully colonize the Negro ... under conditions in which he can rise to the full measure of manhood. This he can never do here. We can never attain the ideal union our fathers dreamed, with millions of an alien, inferior race among us, whose assimilation is neither possible nor desirable."

Agriculture

On the virgin soil of America the Jews were among the pioneers of Agriculture. While Louisde Torres introduced tobacco into use for civilized In America. mankind (Kayserling, "Columbus," p. 95), Jews transplanted the sugar-cane from Madeira to Brazil in 1548 (according to Fishell; see M. J. Kohler, "Publ. Am. Jew. Hist. Soc." ii. 94) or in 1531 (Lindo, in G. A. Kohut's article, ibid. iii. 135: compare Joseph ha-Kohen, in R. Gottheil's translation, ibid. ii. 133). During the seventeenth century the sugar industry was monopolized by the Jews, and with their expulsion from Brazil it was transplanted to the West Indies, where, in 1663, David de Mercato's invention of new sugar-mills benefited the sugar-trade in Barbados. The Jews in Georgia, chief among them Abraham de Lyon, transplanted vine and silk culture from Portugal to America ("Publ. Am. Jew. Hist. Soc." i. 10). But while De Lyon cherished great expectations in that direction, the Jews of Georgia in general found the production of indigo, rice, corn, tobacco, and cotton more profitable (ibid. p. 12). In fact, the cotton-plantations in many parts of the South were wholly in the hands of the Jews, and as a consequence slavery found its advocates among them.

 flee to Europe in the millions for Ok, ok. Just because warzones are safer places to live than our own cities after negroids have been allowed to move into them, and just because Africans only have an average IQ of 67 and so it has been scientifically proven that they cannot live safely under our laws, we still have 300 million Americans here, so if we only bring over a few million Africans, I really don't see the big problem... Amirite?

This is the big problem:

What will happen when the 258 people with 67 IQ vote to 'kill white men' and 'rape white women' and there are only 14 people to vote against these new bills?

This is Mariam Nabatanzi.

She has given birth to 44 children.

She is 36 years old.

Now imagine the budget deficit in 100 years when there are 14 times as many whites, but 258 times as many negroids...

Just as they did in Rhodesia, Congo, Haiti, and South Africa, once the low IQ voters gain the majority, those voters will elect into our Aryan countries the same people they elected into their countries. For example:

South African Minister of Finance promises to make everyone rich.

South African Minister of Agriculture explains that food comes from grocery stores.

South African Police Commissioner explains the origins of criminal behavior in South Africa.

Real African culture has been hidden from us. This is what they tell us that we desperately need to make our societies better: Link (A) [contains graphic images]

The Aryan race has crossed seas, harnessed rivers, carved mountains, tamed deserts, and colonized the most barren icefields. It has been responsible for the invention of the printing press, cement, the harnessing of electricity, flight, rocketry, astronomy, the telescope, space travel, firearms, the transistor, radio, television, the telephone, the lightbulb, photography, motion pictures, the phonograph, the electric battery, the automobile, the steam engine, railroad transportation, the microscope, computers, and millions of other technological miracles. Throughout 6,000 years of recorded history, the African negroid has invented nothing.

Haiti was considered the "crown jewel" of the French colonial system, and was in fact the most prosperous colony anywhere in the world. In 1791, the French government issued a decree ordering Haiti to free the slaves and give them the right to vote. Within 10 years, the entire Aryan population was murdered, down to the last man, woman, and child. Rape, decapitation, and mutilation were committed almost universally upon their bodies.

Miscegenation

Populated by Aryans, the nation of Portugal rose in four centuries to become the wealthiest and most powerful country in the world. A great commercial and maritime power, it had large colonies in Asia, Africa, and America. Its seamen were the first to explore western Africa. They brought back vast numbers of negroid slaves and began racemixing. Today, Portugal has lost all of its outside territories. Its workers are the lowest paid in Europe, have the highest rate of illiteracy and a high infant-mortality rate. In terms of art, literature, music, science and philosophy, the "new" Portugal has produced virtually nothing in 100 years and by most standards, it is the worst nation in Europe.

White people were the first to live in South Africa, and have lived there much longer than any negroid African. Despite this fact...

I just spent the previous 127 pages attempting to demonstrate beyond any reasonable doubt that there are differences between the races. Yet, even more importantly, I sought to explain that these racial differences lead to very different behaviors.

Why do this?

Because without understanding that different races display different behaviors, what follows in this report will be hard for most Aryans to accept. Aryans, because of their focus on 'empathy and trust' often find it difficult to believe that negroids are capable of so much violence, bloodshed and abandonment. Yet, if one is incapable of accepting the reality of facts which are so well documented and scientifically demonstrated as these, then these same Aryans will be absolutely incapable of accepting the depravity which is to follow.

Negroids display a lack of empathy plus a low IQ, but what if there is exists a race of men which lack empathy but also possess intelligence? What types of depravities and lies would such a race be capable of doing? Would they, with their intelligence and willingness to commit depravity, establish an elite banking jewish cabal to enslave the entire world, rewrite history, sacrifice innocent children to their satanic gods, and stop at nothing to genocide every Aryan man, woman and child from the planet?

Of course they would.

Yet, if one cannot see the simple realities of the negroid race, then the truths about the jewish race will seem utterly unbelievable, utterly inconceivable, and would only result in abject rejection, despite the indisputable facts and unquestionable sources provided. In order to prevent such rejection, this foundation of race-realism needed to first be established.

To review: there exists in this world four distinct human species which are closely related and capable of interbreeding effectively, but each of which is a part of distinct a genetic, phenotypical, and behavioral group. Understanding that there exist different human species (each with a variety of subspecies) helps us to understand that these varying species and subspecies will inevitably display different behaviors, and often they display these behaviors in predictable ways. As different species, we can be expected to respond differently when exposed to the same stimuli (stimuli such as laws, social norms and education). Without this understanding, the varying responses of one species will otherwise seem both confusing and irrational to those of a different species.

Aryans are high-IQ builders who create peaceful societies. They are filled with empathy and they shun both criminal and degenerate behaviors. In short, Aryan empathy and trustworthiness, plus Aryan high IQ, leads to the Aryan ability to create free societies. This poses a very serious threat to the elite jewish bankers' plans of enslaving the world. In order to maintain their control over the world, the jewish Cabal intends on bringing about the complete genocide of the Aryan race.

"But wait, the jews are white people, so the jews don't really want to kill off the entire Aryan race, right?"

-Well...as demonstrated in the section on DNA testing, jews have very distinct DNA which is quite different from Aryans. At a minimum, jews ought to be classified as a subspecies of their own, if not an entirely separate species all together. What is more, the jews agree that they are not white:

Just because we have the same skin tone, does not make us the same race. Jews are not Aryans. They display different behaviors.

5. ARYAN GENOCIDE

Jews desire to bring about Aryan Genocide. Sometimes called 'White Genocide', their plan is two-fold: first, eliminate the strongest and bravest Aryans through world-wide war, and then implement the Kalge-ri Plan.

Kalergi's plan involved immigrating low IQ Africans into Aryan cultures with the intent of race-mixing the two species so the next generation will be a new race of brown people, who have a high enough IQ to work, but an IQ low-enough that they will never present a threat to jewish financial enslavement.

In short, by eliminating the white Aryans from the planet, the jews will have forever established their goal of world domination and rule over this Earth:

Count Richard von Coudenhove-Kalergi was the founder, and President for 49 years, of the Pan-European Union, the forerunner of the EU. In his 1925 book, 'Praktischer Idealismus,' he says this:

"The man of the future will be mixed-race... The Eurasian-Negroid race of the future... will replace the diversity of peoples... Russian Bolshevism constitutes a decisive step towards this purpose, where a small group of Communist spiritual aristocrats govern the country...

Jewry surpasses all other peoples in percentage of important men... with Trotsky as the frontrunner of modern politics... The prominent position held by the Jews these days is owed to their spiritual supremacy... Modern anti-Semitism is one of the many reactionary phenomena of the mediocre against the supreme."

In 1950, the Count was awared the first Charlemagne Prize. Other winners of the award have included, Winston Churchill, Henry Kissinger, Edward Heath, Bill Clinton and Tony Blair. Of mixed-race himself, two of his three wives were Jewish.

Wrote the plan to mix the races so that the European one would go extinct.

JEWS explain WHY they bring millions of Muslims and African immigrants to Europe

"The ultimate goal is the forcible-coordination of all countries of the world: That shall be achieved by mixing the races with the goal to create a light brown race in Europe. For that reason 1.5 million immigrants from the third world shall migrate to Europe every year. The result would be a population with an AVERAGE IQ OF 90 that is so dumb to grasp anything but intelligent enough to work. The European countries would NEVER AGAIN BE COMPETITORS in the struggle for global domination and a multiple millennia old culture would be destroyed. Irrational people who will fight against this "mingling of races", and put up any resistance against the global world order, should be killed." ~ Thomas P.M. Barnett, JEW, director of the Israeli military consultancy 'Wikistrat' in his book 'The Pentagon's New Map', 2004 Alice.F

"We will openly reveal our identity with the races of Asia and Africa. I CAN STATE WITH ASSURANCE THAT THE LAST GENERATION OF WHITE CHILDREN IS NOW BEING BORN. OUR CONTROL COMMISSION will, in the interests of peace and wiping out of interacial tensions, forbid the whites to mate with whites.

The white woman must co-habit with members of the dark races, the white man with black women. Thus the white race will disappear, for mixing dark with white means the end of the white man, and our most dangerous enemy will become only a memory.

We shall embark upon an era of ten thousand years of peace and plenty, the PAX JUDAICA, and OUR RACE (JEWS) will rule undisputed over the world.

OUR SUPERIOR INTELLIGENCE WILL ENABLE US TO RETAIN MASTERY OVER A WORLD OF DARK PEOPLES."

(The above prophecy by Rabbi Rabinovitch was published in the U.S. Publication 'Common Sense' and re-published in the September 1952 issue of the Canadian Intelligence Service).

"A Racial Plan for the Twentieth Century"

Israel Cohen 1912

We must realize that our party's most powerful weapon is racial tension. By propounding into the consciousness of the dark races that for centuries they have been oppressed by the whites, we can mould them to the program of the Communist Party. In America we will aim for subtle victory. While inflaming the Negro minority against the whites, we will endeavor to instill in the whites a guilt complex for their exploitation of the Negroes. We will aid the Negroes to rise in prominence in every waik of life, in the professions and in the world of sports and entertainment. With this prestige, the Negro will be able to intermarry with the whites and begin a process which will deliver America to our cause.

But genocide is so absolutely terrible! Certainly jews do not really want whites to be genocided from the planet:

These elite international banking jews believe they are the masters of the world, and their religious texts demonstrate that they view all other people as mere cattle to be enslaved. They also believe that if any cattle resist enslavement, those cattle must be slaughtered. Since the Aryan people pose a threat to the jewish goal of world domination, the jews have begun implementing the Kalergi plan to slaughter the freedom-loving Aryan race and then replace them with an obedient slave-race of mixed negroids.

The Kalergi plan is not the first time jews have attempted to seize power over others. Historically, the free-dom-loving Aryans have always fought back against jewish subversion, and time and time again, patriotic Aryans have thwarted the jews' plans. As a result of this, the jews have come to desperately hate Aryans. In fact, they hate Aryans so much so that a term has even been invented for this hatred: loxism. Here are a few examples of loxism in action:

"The homogenity of European nations is fundamentally against the interests of the Jewish people. We are at a critical turning point in history. The West is becoming more and more racially diverse, and soon the White Race will be forced into submission. The future of the west is that of an ethnically diverse melting pot, where the evil divisions of race and white supremacy no longer reign. This is all thanks to the tremendous power of our social movements and institutions. This great change will be catalyzed by Moslem settlement. From the land of Israel, Jews will forever be a light unto the new monoracial world as guarenteed by G-d."

Imagine being a White gentile living in Israel, running a "civil rights" group that proudly charted when Jews would become a minority.

And calling any jew that objected to becoming a minority a "supremacist'

Well, Mark Potok of the SPLC does this for White People in America.

Two jews on CNN discuss the "only solution" to the "problem" of white people: Link (A)

In October 2001, Jewish supremacist Stephen Steinlight published a paper entitled, "The Jewish Stake in America's Changing Demography: Reconsidering a Misguided Immigration Policy." In this paper, which is freely available online, Steinlight admitted that the Jews have been behind the United States' mass immigration, open borders policy, with the express intent of reducing White Americans to a minority. However, Steinlight proposes to his fellow Jews that America's demographic transformation is happening too quickly. The problem, Steinlight says, is that too quick of a transformation to a non-White majority is a threat to Jewish power. Steinlight says that the source of Jewish power in America is White guilt over the Holocaust, and that this is how they have been able to reign supreme. Steinlight is worried that, if Whites become a minority too quickly, the new majority of color will no longer have any connection to or feel any guilt for the Holocaust. He is worried that the new non-white majority will no longer want to give the Jews special privileges, and that they will no longer want to support the State of Israel. Therefore, Steinlight proposes that non-White immigration must be drastically reduced to manageable levels, which will give the Jews more time to brainwash the newcomers with Jewish propaganda. Steinlight specifically mentions the need to reduce Hispanic and Muslim immigration. Steinlight is also concerned that the speed of the demographic transformation is angering White Americans. He is afraid that, if the Jews do not slow down the flood of immigration, Whites will become increasingly racially conscious, and there will be a violent backlash against the Jews. By reducing immigration, the Jews can pacify Whites. He also proposes another tool to prevent White solidarity: a revival of American patriotism. Civic nationalism must be revived so that loyalty to America will outweigh any ethnic loyalties among the Gentile populace. In the end, Steinlight says, a White minority in America is still the

"I speak OF THE DEATH OF THE WHITE RACE. The complete removal of all means of reproduction of the socalled Aryan race. Men, we now control the destiny of this race. It is now time to make sure the White race becomes extinct through miscegenation and having a virtually zero birth rate. We have all enjoyed the vision repeated all over this world every day of the last white children playing with little dark children and knowing that they are being set-up for their eventual destruction. We can ruin the ancient pure bloodline of an aryan child by convincing him or her of the altruism of begetting interracial children. We must expose the race mixing of the urban centers to the suburbs and rural areas of this country. More aggressive programs to integrate these areas are now underway through HUD. It is worth any price to annihilate the next generation of White children. We want every White father to feel the sting of having their children marry colored mates and produce biracial children." -Abe Foxman; ADL Chairman.

Now knowing what you know about the low IQ of blacks, the high violence of blacks, and the desire of jews to bring these violent individuals into Aryan nations for the purpose of geneciding white Aryans... what do you think of leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)

Read the national rabbinic letter calling on the U.S. to keep its doors open to refugees: hias.org/1500rabbis

Jews suggest that nationalism is absolutely vital for jewish nations like Israel, and it is unthinkable that minorities should exist in jewish nations. At the very same time, they demand that nationalism is absolutely horrendous for white nations, and it is absolutely unthinkable that minorities aren't more encouraged in white nations.

Furthermore, bi-nationalism is unworkable given current realities and historic animosities. With historically high birth rates among the Palestinians, and a possible influx of Palestinian refugees and their descendants now living around the world, Jews would quickly be a minority within a bi-national state, thus likely ending any semblance of equal representation and protections. In this situation, the Jewish population would be increasingly politically – and potentially physically – vulnerable.

It is unrealistic and unacceptable to expect the State of Israel to voluntarily subvert its own sovereign existence and nationalist identity and become a vulnerable minority within what was once its own territory.

In white countries, jews intentionally support importing low-IQ Africans while promoting race-mixing. But in jewish countries, jews vehemently oppose importing any non-jews while maing race-mixing illegal.

In a white nation, the brutal rape of white women by negroid subhumans is considered by the jewish-run media to be of such little importance that such immigrants need not fear deportation.

However, the jewish-run media suggests there is one kind of behavior that can never ever be tolerated in white nations:

US Jews Demand Israel to Stick to Plan to Deport Africans to White archive.is/o4EAz Countries

Share on Facebook

All major US American Jewish organizations-under the aegis of the Anti-Defamation League, the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, the Jewish Council for Public Affairs, J Street, the National Council of Jewish Women, the New Israel Fund, the Rabbinical Assembly, and the Union for Reform Judaism-have jointly demanded that Israel stick to the United Nations' plan to deport African invaders in Israel to white nations, rather than send them back to Africa.

An Open Letter Concerning the Safety and Future of African Asylum Seekers

His Excellency Benjamin Netanyahu Prime Minister of the State of Israel

APRIL 5, 2018

Dear Prime Minister Netanyahu

We urge Israel to re-commit to an agreement with the UN refugee agency (UNHCR) to guarantee the safety of the 39,000 asylum seekers currently within their borders.

We urge Israel to reflect the principles enshrined in that agreement and find a path forward for the refugees by providing full and fair asylum procedures and actively seeking options for third country resettlement.

To all you anti-semites and racists out there: consider

In 50 or 100 years, Israel will still be Jewish.

Your countries will NOT, however. Europe will be browner and blacker, and so will Asia. Chances are your grandchildren will not look like you and if they do, your great-grandchildren won't. My descendants will rule over your descendants who will learn to hate their own heritage and There is NOTHING you can do about it.

DIVERSITY IS OUR STRENGTH? Horace Kallen MULTICULTURALISM FOR THEE BUT NOT FOR ME

Horace Meyer Kallen (August 11, 1882 – February 16, 1974) was an American philosopher.

He advanced the ideal that cultural diversity and national pride were compatible with each other and that ethnic and racial diversity strengthened America. His critics pointed out his disingenuousness since, as a Jewish intellectual and member of the Zionist Organization of America, his vision of multicultural America was quite the opposite of his vision of the Jewish state of Israel as a totally Jewish nation. Kallen is credited with coining the term cultural pluralism.

Effects of Kalergi plan:

Birmingham in 1940, filled with Englishmen ready to die to prevent invasion by foreigners.

Birmingham in 2017, filled with foreigners.

Ireland never had colonies, slavery, or displaced natives, yet look at this school in Ireland.

The Moors, Mongols, Ottomans all had colonies, slavery, and displaced natives, yet none of their nations are subjected to punitive mass immigration. No! Only WHITE nations are targeted.

Which names are most frequently given to children born in Germany? This question is answered by the Gesellschaft für deutsche Sprache (GfdS) every year. Her results for 2018 she published today.

Surprisingly: In Berlin, Mohammed (in all spelling variants) was the most popular first name last year! Followed by Louis (2nd place) and Emil (3rd place). He was also ahead in Bremen: Mohammed was second behind Ben and ahead of Elias. Looking at the overall list of first names (so all second, third and other episode names are added), Mohammed landed in third place in Bremen,

Shock as 84 schools have NO white British pupils at all... double the number of five years ago

- · Number of such schools has more than doubled from 31 in 2008
- Highest concentration of schools is Birmingham with 22
- · Primary schools make up 67 of the total number
- · Critics say Labour's 'open-door' policy created integration problems

More than 80 state schools in England have no white British pupils, Government figures show

The number of such schools appears to have more than doubled over the past five years, and the findings will fuel concerns that some parts of the country are becoming increasingly segregated.

The new figures follow research showing that white Britons are retreating from areas dominated by ethnic minorities, to be replaced by immigrants and other ethnic minorities

Cloward-Piven plan:

In 1966, Richard Cloward and Frances Fox Piven published a plan to flood the United States with dark-skinned people from countries where the median IQ is below 80. Due to the limited IQ of these immigrants, they would not easily find jobs even if they wanted to work. All of these immigrants would then be placed into a country where a robust welfare system has been established prior to their arrival. By flooding this expensive welfare system with so many non-working immigrants, the entire system would crash. It would then be claimed that capitalism failed, and the resulting crisis would be used to usher in a totalitarian government.

It must just be a coincidence that Piven is jewish.

Have you ever wondered why negroids and minorities who are incapable of caring for themselves are allowed to freely procreate, creating even more individuals who are incapable of caring for themselves? The elite jews actually had the foresight to manipulate the welfare state to help speed up the population growth of these minorities so they could more quickly take control of our country. This strategy of breeding low-IQ, eternal welfare recipients to forever vote for their political puppets has worked all too well.

The jews have been attacking the Aryan race for a long time, but the jewish-controlled media hid these facts. They intentionally manipulated the minds of our citizens so as to hasten white genocide through race -mixing. Here is a flier trying to warn people of this during the '50s, but we did not listen. In fact, we could not listen because most people never heard about this. The jew-media suppressed it:

JEWS BEHIND RACE MIXING

"JEWISH LIFE", official organ of the Jewish section of the Communist party, in its June, 1950 issue on page 8, states:

"Our job as Jewish Communists is to take the lead in educating the Jewish masses on the meaning of white supremacy and to enroll the Jewish community in an all-out fight against it. This is paramount in our work in the struggle for negro rights. This is vital to the struggle of the Jewish people for their own security and future."

It has surprised some people to find out that the president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People [NAACP] is NOT a Negro BUT the JEW ARTHUR SPINGARN. It is the Jews who are leading the fight to destroy segregation in Atlanta schools.

The NAACP is sponsoring suits all over the country and in the U. S. Supreme Court to break down Racial Segregation and open up our White schools, restaurants, busses and hotels to negroes. All important Jewish organizations are against Segregation and have petitioned Congress for an anti-White FEPC law.

A Jew, Julius Rosenwald, spent $30 million financing organizations and writers that promote mongrelization. A race once mongrelized is mongrelized forever.

America must awaken to the Jew attack against White People!

Among the leftist organizers and academics, there is explicit talk of killing every white man, woman and child. Understand that it is far worse in their private circles than anything you have seen in this report.

"But certainly, the above references must only be the viewpoints of a small minority of the jewish elite. Normal jews don't really hate white people. Right?"

Is it possible that these jews who so desperately hate white people might then use their similarly fair skin to pretend to be white in an attempt to convince white Aryans to hate their own race? Certainly not. Jews would never sink so low as to intentionally deceive an entire race into hating themselves. ...right?

If above examples are not sufficient for you to realize that jews purposely pretend to be whites in an attempt to convince white Aryans to hate their own race, then here is an additional 3,000 examples: Link (A)

Ok, so there are a lot of jews who intentionally deceive Aryans into hating themselves. But certainly, these are just mere words. Jews as a whole population in any one area must have never done anything so horrible as to warrant being expelled from that area by the locals.

What would you think if you discovered that the person who wanted to rent an apartment from you was kicked out of the last 109 places they lived?

What if you learned the person your company hired had been fired from the last 109 jobs they had?

Certainly after being expelled 109 times, the Jews must have learned their lesson and changed their behavior. They would never do anything today which would result in them getting expelled again:

Oh well. I guess we better make it 110 times. Certainly, after 110 times, the jews must have learned their lesson and changed their behavior. At least we can know for certain that the jews have never done anything bad in the USA. Like, at least they have never done anything so blatantly evil that the locals were forced to attack a jail in order to break out the dirty jew just so they could illegally lynch him because otherwise he would have gotten away with his wicked crimes since his punishment had been "remitted" by a corrupt jewish judge. Certainly that has never happened.

Oh wait! In Atlanta, 1913, jews gained ownership over child labor factories, and then used those factories to gain access to gentile children which they sexually abused and ritually murdered. When they were caught, the jews then used the legal system to avoid any legal punishment for their crimes. So sickened by the wickedness of their deeds and the lack of justice which followed, the locals formed a lynch mob and attacked the jail which was holding the perpetrator so they could lynch him before he could be released since he received remitted punishment from a corrupt judge.

Then those patriots put their righteous deed on a postcard and mailed it to the other jews in the area.

I would say this counts as 111, but these jews weren't technically "forced" out of the area. In this case, since they left voluntarily, I guess that means we are still at one hundred and.... oh wait, my mistake...the real number is 1,030.

The Jews have been expelled 1,030 times: Link (A) ...1,030 ...1,030 ...1,030

6. COMMUNISM AND THE JEWS

The Russian Revolution of 1917 was one of the most explosive political events of the twentieth century. The violent revolution marked the end of the Romanov dynasty and centuries of Russian Imperial rule. During the Russian Revolution, the Bolsheviks, led by Vladimir Lenin, seized power and destroyed the tradition of csarist rule. The Bolsheviks would later become the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

All of the above facts of the Russian Revolution are commonly known. What is less commonly known is the jewish involvement in these events. Though it is called the Russian Revolution, the Revolution actually had very little to do with Russians. The Bolsheviks who had seized power through violence were, in fact, led by jews. In this way, the jews were able to gain direct control over the entire nation of Russia. The elite jewish international bankers financed, infiltrated, and then instigated this national coup after sending assassins to eliminate Tsar Nicholas II.

but I call it what it is: Judaism!"
- Rabbi Stephen Wise
(The American Bulletin, May 5, 1935)

"Some may call

"You must understand, the leading Bolsheviks who took over Russia were not Russians. They hated Russians. They hated Christians. Driven by ethnic hatred they tortured and slaughtered millions of Russians without a shred of human remorse. It cannot be overstated. Bolshevism committed the greatest human slaughter of all time. The fact that most of the world is ignorant and uncaring about this enormous crime is proof that the global media is in the hands of the perpetrators.' ~ Alexandr Solzhenitsyn How Jewish was the Bolshevik regime of the late 1910s, '20s and '30s in Russia? 95% % of positions held by Jews 78% 50% 40% 38.5% Senior posts in the High-ranking Generals in the Commissars³ Commanders of Members of the Soviet secret police the main gulags4 Soviet secret police2 (NKVD)2 government⁵ 1. Sever Plocker, Stalin's Jews (2006) / 2. Timothy Snyder, Bloodlands: Europe between Hitler and Stalin (2010) / 3. Robert Wilton, as reported in the London Times in Russia (1918) / 4. Hermann Greife, Slave Labor in Soviet Russia (1937) / 5. George A. Simons, Bolshevik Propaganda: Hearings before a Subcommittee of the Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate (1919)

The most detailed description of Jewish influence in the Bolshevik 'revolution comes from Robert Wilton, the Russian correspondent of The Times. In 1920 he published a book in French, Les Derniers Jours des Romanofs, which gave the racial background of all the members of the Soviet government. (This does not appear in the later English translation, for some odd reason.) After the publication of this monumental work, Wilton was ostracised by the press, and he died in poverty in 1925. He reported that the Central Committee of the Bolshevik Party was made up as follows:

Here is a 1919 British report on the danger that jewish Bolshevism represented, and the fear that if left uncontested, the jews would spread their power across the world in pursuit of world domination:

and Austrian quarters. I consider that the immediate suppression of Bolshevism is the greatest issue now before the world, not even excluding the war which is still raging, and unless, as above stated, Bolshevism is nipped in the bud immediately, it is bound to spread in one form or another over Europe and the whole world, as it is organised and worked by Jews who have no nationality, and whose one object is to destroy for their own ends the existing order of things. The only manner in which this danger could be averted would be collective action on the part of all Powers.

Throughout the districts occupied or administered by the Soviet Government 90 per cent. of the population is against the administration, and probably not more than 5 per cent actively support the same. This 5 per cent consists of returned political refugees, mostly non-Russian in race, members of the many committees, commissariats, and Government's Departments, Red Army recruits, who are receiving high wages, and a certain number of fanatics, mostly young, of both sexes. The

"The Bolsheviks can no longer be described as a political party holding extreme communistic view. They form relatively small privileged class which is able to terrorise the rest of the population because it has a monopoly both of arms and of food supplies. This class consists chiefly of workmen and soldiers, and included a large non-Russian element, such as Letts and Esthonians and Jews; the latter are specially numerous in higher posts. Members of this class are allowed complete licence, and commit crime against other sections of society.

The Bolsheviks comprised chiefly Jews and Germans, who were exceedingly active and enterprising. The Russians were largely anti-Bolshevik, but were for the most part dreamers, incapable of any sustained action, who now, more than ever before, were unable to throw off the yoke of their oppressors. Night after night the counter-revolutionary Societies held secret meetings to plot against the Bolsheviks, but never once was a serious attempt made to carry through the conspiracy. The starving condition of the people quite paralysed their will-power.

"From examination of several labourer and peasant witnesses I have evidence to the effect that very smallest percentage of this district were pro-Bolshevik, majority of labourers sympathising with summoning of Constituent Assembly. Witnesses further stated that Bolshevik leaders did not represent Russian working classes, most of them being Jews.

WITH regard to the murder of Imperial family at Ekaterinburg, there is further evidence to show that there were two parties in the local Soviet, one which was anxious to save Imperial family, and the latter, headed by five Jews, two of whom were determined to have them murdered. These two Jews, by name Vainen and Safarof, went with Lenin when he made a journey across Germany. On pretext that Russian guard had stolen 70,000 roubles, they were removed from the house between the 8th and 12th. The guard were replaced by a house guard of thirteen, consisting of ten Letts and three Jews, two of whom were called Laipont and Yurowski, and one whose name is not known. The guard was commanded outside the house by a criminal called Medoyedof who had been convicted of murder and arson in 1906, and of outraging a girl of five in 1911. The prisoners were awakened at 2 A.M., and were told they must

I spent six weeks in the Fortress of Peter and Paul, acted as chaplain to His Majesty's submarines in the Baltic for four years, and was in contact with the 9th (Russian) Army in Roumania during the autumn of 1917 whilst visiting British Missions and hospitals, and had ample opportunity of studying Bolshevik methods.

It originated in German propaganda, and was, and is being, carried out by international Jews.

At the Putilof Works anti-Semitism is growing, probably because the foc supply committees are entirely in the hands of Jews—and voices can be heard some times calling for a "pogrom."

Bolshevik leaders were Jews

Karl Marx was born on 5 May, 1818 to Heinrich Marx and Henrietta Pressburg (1788-1863). He was born at Bruckengasse 664 in Trier, a town then part of the Kingdom of Prussia's Province of the Lower Rhine. Marx was ancestrally jewish: his maternal grandfather was a Dutch rabbi, while his paternal line had supplied Trier's rabbis since 1723.

Vladimir Lenin's father, Ilya Nikolayevich Ulyanov, was from a family of Kalmyk, Russian, and Chuvash serfs. Vladimir's mother was Maria Alexandrovna Blank, the daughter of a German-Swedish woman and a Russian jewish physician.

Lev Borisovich Rozenfeld was born in Moscow, the son of a jewish railway worker and a Russian Orthodox mother.

Grigori Sokolnikov was born 'Girsh Yankelevich Brilliant', to a railway doctor in Romney on 15 August, 1888. Jewish by birth, he moved to Moscow as a teenager and joined the Bolshevik faction in 1905.

Gregory Zinoview was born in Yelizavetgrad to jewish dairy famers, who educated him at home.

Leon Trotsky was born 'Lev Davidovich Bronstein' on 7 November, 1879, the fifth child in a Russian jewish family of wealthy but illiterate farmers in Yanovka, in the Kherson governorate of the Russian Empire (now Bereslavka, Ukraine).

"We must turn Russia into a desert populated by white negroes upon whom we shall impose a tyranny of such as the most terrible Eastern despots never dreamt. We shall shed such floods of blood as will make all the human losses suffered in the capitalist wars quake and pale by comparison. The biggest bankers across the ocean will work in the closest possible contact with us. If we win the revolution, we shall establish the power of Zionism upon the wreckage of the revolution's funeral, and we shall become a power before which the whole world will sink to its knees. By means of terror and bloodbaths, we shall reduce the Russian intelligentsia to a state of complete stupefaction and idiocy and to an animal existence. Our young men know how to hate everything Russian! What pleasure they take in physically destroying the Russian officers, academics and writers!" -Leon Trostsky

Without Trotsky's organizational ability, it is unlikely that the Bolshevik Revolution would have been successful. Trotsky was primarily a brilliant organizer, but he also brought with him a considerable amount of money which bankrolled the revolution. This cash, raised from jewish sympathizers in the United States (particularly from the banker Jacob Schiff of the firm Kuhn, Loeb & Co.), allowed the Communists to organize and prepare when most of their opponents were unable to do so.

The provisional government set-up by Trotsky disbanded the tsarist police, repealed all laws which discriminated against jews. The jewish domination of the commissar elite of the early Soviet Union ensured that any forms of anti-Semitism were regarded as "counter-revolutionary," and anti-jewish agitation was entered into the Soviet law books as a capital crime.

Churches, mosques and temples were destroy and their religious leaders were executed. Somehow, only the jews and their synagogues managed to escape the Soviet brutality:

Vladivostok's Beit Sima synagogue, built in 1917

"Not one Jewish synagogue has been torn down, as have hundreds and perhaps thousands of the Greek Catholic Churches." (American Hebrew, Nov. 18, 1932, p. 12)

"Apostate Jews, leading a revolution that was to destroy religion as the 'opiate of the people' had somehow spared the synagogues of Russia." (Democracy and World Dominion, 1939, p.211)

An American Intelligence report stating that 79% of the Bolshevik Commissars were jewish, most of whom were American Jews sent to Russia for the purpose of violently seizing political power:

The following is the jewish opinion on Communism, taken directly from Encyclopedia Judaica, 2nd edition:

COMMUNISM

COMMUNISM, the international revolutionary Marxist movement that evolved under *Lenin 's leadership from the Bolshevik faction (created in 1903 in the Russian Social Democratic Party) to become the ruling party of Russia after the October Revolution in 1917 and created the Communist International (Comintern) in 1919. The Communist movement and ideology played an important part in Jewish life, particularly in the 1920s, 1930s, and during and after World War II. Violent polemics raged between Jewish Communists and Zionists in all countries until the disenchantment with the anti-Jewish policies of *Stalin in his last years and, after his death, with the antisemitic quality of the treatment of Jews and Jewish life in the U.S.S.R., as well as the increasingly violent anti-Jewash of Moscow in the Arab-Israel conflict.

Individual Jews played an important role in the early stages of Bolshevism and the Soviet regime. These Jews were mostly confirmed assimilationists who adopted their party's concept of the total disappearance of Jewish identity under advanced capitalism and socialism. They thus opposed the existence of separate Jewish workers' movements, particularly the "Bund and Socialist Zionism. The great attraction of communism among Russian, and later also Western, Jewry emerged only with the establishment of the Soviet regime in Russia. The mere fact that during the civil war in Russia following the October 1917 Revolution the counterrevolutionary forces were violently antisemitic, shedding Jewish blood in pogroms on an unprecedented scale, drove the bulk of Russian Jewish youth into the ranks of the Bolshevik regime. During Lenin's rule, the NEP ("new economic policy"), and the years preceding Stalin's personal dictatorship and the great purges of the 1930s, a dichotomy of Jewish life evolved in the Soviet Union and was greatly attractive to both assimilationist and secular Yiddish-oriented Jews outside Russia. On the one hand, Russian Jews enjoyed the opportunities of immense geographical and social mobility, leaving behind the townlets of the "Pale of Settlement and occupying many responsible positions in all branches of the party and state machinery at the central and local seats of power. On the other, a secular educational and cultural network in Yiddish and an economic and administrative framework of Jewish life, including agricultural settlement and Jewish local and regional "Soviets," were officially established and fostered, culminating in the mid-1930s in the creation of the Jewish Autonomous Region in the Fast ("Birobidzhan"). Many Jews the world over therefore regarded the Soviet concept of the solution to the "Jewish question" as an intrinsic positive approach with the main options open for various Jewish trends — assimilation or preservation of Jewish (secular) identify and even Jewish territorialism and e

During this period the position of world Jewry markedly deteriorated because of the severe economic and political crises in Palestine and the growing trend of oppressive antisemitism in the rest of Eastern Europe, Nazi and fascist influence in Central and Western Europe, and the economic crisis in the United States. Communism and support of the Soviet Union thus seemed to many Jews to be the only alternative, and Communist trends became widespread in virtually all Jewish communities. In some countries Jews became the leading element in the legal and illegal Communist parties and in some cases were even instructed by the Communist International to change their Jewish-sounding names and pose as non-Jews, in order not to confirm right-wing propaganda that presented Communism as an alien, Jewish conspiracy (e.g., the Polish slogan against "Zydo-Komuna" and the Nazi reiteration against "Jewish Bolshevism," etc.). Initially, the Stalin-"Trotsky controversy did not affect the attraction of Communism to Jews, though a number of intellectual Jewish Communists tended more toward Trotsky's consistent internationalism than to Stalin's concept of building "Socialism in one country" and subjecting the interests of the international working class to the changing tactical interests of the Soviet Union. The facts about the gradual liquidation of the Yiddish cultural and educational network and the stifling of the Birobidzhan experiment in the late 1930s did not immediately reach the Jewish public outside the Soviet Union. In addition, only a minority of Jewish Communists condemned the Comintern-directed policy at the end of the 1930s that branded any form of non-Communist Socialism as "social fascism" and the main enemy of the revolution, while simultaneously seeking cooperation with German Nazism. Even the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact of August 1939 was a shock to only a minority of Jewish Communists (except confirmed oppositionists, mainly of the Trotskyite "Fourth International"). When World War i broke out in 1939, most Jewish C

Bolshevik Theory (1903-1917)

The Bolshevik attitude to basic questions concerning the Jews was formulated in as early as 1903, with the emergence of the Bolshevik faction during the Second Congress of the Russian Social Democratic Party in Brussels and London. The Bolshevik faction (which in 1912–13 became the Bolshevik Party) contained a number of Jews who were active mainly in the field of organization and propaganda (rather than in theory and ideology, as was the case with the Jewish Mensheviks). They included such people as Maxim *Litvinov (Wallach), M. Liadov (Mandelshtam), Grigori Shklovsky, A. Soltz, S. Gusev (Drabkin), Grigori *Zinoviev (Radomysisky), Lev *Kamenev (Rosenfeld), Rozaliya *Zemliachka (Zalkind), Helena Rozmirovich, Yemeli *Yaroslavsky (Gubelman), Serafima Gopner, G. Sokolnikov, I. Piatnitsky, Jacob *Sverdiov, M. Vladimirov, P. Zalutsky, A. Lozovsky, Y. Yaklovlev (Epstein), Lazar *Kaganovich, D. Shvartsman, and Simon *Dimanstein . Their number grew rapidly between the Russian revolutions of February and October 1917, when various groups and individuals joined the Bolsheviks; prominent among the new adherents were *Trotsky, M. Uritsky, M. Volodarsky, J. Steklov, Adolf Joffe, David Riazanov (Goldendach), *Yuri *Larin , and *Karl *Radek (Sobelsohn). Most of the Jews active in Bolshevik ranks before 1917 were assimilationist Intellectuals. Few Jewish workers in Russia belonged to the Bolsheviks, and propaganda material designed to recruit Jewish members was restricted to a single Yiddish pamphlet, a short report on the Third (Bolshevik) Congress of the Russian Social Democratic Party (April–May 1905), which contained a special introduction by Lenin addressed "To the Jewish Workers."

"The Communist soul is the soul of Judaism. Hence it follows that, just as in the Russian revolution, the triumph of Communism was the triumph of Judaism, so also in the triumph of fascism will triumph Judaism."

— (A Program for the Jews and Humanity, Rabbi Harry Waton, p. 143-144).

"Out of 556 important functionaries of the Bolshevik State, there were, in 1918-1919, 17 Russians... 457 Jews, and 82 others."

Robert Wilton, a longtime Russian news correspondent for the London Times, in his book, The Last Days of the Romanovs

"Without Jews there would never have been Bolshevism. For a Jew nothing, is more insulting than the truth. THE BLOODTHIRSTY JEWISH TER-RORISTS HAVE MURDERED SIXTY SIX MILLION in Russia from 1918 to 1957."

~ Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, Nobel Peace Prize Winner and Patriot.

"The Bolshevist revolution in Russia was the work of Jewish brains, of Jewish dissatisfaction, of Jewish planning, whose goal is to create a new world order. What was performed in so excellent a way in Russia, thanks to Jewish brains, and because of Jewish dissatisfaction and by Jewish planning, shall also, through the same Jewish mental and physical forces, become a reality all over the world."

The American Hebrew, September 10, 1920

"This movement among the Jews is not new. From the days of Spartacus-Weishaupt to those of Karl Marx, and down to Trotsky (Russia), Bela Kun (Hungary), Rosa Luxembourg (Germany), and Emma Goldman (United States), this world-wide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilization and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development, of envious malevolence, and impossible equality, has been steadily growing. It played, as a modern writer, Mrs. Webster, has so ably shown, a definitely recognizable part in the tragedy of the French Revolution. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the Nineteenth Century; and now at last this band of extraordinary personalities from the underworld of the great cities of Europe and America have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and have become practically the undisputed masters of that enormous empire. There is no need to exaggerate the part played in the creation of Bolshevism and in the actual bringing about of the Russian Revolution, by these international and for the most part atheistical Jews, it is certainly a very great one; it probably outweighs all others. With the notable exception of Lenin, the majority of the leading figures are Jews. Moreover, the principal inspiration and driving power comes from the Jewish leaders. Thus Tchitcherin, a pure Russian, is eclipsed by his nominal subordinate Litvinoff, and the influence of Russians like Bukharin or Lunacharski cannot be compared with the power of Trotsky, or of Zinovieff, the Dictator of the Red Citadel (Petrograd) or of Krassin or Radek — all Jews. In the Soviet institutions the predominance of Jews is even more astonishing. And the prominent, if not indeed the principal, part in the system of terrorism applied by the Extraordinary Commissions for Combating Counter-Revolution [the Cheka] has been taken by Jews, and in some notable cases by Jewesses. The same evil prominence was obtained by Jews in the brief period of terror during which Bela Kun ruled in Hungary. The same phenomenon has been presented in Germany (especially in Bavaria), so far as this madness has been allowed to prey upon the temporary prostration of the German people. Although in all these countries there are many non-Jews every whit as bad as the worst of the Jewish revolutionaries, the part played by the latter in proportion to their numbers in the population is astonishing."

Persecution of Christians in the Soviet Union

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Throughout the history of the Soviet Union (1922-1991), Soviet authorities suppressed and persecuted various forms of Christianity to different extents depending on the particular era. of democracy. It had to be invoked, for if this apparatus fell into the wrong hands, the government would be in grave danger.

Lazar remembered what he had been told many, many years ago on that first droshky ride back from Kiev.

Kaganovich's "Whatever is good for the Jews," Uncle Levick had said to him. "Follow only that line of reasoning."

Lazar had heard all he wanted to. The decision to ban any dissent and to eliminate all opposition seemed more important to him than an economic idea such as NEP. He would be less concerned about where the economy was going and more concerned with the inherent right An Aryan's empathy is his greatest strength, but also his greatest weakness. Unless he has extensive experience with other races, he simply cannot fathom that anyone would actively desire and work toward genociding an entire race. But jews are not Aryans, and different species display different behaviors. Without this understanding, most Aryans simply cannot comprehend that jews could even fathom such a thing, let alone repeatedly attempt and repeatedly succeeded in such genocides. Moreover, when they see such things happening right before their very eyes in Europe and America today, their minds simply cannot grasp that the jews are actively immigrating low IQ negroids for one single purpose: to destroy all white people.

But Martin Luther understood this. In his book, The Jews and their Lies, (Link) (A), Luther stated that if the jews could ever seize control over a nation, then a great massacre of Christians would soon follow. In Luther's time, he did not foresee that such a thing was possible; however, within the next few centuries, the elite jewish bankers would rapidly increase their wealth, and with it, they not only gained the ability to control Russia, but they proved Luther's words to be terribly and horribly prophetic.

Of course, Russia was not the first time the jews had used revolution to violently seize power and then massacre Christians. Historical records have shown the jews were also behind the violence of the French Revolution. Unlike the history books published by jewish-controlled publishers would have you believe, the French Revolution was not a spontaneous uprising of the people; rather, it was a planned and calculated attack on Christian Aryans by jewish elites (Link) (A).

"No agitators did more to bring in the revolution (French) of 1848 than the two Jews, Heinrich Heine and Ludwig Borne. It was a Jew, Leon Trotsky, who led the Red Army which saved the Communist Cause in Russia. It was a Jew, Karl Liebknecht, aided by a Jewess, Rosa Luxembourg, who led the Sparticist insurrection in Germany. It was a Jew, Bela Kuhn, who set up the Red Regime in Hungary. It was a Jew, Kurt Eisner, who led the Socialist Putsch in Bavaria. To the Jew, revolutionary activity seems to be the one road to ultimate freedom."

—Rabbi Lewis Browne, in his book, "How Odd of God," 1924.

Worse still, neither France nor Russia would be the last time they seized power in order to commit mass murder.

A Jew in Mao's China

July 9, 2012 | By Laura Goldman

Even when I have been disenfranchised from God and synagogue, I have always been culturally proud to be a Jew. A source of that pride is the Jewish tradition of helping the oppressed, and our involvement in social movements such as labor and civil rights.

Until I saw the documentary "The Revolutionary" at the Philadelphia Independent Film Festival, I mistakenly thought that China during the revolutionary period was one country that had not felt the Jewish embrace. In fact, 85 to 90% of the foreigners helping the Chinese at the time of the Communist takeover were Jewish. This included the daughter of the founder of the brokerage firm Goldman Sachs, who left the comfort of her Park Avenue home

Just as the jews infiltrated Russia to seize power and murder 60 million Russian Aryan Christians, just as the jews infiltrated France to seize power and murder untold thousands of French Aryan Christians, just as the jews would later infiltrate China and murder 46 million Chinese, the jews also infiltrated Germany in 1918 order to seize power and mass-murder millions of German Aryan Christians.

7. WEIMAR REPUBLIC

The jewish plan to topple Germany after WW1 and murder millions of German Christians ran into problems. Just like in Russia (and France before Russia), the elite banking jews sent an army of soldiers to seize power in Germany. A million soldiers were used to seize Russia, but over 2 million soldiers were used to take Germany. This attempted coup was known as the Spartacist Uprising. Just as with the Russian coup, the German coup was planned, financed, and led by jews.

However, the German citizens raised a free company in defense against the approaching jewish one, and the Germans prevented the jewish revolutionaries from handing over power to the Soviets as the Bolsheviks had done in Russia.

In this way, Communism was prevented in Germany; however, the German Emperor was still forced to abdicate the throne. The German constitutional monarchy was disbanded and replaced by a democratic parliament. This effectively established democratic socialism in Germany. Since this new political government held parliament in the city of Weimar, it became known as the Weimar Republic.

The Weimar Republic marked the apogee of jewish power in Germany. During Weimar, despite the jews making up less than 1% of the German population, every single major sphere of influence had fallen under jewish control.

Jews infiltrated into positions of power by using the vast monetary resources at their disposal. Having failed in their coup, their goal now became the weakening of Germany from within by pushing degeneracy upon the German people. No account of the Jewish Question in Germany can be complete without some mention of the tidal wave of sexual immorality that was to engulf the country during this time.

They accomplished this by buying influence with German politicians, seizing control over German media, and finally, by establishing schools which could push their perverse agendas. Nowhere was their influence more pronounced than in the Frankfurt School.

"We must organize the intellectuals and use them to make western civilizations stink! Only then, after we have corrupted all of this values and made life impossible, can we impose the dictatorship of the proletariat." -Willi Munzenberg, of the Frankfurt School.

"While large sections of the German people are struggling for the preservation of their race, we Jews filled the streets of Germany with our vociferations. We supplied the press with articles on the subject of its Christmas and Easter and administered to its religious beliefs in the manner we considered suitable. We ridiculed the highest ideals of the German people and profaned the matters which it held sacred." -Dr. Manfred Reifer, in the German Jewish Magazine Czernowitzer Allegemeine Zeitung, Sept. 1933.

Because of their trusting Aryan nature, many Germans did not realize what the jews were doing to them until it was too late. The following graphic explains the level of degenerate depravity the jews pushed upon the Germans in their attempt to crush the noble Aryan spirit:

The Sexual Decadence of Weimar Germany

Posted on September 30, 2013 by kruppstahl

An article by pseudonym "Lasha Darkmoon":

"The decay of moral values in all areas of life—the period of deepest German degradation—coincided exactly with the height of Jewish power in Germany." — Dr Friederich Karl Wiehe, Germany and the Jewish Question. [1]

Otto Dix, Metropolis (1928).
Berlin in the heyday of the Weimar Republic: a hedonistic hellpit of sexual depravity.

No account of the Jewish Question in Germany can be complete without some mention of the tidal wave of sexual immorality that was to engulf the country during the period of the Weimar Republic (1919-1933) following World War One. This also happened to be the apogee of Jewish power in Germany. Every single sphere of major influence had now fallen under Jewish control.

1. THE CULTURAL TAKEOVER OF GERMANY BY THE JEWS

Dr Karl Wiehe, in his Germany and the Jewish Question, is painstaking in the details he provides:

Well before 1933 the Jews had taken possession of the film industry even more thoroughly than of the theater. That was understandable, because the earnings in the film industry overshadow the earnings of any other artistic activity.....

The biggest step in the direction of the decline of the German cultural life [however] was taken in the field of the light entertainment genre. Here—in the genre of musical comedy and above all in revue and burlesque—frivolity and lasciviousness were to rear their ugly heads. So much so that during these years Berlin was quite correctly considered the most immoral city in the world.

It was Jews who introduced this pornographic "art form" to Germany, a debased genre completely unknown before the Great War, and so it is the Jews who can be held responsible for the general decline in morals.

The Jewish sexologists Ivan Bloch and Magnus Hirschfeld became the representatives of "sex research" camouflaged as science—a bogus science that was merely an excuse for pornography and propaganda designed to destroy the institute of marriage and the sanctity of the family. [2]

Wiehe provides the following useful facts and statistics:

In 1931, over 60 percent of German films were produced by Jews and 82 percent of the film scripts were written by Jewish writers, though Jews made up less than 1 percent of the German population (0.90%). A quick look at the names of directors, producers, stage managers, actors, script writers and critics, "revealed everywhere an overwhelming preponderance of Jews."

Alexander Szekely, German brothel in Ghent

A cursory survey of the film titles, Wiehe tells us, shows us that the Jews had only one thing on the brain: sex. Here are some typical titles: "Moral und Sinnlichkeit" (Morals Sensuality); "Was kostet Liebe?" (What is the Price of Love): "Wenn ein Weib den Weg verliert" (When a Woman loses her Way); "Prostitution" (Prostitution); "Sündige Mutter" (Sinful Mama); "Das Buch des Lasters" (The Book of Vices).

"The sensational titles correspond to the sleazy contents," Wiehe complains. "All wallow in filth and display with cynical frankness the vilest scenes of sexual perversion." [3]

Light entertainment (revue/burlesque) was a Jewish innovation. The revue theaters, all concentrated within great cities such as Berlin, were owned and run almost exclusively by Jews. Shows consisted of little more than excuses for sexual titillation involving the display of the female form in lascivious dances that were to degenerate later into striptease and scenes of public masturbation. "In these revues," Wiehe notes indignantly, "the uninhibited sex drive surrendered itself to disgusting orgies. All life was reduced to a common denominator of lust and its satisfaction. Chastity and self-discipline were mocked as old-fashioned prejudices."

The Jews had managed, in the space of a mere fourteen years, to bring about a major "transvaluation of values" [4] in Weimar Germany. The vices of the past were now its virtues. The only vice that remained was chastity.

A glance at the revue titles is again sufficient: "Zieh dich aus" (Get Undressed); "Tausend nackte Frauen" (One Thousand Naked Women); "Die Sünden der Welt" (The Sins of the World); "Häuser der Liebe" (The Houses of Love); "Streng Verboten!" (Strictly Forbidden!); "Sündig und Süss" (Sweet and Sinful). [5]

Finally, there was the rich field of sexology: a new science consisting largely of dubious "case histories" purporting to reveal the depraved sexual habits of various anonymous patients. In order to give an air of academic respectability and erudition to these masturbatory fantasies—thrilling adventure stories involving necrophilia, bestiality and handkerchief fetishism—the more exciting details were often given in vulgar Latin "in order to exclude the lay reader." [6] However, it was not long before the Latin was diligently translated into the vernacular for the benefit of the unlatined lay reader, thus defeating the purpose of the prim "schoolmaster's Latin".

Wiehe reels off a long list of Jewish sexologists who he claims were in the forefront of writing such salacious treatises that were no more than pornography masquerading as science. Drs Magnus Hirschfeld [7] and Ivan Bloch [8] were the star writers in this field, their books still read avidly today by a gullible public hungry for details of the bizarre, the kinky and the perverse. Drs Ludwig Lewy-Lenz, Leo Schidrowitz, Franz Rabinowitsch, Georg Cohen, and Albert Eulenburg are some of the names Wiehe mentions.

Here are some of their depressing titles: "Sittengeschichte des Lasters" (The History of Perversions); "Sittengeschichte des Schamlosigkeit" (The History of Shamelessness); "Bilderlexikon der Erotic" (Picture Lexicon of Eroticism): "Sittengischichte des Geheime und Verbotene" (The History of the Secret and the Forbidden). And here are some of the titles published by Dr Magnus Hirschfeld's Institute of Sexual Science in Berlin [9]: Aphrodisiacs, Prostitution,

Otto Dix, The Salon, 1921 Berlin prostitutes awaiting the pleasures of the evening

Sexual Catastrophes, Sexual Pathology, The Perverted. Wiehe describes all these books as "the filthy publications of these pseudo-scientists", all of them written by Jewish authors and published by Jewish publishers. He continues in the same acerbic vein:

These books were allegedly supposed to be scientific treatises, their ostensible purpose being to "educate" the broad masses about the dangers of sexual excesses. Under the guise of science, however, they speculated in the lust and lower instincts of their audience. Criminals, prostitutes and homosexuals took center stage in their repertoire. One looks in vain for any known non-Jewish "sexual scientist"! [10]

Wiehe points out that masturbation, hitherto a hole-in-corner vice, began to be shamelessly promoted for the first time in Weimar Germany by Jewish-run organizations. He mentions Dr Max Hodan, Jewish medical officer for Berlin, and ticks him off for circulating a booklet recommending regular masturbation for the working classes.

It was in Weimar Germany, long before Hannibal Lecter, that the serial killer was to become an iconic figure — a source of secret fantasies and frissons.

It is worth noting that one of the world's worst serial killers, Peter Kürten, committed all his crimes in Germany during the 1925-1930 period.

This was of course the heyday of the Weimar Republic when the German people lay completely under Jewish domination and when the first dress rehearsal for the later Sexual Revolution of the 1960s was arguably being run.

Significantly, when asked what his primary motive for murder was, Kürten replied: "to strike back at an oppressive society." [11]

This was a society in which the serial killer was to become a popular icon, enough to create a whole genre of sensational sex crime literature. (See book title on left). [12]

2. THE DESCENT INTO SEXUAL DEPRAVITY

British historian Sir Arthur Bryant describes throngs of child prostitutes outside the doors of the great Berlin hotels and restaurants. He adds: "Most of them—the night clubs and vice resorts—were owned and managed by Jews. And it was the Jews among the promoters of this trade who were remembered in after years." [13]

Arriving in Berlin during the hyperinflation crisis (1923), Klaus Mann—son the great German novelist Thomas Mann—remembered walking past a group of dominatrices:

Some of them looked like fierce Amazons, strutting in high boots made of green, glossy leather. One of them brandished a supple cane and leered at me as I passed by. 'Good evening, madam,' I said. She whispered in my ear, 'Want to be my slave? Costs only six billions and a cigarette.' [14]

10-year-old children turned tricks in the railway stations. A group of 14-year-old Russian girls, refugees from the Red Terror in Stalin's Communist slaughter house, managed to make a lucrative living in Berlin as dominatrices. Little girls were freely available for sex not only in child brothels and pharmacies but could be ordered by telephone and delivered to clients by taxi, like takeaway meals. Particularly bizarre were motherand-daughter teams offering their services to the same client simultaneously. Mel Gordon writes: "One French journalist, Jean Galtier-Boissière, described, in sickly pornographic detail, the creeping horror of feeling a nine-year-old girl's tiny, but proficient, fingers stroking his upper thigh while the brokentoothed mother covered his face with hot sucking kisses." [15]

Prostitutes and their clients in the red-light district... this is how they actually dressed and paraded themselves in the garish, lamp-lit

In Mel Gordon's Voluptuous Panic: The Erotic World of Weimar Berlin, we enter a depressingly sordid milieu akin to the subterranean world of the sewer rat: a world which owed its existence in large part to German Jewry. Without Jewish money and influence, such a world would never have come into being. Nor was there anything the Germans could do to extricate themselves from this artificially created hothouse of erotomania and sexual deviance in which they now found themselves ensnared.

There were no fewer than 17 different prostitute types in this Jew-created brothel city: eight outdoor types and nine indoor ones, each with their specialities and slang terminology.

Outdoor prostitutes: (1) Kontroll Girls: legal prostitutes checked for venereal disease. (2) Half-Silks: part-time amateurs with day jobs as office workers, secretaries and shopgirls; evening and weekend workers. (3) Grasshoppers: lowly streetwalkers who gave handjobs and standup sex in dark alleys. (4) Nuttes: Boyish teenage girls who worked for "pocket money" after school without their parents' knowledge. (5) Boot-girls: dominas (or dominatrices) in shiny patent leather boots who offered to stamp all over their clients. (6)Tauentzien girls: Chic mother-and-daughter teams, fashionably dressed, who offered their services to men who wanted threesomes. (7) Münzis: Heavily pregnant women who waited under lampposts (very expensive, since they offered an erotic speciality). (8)Gravelstones: hideous hags with missing limbs, hunchbacks, midgets, and women with various deformities. "The most common German word for them was Kies. In other accounts, they were referred to as Steinhuren." [16]

Otto Dix, Three Wenches. These prostitutes were willing to work individually or in a team.

Indoor prostitutes: (1) Chontes: Low-grade Jewish prostitutes, mostly Polish, who picked up their clients in railway stations. (2) Fohses (French argot for "vaginas"): Elegant females who discreetly advertised in magazines and newspapers as private masseuses and manicurists. (3) Demi-castors (or "half-beavers"): Young women from good families who worked in high-class houses in the late afternoons and early evenings. (4) Table-ladies: Ravishingly beautiful escorts of exotic appearance who came with the reserved table in an exclusive nightclub. Clients had to be fabulously rich in order to afford the cultured conversation of these high-class call girls who accompanied the caviar and champagne and who later unveiled their charms in a sumptuously furnished chamber of delights. (5) Dominas: Leather-clad athletic women. and Amazonian, who specialized in whipping and erotic humiliation. They were often found in lesbian nightclubs which also catered for kinky males. (6) Minettes

(French for "female cats"): Exclusive call girls who offered S&M fantasy scenes, foot worship, bondage, and enforced transvestism. They worked in top class hotels. (7) Race-horses: Masochistic prostitutes who let themselves be whipped in "schoolrooms" or "dungeons" liberally supplied with instruments of torture. Clients were carefully screened to make sure they didn't go too far. (8) 'Medicine': Child prostitutes (age 12-16), so called because they were prescribed as "medicine" in pharmacies. All the client needed to do was tell the pharmacist how many years he had suffered from his ailment (e.g., 12), without mentioning what ailment it was, and request the color of the pill he preferred (e.g., red). He was then escorted to a cubicle where his "medicine" awaited him: a 12-year-old redhead. (9) Telephone-girls (often billed as "virgins"): expensive child prostitutes (ages 12-17) ordered by telephone like a takeaway meal; the nymphettes were delivered by limousine or taxi. [17]

Luigi Barzini, in his social memoir The Europeans, describes the saturnalian scene in the Tingel-Tangels or sleazy bordellos of sex-crazed Berlin in the 1920s, the Golden Age of the Jews:

I saw pimps offering anything to anybody: little boys, little girls, robust young men, libidinous women, animals. The story went the rounds that a male goose whose neck you cut at just the right ecstatic moment would give you the most delicious frisson of all—as it allowed you to enjoy sodomy, bestiality, homosexuality, necrophilia and sadism at one stroke. Gastronomy too, as one could eat the goose afterwards. [18]

In October 1923, when one US dollar could buy 4.2 billion marks and six wheelbarrows of banknotes could barely buy a loaf of bread, it was said that "the most exquisite blow job to be had in Berlin never cost an American tourist more than 30 cents." [19]

"Berlin nightlife, my word, the world hasn't seen anything like it!" Klaus Mann, son of the great German author Thomas Mann, enthused sardonically. "We used to have a first-class army. Now we have first class perversions." [20]

German author Erich Kästner, writing of Weimar Berlin, was to reflect on the topography of the soul sickness that had now taken possession of the once proud city: "In the east there is crime; in the center the con men hold sway; in the north resides misery, in the west lechery; and everywhere—the decline." [21]

German Jewish author Stephan Zweig has much to say about homosexuality, pointing out that even in Ancient Rome [...] the degree of drunken depravity and public shamelessness was far less shocking than in Weimar Berlin:

WEIMAR BERLIN BROTHEL SCENE. Erich Schütz, Raiding the Nacktlokal, 1923

Bars, amusement parks, honky-tonks sprang up like mushrooms. Along the entire Kurfürstendamm powdered and rouged men sauntered and they were not all professionals; every high school boy wanted to earn some money and in the dimly lit bars one might see government officials and men of the world of finance tenderly courting drunken sailors without any shame. Even the Rome of Suetonius had never known such orgies as the pervert balls of Berlin, where hundreds of men costumed as women and hundreds of women as men danced under the benevolent eyes of the police. In the collapse of all values a kind of madness gained hold. Young girls bragged proudly of their perversion; to be sixteen and still under suspicion of virginity would have been a disgrace." [22]

THE CITY OF DREADFUL JOY Weimar Berlin, 1928

3. CONCLUSION: WEIMAR GERMANY AS A DRESS REHEARSAL FOR THE SUBSEQUENT SEXUAL REVOLUTION OF THE 1960s

My own impression, though I could well be mistaken here, is that Weimar Germany can be seen as a trial run or dress rehearsal for the Sexual Revolution of the 1960s, a revolution in attitudes and behavior that was to convulse America and then spread like a moral virus to Europe and the rest of the world.

Recollect that it was in Germany during the Weimar period—in 1923 to be exact—that the Institut für Sozialforschung was set up at the University of Frankfurt. Financed by the Argentian Jew Felix Weil, this was later to become the infamous Frankfurt School. [23]

It is my own hypothesis that the Germans were to be the initial guinea pigs of these Cultural Marxists [24], all of them initially Jewish apart from Habermas. These were revolutionaries intent on complete social control by the imposition of their Marxist worldview on the rest of society. It is self-evident that there is no other way to get control of a society with strong moral values than to weaken those values. The formula is simple: destroy the belief system on which that society is founded, especially its religion and its traditional codes of honor and decency. Promote godlessness and a philosophy of despair. To put it in even plainer language: reduce men to beasts if you wish to control them.

It was George Lukács [25], one of the founding fathers of the Frankfurt School, who had called for "a culture of pessimism and a world abandoned by God." [26] And it was one of their most fanatical ideologues, Willi Munzenberg [27], who had said he wanted to turn the world upside down and make life a hell on earth. His exact words:

We must organize the intellectuals and use them TO MAKE WESTERN CIVILIZATION STINK! Only then, after they have CORRUPTED ALL ITS VALUES AND MADE LIFE IMPOSSIBLE, can we impose the dictatorship of the proletariat. [28, emphasis added]

With Jewish intellectuals like this at the helm, doing their utmost to promote moral anarchy and create an Orwellian dystopia, is it any wonder that the Germans went helter-skelter down the slippery slope and ended up where they did?

In America the Cultural Marxists were to apply a variation of their Weimar techniques, but refined and honed to a high degree. This time, they would use multiculturalism as a weapon of mass destruction in addition to moral corruption. They would flood the country with immigrants, legal as well as illegal. They would turn race against race (engineered ethnic conflict), parent against child (attack on authority), and man against woman (radical feminism). Above all, they would teach the non-White races to regard the White race as the ultimate evil: "the cancer of human history", to quote Jewish feminist Susan Sontag. [29]

The above comments are admittedly controversial and will elicit anger in many quarters. For this I apologize. My purpose is simply to give voice to an urgent and widespread perception. Not to be able to say what many people increasingly believe is clearly undesirable.

What did the cultural Marxists learn from Weimar Germany?

They learned that the Sexual Revolution, in order to succeed, had to be a slow and gradual process. "Modern forms of subjection," the Frankfurt School had learned, "are marked by mildness." [30] Weimar had failed because the pace had been too frenetic. People wereaware they were being corrupted. That was fatal.

To corrupt a nation effectively one must make sure that the descent into degradation is an infinitely slow and imperceptible process, one miniscule step at a time—just as those who wish to cook frogs alive in a saucepan, reducing them to a state of comatose stupor, are advised to place them in cold water and boil them to death as slowly as possible. [31]

Lest I be accused of antisemitism by this portrayal of the systematic sexual corruption of the German people at the hands of their Jewish masters—a classic instance of social engineering practiced on an entire population—let me allow a well-known and respected Jewish authority on the Weimar era to have the final word. He is Dr Manfred Reifer, and he is writing in a prestigious Jewish publication:

Whilst large sections of the German nation were struggling for the preservation of their race, we Jews filled the streets of Germany with our vociferations. We supplied the press with articles on the subject of its Christmas and Easter and administered to its religious beliefs in the manner we considered suitable. We ridiculed the highest ideals of the German nation and profaned the matters which it holds sacred." — Dr Manfred Reifer, in the German Jewish magazine Czernowitzer Allegemeine Zeitung, September 1933

In the same month those words were written, September 1933, Adolf Hitler removed every single Jew from positions of influence in the mass media: from the fields of literature, art, music, journalism, the cinema, and popular entertainment in general [32]. The influence that the Jews had exerted on the German psyche was to be regarded henceforth, rightly or wrongly, as pernicious. And Kulturbolschewismus, or "Bolshevik culture", a derogatory term for Jewish culture itself, became synonymous with moral anarchy and sexual decadence.

Why create this level of degeneracy?

It is about control. For the jews, it is always about how to take control over the goyim. A degenerate population is easy to manipulate and enslave.

When Aryans are left to themselves, they grow large, happy and industrious families, who in turn, build large, powerful and free civilizations. Such civilizations are difficult to control and will put up resistance when their freedoms are infringed. On the other hand, a degenerate population is too busy pursuing "bread and circuses" to much care whether or not anyone has suppressed their freedoms.

Degeneracy is always about control.

So the jews pushed degeneracy upon the German people, and these Germans, who falsely believing the international bankers were like themselves, allowed them to degrade their nation and their children, realizing only too late what was happening.

The degeneracy being pushed by the jews during the Weimar Republic was a key factor leading up to the events surrounding Hitler's Third Reich and WW2. For this reason, it was important to understand the terrible conditions that the German people were facing while under jewish rule during Weimar.

Besides suffering under the moral depravity being pushed upon them by the jewish infiltrators, the Treaty of Versailles (which brought WW1 to an end) also resulted in a destroyed German economy. This treaty unfairly and unduly punished the German people for a war they were not even responsible for starting, and required reparations which the Germans could not meet. As a result, the French military invaded the German Ruhr in 1923 to seize German coal mines and effectively enslave the local Germans, forcing them to work at gunpoint. Moreover, the French used sub-Saharan African occupation troops, and these troops spent their free time raping any German women they could get their paws on. Since the Treaty of Versailles also disarmed the German military, there was little to be done to stop this French invasion.

To make things even worse, the treaty also seized German lands which were needed for crop production and gave possession of those lands to other nations. This forced the German people living on those lands to fall under the jurisdiction of those other nations. One particular point of contention was the Danzig Corridor, where Polish jews used their political power and influence to massacre the newly annexed Germans. So many German men were murdered and so many German women were raped at the orders of Polish jews that over a million Germans were forced to flee their homes and become refugees in their own land.

Moreover, in an attempt to meet the financial obligations of the Treaty of Versailles, the Weimar Republic printed vast amounts of money to pay for war reparations. This resulted in massive inflation that financially ruined millions of Germans, resulting in the worst financial crisis the people of Germany had ever faced.

But why did Poland lead the attacks against the German people after WW1?

Could it be because there was a veritable army of bloodthirsty jews in Poland at the beck and call of their elite jewish banking overlords? This would appear to be the case:

History of the Jews in Poland

paradise of the

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The history of the Jews in Poland dates back over 1,000 years. For centuries, Poland was home to the largest and most significant Jewish community in the world. Poland was a principal center of Jewish culture, thanks to a long period of statutory religious tolerance and social autonomy. This ended with the Partitions of Poland which began in 1772, in particular, with the discrimination and persecution of Jews in the Russian Empire. During World War II there was a nearly complete genocidal destruction of the Polish Jewish community by Nazi Germany and its collaborators, during the 1939–1945 German occupation of Poland and the ensuing Holocaust. Since the fall of communism in Poland, there has been a Jewish revival, featuring an annual Jewish Culture Festival, new study programs at Polish secondary schools and universities, the work of synagogues such as the Nożyk Synagogue, and Warsaw's Museum of the History of Polish Jews.

From the founding of the Kingdom of Poland in 1025 through to the early years of the Polish–Lithuanian Commonwealth created in 1569, Poland was the most tolerant country in Europe. [4] Historians have described the label paradisus iudaeorum (Latin for "Paradise of the Jews"). [5][6] The country became a shelter for persecuted and expelled European Jewish communities and the home to the world's largest Jewish community of the time. According to some sources, about three-quarters of the world's Jews lived in Poland by the middle of the 16th century. [7][8][9] With the weakening of the Commonwealth and growing religious strife (due to the Protestant Reformation and Catholic Counter-Reformation), Poland's traditional tolerance [10] began to wane from the 17th century onward. [11] After the Partitions of Poland in 1795 and the destruction of Poland as a sovereign state, Polish Jews were subject to the laws of the partitioning powers, the increasingly antisemitic Russian Empire, [12] as well as Austria-Hungary and Kingdom of Prussia (later a part of the German Empire). Still, as Poland regained independence in the aftermath of World War I, it was the center of the European Jewish world with one of the world's largest Jewish communities of over 3 million. Antisemitism was a growing problem throughout Europe in those years, from both the political establishment and the general population. [13]

8. HITLER

With wanton moral decay infecting the heart of Germany, coupled with the financial ruin of the Treaty of Versailles, and combined with direct attacks against the German people from enemy nations on every side, Germany during the Weimar Republic was on the brink of utter despair.

Then Hitler rose to power.

Hitler's first task was to eliminate the corrupted, bribed and blackmailed politicians who held office under the Republic. Then, he removed the jews from controlling the media. This freed the mind of the German people from the powerful sway which jewish degeneracy had over their noble Aryan spirit. Finally, he expelled the jewish central bank so that the German people were no longer financially enslaved to jewish usury. These simple changes brought about what can only be described as an 'economic miracle'.

Even jews confirm these historical facts: Link (A)

And for 13 years, the good German people, those noble Aryans, knew what it meant to live free.

"You asked for someone who had lived in Hitler's Germany to tell what it was like. Allow me to give a short answer. To be a boy or girl at that time was wonderful. In the Hitler Youth, the differences between Christian denominations or the different German states didn't count. We all truly felt that we were members of one body of people—one nation. Youth hostels were opened all over the Reich, enabling us to hike from one beautiful town to another, seeing our fatherland. Every effort was made to strengthen our minds and bodies. Contrary to what is said, we were encouraged to become free in spirit and not to succumb to peer pressure or authority. In peacetime, NO military training was allowed by the Hitler Youth. Also contrary to what is said, to "snitch on parents" was frowned upon.

"When the American allies, the Soviets, were destroying most of the Christian churches in Russia, 2,500 new Christian churches were built in Germany. NOT ONE Christian church was closed. It was the law that school and church had priority over service in the Hitler Youth.

"Free Enterprise flourished during the entire Hitler years. No company was nationalized. No small businessman was stopped from opening his own store. Nobody confiscated shares of a company, like the allies did in 1945.

"The accomplishments of Germany under National Socialism was incredible. Starting without money and with a third of the workforce unemployed, within two years, the National Socialists has so improved conditions that workers had to be hired in nearby friendly countries to help alleviate the worker's shortage. Germany was booming while Britain, France, and the US were in the depths of depression.

"Almost anyone could afford his own house. In Hitler's Germany there were no homeless; no beggars. Crime was almost nonexistent. We had a freer press than the American press today.

"Nowhere did I ever read derogatory remarks about other races. In a book on the Olympics issued by the Hitler Youth, Jesse Owens is shown several times and mentioned favorably. We all knew of Joe Louis, the brown bomber. In my ten years in the Hitler Youth, the Jews were never mentioned.

"Claims are made that Hitler took power because he disarmed the German people. This is nonsense. There were Gun Clubs all over the Reich, and Germany was a country with many excellent gunsmiths.

"Finally this: I don't believe I'll ever see again a people as happy and content as were the great majority of Germans under Hitler. That Hitler was loved by his people, there can be no question. Germany under Hitler was quite different than what you have been told."

INSTITUTE FOR HISTORICAL REVIEW

How Hitler Tackled Unemployment And Revived Germany's Economy

By Mark Weber

To deal with the massive unemployment and economic paralysis of the Great Depression, both the US and German governments launched innovative and ambitious programs. Although President Franklin Roosevelt's "New Deal" measures helped only marginally, the Third Reich's much more focused and comprehensive policies proved remarkably effective. Within three years unemployment was banished and Germany's economy was flourishing. And while Roosevelt's record in dealing with the Depression is pretty well known, the remarkable story of how Hitler tackled the crisis is not widely understood or appreciated.

Adolf Hitler became Chancellor of Germany on January 30, 1933. A few weeks later, on March 4, Franklin Roosevelt took office as President of the United States. Each man remained his country's chief executive for the next twelve years — until April 1945, shortly before the end of World War II in Europe. In early 1933 industrial production in each country had failen to about half of what it had been in 1929. Each leader quickly launched bold new initiatives to tackle the terrible economic crisis, above all the scourge of mass unemployment. And although there are some striking similarities between the efforts of the two governments, the results were very different.

One of the most influential and widely read American economists of the twentieth century was John Kenneth Galbraith. He was an advisor to several presidents, and for a time served as US ambassador to India. He was the author of several dozen books, and for years taught economics at Harvard University. With regard to Germany's record, Galbraith wrote: "... The elimination of unemployment in Germany during the Great Depression without inflation — and with initial reliance on essential civilian activities — was a signal accomplishment. It has rarely been praised and not much remarked. The notion that Hitler could do no good extends to his economics as it does, more plausibly, to all else."

The Hitler regime's economic policy, Galbraith goes on, involved "large scale borrowing for public expenditures, and at first this was principally for civilian work — railroads, canals and the Autobahnen [highway network]. The result was a far more effective attack on unemployment than in any other industrial country." 1 "By late 1935," he also wrote, "unemployment was at an end in Germany. By 1936 high income was pulling up prices or making it possible to raise them ... Germany, by the late thirties, had full employment at stable prices. It was, in the industrial world, an absolutely unique achievement." 12 "Hitler also anticipated modern economic policy," the economist noted, "by recognizing that a rapid approach to full employment was only possible if it was combined with wage and price controls. That a nation oppressed by economic fears would respond to Hitler as Americans did to F.D.R. is not surprising." / 3

Other countries, Galbraith wrote, failed to understand or to learn from the German experience: "The German example was instructive but not persuasive. British and American conservatives looked at the hazi financial heresies — the borrowing and spending — and uniformly predicted a breakdown ... And American liberals and British socialists looked at the repression, the destruction of the unions, the Brownshirts, the Blackshirts, the concentration camps, and screaming oratory, and ignored the economics. Nothing good [they believed], not even full employment, could come from Hilter." / 4

Two days after taking office as Chancellor, Hitler addressed the nation by radio. Although he and other leaders of his movement had made clear their intention to reorganize the nation's social, political, cultural and educational life in accord with National Socialist principles, everyone knew that, with some six million jobless and the national economy in paralysis, the great priority of the moment was to restore the nation's economic life, above all by tackling unemployment and providing productive work.

"The misery of our people is horrible to behold!," said Hitter in this inaugural address. / 5 "Along with the hungry unemployed millions of industrial workers there is the impoverishment of the whole middle class and the artisans. If this collapse finally also finishes off the German farmers we will face a catastrophe of incalculable dimension. For that would be not just the collapse of a nation, but of a two-thousand-year-old inheritance of some of the greatest achievements of human culture and civilization ..."

The new government, Hitler said, would "achieve the great task of reorganizing our nation's economy by means of two great four-year plans. The German farmer must be rescued to maintain the nation's food supply and, in consequence, the nation's vital foundation. The German worker will be saved from ruin with a concerted and all-embracino attack against unemployment."

"Within four years," he pledged, "unemployment must be decisively overcome ... The Marxist parties and their allies have had 14 years to show what they can do. The result is a heap of ruins. Now, people of Germany, give us four years and then pass judgment upon us!"

Rejecting the cloudy and impractical economic views of some radical activists in his Party, Hitler turned to men of proven ability and competence. Most notably, he enlisted the help of Hjalmar Schacht, a prominent banker and financier with an impressive record in both private business and public service. Even though Schacht was certainly no National Socialist, Hitler appointed him President of Germany's central bank, the Reichsbank, and then as Minister of Fonomics

After taking power, writes Prof. John Garraty, a prominent American historian, Hitler and his new government "immediately launched an all-out assault on unemployment ... They stimulated private industry through subsidies and tax rebates, encouraged consumer spending by such means as marriage loans, and plunged into the massive public-works program that produced the autobahn [highway system], and housing, railroad and navigation projects." / 6

The regime's new leaders also succeeded in persuading formerly skeptical and even hostile Germans of their sincerity, resolve and ability. This fostered trust and confidence, which in turn encouraged businessmen to hire and invest, and consumers to spend with an eye to the future.

As he had promised, Hitler and his National Socialist government banished unemployment within four years. The number of jobless was cut from six million at the beginning of 1933, when he took power, to one million by 1936. / 7 So rapidly was the jobless rate reduced that by 1937-38 there was a national labor shortage. / 8

For the great mass of Germans, wages and working conditions improved steadily. From 1932 to 1938 gross real weekly earnings increased by 21 percent. After taking into account tax and insurance deductions and adjustments to the cost of living, the increase in real weekly earnings during this period was 14 percent. At the same time, rents remained stable, and there was a relative decline in the costs of heating and light. Prices actually declined for some consumer goods, such as electrical appliances, clocks and watches, as well as for some foods. "Consumer prices rose at an average annual rate of just 1.2 percent between 1933 and 1939," notes British historian Niall Ferguson. "This meant that Germans workers were better off in real as well as nominal terms: between 1933 and 1938, weekly net earnings (after tax) rose by 22 percent, while the cost of living rose by just seven percent." Even after the outbreak of war in September 1939, workers' income continued to rise. By 1943 average hourly earnings of German workers had risen by 25 percent, and weekly earnings by 41 percent. '9

The "normal" work day for most Germans was eight hours, and pay for overtime work was generous. / 10 In addition to higher wages, benefits included markedly improved working conditions, such as better health and safety conditions, canteens with subsidized hot meals, athletic fields, parks, subsidized theater performances and concerts, exhibitions, sports and hiking groups, dances, adult education courses, and subsidized tourism. / 11 An already extensive network of social welfare programs, including old age insurance and a national health care program, was expanded.

Hitler wanted Germans to have "the highest possible standard of living," he said in an interview with an American journalist in early 1934. "In my opinion, the Americans are right in not wanting to make everyone the same but rather in upholding the principle of the ladder. However, every single person must be granted the opportunity to climb up the ladder." 12 In keeping with this outlook, Hitler's government promoted social mobility, with wide opportunities to improve and advance. As Prof. Garraty notes: "It is beyond argument that the Nazis encouraged working-class social and economic mobility." To encourage acquisition of new skills, the government greatly expanded vocational training programs, and offered generous incentives for further advancement of efficient workers. 13

Both National Socialist ideology and Hitler's basic outlook, writes historian John Garraty, "inclined the regime to favor the ordinary German over any elite group. Workers ... had an honored place in the system." In accord with this, the regime provided substantive fringe benefits for workers that included subsidized housing, low-cost excursions, sports programs, and more pleasing factory facilities. / 14

In his detailed and critical biography of Hitler, historian Joachim Fest acknowledged: "The regime insisted that it was not the rule of one social class above all others, and by granting everyone opportunities to rise, it in fact demonstrated class neutrality ... These measures did indeed break through the old, petrified social structures. They tangibly improved the material condition of much of the population." / 15

A few figures give an idea of how the quality of life improved. Between 1932, the last year of the pre-Hitler era, and 1938, the last full year before the outbreak of war, food consumption increased by one sixth, while clothing and textile turnover increased by more than a quarter, and of furniture and household goods by 50 percent. / 16 During the Third Reich's peacetime years, wine consumption rose by 50 percent, and champagne consumption increased five-fold. / 17 Between 1932 and 1938, the volume of tourism more than doubled, while automobile ownership during the 1930s tripled. / 18 German motor vehicle production, which included cars made by the US-owned Ford and General Motors (Opel) works, doubled in the five years of 1932 to 1937, while Germany's motor vehicle exports increased eight-fold. Air passenger traffic in Germany more than tripled from 1933 to 1937. / 19

German business revived and prospered. During the first four years of the National Socialist era, net profits of large corporations quadrupled, and managerial and entrepreneurial income rose by nearly 50 percent. / 20 Between 1933 and 1938, notes historian Niall Ferguson, Germany's "gross domestic product grew, on average, by a remarkable eleven percent a year," with no significant increase in the rate of inflation. / 21 "Things were to get even better," writes Jewish historian Richard Grunberger in his detailed study, The Twelve-Year Reich. "In the three years between 1939 and 1942 German industry expanded as much as it had during the preceding fifth years." (20)

Although German businesses flourished, profits were controlled and by law were kept within moderate limits. / 21 Beginning in 1934, dividends for stockholders of German corporations were limited to six percent annually. Undistributed profits were invested in Reich government bonds, which had an annual interest yield of six percent, and then, after 1935, of four and a half percent. This policy had the predictable effect of encouraging corporate reinvestment and self-financing, and thereby of reducing borrowing from banks and, more generally, of diminishing the influence of commercial capital. / 22

Corporation tax rates were steadily raised, from 20 percent in 1934 to 25 percent in 1936, and to 40 percent in 1939-40. Directors of German companies could grant bonuses to managers, but only if these were directly proportionate to profits and they also authorized corresponding bonuses or "voluntary social contributions" to employees. J 23

Between 1934 and 1938, the gross taxable income of German businessmen increased by 148 percent, and overall tax volume increased during this period by 232 percent. The number of taxpayers in the highest income tax bracket — those earning more than 100,000 marks annually — increased during this period by 445 percent. (By contrast, the number of taxpayers in the lowest income bracket — those earning less than 1500 marks yearly — increased by only five percent.) / 24

Taxation in National Socialist Germany was sharply "progressive," with those of higher income paying proportionately more than those in the lower income brackets. Between 1934 and 1938, the average tax rate on incomes of more than 100,000 marks rose from 37.4 percent to 38.2 percent. In 1938 Germans in the lowest tax brackets were 49 percent of the population and had 14 percent of the national income, but paid only 4.7 percent of the tax burden. Those in the highest income category, who were just one percent of the population but with 21 percent of the income, paid 45 percent of the tax burden. / 25

Jews made up about one percent of Germany's total population when Hitler came to power. While the new government moved quickly to remove them from the nation's political and cultural life, Jews were permitted to carry on in economic life, at least for several years. In fact, many Jews benefited from the regime's recovery measures and the general economic revival. In June 1933, for example, Hitler approved a large-scale government investment of 14.5 million marks in the Jewish-owned firm Hertie, a Berlin department store chain. This "bail out" was done to prevent the ruin of the large firm's suppliers, financiers, and, above all, its 14,000 employees. / 26

Prof. Gordon Craig, who for years taught history at Stanford University, points out: "in the clothing and retail trades, Jewish firms continued to operate profitably until 1938, and in Berlin and Hamburg, in particular, establishments of known reputation and taste continued to attract their old customers despite their ownership by Jews. In the world of finance, no restrictions were placed upon the activities of Jewish firms in the Berlin Bourse [stock market], and until 1937 the banking houses of Mendeissohn, Bleichröder, Arnhold, Dreyfuss, Straus, Warburg, Aufhäuser, and Behrens were still active." / 27 Five years after Hitler had come to power, the Jewish role in business life was still a significant one, and Jews still held considerable real estate holdings, especially in Berlin. This changed markedly in 1938, however, and by the end of 1939 Jews had been largely removed from German economic life.

Germany's crime rate fell during the Hitler years, with significant drops in the rates of murder, robbery, theft, embezziement and petty larceny. / 28 Improvement in the health and outlook of Germans impressed many foreigners. "Infant mortality has been greatly reduced and is considerably inferior to that in Great Britain," wrote Sir Arnold Wilson, a British M.P. who visited Germany seven times after Hitler had come to power. "Tuberculosis and other diseases have noticeably diminished. The criminal courts have never had so little to do and the prisons have never had so few occupants. It is a pleasure to observe the physical aptitude of the German youth. Even the poorest persons are better clothed than was formerly the case, and their cheerful faces testify to the psychological improvement that has been wrought within them." / 29

The improved psychological-emotional well-being of Germans during this period has also been noted by social historian Richard Grunberger. "There can be little doubt," he wrote, "that the [National Socialist] seizure of power engendered a wide-spread improvement in emotional health; this was not only a result of the economic upswing, but of many Germans' heightened sense of identification with the national purpose." / 30

Austria experienced a dramatic upswing after it joined the German Reich in March 1938. Immediately following the Anschluss ("union"), officials moved quickly to relieve social distress and revitalize the moribund economy. Investment, industrial production, housing construction, consumer spending, tourism and the standard of living rose rapidly. Between June and December 1938 alone, the weekly income of Austria's industrial workers rose by nine percent. The National Socialist regime's success in banishing unemployment was so rapid that American historian Evan Burr Bukey was moved to call it "one of the most remarkable economic achievements in modern history." The jobless rate in Austria dropped from 21.7 percent in 1937 to 3.2 percent in 1939. The Austrian GNP rose 12.8 percent in 1938, and an astonishing 13.3 percent in 1939. J 31

An important expression of national confidence was a sharp increase in the birth rate. Within a year after Hitler came to power, the German birth rate jumped by 22 percent, rising to a high point in 1938. It remained high even in 1944 — the last full year of World War II. / 32 in the view of historian John Lukacs, this jump in the birth rate was an expression of "the optimism and the confidence" of Germans during the Hitler years. "For every two children born in Germany in 1932, three were born four years later," he notes. "In 1938 and 1939, the highest marriage rates in all of Europe were registered in Germany, superseding even those among the prolific peoples of Eastern Europe. The phenomenal rise of the German birthrate in the thirties was even steeper than the rise of the marriage rate." / 33 "National Socialist Germany, alone among countries peopled by whites, succeeded in attaining some increase in fertility," notes the outstanding Scottish-born American historian Gordon A. Craig, with a sharp rise in the birth rate after Hitler came to power, and a steady increase in the years that followed. / 34

In a lengthy address to the Reichstag in early 1937, Hitler recalled the pledges he had made when his government assumed power. He also explained the principles on which his policies were based, and looked back at what had been accomplished in four years. / 35 "... Those who talk about 'democracies' and 'dictatorships,' he said, 'simply do not understand that a revolution has been carried out in this country, the results of which can be considered democratic in the highest sense of the term, if democracy has any real meaning ... The National Socialist Revolution has not aimed at turning a privileged class into a class that will have no rights in the future. Its aim has been to give equal rights to those who had no rights ... Our objective has been to make it possible for the whole German people to be active, not only in the economic but also in the political field, and to secure this by organizationally involving the masses ... During the past four years we have increased German production in all areas to an extraordinary degree. And this increase in production has been to the benefit of all Germans."

In another address two years later, Hitler spoke briefly about his regime's economic achievement. 736 "I overcame chaos in Germany, restored order, enormously raised production in all fields of our national economy, by strenuous efforts produced substitutes for numerous materials that we lack, encouraged new inventions, developed traffic, caused mighty roads to be built and canais to be dug, called into being gigantic factories, and at the same time endeavored to further the education and culture of our people for the development of our social community. I succeeded in finding useful work once more for the whole of the seven million unemployed, who so touched all our hearts, in keeping the German farmer on his soil in spite of all difficulties, and in saving the land itself for him, in restoring a prosperous German trade, and in promoting traffic to the utimost."

It's often been claimed, even by some supposedly reputable scholars, that Hitler's success in reviving his nation's economic life was based largely on government spending for rearmament and preparation for war. This is a myth. As the renowned British historian A. J. P. Taylor noted: / 37 "Germany's economic recovery, which was complete by 1936, did not rest on rearmament; it was caused mainly by lavish expenditure on public works, particularly on motor roads, and this public spending stimulated private spending also, as [British economist John Maynard] Keynes had said it would. Hitler actually skimped on armaments, despite his boasting, partly because he wished to avoid the unpopularity which a reduction of the German standard of living would cause, but more from the confident belief that he would always succeed in bluff. Thus, paradoxically, while nearly everyone else in Europe expected a great war, Hitler was the one man who neither expected nor planned for it."

American historian John Garraty compared the American and German responses to the Great Depression in a much-discussed article published in the American Historical Review. He wrote: / 38 "The two movements [that is, in the US and in Germany] nevertheless reacted to the Great Depression in similar ways, distinct from those of other industrial nations. Of the two the Nazis were the more successful in curing the economic ills of the 1930s. They reduced unemployment and stimulated industrial production faster than the Americans did and, considering their resources, handled their monetary and trade problems more successfully, certainly more imaginatively. This was partly because the Nazis employed deficit financing on a larger scale and partly because their totalitarian system better lent itself to the mobilization of society, both by force and by persuasion. By 1936 the depression was substantially over in Germany, far from finished in the United States."

In fact, the jobless rate in the United States remained high until the stimulation of large-scale war production took hold. Even as late as March 1940, the US unemployment rate was still almost 15 percent of the work force. It was production for war, not Roosevelt's "New Deal" programs, that finally brought full employment. / 39

Prof. William Leuchtenburg, a prominent American historian known best for his books on the life and career of Franklin Roosevelt, summed up the President's mixed record in a highly acclaimed study. "The New Deal left many problems unsolved and even created some perplexing new ones," concluded Leuchtenburg. "It never demonstrated that it could achieve prosperity in peacetime. As late as 1941, the unemployed still numbered six million, and not until the war year of 1943 did the army of jobless finally disappear." / 40

The contrast between the German and American economic records during the 1930s is all the more striking when one takes into account that the US had vastly greater natural resource wealth, including large petroleum reserves, as well as a lower population density, and no hostlie, well-armed neighbors.

In an address given in December 1941, Hitler himself compared the record of his government and that of President Roosevelt in dealing with the challenge of the world economic crisis. / 41

"Whereas the German Reich experienced an enormous improvement in social, economic, cultural and artistic life in just a few years under National Socialist leadership," he said, "President Roosevelt was not able to bring about even limited improvements in his own country. This task should have been much easier in the United States, with barely 15 people per square kilometer, as compared to 140 in Germany. If economic prosperity is not possible in that country, it must be the result of either a lack of will by the ruling leadership or the complete incompetence of the men in charge. In just five years, the economic problems were solved in Germany and unemployment was eliminated. During this same period, President Roosevelt enormously increased his country's national debt, devalued the dollar, further disrupted the economy, and maintained the same number of unemployed."

In another major address given that same year, Hitler compared the social-political-economic systems of the United States, the Soviet Union, and Germany. I 42 "We've now gotten to know two [social-political] extremes," he said. "One is that of the Capitalist states, which use lies, fraud and swindling to deny their peoples the most basic vital rights, and which are concerned entirely with their own financial interests, for which they are ready to sacrifice millions of people. On the other hand we've seen [in the Soviet Union] the Communist extreme: a state that's brought unspeakable misery to millions and millions, and which, following its doctrine, sacrifices the happiness of others. From this [awareness], in my view, there is for all of us only one obligation, namely, to strive more than ever toward our national and socialist ideal ... In this [German] state the prevailing principle is not, as in Soviet Russia; the principle of so-called equality, but rather only the principle of justice."

Could Hitler's economic policies work in the United States? These policies are probably most workable in countries such as Sweden, Denmark, and the Netherlands, with a well-educated, self-disciplined and ethnically-culturally cohesive population, and a traditionally strong "communitarian" ethos with a correspondingly high level of social trust. Hitler's economic policies are less applicable in the United States and other societies with an ethnically-culturally diverse population, a markedly individualistic, "laissez-faire" tradition, and a correspondingly weaker "communitarian" spirit. / 43

David Lloyd George — who had been Britain's prime minister during the First World War — made an extensive tour of Germany in late 1936. In an article published afterwards in a leading London newspaper, the British statesman recounted what he had seen and experienced. / 44

"Whatever one may think of his [Hitler's] methods," wrote Lloyd George, "and they are certainly not those of a parliamentary country, there can be no doubt that he has achieved a marvelous transformation in the spirit of the people, in their attitude towards each other, and in their social and economic outlook.

"He rightly claimed at Nuremberg that in four years his movement had made a new Germany. It is not the Germany of the first decade that followed the war — broken, dejected and bowed down with a sense of apprehension and impotence. It is now full of hope and confidence, and of a renewed sense of determination to lead its own life without interference from any influence outside its own frontiers.

"There is for the first time since the war a general sense of security. The people are more cheerful. There is a greater sense of general gaiety of spirit throughout the land. It is a happier Germany. I saw it everywhere, and Englishmen I met during my trip and who knew Germany well were very impressed with the change."

"This great people," the seasoned statesman went on to warn, "will work better, sacrifice more, and, if necessary, fight with greater resolution because Hitler asks them to do so. Those who do not comprehend this central fact cannot judge the present possibilities of modern Germany."

Although prejudice and ignorance have hindered a wider awareness and understanding of Hitler's economic policies and their impact, his success in economic policy has been acknowledged by historians, including scholars who are generally very critical of the German leader and his regime's policies.

John Lukacs, a Hungarian-born American historian whose books have generated much comment and praise, has written: "Hitler's achievements, domestic rather than foreign, during the six [peacetime] years of his leadership of Germany were extraordinary ... He brought prosperity and confidence to the Germans, the kind of prosperity that is the result of confidence. The thirties, after 1933, were sunny years for most Germans; something that remained in the memories of an entire generation among them." / 45

Sebastian Haffner, an influential German journalist and historian who was also a fierce critic of the Third Reich and its ideology, reviewed Hitler's life and legacy in a much-discussed book. Although his portrayal of the German leader in The Meaning of Hitler is a harsh one, the author all the same writes: / 46

"Among these positive achievements of Hitler the one outshining all others was his economic miracle." While the rest of the world was still mired in the economic paralysis, Hitler had made "Germany an island of prosperity." Within three years, Haffner goes on, "crying need and mass hardship had generally turned into modest but comfortable prosperity. Almost equally important: helplessness and hopelessness had given way to confidence and self-assurance. Even more miraculous was the fact that the transition from depression to economic boom had been accomplished without inflation, at totally stable wages and prices ... It is difficult to picture adequately the grateful amazement with which the Germans reacted to that miracle, which, more particularly, made vast numbers of German workers switch from the Social Democrats and the Communists to Hilter after 1933. This grateful amazement entirely dominated the mood of the German masses during the 1936 to 1938 period ..."

"The scale of the Nazi economic achievement should not be underestimated," concludes Niall Ferguson, a Harvard University professor of history. "It was real and impressive. No other European economy achieved such a rapid recovery ... To most people in 1930s Germany it seemed there had been an economic miracle. The Volksgemeinschaft [national community] was more than mere rhetoric; it meant full employment, higher wages, stable prices, reduced poverty, cheap radios (the Volksempfänger) and budget holidays. It is too easily forgotten that there were more holiday camps than concentration camps in Germany between 1936 and 1939. Workers became better trained, farmers saw their incomes rise. Nor were foreigners unimpressed by what was happening. American corporations including Standard Oil, General Motors and IBM all rushed to invest directly in the German economy." / 47

Joachim Fest, another prominent German journalist and historian, reviewed Hitler's life in an acclaimed and comprehensive biography. "If Hitler had succumbed to an assassination or an accident at the end of 1938," he wrote, "few would hesitate to call him one of the greatest of German statesmen, the consummator of Germany's history," / 48 "No objective observer of the German scene could deny Hitler's considerable exploits," noted American historian John Toland. "If Hitler had died in 1937 on the fourth anniversary of his coming to power... he undoubtedly would have gone down as one of the greatest figures in German history. Throughout Europe he had millions of admirers." / 49

In summary:

The jews had almost seized complete power during the Communist civil war in Germany after WW1. Though they failed take total control, by 1932, the jews turned the Germans into a broken and thoroughly defeated people. Germany had been savaged and blockaded. It was occupied under French colors and its women were being raped by their soldiers. Germany were so deep into debt that the German people were destined to be slaves forever. The bankers had the Germany people at their mercy.

Berlin had been deliberately converted into Gomorrah. War widows sold their bodies on Unter den Linden with their underage daughters in matching whore costumes. Pregnant women became prostitutes to put food on the table. The jews living in Germany pimped out German children, midgets, amputees, and forced young boys into homosexual prostitution in every club in Kreuzberg. Necrophilia was just one of many delights offered by these jewish nightclubs.

The "German" press was owned by jews, and huge numbers of lawyers, doctors, politicians and "civil servants" were jewish. Churches were destroyed, and hope was no where to be found.

Then Hitler came to power.

Within five years, the whores, pimps, perverts, degenerates, pornographers, welfare cheaters, and other drains on society were removed. Marxism was eliminated from German universities, and the jews were removed from their legal, medical and media positions, breaking the jewish control over the German spirit. The Reich issued a new currency, not backed by gold or silver, but instead, backed by German labor, and with it, the elite international bankers lost their strangle-hold on Germany.

Why are the jews who control our media, our laws, our politicians, our medical industry, and our banking system suppressing even the whispers of this time? Because it worked. It worked beautifully. By 1938, there was not a dangerous street in Germany. Old grandmothers could walk home from the bank with their pockets bulging with cash, and no one would accost them. Women were now safe in public and happy at home with their children. Men were guaranteed employment which paid a living wage. Wives were given massive support for bearing children, including medals. For every child born, the state would forgive 25% of their mortgage. After 4 children, not only did their home belong to them, free and clear, but each additional child brought subsidies.

But most importantly, the people felt proud of themselves again. For many of them, they felt alive for the first time in their life. It was as if the entire German nation had been at last unified into one big family who cared for and protected each other. German bellies were filling with food and the German heart was filling with hope.

Unity, family, and hope worked together to create the desire to protect these things. German men quickly organized most formidable army the world had ever seen. Unfettered by jewish control over education, German science was freed to pioneer synthetic chemicals, materials and fuel. They developed jet engines, rockets, and other technology the world could hardly imagine was even possible.

As if by magic, the nation suddenly snapped to work and churned out products seemingly from no where. Unemployment no longer existed. Huge public works sprang up in months, rather than decades. Nobody seemed to be angry anymore because without jewish intervention causing squabbles between labor and capital or between leftist and centrist politics, Germany had come together culturally, politically, economically, and spiritually.

In the end, it took the combined power of global communism AND capitalism to defeat the Reich, which had been a broken and helpless just a decade before. This is the true power of the white ethnostate—with white men's imagination, work ethic, and hope for their future. Aryans can do absolutely anything we dream. All we need to accomplish these things are each other.

By simply eliminating jewish influence in Germany, Hitler turned the worst economy in Europe into the strongest that had ever existed.

It only took five years!

From the brink of utter despair, the Germans rose to become the mightiest nation in Europe. This is what happens when good Aryan people are freed from jewish enslavement.

The Powers-that-be:

But the jews would not have it. They could not allow any Aryans to live free. Moreover, what if news of their freedom began to spread to the enslaved Aryans in other nations? What if other Aryans began to awake to the chains which the jews has secreted over them in the black of night? The entire jewish plan for world domination might come to ruin! And so, in an attempt to put down this German rebellion against jewish rule, the elite jewish bankers declared war against Germany in 1933:

I suppose it is just coincidence that the same man who worked so diligently to create the Scofield Bible, also led this war against Christian Germany and her people...

If you ask what the Germans did to the jews, you should also ask what the jews did to the Germans: Link (A)

In addition to declaring war on Germany in 1933, American jews began demanding the extermination of all white people, starting with Germany.

Aryan genocide has always been their plan. With the take-over of Russia, they put this plan into full motion, and though it was delayed by their failure to destroy Germany in 1918, the jews would not rest until their genocide of white people was complete.

Was it really Hitler who started WW2? Or is that just what the jews want us to believe? Was Hitler really the aggressor in the war if it was, in fact, the jews who had waged war against Germany for the prior 6 years? Was Hitler really the aggressor if it was the jews who had been demanding his death, the death of his family, and the extermination of all white people from the face of the Earth?

To the Editor of the Mami Daily News:

Your editorial, "America Right" and your wirephoto of Willie Brandt and he admission that he and others pledgeloyalty to Adolf Hitler when they joine the German-American bund arouses my loyal American blood again.

In a few more days, it will be only 24 years since Germany, without any provocation or pretext of an excuse started out to conquer the world, resulting in 7,449,067 in the armies killed Total casualties 36,415,258, net cost total countries 186 billions, to say nothing of the destruction of property and casualties of men, women and children of Belgium and France, the sinking of the Lusitania and other submarine slaughter and destruction

Hitler will soon have the greatestighting equipment, as the kaiser had 2 years ago, not for self-defense, but traurpass the slaughter and destruction made by the kaiser.

Our boys went over there to preventhem from coming over here and the have revenge coupled with the pensity to kill. And having a verge German-un-American population in the country loyal to Hitler, it is very encouraging to them to make a reneweattempt to conquer the world, which is their highest aim.

Hitler has banished the Jews from Germany, seizing their property becausthey are not fighting people. We show banish the Germans from this countrbecause they are fighting people, preparing to attack the people of their adopted country.

There may be a few of German descen who are loyal to this country, if so, let them make it known, but the attitudof the Germans and German-un-Americans in their efforts to defeat the conviction of Hauptmann of the mos atrocious crime on record, by one of their number who was not a legal resident, shows the character of the people of that nationality.

In the past five years prior to 193: the record of which I have not at ham $32,411,000,000 has been spent because of the German fighting proclivity, murmore has been and must be spent to protect us against this monster which cannot be civilized.

But for a few fighting nations, the world would be prosperous and happy. We civilized the Indians, and have killed off or captured most of the savage beasts and reptiles. Nothing but almost complete extermination of the savage whites will insure peace on earth an good will toward men.

"Nothing but almost complete extermination of the savage whites will ensure peace on earth and goodwill toward men."

"The fight against Germany has now been waged for months by every Jewish community, on every conference, in all labor unions and by every single Jew in the world. There are reasons for the assumption that our share in this fight is of general importance. We shall start a spiritual and material war of the whole world against Germany. Germany is striving to become once again a great nation, and to recover her lost territories as well as her colonies. But our Jewish interests call for the complete destruction of Germany..." – Valadimir Jabotinsky (a jew), in Mascha Rjetsch (January, 1934)

"Germany is the enemy of Judaism and must be pursued with deadly hatred. The goal of Judaism of today is: a merciless campaign against all German peoples and the complete destruction of the nation. We demand a complete blockade of trade, the importation of raw materials stopped, and retaliation towards every German, woman and child." – Jewish professor A. Kulischer (October, 1937).

"Our fight against Germany must be carried to the limit of what is possible. Israel has been attacked. Let us, therefore, defend Israel! Against the awakened Germany, we put an awakened Israel. And the world will defend us." – Jewish author Pierre Creange in his book Epitres aux Juifs (1938)

"Germany must be turned into a waste land, as happened there during the 30-year War." – Das Morgenthau-Tagebuch, The Morgenthau Diary (p. 11)

"Kill the Germans, wherever you find them! Every German is our mortal enemy. Have no mercy on women, children, or the aged! Kill every German — wipe them out!" – (jewish) Ilya Ehrenburg, Glaser (p. 111)

"In losing Germany, Jewry lost a territory from which it exerted power. Therefore it was determined to reconquer it." – Louis Marschalko, The World Conquerors: The Real War Criminals

After reading these quotes, is it really all that shocking the Polish jews attacked and murdered Germans who were now (because of the Treaty of Versailles) minorities living in Polish territory? Is it really shocking these Germans fled for their very lives into Germany, begging Hitler to protect them and their children?

Of course it is not shocking at all.

But what is shocking, however, is the extreme patience with which Hitler responded to these jewish attacks. Time and time again he pleaded to the League of Nations that Poland should immediately cease its murdering of Germans. Twelve times, twelve times, Hitler negotiated for a peaceful solution to put an end to the ruthless killing of his people, and 12 times his offers were rejected. Until at long last, there remained only one means left for him to protect his people...

Germany did not declare war on Britain until after Britain started World War II by declaring war on Germany. The fact most people do not know Britain started WW2 is a testament to the control that jewish media has over the minds of men.

Hitler never wanted war, but war against Germany was exactly what the international jewish Bankers demanded.

"I did not become chancellor of Germany to fight wars. You know my plans. You know how much I still want to build. You know how many projects I have wanted to create since I was young, and only a few of them have been built so far. I still have so much more to do, and yet here I have to stand by and watch the war rob me of my best years." -Adolf Hitler

"What thrust us into war were not Hitler's political teachings: the cause, this time, was his successful attempt to establish a new economy. The causes of the war were: envy, greed, and fear." -Quoted in Joachim Nolywaika, Die Sieger im Schatten ihrer Schuld, p. 35

"The [Allies] are more heavily armed than you are, Herr Hitler, and have unlimited resources at their disposal, and they will unquestionably make war on you if you do not submit to their will and if you persist in going on with this Sovereign State stuff." -Quoted in Robert O'Driscoll, The New World Order and the Throne of the anti-Christ, p. 231

"The Jews only quarrel with any nation occurs when that nation makes it impossible for the Jews to control that nation's industrial and financial profits. They can make war, they can make peace, they can command anarchy in stubborn cases, and they can restore order. The Jews hold the sinews of world power in their hand and it apportions them among the nations in such ways as will best support their plans." -The International Jew, by Henry Ford

A LAST APPEAL TO REASON BY ADOLF HITLER

Speech before the Reichstag, 19th July, 1940

In the adjacent speech, after his 12 peace proposals to the League of Nations, Hitler made one last attempt to reason with the world. The first page of the speech has been attached to this document. Here are Hitler's main points:

- The Treaty of Versailles was known by all signatory parties to be insufficient, and that at the signing, it was presumed the Treaty would be reworked in the future.
- 2. In the future, Germany peacefully requested that the Treaty of Versailles be reworked.
- 3. Britain and France refused to rework the Treaty despite their prior agreement to do so.
- 4. Since the rework was refused, Germany took it upon herself to peacefully rework the Treaty with 4 other interested States.
- 5. Hitler successfully worked out a peaceful solution with those States, but before the solution could be implemented, Britain and France interfered at the bidding of various international businessmen who would profit from war. This interference culminated in Poland murdering tens of thousands of Germans. Germany still sought peace even after the Polish atrocities, but then Britain started WW2 by declaring war on Germany.
- 6. After defeating the British army at Dunkirk, Hitler then offers his 'Last Appeal to Reason' in one final attempt to end the ridiculous and unnecessary war which Britain started.

I have summoned you to this meeting in the midst of our tremendous struggle for the freedom and the future of the German nation. I have done so, firstly, because I considered it imperative to give our own people an insight into the events, unique in history, that lie behind us, secondly, because I wished to express my gratitude to our magnificent soldiers, and thirdly, with the intention of appealing, once more and for the last time, to common sense in general.

If we compare the causes which prompted this historic struggle with the magnitude and the far-reaching effects of military events, we are forced to the conclusion that its general course and the sacrifices it has entailed are out of all proportion to the alleged reasons for its outbreak — unless they were nothing but a pretext for underlying intentions.

The programme of the National-Socialist Movement, in so far as it affected the future development of the Reich's relations with the rest of the world, was simply an attempt to bring about a definite revision of the Treaty of Versailles, though as far as at all possible, this was to be accomplished by peaceful means.

This revision was absolutely essential. The conditions imposed at Versailles were intolerable, not only because of their humiliating discrimination and because the disarmament which they ensured deprived the German nation of all its rights, but far more so because of the consequent destruction of the material existence of one of the great civilized nations in the world, and the proposed annihilation of its future, the utterly senseless accumulation of immense tracts of territory under the domination of a number of States, the theft of all the irreparable foundations of life and indispensable vital necessities from a conquered nation. While this dictate was being drawn up, men of insight even among our foes were uttering warnings about the terrible consequences which the ruthless application of its insane conditions would entail - a proof that even among them the conviction predominated that such a dictate could not possibly be upheld in days to come. objections and protests were silenced by the assurance that the statutes of the newly-created League of Nations provided for a revision of these conditions; in fact, the League was supposed to be the competent authority. The hope of revision was thus at no time regarded as presumptuous, but as something natural. Unfortunately the Geneva institution, as those responsible for Versailles had intended, never looked upon itself as a body competent to undertake any sensible revision, but from the very outset as nothing more than the guarantor of the ruthless enforcement and maintenance of the conditions imposed at Versailles.

All attempts made by democratic Germany to obtain equality for the German people by a revision of the Treaty proved unavailing.

World War Enemies Unscrupulous Victors

It is always in the interests of a conqueror to represent stipulations that are to his advantage as sacrosanct, while the instinct of self-preservation in the vanquished leads him to reacquire the common human rights that he has lost. For him the dictate of an overbearing conqueror had all the less legal force, since he had never been honourably conquered. Owing to a rare misfortune, the German Empire, between 1914 and 1918, lacked good leadership. To this, and to the as yet unenlightened faith and trust placed by the German people in the words of democratic statesmen, our downfall was due.

Hence the Franco-British claim that the Dictate of Versailles was a sort of international, or even a supreme, code of laws, appeared to be nothing more than a piece of insolent arrogance to every honest German, the assumption, however, that British or French statesmen should actually claim to be the guardians of justice, and even of human culture, as mere stupid effrontery. A piece of effrontery that is thrown into a sufficiently glaring light by their own extremely negligible achievements in this direction. For seldom have any countries in the world been ruled with a lesser degree of wisdom, morality and culture than those which are at the moment exposed to the ragings of certain democratic statesmen.

The programme of the National-Socialist Movement, besides freeing the Reich from the innermost fetters of a small substratum of Jewish capitalistic and pluto-democratic profiteers, proclaimed to the world our resolution to shake off the shackles of the Versailles Dictate.

Germany's demands for this revision were a vital necessity and essential to the existence and honour of every great nation. They will probably one day be regarded by posterity as extremely reasonable. In practice, all these demands had to be carried through contrary to the will of the Franco-British rulers. We all regarded it as a sure sign of successful leadership in the Third Reich that for years we were able to effect this revision without a war. Not that - as the British and French demagogues asserted - we were at that time incapable of fighting. When, thanks to growing common sense, it finally appeared as though international co-operation might lead to a peaceful solution of the remaining problems, the Agreement to this end signed in Munich on September 29, 1938, by the four leading interested States, was not only not welcomed in London and Paris, but was actually condemned as a sign of abominable weakness. Now that peaceful revision threatened to be crowned with success, the Jewish capitalist war-mongers, their hands stained with blood, saw their tangible pretexts for realizing their diabolical plans vanish into thin air. Once again we witnessed a conspiracy by wretched corruptible political creatures and moneygrabbing financial magnates, for shom war was a welcome means of furthering their business ends. The poison scattered by the Jews throughout the nations began to exercise its disintegrating influence on sound common sense Scribblers concentrated upon decrying honest men, who wanted peace, as weaklings and traitors, and upon denouncing the opposition parties as the Fifth Column, thus breaking all internal resistance to their criminal war policy. Jews and Freemasons, armaments manufacturers and war profiteers, international business-men and Stock Exchange jobbers seized upon political hirelings of the desperado and Herostrates type, who described war as something infinitely desirable.

It was the work of these criminal persons that spurred the Polish State on to adopt an attitude that was out of all proportion to Germany's demands and still less to the attendant consequences.

In its dealings with Poland, the German Reich has pre-eminently exercised genuine self-restraint since the National-Socialist régime came into power. One of the most despicable and foolish measures of the Versailles Dictate, namely, the severance of an old German province from the Reich, was crying out aloud for revision. Yet what were my requests?

I name myself in this connexion, because no other statesman might have dared to propose a solution such as mine to the German nation. It merely implied the return of Danzig — an ancient purely German city — to the Reich, and the creation of a means of communication between the Reich and its severed province. Even this was to be decided by a plebiscite subject to the control of an international body. If Mr Churchill and the rest of the war-mongers had felt a fraction of the responsibility towards Europe which inspired me, they could never have begun their infamous game.

It was only due to these and other European and non-European parties and their war interests, that Poland rejected my proposals, which in no way affected either her honour or her existence, and in their stead had recourse to terror and to the sword. In this case we once more showed unexampled and truly superhuman self-control, since for months, despite murderous attacks on minority Germans, and even despite the slaughter of tens of thousands of our German fellow-countrymen, we still sought an understanding by peaceful means.

What was the situation?

One of the most unnatural creations of the Dictate of Versailles, a popinjay puffed up with political and military pomp, insults another State for months on end and threatens to grind it to powder, to fight battles on the outskirts of Berlin, to back the German armies to pieces, to extend its frontiers to the Oder or the Elbe, and so forth. Meanwhile, the other State, Germany, watches this tumult in patient silence, although a single movement of her arm would have sufficed to prick this bubble inflated with folly and hatred.

On September 2, the conflict might still have been averted — Mussolini proposed a plan for the immediate cessation of all hostilities and for peaceful negotiations. Though Germany saw her armies storming to victory, I nevertheless accepted his proposal. It was only the Franco-British war-mongers who desired war, not peace. More than that, as Mr Chamberlain said, they needed a long war, because they had now invested their capital in armaments shares, had purchased machinery and required time for the development of their business interests and the amortization of their investments. For, after all, what do these "citizens of the world" care about Poles, Czechs or such-like peoples?

On June 19, 1940; a German soldier found a curious document when searching some railway trucks standing in the station of La Charité. As the document bore a distinctive inscription, he immediately handed it over to his commanding officer. It was then passed on to other quarters, where it was soon realized that we had lighted on an important discovery. The station was subjected to another, more thorough-going search.

Thus it was that the German High Command gained possession of a collection of documents of unique historical significance. They were the secret documents of the Allied Supreme War Council, and included the minutes of every meeting held by this illustrious body. This time Mr. Churchill will not succeed in contesting or lying about the veracity of these documents, as he tried to do when documents were discovered in Warsaw.

These documents bear marginal notes inscribed by Messieurs Gamelin, Daladier, Weygand, etc. They can thus at any time be confirmed or refuted by these very gentlemen. They further yield remarkable evidence of the machinations of the war-mongers and war-extenders. Above all, they show that those stony-hearted politicians regarded all the small nations as a means to their ends; that they had attempted to use Finland in their own interests; that they had determined to turn Norway and Sweden into a theatre of war; that they had planned to fan a conflagration in the Balkans in order to gain the assistance of a hundred divisions from those countries; that they had planned a bombardment of Batum and Baku by a ruthless and unscrupulous interpretation of Turkey's neutrality, who was not unfavourable to them; that they had inveigled Belgium and the Netherlands more and more completely, until they finally entrapped them into binding General Staff agreements, and so on, ad libitum.

The documents further give a picture of the dilettante methods by which these political war-mongers tried to quench the blaze which they had lighted, of their democratic militarism, which is in part to blame for the appalling fate that they have inflicted on hundreds of thousands, even millions of their own soldiers, of their barbarous unscrupulousness which caused them callously to force mass evacuation on their peoples, which brought them no military advantages, though the effects on the population were outrageously cruel.

These same criminals are responsible for having driven Poland into war.

Eighteen days later this campaign was, to all intents and purposes, at an end.

Britain and France Considered Understanding a Crime

On October 6, 1939, I addressed the German nation for the second time during this war at this very place. I was able to inform them of our glorious military victory over the Polish State. At the same time I appealed to the insight of the responsible men in the enemy States and to the nations themselves. I warned them not to continue this war, the consequences of which could only be devastating. I particularly warned the French of embarking on a war which would forcibly eat its way across the frontier and which, irrespective of its outcome, would have appalling consequences. At the same time, I addressed this appeal to the rest of the world, although I feared - as I expressly said - that my words would not be heard, but would more than ever arouse the fury of the interested war-mongers. Everything happened as I predicted. The responsible elements in Britain and France scented in my appeal a dangerous attack on their war profits. They therefore immediately began to declare that every thought of conciliation was out of the question, nay, even a crime; that the war had to be pursued in the name of civilization, of humanity, of happiness, of progress, and - to leave no stone unturned - in the name of religion itself. For this purpose, negroes and bushmen were to be mobilized. Victory, they then said, would come of its own accord, it was, in fact, within their easy reach, as I myself must know very well and have known for a long time since, or I should not have broadcast my appeal for peace throughout the world. For if I had had any justification for Hitler's speech would have taken several hours to give, but he ended the speech with the following statement:

"In this hour I feel it to be my duty before my own conscience to appeal once more to reason and common sense, in Great Britain as much as elsewhere. I consider myself in a position to make this appeal since I am not the vanquished begging favours, but the victor speaking in the name of reason. I can see no reason why this war must go on.

"Possibly Mr. Churchill will again brush aside this statement of mine by saying that it is merely of fear and doubt in our final victory. In that case, I shall have relieved my conscience in regards to the things to come."

The timing of Hitler's 'Last Appeal to Reason' cannot be stressed enough. It occurred only one month after the battle of Dunkirk. At Dunkirk, the German army had surrounded the entire British army and caught then in the open and without supplies or reinforcements. However, rather than dropping bombs to annihilate this defenseless foe, Hitler instead dropped informative leaflets. Hitler knew the good men and women of England had been manipulated into this war by the jewish media working for the war profiteers, and Hitler believed reason could still turn the British back to the truth. The British army was allowed to retreat to England (against the wishes of the Nazi generals) in hopes that information might shock the British people back to their senses and end this unnecessary war which Britain had started.

Why die for Stalin?

In dying for Stalin your soldiers are not dying for democracy or the preservation of the democratic form of government—they are dying for the establishment of Communism and a form of Stalinist tyranny throughout the world. Furthermore, they are not dying for the preservation of the integrity of small nations (England's old war-cry) but are dying so that Poland shall be a Soviet state; so that the Baltic States shall be incorporated in the Soviet Union and so that Soviet influence shall extend from the Baltic to the Balkans.

Every British soldier who lays down his life in this war is not only a loss to his own country; he is a loss to the common cause of European civilization. Germany's and England's quarrel is a form of traditional rivalry. It is more in the nature of a private quarrel which Germany did not seek. The Soviet Union's quarrel, however, is a quarrel with the WORLD. It is a quarrel with our common heritage and with all those values—moral, spiritual, cultural and material which we have, all of us—Englishman and German alike—recognised, cherished and striven to maintain. TO DIE FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF THESE VALUES IS TO DIE IN VAIN.

Stalin, with all the diabolical power of Communism behind him, is seeking to profit from Britain's and Germany's preoccupation. The amount of influence which Britain can exercise on Stalin can be measured by the latter's undisputed claims to the sovereign territories of other nations. The only controlling influence left on Stalin is the strength and tenacity of the German Wehrmacht and of the European volunteers who support Germany in her fight for the survival of Europe, and its position as the cradle of our common civilization.

Every British soldier who dies for Stalin is another nail in the coffin of Britain's hopes of maintaining a "Balance of Power" in Europe.

Should the "Equilibrium" pass to Stalin then the equilibrium of the world is at an end.

THOSE WHO ARE ABOUT TO DIE-THINK IT OVER!

This is a leaflet that German planes dropped on British soldiers in an attempt to reverse the misinformation that had been given to them by their jewish-controlled media. The leaflet proved to be frighteningly prophetic:

"...so that Poland shall be a Soviet state."

But Hitler invaded Poland. That is what started WW2, not Britain declaring war on Germany, amirite?

The reality is that Polish jews used their political power and influence to massacre the newly annexed Germans. In the decade following the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles, so many German men had been murdered and so many German women had been raped by these Polish jews that more than a million Germans were forced to flee their homes and become refugees in their own land.

Hitler repeatedly begged Poland to stop murdering Germans and offered every possible concession to ensure peace, but all to no avail. Nothing except the total destruction of the German people would suffice for the international jews.

GERMAN STORIES OF PERSECUTION IN POLAND

Berlin, Saturday.

STORIES of alleged persecution of Germans in Poland are now filling German newspapers to the exclusion of almost all other news.

It is claimed Germans are being tortured in prison, chased by blood-hounds, torn from their homes, mishandled by mobs and police, and forcibly removed into the interior of the country.

The reports add all German organisations are being systematically dissolved and life is being made impossible.

Berlin newspapers sent special correspondents to the frontier and are publishing what they described as eyewitness stories about Polish officials hunting refugees with searchlights in the woods at nights, and interviews with people who managed to escape.

The newspapers' accounts are punctuated with bitter references to Great Britain for her support of Poland "in this brutal terrorism."—Reuter.

The Straits Times, 20 August 1939, Page 1

GERMAN PRESS ALLEGES POLISH PERSECUTION

Berlin, May 7

GERMAN refugees from Polish the "persecution" are fleeing across the frontier into Germany in a steadily increasing flow, according to the Berlin press, which hurls sharp accusations against the Polish Government in connection with the exodus.

A German news agency says that a camp has now been established near Marienwerder, where the refugees will stay for a few days until employment is found for them in East Prussia.

It adds that during April 261 men and women, accompanied by children, from Poland in Marienwerder district, and since April 28 (the day of Herr Hitler's speech in the Reichstag), a further 100 adults and an equal number of children, are stated to have crossed the frontier there.

Refugees are also said to be arriving at Stuhm district, near Danzig.

Berlin newspapers allege that armed Polish mobs are assaulting Germans, and acts of terrorism have been systematically prepared by high Polish quarters.—Reuter.

GERMANS ALLEGE POLISH "TERROR" IN SILESIA

"WORSE OPPRESSION YET TO COME"

Berlin, Aug. 17.

GRUESOME accounts of the anti-German "terror" which Poland is alleged to have let loose in Upper Silesia fill the front pages of the morning newspapers. Tales brought by refugees over the border are said to have aroused indignation and alarm all over German Silesia.

According to the German version, between 900 and 1,000 persons of the German race have been arrested and are said to have been herded in concentration camps, where they are ill-treated and the 100d is uneatable.

In the German accounts no reason is suggested for the Polish measures, which are represented as a purely gratuitous mass persecution.

A news agency report from Kattowitz forecasts still worse oppression to come. Anti-German elements are said to have been given arms so an "appalling terror against defenceless Germans is to be expected."

The adjacent list contains one of many requests Hitler made to Poland. In it, he basically asked for two things:

- 1. Poland must stop terrorizing and murdering Germans.
- 2. Update the Treaty of Versailles by allowing the people a chance to vote for what they would like to happen.

These are not unreasonable requests. But to the "Paradise of the Jews" (aka: Poland), they were absolutely intolerable. Nothing except the total destruction of the German people would suffice.

GERMAN OFFER TO POLAND

Berlin, Apr. 7.

GERMANY has offered to guarantee Poland's "complete independence and territorial integrity" for half a generation, according to Voelkischer Beobachter.

In return, it is stated, Germany has asked for the return of a "small compact area which is inhabited exclusively by Germans" and a "free passage for Germany to the north-east.'

The "small compact area" is presumed to mean Danzig.

These details supplemented an earlier inspired statement in which reference was made to recent talks between Germany and Poland .-Reuter The Singapore Free Press and Mercantile Advertiser, 8 April 1939, Page

But Hitler's pleas for peace fell on deaf ears:

"Poland wants war with Germany, and Germany will not be able to avoid it, even if she wants to."

 Polish Marshal Rydz-Smigly, as reported in the Daily Mail, August 6thk, 1939

HITLER'S SIXTEEN POINTS

Herr Hitler's sixteen point plan sets out:

- Danzig, on account of its purely German-character and the unanimous will of its population, shall return to the Reich unconditionally and forthwith.
- (2) The Polish Corridor shall decide for itself whether it desires to belong to Germany or Poland, for which a plebiscite shall be held. Polish police, military and other authorities must leave the Corridor at the shortest possible notice except Gdynia, which unconditionally remains Polish. exact German-Polish frontier between Gdynia and Germany must be determined by agreement between Berlin and Warsaw.
- (3) Those entitled to vote in the plebiscite will be all Germans and Poles resident in the Corridor since January 1, 1938, or born therein. All Germans expelled from the Corridor or forced to leave will return in order to vote,
- In order to guarantee free voting, an international com-mission will be constituted similar to that in the Saar plebiscite. Its representatives shall be from France and Britain and the commission will exercise sovereign rights in the territory.
- (5) The plebiscite is not to take place before a lapse of 12 months.
- During that period Germany's lines of access to East Prussia and Poland's access to the sea is to be secured by rail and road.
- (7) The plebiscite is to be determined by a simple majority.
- (8) Irrespective of the results of the plebiscite, there is to be an extra-tersitorial traffic zone. For instance, the Reich would have a motor road and a four track railway line connecting it to East Prussia, but if the plebiscite went in favor of Germany, Poland would have extra-territorial and rail connection with Gdynia.
- (9) In the event of the Corridor being returned to the Reich there would be an exchange of populations.
- (10) Any special rights claimed by Poland are to be compensated for by similar rights given to Germany in Gdynia,
- (11) Danzig and Gdynia are to be purely commercial town and not fortified,
- (12) There is to be a settlement of complaints of the German and Polish minorities by submission to an International Commission.
- Germany and Poland will mutually agree to repair and (13)recompense all economic damages caused by their re spective minorities since 1918.
- (14) Minorities remaining in either country after the plebiscite will, by mutual agreement, be exempted from military service and enjoy full social and cultural freedom,
- (15) For the settlement of possible complaints among the Ger man and Polish minorities, both contracting parties agree that these complaints should be submitted to the International Commission, which will investigate each case on its merita.
- In the event of acceptance of these proposals, Germany and Poland declare themselves ready to order and carry out immediate demobilisation of their respective armies.

Since the Danzig was given to Poland as part of the Treaty of Versailles, the Germans who lived in East Prussia (still part of Germany) were now cut off from their relatives in Germany. Since Poland destroyed the German rail system through the corridor, and since they refused to allow other ground travel between the two areas, aircraft was used to support them. This came to an end when, during peacetime, Poland attacked the supply planes.

POLE GUNS FIRE ON DANZIG PLANE

German Planes Detour to Avoid Attack

DANZIG, Aug. 24.—Early morning bathers reported today that Polish guns fired 10 shots at a Danzig sports airplane and that shell fragments fell in the streets of Zoppot, in free city territory.

The German Lufthansa company abandoned direct airplane service, across the Pomorze area of Poland, separating Germany proper from East Prussia and Danzig.

Planes were detourned over the Baltic as the result of today's and yesterday's alleged Polish firing on German planes.

In 1921, the Treaty of Versailles mandated the people of the Upper Silesia vote to determine their official border. When the vote went in favor of Germany and against Poland, Poland invaded the area and illegally annexed East Upper Silesia. Likewise, Poland intentionally violated the Treaty of Versailles by illegally occupying Westerplatte, an area which had been deemed by the Treaty to be a demilitarized zone. It is no coincidence that these provocations occurred under Józef Klemens Piłsudski, Prime Minister of Poland, who publicly demanded war with Germany no less than 24 times. It should come as no surprise that Piłsudski was loved by the Polish jews.

By 1939, Hitler had peacefully reversed all of the provisions of the unjust Treaty of Versailles, resulting in the reoccupation of the Rhineland, the incorporation of the Sudetenland, and the annexation of Austria. The only part of Germany still under foreign rule was the Polish-held "Danzig Corridor" which split Germany from East Prussia.

After being met only with hostility, Germany even offered to allow Poland to keep the territory if only Poland would grant Germany the right to build (at German expense) rail and road links to East Prussia. Yet, the Poles refused to make any concessions whatsoever, even while intentionally attempting to provoke war with Germany. The leaders of Poland made it abundantly clear that nothing except the total war with Germany would suffice for the 'Paradise of the jews'. As a result, Poland left Hitler with only one final recourse.

"It will be the Polish army that will invade Germany on the first day of war."

- The Polish ambassador in Paris (August 15, 1939)

Józef Klemens Piłsudski Prime Minister of Poland

But Hitler was such a warmonger, so he needed to be eliminated or else he would have taken over the world!

To respond to such a ridiculous claim, let's actually look at the historical events:

1. Soviet Union invades Latvia: The west ignores this and does not declare war on the soviet jews

2. Soviet Union invades Lithuania: The west ignores this and does not declare war on the soviet jews

3. Soviet Union invades Poland: The west ignores this and does not declare war on the soviet jews

4. Soviet Union invades Finland: The west ignores this and does not declare war on the soviet jews

5. Soviet Union invades Estonia: The west ignores this and does not declare war on the soviet jews

6. Soviet Union invades Romania: The west ignores this and does not declare war on the soviet jews

7. Germany defends itself against the Polish attacks and threats of additional attacks: the west responds by starting World War 2 because Germany is a warmonger.

But Hitler is evil because he also invaded Anschluss, Austria, Sudetenland and Czechoslovakia. So evil!

To respond to such a ridiculous claim, let's actually look at the historical events:

Concerning Anschluss and Austria: First of all, Anschluss isn't even a place. It is the concept that Austria and Germany are to be a united nation. Counting these as separate areas doesn't even make sense. Secondly, Hitler asked the Austrians to vote on Anschluss (to vote on whether or not the Austrians wanted to united with Germany). The vote was denied, and so Hitler sent in troops who were met with cheering crowds of Austrians. The Austrians were then allowed to vote, and over 99% of the voters wanted Austria to unite with Germany. When over 99% of the population supports the 'invader', one can hardly claim it was an invasion. The proper term is 'liberation'.

Concerning the Sudetenland and Czechoslovakia: First of all, the Sudetenland is part of Czechoslovakia. Counting these as separate areas is just double-counting. Moreover, the Sudetenland was historically part of Germany, and it was filled with German people. It had been unjustly stolen from Germany and attributed to Czechoslovakia by the illegal Treaty of Versailles. Also like Austria, before Hitler sent in troops, he requested the people to vote whether or not they wanted to rejoin Germany. Also like Austria, the people were denied the right to vote. Also like Austria, when Hitler sent troops to Czechoslovakia, the troops were met by cheering crowds. At the next vote, over 97% of the people in the Sudetenland voted in support of Hitler and the NDASP. Again, this is 'liberation', not invasion. Moreover, the Slovaks and many Czechs were also in agreement with Hitler's dissolution of Czechoslovakia as it has reversed the much hated Treaty of Versailles (which had forced what once were homogenous peoples to live in a now-multicultural Czechoslovakia). It is true, however, there were some Czechs who were not happy about the situation, as it removed many profitable industrial regions from Czechoslovakia by returning them to their pre-Treaty of Versailles owners. However, Hitler's appointed governor of Czechoslovakia, Reinhard Heydrich, established such a benevolent rule over the Czech people that pro-German sympathy among the Czechs rose to such a degree that the British government ordered his assassination in 1942. In the end, it cannot be said that Germany 'invaded' Czechoslovakia.

Obviously, Germany was the warmonger. How does anyone not see this simple and incontrovertible fact?!

Which of these men was the "war monger"?

Chapter XIV

HITLER WANTED PEACE WITH BRITAIN

Both in Germany and in Britain there were many people who did all they could to prevent Britain and Germany ever going to war again. Hitler was one of these, but he insisted that in the making of agreements to secure peace, Germany should be placed on an equal footing with other great Powers. When this was denied Germany left the League of Nations.

In his speech of 26th September 1938, he reminded listeners that he had, up to that date, made five different proposals for the limitation of armaments. All had been rejected. In 1935 and again in 1936 he proposed to reduce the horrors of war by prohibiting bombing of any kind outside the range of artillery on the fighting fronts and by the abolition of tanks and artillery of the heavier sorts. Britain stood to gain more from the proposals than any other nation, but they were turned down.*

"The world," said Hitler on 14th October 1938, "which we are not harming in any way, and from which we only ask that it will allow us to go about our business in peace, has been submerging us for months under a flood of untruths and calumnies."

Eight days later, he said:

"Our aim is to make our people happy once more by guaranteeing to them their daily bread. The work involved is great, and the world should leave us to carry it out in peace."

In 1939, Lothrop Stoddard, the American authority on Race, made a tour through Germany and Central Europe. He reported that

"most Germans think the war is stupidly unnecessary and that the British were sticking their noses into what is none of their business."

"Just think of it," they exclaim, "here we are so busy making over our country and now we have to lay aside most of our fine construction plans to go and fight it out with these damned Englishmen!" (Daily Mail, 9th January 1940.)

"We Germans," Goebbels told him, "don't like this war. We think it needless and silly." (Daily Mail, 13th January 1940.)

In November 1941, Hitler announced:

"After the victories against Poland and in the West, I again decided—and for the last time—to hold out my hand to England and to point out that a continuation of the war could only be senseless for England, and there was nothing to prevent the conclusion of a reasonable peace. Indeed there were no differences between England and Germany except those artificially created."

War, however, had been decreed by international Jewish influences and nothing could stop it. These influences were able to fasten upon the politicians the the catch-cry that no one could possibly trust Hitler or have any dealings with him. He was to be regarded as a pariah.

However, Stalin was wonderful.

That Bolshevism is largely a Jewish creation cannot be denied.

But Hitler was pledged to free Europe from the influence of international Jewry. That made a difference. We, who knew this, were stowed away in prison so that we could not continue to reveal what we knew. What exactly did the Treaty of Versailles do?

The victors of WW1 severely punished the losers, and in particular: Germany. Germany lost the profitable territory of Alsace-Lorraine to France, they lost the profitable Sudetenland to Czechoslovakia, and they lost the profitable area of western Prussia to Poland. This last loss separated Prussia from the rest of Germany, creating no end of problems for the Germans living there. The major city in that region, Danzig, was declared a "free city" and administered by the League of Nations. Germany also lost all its colonies and had to give up most of its coal, trains, merchant ships, and navy. The defeated Germans also had to agree to limit the size of their army and submit to Allied occupation of the Rhineland for fifteen years, which resulted in great cruelty inflicted upon the Germans who lived there. Finally, in what was clearly an outrage, Germany was obliged to accept full responsibility for causing the war and consequently to pay its total cost. This bordered on the bizarre, given that the Allies in World War 1 had declared war on Germany and not the other way around. As a result, the stipulations of the Treaty of Versailles become known in Germany as the 'Shame of Versailles'.

Stopping jews from annihilating your country is anti-Semitic:

Top Jewish Scholar Admits Hitler Launched WWII To Stop 'World Jewry' From 'Annihilating Germany'

20 January 2020 admin 0 Comments adolf hitler, holocaust, jews, world war 2

According to nonagenerian Yehuda Bauer, one of the foremost jewish 'Holocaust' scholars, Adolf Hitler's launching of World War II to prevent 'world Jewry' from 'physically annihilating the German nation' was an act of 'anti-Semitism':

History will remember the 46-year imprisonment of Rudolf Hess as an act of injustice and inhumanity. Hitler sent Hess from Germany to Britain on May 10, 1941, where he parachuted behind enemy lines in a courageous effort to end the war between the two nations. His plea for peace was promptly rejected, and he was imprisoned.

The British historian A.J.P. Taylor wrote in 1969: "Hess came to this land in 1941 as an ambassador of peace. He acted in good faith. He fell into our hands and was treated as a prisoner of war, completely contrary to international law. We could have released him at the end of the war. No crime was ever proven against Hess."

In the most twisted sense of justice imaginable, at his trial in Nuremberg, Hess was sentenced to life imprisonment for "crimes against peace."

Although history books claim Hitler was the warmonger, and though the history books claim Hitler was met with concession after concession, and though the history books claim that the declaration of war against Germany occurred only after Germany invaded Poland for no reason at all, the reality is quite different. It was Germany who was under attack by the jews, both financially via the jews in London, as well as physically by the jews in Poland.

Hitler never wanted war, but he was given no other choice. Moreover, Hitler knew what the jews had done to the Russian Aryans, and he clearly saw the jewish influence during the Weimar Republic. He knew the jewish banking elite would not stop until every German Aryan was exterminated. Moreover, Hitler knew the jews were beating the war drums in Soviet Russia, and they had only one goal in mind: world domination through the subjugation of every nation to jewish Communism. Hitler knew this, and we know that he knew these things because he recorded all of them in Mein Kampf, Link (A).

The fact that he recorded all of this is precisely why the jews have demonized and banned his writings. They fear that if others would simply read his writings, then they might also realize what the jews have done; they may realize the plans the jews have for world domination; they might realize the plans they have for Aryan genocide.

Hitler did not want war. He merely wanted to free his people from jewish enslavement. He wanted to free their finances from the crushing power of jewish usury. He wanted to free their minds from the degeneracy of the jewish media. He desired that the noble German race might once again live as men ought to live: with the freedom to discover what is right, good and true, to be allowed the will to choose those things for themselves, and to be given the strength to make such things endure.

And for these things, Hitler was made into a demon for all of us to hate,

...and for all of us to destroy.

For his 'crimes', Hitler was demonized:

"We painted Hitler as a monster, a devil. And that's why we could not move away from that portrayal after the war. We had mobilized the masses against the devil incarnate, and so we were forced to continue in this satanic scenario after the war. We could not possibly have explained to our people that the war had actually been only a preventative economic measure."

-US Secretary of state James Baker in an interview with the German news magazine Der Spiegel in 1992

"Atrocity propaganda is how we won the war. And we're only really beginning with it now! We will continue this atrocity propaganda, we will escalate it, until nobody will accept even a good word from the Germans, until all the sympathy they may still have abroad will have been destroyed and they themselves will be so confused that they will no longer know what they are doing. Once that has been achieved, once they begin to run down their own country and their own people, not reluctantly but with eagerness to please the victors, only then will our victory be complete. But it will never be final. Re-education needs careful tending, like an English lawn. Even one moment of negligence and the weeds crop up again—those indestructible weeds of historical truth."

-Delmer Sefton, British Chief of 'Blacl propaganda, said in 1945 in a conversation with the German professor

"Hitler will emerge from the hatred that surrounds him now as one of the most significant figures who ever lived. He had in him the stuff of which legends are made."

-President John F. Kennedy, 1995, Prelude to Leadership (The Post-War diary of John F. Kennedy). P.73 –74

Ok, so maybe Hitler wasn't bad, but certainly the evil German Nazis soldiers were evil invaders who terrorized the people they conquered, amirite?

"The French did not seem in any way pleased to see us [British] arrive to liberate them. They had been quite content as they were [under Nazi occupation]."

-Sir Alan Brooke, British Army Chief of Staff

"We [were told] the [Allies] liberated the [French town of Carentan]. Actually, it has been completely flattened and there is hardly a house intact. All of the civilians have fled. It is a queer sort of liberation."

-Field Marshall Montgomery

"I saw absolutely no evidence of German abuse of the population. The attitude of the French was sobering. Instead of bursting with enthusiasm, they seemed sullen. There was considerable cause for wondering whether the French even wanted to be liberated."

-John Eisenhower (General Eisenhower's son)

"Most Frenchmen speak of the correctness of the German Army's behavior. They seem particularly impressed that German soldiers were shot for incivility to women and compare this with the American troops' bad behavior toward women, especially the American colored troops."

-British Captain and Historian B.H. Liddell Hart

"I am informed the Germans did not loot either residences, stores, or museums. In fact, the people claimed that they were meticulously treated by the Army of Occupation."

-General LeRoy Lutes, US Army

"The stuff [about the Germans] in the papers is all [fake]. That sort of writing is done by jews to get revenge. Actually, the Germans are the only decent people left in Europe."

-General George Patton, US Army

You have been told that this symbol is the representation of all that is evil.

But you have been told lies.

The swastika is one of the most sacred symbols in the world. It was born in the mystical conceptions of the ancient Aryans, and by them, it has been given a place at the very threshold of eternity. According to Aryan legend, the swastika represents a unifying force, a Cosmic radiance which moves in all things, and by it, all things move. It bridges energy and matter, uniting them in one. It is described as the light of the Logos, and the very constructive power that formed all things which were created.

The name Swastika is derived from the Sanskrit language, from "su," meaning noble, and "vasti"," meaning person. It is the literal translation of the noble Aryan people, and it acts as the essence of everything good. It is said that the very sight of the Swastika will strike fear into anyone with evil in his heart.

The swastika was widely adopted in the early Christian centuries. It has been found in the British Isles before the Roman invasion. It has been found extensively in the Roman catacombs. It was a sacred symbol to Hindu, Jain, and Buddhist religions, as well as Norse, Basque, Baltic, and Celtic Paganism. It has been found all over the world in every ancient culture.

The Swastika has gone by many names. It is sometimes called the fylfot, and at other times, it has been called Mjolnir, the Hammer of Creation. Mjolnir, when spun around its axis, becomes a 'Sunwheel'. The fylfot, Thor's Hammer, and Sunwheel are considered interchangeable representations of the same Creative power which set the universe in motion.

Sunwheel

This mighty Hammer, the Swastika, the Living Logos, is said to be the weapon by which the sons of the Holy One will wield against Hell, the goddess queen of the dead, and by its power, Satan's flames and the raging waters of the great deluge shall be overcome. Then, the sons of Thor, with Mjolnir at their side, will consecrate a new heaven and a new earth, for death shall no longer bind them, and they shall walk with the mighty One, who rules all things and ordains the eternal laws which govern the world. Though unseen by them, it is said they all shall know He is there, for His presence and His power shall be felt by one and all.

It is the noble heritage of this symbol upon which the Third Reich was founded. It represents freedom against tyranny and the purity of Aryan spirit. It stands for all that is right, good, and true, and it signifies the brotherhood of the Aryan people, their compassion for one another, and the trustworthiness of their race.

When you see this symbol, let it be in remembrance of those noble Aryan men, women and children who gave their lives and their homes defending the honor of their heritage.

The swastika is an archetypal, universal human religious symbol. It appears on every continent and is as old as human-kind. It can be seen on Pictish rock carvings, adorning ancient Greek pottery, and on ancient Norse weapons and implements. It was scratched on cave walls in France seven thousand years ago. A swastika marks the beginning of many Buddhist scriptures, and is incised on the soles of the feet of the Buddha in statuary. In the Jain religion, it is a symbol of the seventh Saint. To Native Americans, it is a symbol of the sun, the four directions, and the four seasons.

9. HOLOCAUST

But wait...I don't care if Hitler was simply defending himself against those who sought to genocide the German people, and I don't care if the German soldiers were the most heroic soldiers in the history of war, and I don't care if the Nazis rallied around the noble swastika, because Hitler is still a terrible person for genociding 6 million jews in the Holocaust! Even considering that the elite jewish bankers wanted to genocide the Germans, those poor jewish women and children did not deserve to be murdered in gas chambers!

Yet, the truth remains: Hitler did not systematically kill anyone.

Just as the jews demonized Hitler with lies and fake propaganda, the "holocaust" was also a great propaganda lie used to deceive the masses. Yes, Hitler did put jewish Germans into internment camps, just as Americans put Japanese-Americans into internment camps. And yes, many of the prisoners in those camps did unintentionally die from disease and later from malnutrition resulting from allied bombing of the German supply lines; but no, Hitler did not intentionally kill anyone.

In fact, Hitler even attempted, at great expense, to use gas chambers to save the lives of the jews and other inmates at the concentration camps. This occurred because deadly typhus was spreading among these camps. Typhus is carried by lice. In order to protect the inmates from contracting this deadly disease, Hitler had decontamination gas chambers constructed. These chambers were designed to gas articles of clothing so that the lice would be killed, thereby saving the lives of inmates from the deadly disease.

The lice was gassed so that the inmates could live.

Disinfection chambers in Dachau.
If you were going to exterminate someone you wouldn't bother delousing their clothes to prevent them catching disease.
The official holocaust historians and museums also no longer claim anyone was gassed at Dachau. Only lice on clothes were gassed.

American soldiers with deloused clothing airing outside the disinfestations chambers, 1945. The disinfestations chambers and Zyklon-B continued to be used after the Allied liberation of the camp, something that the Holocaust storytellers always neglect to tell.

Eyewitness testimony of the "deadly" gas showers in Auschwitz: Link (A)

Germans invent mustard gas and serin gas. Germans have access to xylyl bromide and chlorine gas. With all of these highly potent and fast-acting gases available to the Germans, people still believe the ridiculous claim that Germans would resort to using a delousing agent to kill people. Moreover, the Germans had stock piled over 82,000,000 pounds of nerve agents. If the Germans wanted to genocide people with gas, why not use the most efficient gas?

Even if one assumes cost was a deciding factor, then the Germans could have simply resorted to asphyxiation chambers, which would have been both free and a faster alternative than using a bug spray. So why would Germany resort to using the more expensive and slower-working Zyklon-B? Is it really that hard to understand why the delousing agent, Zyklon-B, was found at camps suffering from lice infestations?

Riddle of Why Hitler Didn't Use Sarin Gas Remains Unsolved

Victims of a chemical attack in Khan Sheikhoun, in Idlib Province, Syria, on April 4. The gas was later identified as the lethal nerve agent sarin. Alaa Alyousef, via Associated Press

Sean Spicer on Tuesday badly fumbled one of the major riddles of World War II: Why didn't Hitler use the thousands of tons of lethal nerve agents that German chemists had invented and military leader had readied for battlefield use, including sarin, the deadly gas that recently killed scores of Syrian civilians, children among them?

"It's a real mystery," said Raymond A. Zilinskas, director of the chemical and biological weapons nonproliferation program at the Middlebury Institute of International Studies in Monterey, Calif. "There're a lot more questions than answers."

The holocaust-hoaxers claim that Zyklon-B was used to gas 6 million jews. However, Zyklon-B is actually a bug spray. As the adjacent advertisement shows, this bug spray was advertised as being safe for use around humans.

Zyklon-B is liquid hydrogen cyanide, but so that it could safely be used around humans, it was infused into an inert substance (like diatomaceous earth or wood chips) to ensure that it only activated under very specific circumstances. It cannot activate under 78°F, which means that claims of Zyklon-B being dumped into a gas chamber and people dying within minutes is PHYSICALLY IMPOSSIBLE. Moreover, hot air-blowers are needed to vaporize and push the chemical through wide-open spaces, making it completely ridiculous to believe that narrow shower-pipes could have been used to transfer the chemical.

Zyklon B tested safely on humans Link1 (A)

But I've seen pictures of the giant gas chambers used to kill the jews.
Those are different than the delousing chambers.

-As you can see from the adjacent images, a functional gas chamber requires that all doors, windows, fixtures, and hatches have a hermetic seal.

Since the Germans designed and built the most advanced submarines the world has ever seen, wouldn't it seem ridiculous if those German engineers used medieval-style wooden doors on their submarines?

Of course it would.

Yet, gas chambers require the exact same style of door as is used on submarines. If it is ridiculous to use a wooden door on a submarine, it should seem equally ridiculous for wooden doors to be used on gas chambers.

And yet, this is claimed to be true!

This is Krema 1 at Auschwitz. The room on the right is a morgue located in a room adjacent to the crematory ovens shown on the left. However, this morgue is alleged to be a homicidal gas chamber. This creates a substantial problem for those who believe the Holocaust lies. Hydrogen cyanide gas is incredibly flammable, and as is clearly shown, there is not a hermetically sealed barrier between the room with the flammable gas and the room with the burning ovens. This would have resulted in a catastrophic explosion. Equally problematic is the fact that those light fixtures in the supposed "gas chamber" are not insulated and would have also resulted in an explosion.

Why would German engineers (who were capable of building perfectly functional gas chambers for use on lice) be sp completely incapable of building gas chambers for use on people?

At the first trial of German born, Canadian Revisionist Ernst Zündel in Toronto in 1985, Zündel's lawyer Doug Christie, attempted to file as an exhibit (enter into evidence), but was refused permission by the Judge Huge Locke, the September 11, 1978 edition of the Nürnberger Nachrichten, a German newspaper

A article in the paper reported on a war crimes trial in Aschaffenburg, Germany An Auschwitz survivor had supposedly testified to the German court, that the SS or even inmates, had held bicycle races in the Auschwitz-Birkenau gas chamber, to keep themselves physically fit during breaks in the murders.

It was claimed by Ditlieb Felderer, who testified as a witness at the second Zündel trial, that during the Frankfurt Auschwitz trials "the SS men also testified that they bicycled inside the gas chamber in between gassings"

Felderer was quite sure he had made reference, in discussions with Zündel, to the West German Auschwitz trials conducted in the 1960s, in which none of the SS officers denied that the gas chambers at Birkenau were used to exterminate Jews. He told Zündel that the SS men also testified that they bicycled inside the gas chamber in between gassings. The most ridiculous things were said in these trials, said Felderer; he compared them to the witch trials in Sweden, where people admitted they had sexual intercourse with the devil. Judges had accepted this as the truth and burned women at the stake for it. Felderer discussed with Zündel the secrecy of the Auschwitz trials, such as the refusal of the West German government to provide the addresses of the people who testified. He himself had been able to track some of the witnesses down and found their stories to be different from the stories presented in the newspapers. Felderer asked if we were supposed to believe stories such as the bicycles in the gas chamber or the claim that the firmness of female breasts was one of the criteria by which the Nazis decided which women would be gassed and which would not. (20-4668, 4669)

Breast firmness and bicycle races?!?

Did they really expect people to believe these absolutely ridiculous stories?!?

The Fantasy:

the Dachau Gas Chambers

holocaust-history.org

Improved ovens were put into operation here [i.e. Baracke X] They were fitted with double doors to reduce the blast of heat when they were opened. ... There were four ovens, with a capacity of 7 or 8 bodies each at a time -- even nine when the bodies were very emaciated. Cremation lasted about two hours. * cphoto 21> <photo 22> <photo 23>

In theory the ashes were to be collected and preserved in urns. The families of the dead could have the urns sent to them on payment of expenses. ... The urns were, in any case, filled with ashes collected at random, since several bodies were cremated together. In the end no more trouble was taken to fill the urns, and the ashes were buried in the grounds of the crematorium. 18

* Other estimates put this time as low as 10-15 minutes:

While the crematorium still functioned normally, the burning of a body lasted $\underline{10\text{-}15}$ minutes. $\underline{19}$

It is plain to see that these ovens were designed to accomodate a single body; a body being fed into the oven would preclude the addition of any further bodies by blocking the insertion of the stretchers that were used to deposit them. Compare the size of the opening of the oven to its attendants pictured above and you can see the obvious problem with the claim that "7 to 8" bodies at a time were placed therein. What of the notion that these archaic crematory ovens could burn these bodies in "10-15" minutes?

science.howstuffworks.com/cremation

An average human body takes from two to three hours to burn completely and will produce an average of 3 to 9 pounds (1.4 to 4.1 kilograms) of ash. The amount of ash depends usually on the bone structure of the person and not so much their weight [source: Ellenberg]. A newborn, which has mostly cartilage and very little set bone, might not even leave any remains after cremation.

Industrial cremators can run anywhere from $80,000 for a basic, entry-level model to $250,000 for the latest models [source: Sullivan]. The modern-day incinerators are usually automated or computerized and can be programmed to adjust the temperature as needed. They burn natural gas, propane or diesel instead of the coke and coal that fueled retorts as late as the 1960s, allowing for more efficient and hotter burning while leaving little odor or smoke.

It is a recurring claim in orthodox holocaust literature that the nearly one century old German ovens were special in some way that allowed them to burn 3 or 9 bodies several times faster than a modern, computerized oven that costs as much as a house would burn a single body. However, much like your local funeral home, the Germans were using ovens designed to accomodate a single body and they were using ovens designed to accomodate a single body because, contrary to conventional belief, there was no plan to kill thousands of people a day in these labor camps and no physical or documentary proof was ever found they did so. The reason any bodies were found at these labor camps at all was because the ovens were not nearly as efficient as they are claimed to have been, their inefficiency necessitated separating the often diseased dead from the living through burial pits and piles with the intent that the living go on living.

It was British and American bombing runs that created the conditions for so many people to starve to death in places like Dachau, Belsen and Auschwitz, not a German policy of genocide.

Victor Cavendish-Bentick, the Head of British Psychological Warfare Executive (Propaganda), in a handwritten note, written on Aug 27th, 1943, confirmed that the alleged mass murder of jews in the so-called 'death camps' was a psy-op when he wrote:

"We have had a good run for our money with this gas chamber story we have been putting about, but don't we run the risk eventually we are going to be found out and when we are found out the collapse of that lie is going to bring the whole of our psychological warfare down with it? So isn't it rather time now to let it drift off by itself and concentrate on other lines that we are running."

Source: Public Record Office Document F0371/34551 revealed by Stephen Mitford Goodson, Inside the South African Reserve Bank

Ok, so the gas chambers were fake, but what about all of the dead bodies they found in mass graves?

-Again, the opposite of this is actually true. No mass graves of jews slain by Germans were ever found.

Here is one example:

But what about all of the eye-witnesses? Surely they wouldn't all be lying!

Actually, all of the major holocaust story-tellers have been caught in their own lies, time and time again.

Man who claimed to have escaped Auschwitz admits he lied for years

Joseph Hirt said he fabricated story of being sent to camp and meeting Nazi doctor Josef Mengele to 'keep memories alive' about history of the Holocaust

Hirt displays his fake holocaust tattoo.

Moreover, every supposed "eyewitness" who has ever been brought to testify at court concerning the Holocaust has admitted on the stand that his eyewitness testimony concerning the Holocaust was fabricated. In fact, the cross-examination of these Holocaust 'survivors' was so devastating to the holocaust fable that following the court hearing, it was made illegal to require Holocaust "eyewitnesses" testify in court.

Why should it be made illegal to call Holocaust survivors to testify under oath? Why should it be made illegal to require that Holocaust "eyewitnesses" face cross-examination? Imagine such absurdity! Making it illegal for eye-witnesses to testify ...this goes against all possible commonsensical jurisprudence.

Marie-Sophie Hingst: historian stripped of award for inventing family's Holocaust past

Marie-Sophie Hingst claimed on her popular blog that most of her family were killed by the Nazis

An award-winning German historian has been stripped of a national blogging prize after she was accused of fabricating the stories of 22 Jewish relatives who supposedly died in the Holocaust.

Marie-Sophie Hingst had drawn almost 250,000 readers to her vivid accounts of how her grandmother's family had been all but wiped out in Auschwitz and other death camps.

Imagine being in charge of several historical centers whose purpose is establishing the authenticity of Holocaust documentation while also openly admitting the necessity of lying.

The "5 million" has driven Holocaust historians to distraction ever since Wiesenthal started to peddle it in the 1970s. Wiesenthal told the Washington Post in 1979, "I have sought with Jewish leaders not to talk about 6 million Jewish dead, but rather about 11 million civilians dead, including 6 million Jews."

Yehuda Bauer, an Israeli Holocaust scholar who chairs the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance, said he warned his friend Wiesenthal, who died in 2005, about spreading the false notion that the Holocaust claimed 11 million victims – 6 million Jews and 5 million non-Jews.

"I said to him, 'Simon, you are telling a lie,'" Bauer recalled in an interview Tuesday. "He said, 'Sometimes you need to do that to get the results for things you think are essential.'"

Bauer and other historians who knew Wiesenthal said the Nazi hunter told them that he chose the 5 million number carefully: He wanted a number large enough to attract the attention of non-Jews who might not otherwise care about Jewish suffering, but not larger than the actual number of Jews who were murdered in the Holocaust, 6 million.

It caught on: President Jimmy Carter, issuing the executive order that would establish the US Holocaust Memorial Museum, referred to the "11 million victims of the Holocaust."

Misha Defonseca, the author of a fake memoir about how she was raised by wolves during the second world war, has been ordered to pay $22.5m (£13.3m) back to her publisher.

Defonseca's extraordinary story was published almost 20 years ago as Misha: A Mémoire of the Holocaust Years. The book describes how, when she was six, the author's Jewish parents were taken from their home by the Nazis, and how she set off across Belgium, Germany and Poland to find them on foot, living on stolen scraps of food until she was adopted by a pack of wolves. She also claimed to have shot a Nazi soldier in self-defence.

The story was a huge bestseller, and was made into a film in France, but in 2008, it was found to be fabricated. The author - whose real name was found to be Monique De Wael - said that "it's not the true reality, but it is my reality", and "there are times when I find it difficult to differentiate between reality and my inner world".

A Holocaust survivor has claimed that photos showing the liberation of Auschwitz aren't real, because none were taken at the concentration camp.

Anne Frank's step-sister Eva Schloss, 90, who was sent to the notorious camp in Nazi-occupied Poland at the age of 15, appeared on Good Morning Britain today to discuss the 75th anniversary of its liberation.

In 1980, as a result of a lawsuit in a German Court, the German State Forensic bureau (Bundes Kriminal Amt [BKA]) forensically examined the original "diary" manuscript. The analysis determined that "significant" portions of the work was written with a fine ballpoint pen. Fine ballpoint pens were not available before 1951; portions of the work was added well after the war (Anne Frank died in March 1945).

The BKA also determined that NONE of the "diary" handwriting matched known examles of Anne's handwriting. Earlier handwriting experts had already determined ALL of the writing in the "diary" was the same hand. Hence, the "diary" was a postwar construct.

The true author of the diary was a man, Meyer Levin. He demanded payment for his work in a court action against Anne's father, Otto Frank. Meyer Levin was awarded $50,000 and the matter was resolved quietly.

Arguably, the most famous of all Holocaust "survivors" is Eliezer Wiesel, born Sept 30, 1928. His depictions of this trying ordeals during the Holocaust won him the Nobel Peace Prize in 1986 due to "the accuracy of his Holocaust testimony."

Nobel... Peace... Prize...

Of course, Wiesel's "stories" were shown to be fabricated when Holocaust researchers used the official Holocaust records at Auschwitz to prove that Wiesel's tattoo number actually belonged to a man with a different name and a different birth date. Likewise, Wiesel claimed his father possessed the tattoo of the number immediately preceding his own. Yet researchers likewise discovered this number belonged to a man with a different name and a different birth date than Wiesel's father.

Then, of course, there were Wiesel's obvious lies. Time Magazine, March 18, 1985, wrote,

"How had he survived two of the most notorious killing fields? 'I will never know', Wiesel says. 'I was always weak. I never ate. The slightest wind would turn me over. In Buchenwald, they sent 10,000 to their deaths every day. I was always in the last hundred near the gate. They stopped. Why?"

On the contrary, Buchenwald only held an average of 20,000 prisoners, and at its height, 60,000. Plus, it had no gas chambers.

...sent 10,000 to their deaths every day ...every day ...every day

After these discoveries, Wiesel's stories became closely scrutinized, and many more of his lies began unraveling. Was his Nobel Peace Prize (for historical accuracy) revoked once it was discovered his story was fabricated propaganda?

Of course not.

And right after the war, in his 1949 memoir, Bruno Baum, the jewish-communist President of East Germany and former inmate at Auschwitz, admitted that jews in the concentration camps had indeed fabricated the war crimes of the 'Nazis':

"It is no exaggeration when I say that the majority of all Auschwitz propaganda, which was spread at that time all over the world, was written by ourselves in the camp. We carried out this propaganda [for] the world public until our very last day of presence in Auschwitz."

If there is so much evidence to support the Holocaust story, then why have courts ruled that there is no actual overt or documented evidence:

If there is so much evidence to support the Holocaust story, then why is it illegal in 34 countries to even ask for evidence of the Holocaust? Truth fears no investigation. However, the following countries fear that you might question the Holocaust:

Only lies need to be shielded from debate.

William Lawrence Shirer, American journalist and war correspondent, and author of several books on the Holocaust, claimed, "All of the Nazi concentration camps were death camps."

In 1945, Allied propaganda also stated that all of the concentration camps, particularly those in Germany, were "death" camps. But doesn't it seem a little suspicious that every camp which was later inspected by scientists was then "cleared" of all claims of extermination? The only camps not cleared of this claim were the 6 camps liberated by the Soviets. These camps were NOT allowed to be inspected.

Strange coincidence, huh?

Since then, it has been made illegal for scientists to inspect the remaining camps. Despite this ban, revisionists have continued to make progress in this area, and Majdanek is no longer considered a "death" camp.

Majdanek Though many scholars have traditionally counted the Majdanek camp as a sixth killing center, recent research had shed more light on the functions and operations at

This following letter, recorded on page 210 in Rozek's book, urges the British broadcasting Company and British churches enter into a conspiracy to falsely accuse the Germans of heinous wartime atrocities and 'crimes against humanity' in order to protect the public reputation of their ally, the blood-thirsty 'Russian' Bolsheviks (many of whom were indeed ethnic jews) who had raped, plundered, and murdered their way west across Europe during the German retreat. From the date of this letter, there is strong implication that the 'Holocaust' propaganda campaign was planned long before the war ended, and certainly long before the Allies opened the concentration camps to "discover" the alleged "evidence" of German "atrocities":

On February 29, 1944 the British Ministry of Information sent the following note to the higher British clergy and to the BBC.

Sir.

I am directed by the Ministry to send you the following circular letter: It is often the duty of the good citizens and of the pious Christians to turn a blind eye on the peculiarities of those associated with us.

But the time comes when such peculiarities, while still denied in public, must be taken into account when action by us is called for.

We know the methods of rule employed by the Bolshevik dictator in Russia itself from, for example, the writing and speeches of the Prime Minister himself during the last twenty years. We know how the Red Army behaved in Poland in 1920 and in Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Galicia, and Bessarabia only recently.

We must, therefore, take into account how the Red Army will certainly behave when it overruns Central Europe. Unless precautions are taken, the obviously inevitable horrors which will result will throw an undue strain on public opinion in this country.

We cannot reform the Bolsheviks but we can do our best to save them—and ourselves—from the consequences of their acts. The disclosures of the past quarter of a century will render mere denials unconvincing. The only alternative to denial is to distract public attention from the whole subject.

Experience has shown that the best distraction is atrocity propaganda directed against the enemy. Unfortunately the public is no longer so susceptible as in the days of the "Corpse Factory," the "Mutilated Belgian Babies," and the "Crucified Canadians."

Your cooperation is therefore earnestly sought to distract public attention from the doings of the Red Army by your wholehearted support of various charges against the Germans and Japanese which have been and will be put into circulation by the Ministry.

Your expression of belief in such may convince others.

I am, Sir, Your obedient servant,

(Signed) H. HEWET, ASSISTANT SECRETARY
The Ministry can enter into no correspondence of any kind with regard

It is unknown how many recipients of this communication complied with the above instructions.

On March 9, 1944 Mr. McLaren, the Head of the Political Desk of the Political Intelligence Department in the British Foreign Office, informed Mr. J. Zaranski, the counselor to the Polish Prime Minister, that he had received a specific order to prepare a series of broadcasts to Poland in Polish and other languages in order to prepare Polish public opinion about the necessity of giving up a considerable part of its eastern territories without mentioning, for the time being, the Curzon Line. These broadcasts were almost ready in the BBC, and they would go on the air without any delay. Upon being informed -Actually, the Nazi concentration camps were relatively nice places to live, considering the circumstances. The inmates had rabbits, could garden, and went on picnics outside the walls. The Germans built schools for the interned children and nurseries for the babies who were born to the inmates during internment. There was a hospital and an advanced dental facility with the latest equipment. The inmates got weekends off, organized an orchestra, watched movies in the theatre, performed plays, and competed in soccer leagues. They even earned money for working, and could relax on their off-days with a dip in the swimming pool or with a trip to the inmate operated and brothel (which only serviced inmates). Moreover, they were not even charged for the amenities!

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In 1939 and 1940, camp living conditions were acceptable: laundry and bed linen were changed regularly and the food was adequate, although in the first winter of 1939/40, limitations began to be noticeable. The German Communist, Margarete Buber-Neumann, came to Ravensbrück as an inmate after nearly two years in a Russian Soviet Gulag. She described her first impressions of Ravensbrück in comparison to the Soviet camp in Karaganda:

I looked across the great square, and could not believe my eyes. It was surrounded by manicured lawns, covered by flower beds on which bloomed bright red flowers. A wide street, which led to a large open area, was flanked by two rows of wooden barracks, on both sides stood rows of young trees and along the roadside ran straight flower beds as far as the eye could see. The square and the streets seemed freshly raked. To the left towards the watchtower, I saw a white wooden barrack and beside it a large cage, the size of a birdhouse the like you see at a zoo. Within it paraded peacocks (stolzierten) and on a climbing tree dangled monkeys and a parrot which always screamed the same word, "Mama". I wondered, "this is a concentration camp"?^{[16][17]}

Mietek Grocher (1926–2017), was a Polish Jewish author from Sweden and public speaker who survived the Holocaust. Grocher recounted the events in his 1996 memoir Jag överlevde (English translation: I survived).

Grocher was born in 1926 in Warsaw, Poland. As a teenager during World War II he resided with his family in the Warsaw Ghetto. Grocher claims to have survived nine different Nazi concentration camps during World War II including Buchenwald and Majdanek. He also wrote that he survived the Majdanek gas chambers. When he realized he was led to gassing by the guards, he began walking backwards. The SS man guarding the door to the gas chambers was in conversation with another guard and so Grocher escaped unnoticed, to join his father. He was the only member of his family to survive the Final Solution. Since the end of the war Grocher has lived in Västerås, Sweden and traveled around Swedish schools giving speeches about the events of the Holocaust. He died in December 2017.

Auschwitz Survivor Gena Turgel Walked Out of Gas Chamber Alive

... 26 2016 / 12:26 PM GMT

LONDON - Of all the stories of survival from the Auschwitz concentration camp, Gena Turgel's is one of the most astonishing.

"When I think back, I have to pinch myself sometimes to see if I'm really alive," the 90-year-old told NBC News.

Turgel, an elegant woman with more than a hint of mischief in her blue eyes, survived not one or two, but three Nazi concentration camps.

In the most notorious of all, Auschwitz-Birkeanau, she was herded naked into a gas chamber with hundreds of others.

Yet Turgel, who was 21 at the time, walked out alive.

She had no idea the Nazis had tried to kill her until a woman she knew said, "Don't you know what has just happened to you? You were in the gas chamber!"

Turgel still looks amazed to have cheated death.

"I completely lost my voice," she said. "I just never realized I was in the gas chamber ... it must not have worked."

TRUE TALE: Soocha Renay, Jackson Heights songstress, is heing screentested by 20th Century-box. Her own life story would top any Hollywood thriller. She escaped a Nazi firing squad (which executed her parents) by dropping as if the bulets had found their mark. Recaptured later by Gestapo agents she slaved as a laborer in a concentration camp. At 12, she narrowly escaped the gas chamber when she collapsed from hunger and was hospitalized. Friends smuggled her to Vienna and nursed her back to health. Six years ago Soocha arrived here to forget the past and begin anew. Long Island Star Journal (NY), June 7, 1956, p.15

She escaped being killed because she needed to be hospitalized to save her life so she could be killed properly.

How could the most powerful, most technologically advanced military in the word be so inefficient at killing?

Why round up jews and transport them hundreds and thousands of miles to "death" camps, feeding and clothing them along the way, only to execute them upon arrival? Why do this when men and resources are needed to fight a world war on two fronts? Would not a simple bayonet thrust be cheaper and more efficient?

Gas chamber survivor recalls brush with death

WARSAW, Poland (AP) There was silence in the gas chamber. Young Halina Grynsztain was holding the hands of her sister-in-law, looking into her eyes, trying to imagine what death would be like and how it would come.

Frozen in horror, with 200 other naked Jewish women and girls, they waited all night for the Zyklon B gas to start hissing through the sham shower heads. "We knew it was the end," she recalled. "We knew nobody had ever left this place alive.

Thirteen-year-old Halina knew her mother had died two months earlier in the same gas chamber at the Nazi death camp at Majdanek.

At first, the women pounded on the heavy, iron doors that shut behind them. Then all was quiet. "When death is unavoid-able, people accept it," said the woman, now Halina Birenbaum

In the chamber, "suspended etween hope and the unavoidable, we waited from one moment to another,"

Hope won out that night in July 1943. The gas chamber doors suddenly swung open.

"There was no gas that night. They ran out of gas," she said simply, as if mentioning a temporary shortage of washing powder in a shop.

The women were immediately loaded into boxcars and sent to Auschwitz, the notorious death camp where from 1940 to 1945

This makes two who survived because the Nazis ran out of gas. I wonder why evil Nazis didn't switch to their 82,000,000 pounds of nerve agent gases?

A native of Poland, the Conventional Franciscan was rounded up when Hitler rose to power and shipped off to the Auschwitz prison camp, where hundreds of thousands of Jews were killed

He survived Auschwitz only because there was no more room in the gas chamber on his appointed day. A short time later he was taken to another camp, where he was liberated by American troops two hours before he was to be executed

At the time of his release the now burly Franciscan weighed 68 pounds

It was at the Auschwitz death camp that Brother Kolowski said he discovered the meaning of life. "I received my spiritual confirmation there," he recalled.

"In order not to lose the battle, you have to pick the proper salvation philosophy: self-preservation," he said. "Hang onto hope, religion - then the deep waters of your heart are not disturbed, only the surface You have recourse to hope, there is always the chance you

His efforts to organize secret Masses for prisoners earned Brother Kolowski the title 'Bishop of Auschwitz." He often assisted the priests by carrying the consecrated host under a patch on his uniform.

Franciscan Brother Stanley: the numbers of Auschwitz.

He also talks about his prison camp experiences to church, student and civic groups His message is forgiving, stressing "pity and sympathy" for his oppressors, and hopeful.

"We have to adjust to where God places us today," he says. "Christ's message is still ringing Not for Mussolini, Stalin or Hitler - for us, today

I guess it was really hard to reschedule his appointment.

Another scheduling problem. It is too bad there is no other possible way to kill someone at a death camp.

So what did the contemporaries of the day say about the horrible Holocaust?

-Actually, there was no mention of it at all, as if it never happened.

Robert Faurisson, a French academic who became a prominent Holocaust Denier in the 1970s, once made an extremely interesting observation regarding the memoirs of Eisenhower, Churchill, and De Gaulle:

Three of the best known works on the Second World War are General Eisenhower's Crusade in Europe (New York: Doubleday [Country Life Press], 1948), Winston Churchill's The Second World War (London: Cassell, 6 vols., 1948-1954), and the Mémoires de guerre of General de Gaulle (Paris: Plon, 3 vols., 1954-1959). In these three works not the least mention of Nazi gas chambers is to be found.

Eisenhower's Crusade in Europe is a book of 559 pages; the six volumes of Churchill's Second World War total 4,448 pages; and de Gaulle's three-volume Mémoires de guerre is 2,054 pages. In this mass of writing, which altogether totals 7,061 pages (not including the introductory parts), published from 1948 to 1959, one will find no mention either of Nazi "gas chambers," a "genocide" of the Jews, or of "six million" Jewish victims of the war.

Given that the Holocaust would reasonably rank as the single most remarkable episode of the Second World War, such striking omissions must almost force us to place Eisenhower, Churchill, and De Gaulle among the ranks of "implicit Holocaust Deniers."

HOLMIUM, HOLE min um (chemical symbol, Ho), is one of the rare-earth metals. Its atomic number is 67, and its atomic weight is 164.930. The Swiss scientist L. Soret first identified the element in 1878. The following year, P. T. Cleve of Sweden independently discovered, and also named, the element. The name comes from Holmia, the Latin word for Stockholm, Sweden. Holmium occurs in gadolinite and similar minerals that bear rare earths. It is best separated from other rare earths by ion-exchange processes. The metal has a silver color. It melts at about 2730°F., and boils at about 4890°F. The cream-colored oxide Ho₂O₃ is soluble in mineral acid.

Jewish Holocaust "survivors" repeatedly reported witnessing mass exterminations of prisoners. They reported that the exterminations could be witnessed from standing practically anywhere in the camp. They went on to describe in great detail the exact processes of exterminations used. The gas chamber is admitted to be the very first building one sees after arriving to Auschwitz. And yet, in the following report, the Red Cross admitted sending workers to inspect the camp. After the inspection, it was concluded that Auschwitz was a work camp and that not a single trace of extermination facilities could be found:

A Factual Appraisal Of The 'Holocaust' By The Red Cross

The Jews And The Concentration Camps: No Evidence Of Genocide

There is one survey of the Jewish question in Europe during World War Two and the conditions of Germany's concentration camps which is almost unique in its honesty and objectivity, the three-volume Report of the International Committee of the Red Cross on its Activities during the Second World War, Geneva, 1948.

This comprehensive account from an entirely neutral source incorporated and expanded the findings of two previous works: Documents sur l'activité du CICR en faveur des civils détenus dans les camps de concentration en Allemagne 1939-1945 (Geneva, 1946), and Inter Arma Caritas: the Work of the ICRC during the Second World War (Geneva, 1947). The team of authors, headed by Frédéric Siordet, explained in the opening pages of the Report that their object, in the tradition of the Red Cross, had been strict political neutrality, and herein lies its great value.

The ICRC successfully applied the 1929 Geneva military convention in order to gain access to civilian internees held in Central and Western Europe by the Germany authorities. By contrast, the ICRC was unable to gain any access to the Soviet Union, which had failed to ratify the Convention. The millions of civilian and military internees held in the USSR, whose conditions were known to be by far the worst, were completely cut off from any international contact or supervision.

The Red Cross Report is of value in that it first clarifies the legitimate circumstances under which Jews were detained in concentration camps, i.e. as enemy aliens. In describing the two categories of civilian internees, the Report distinguishes the second type as "Civilians deported on administrative grounds (in German, "Schutzhäftlinge"), who were arrested for political or racial motives because their presence was considered a danger to the State or the occupation forces" (Vol. 111, p. 73). These persons, it continues, "were placed on the same footing as persons arrested or imprisoned under common law for security reasons." (P.74).

The Report admits that the Germans were at first reluctant to permit supervision by the Red Cross of people detained on grounds relating to security, but by the latter part of 1942, the ICRC obtained important concessions from Germany. They were permitted to distribute food parcels to major concentration camps in Germany from August 1942, and "from February 1943 onwards this concession was extended to all other camps and prisons" (Vol. 111, p. 78). The ICRC soon established contact with camp commandants and launched a food relief programme which continued to function until the last months of 1945, letters of thanks for which came pouring in from Jewish internees.

Red Cross Recipients Were Jews

The Report states that "As many as 9,000 parcels were packed daily. >From the autumn of 1943 until May 1945, about 1,112,000 parcels with a total weight of 4,500 tons were sent off to the concentration camps" (Vol. III, p. 80). In addition to food, these contained clothing and pharmaceutical supplies. "Parcels were sent to Dachau, Buchenwald, Sangerhausen, Sachsenhausen, Oranienburg, Flossenburg, Landsberg-am-Lech, Flöha, Ravensbrück, Hamburg-Neuengamme, Mauthausen, Theresienstadt, Auschwitz, Bergen-Belsen, to camps near Vienna and in Central and Southern Germany. The principal recipients were Belgians, Dutch, French, Greeks, Italians, Norwegians, Poles and stateless Jews" (Vol. III, p. 83).

In the course of the war, "The Committee was in a position to transfer and distribute in the form of relief supplies over twenty million Swiss francs collected by Jewish welfare organisations throughout the world, in particular by the American Joint Distribution Committee of New York" (Vol. I, p. 644). This latter organisation was permitted by the German Government to maintain offices in Berlin until the American entry into the war. The ICRC complained that obstruction of their vast relief operation for Jewish internees came not from the Germans but from the tight Allied blockade of Europe. Most of their purchases of relief food were made in Rumania, Hungary and Slovakia.

The ICRC had special praise for the liberal conditions which prevailed at Theresienstadt up to the time of their last visits there in April 1945. This camp, "where there were about 40,000 Jews deported from various countries was a relatively privileged ghetto" (Vol. III, p. 75). According to the Report, "The Committee's delegates were able to visit the camp at Theresienstadt (Terezin) which was used exclusively for Jews and was governed by special conditions. From information gathered by the Committee, this camp had been started as an experiment by certain leaders of the Reich ... These men wished to give the Jews the means of setting up a communal life in a town under their own administration and possessing almost complete autonomy. . . two delegates were able to visit the camp on April 6th, 1945. They confirmed the favourable impression gained on the first visit" (Vol. I, p. 642).

The ICRC also had praise for the regime of Ion Antonescu of Fascist Rumania where the Committee was able to extend special relief to 183,000 Rumanian Jews until the time of the Soviet occupation. The aid then ceased, and the ICRC complained bitterly that it never succeeded "in sending anything whatsoever to Russia" (Vol. II, p. 62). The same situation applied to many of the German camps after their "liberation" by the Russians. The ICRC received a voluminous flow of mail from Auschwitz until the period of the Soviet occupation, when many of the internees were evacuated westward. But the efforts of the Red Cross to send relief to internees remaining at Auschwitz under Soviet control were futile. However, food parcels continued to be sent to former Auschwitz immates transferred west to such camps as Buchenwald and Oranienburg.

No Evidence Of Genocide

One of the most important aspects of the Red Cross Report is that it clarifies the true cause of those deaths that undoubtedly occurred in the camps toward the end of the war. Says the Report: "In the chaotic condition of Germany after the invasion during the final months of the war, the camps received no food supplies at all and starvation claimed an increasing number of victims. Itself alarmed by this situation, the German Government at last informed the ICRC on February 1st, 1945 ... In March 1945, discussions between the President of the ICRC and General of the S.S. Kaltenbrunner gave even more decisive results. Relief could henceforth be distributed by the ICRC, and one delegate was authorised to stay in each camp ..." (Vol. III, p. 83).

Clearly, the German authorities were at pains to relieve the dire situation as far as they were able. The Red Cross are quite explicit in stating that food supplies ceased at this time due to the Allied bombing of German transportation, and in the interests of interned Jews they had protested on March 15th, 1944 against "the barbarous aerial warfare of the Allies" (Inter Arma Caritas, p. 78). By October 2nd, 1944, the ICRC warned the German Foreign Office of the impending collapse of the German transportation system, declaring that starvation conditions for people throughout Germany were becoming inevitable.

In dealing with this comprehensive, three-volume Report, it is important to stress that the delegates of the International Red Cross found no evidence whatever at the camps in Axis occupied Europe of a deliberate policy to exterminate the Jews. In all its 1,600 pages the Report does not even mention such a thing as a gas chamber. It admits that Jews, like many other wartime nationalities, suffered rigours and privations, but its complete silence on the subject of planned extermination is ample refutation of the Six Million legend. Like the Vatican representatives with whom they worked, the Red Cross found itself unable to indulge in the irresponsible charges of genocide which had become the order of the day. So far as the genuine mortality rate is concerned, the Report points out that most of the Jewish doctors from the camps were being used to combat typhus on the eastern front, so that they were unavailable when the typhus epidemics of 1945 broke out in the camps (Vol. I, p. 204 ff) - Incidentally, it is frequently claimed that mass executions were carried out in gas chambers cunningly disguised as shower facilities. Again the Report makes nonsense of this allegation. "Not only the washing places, but installations for baths, showers and laundry were inspected by the delegates. They had often to take action to have fixtures made less primitive, and to get them repaired or enlarged" (Vol. III, p. 594).

Not All Were Interned

Volume III of the Red Cross Report, Chapter 3 (I. Jewish Civilian Population) deals with the "aid given to the Jewish section of the free population," and this chapter makes it quite plain that by no means all of the European Jews were placed in internment camps, but remained, subject to certain restrictions, as part of the free civilian population. This conflicts directly with the "thoroughness" of the supposed "extermination programme", and with the claim in the forged Höss memoirs that Eichmann was obsessed with seizing "every single Jew he could lay his hands on."

In Slovakia, for example, where Eichmann's assistant Dieter Wisliceny was in charge, the Report states that "A large proportion of the Jewish minority had permission to stay in the country, and at certain periods Slovakia was looked upon as a comparative haven of refuge for Jews, especially for those coming from Poland. Those who remained in Slovakia seem to have been in comparative safety until the end of August 1944, when a rising against the German forces took place. While it is true that the law of May 15th, 1942 had brought about the internment of several thousand Jews, these people were held in camps where the conditions of food and lodging were tolerable, and where the internees were allowed to do paid work on terms almost equal to those of the free labour market" (Vol. I, p. 646).

Not only did large numbers of the three million or so European Jews avoid internment altogether, but the emigration of Jews continued throughout the war, generally by way of Hungary, Rumania and Turkey. Ironically, postwar Jewish emigration from German-occupied territories was also facilitated by the Reich, as in the case of the Polish Jews who had escaped to France before its occupation. "The Jews from Poland who, whilst in France, had obtained entrance permits to the United States were held to be American citizens by the German occupying authorities, who further agreed to recognize the validity of about three thousand passports issued to Jews by the consulates of South American countries" (Vol. I, p. 645).

As future U.S. citizens, these Jews were held at the Vittel camp in southern France for American aliens. The emigration of European Jews from Hungary in particular proceeded during the war unhindered by the German authorities. "Until March 1944," says the. Red Cross Report, "Jews who had the privilege of visas for Palestine were free to leave Hungary" (Vol. I, p. 648). Even after the replacement of the Horthy Government in 1944 (following its attempted armistice with the Soviet Union) with a government more dependent on German authority, the emigration of Jews continued.

The Committee secured the pledges of both Britain and the United States "to give support by every means to the emigration of Jews from Hungary," and from the U.S. Government the ICRC received a message stating that "The Government of the United States ... now specifically repeats its assurance that arrangements will be made by it for the care of all Jews who in the present circumstances are allowed to leave" (Vol. I, p. 649).

Biedermann agreed that in the nineteen instances that "Did Six Million Really Die?" quoted from the Report of the International Committee of the Red Cross on its Activities during the Second World War and Inter Arma Caritas (this includes the above material), it did so accurately.

A quote from Charles Biedermann (a delegate of the International Committee of the Red Cross and Director of the Red Cross' International Tracing Service) under oath at the Zündel Trial (February 9, 10, 11 and 12, 1988).

-No, 6 million Jews did not die. To the right is the Red Cross report of the number of deaths from all inspected concentration camps. After the inspections, it was reported that 271,304 inmates had died. This number included both jews and non-jews.

The Red Cross also confirmed the main cause of death was disease.

15.6 million jews alive before WW2, minus 6 million killed during WW2, equals 15.69 million jews after?

According to the official Nazi records, there were some 11,292,300 jews in Europe, but only 4,536,500 were under German control. The rest—some 6,755,800—were either in countries not occupied or not controlled by Germany. (Bulgaria: 48,000; England: 330,000; Finland: 2,300; Ireland: 4,000; Italy, including Sardinia: 58,000; Albania: 200; Croatia: 40,000; Portugal: 3,000; Romania, including Bessarabia: 342,000; Sweden: 8,000; Switzerland: 18,000; Serbia: 10,000; Slovakia: 88,000; Spain: 6,000; Turkey: 55,500; Hungary: 742,800; and the USSR: 5,000,000).

According to the present-day German government, 4,384,138 individual claims for compensation were made by Holocaust survivors.

4.5 million jews under Nazi control, minus 6 million killed, equals 4.38 million survive?

If 6 million jews were murdered between 1933 and 1948, then why isn't this shown in the above documents?

The following letter is in response to an information request made in the early 1980s of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) for their official records of all deaths during WW2 at all German Internment camps. In 1955, the ICRC took on the responsibility of recording the names of people shown to be dead or missing as a result of the war.

But aren't there records of Hitler ordering the deaths of 6 million Jews?

-Actually, no. No such records exist:

Institute for Historical Review

Letter to 'The Nation'

PAUL RASSINIER

1 October 1962

Dear Editor:

I would like to make a few comments about the book review by Ernest Zaugg (The Nation, 14 July 1962) dealing with my three books about the German concentration camps, the responsibility for World War II and the Eichmann trial (The Lie of Ulysses, Ulysses Betrayed by his Fellows, and The Real Eichmann Trial).

Genocide

Until Eichmann's arrest it was a sacred dogma of journalists to believe there were orders to exterminate the Jews issued by the top Nazis of the Third Reich. Nobody has ever produced such an order, but this has not prevented the theory that such orders were given from being stubbornly maintained. Then came the Eichmann trial. It was deemed necessary to prove that he was responsible for the exterminatons and had acted without orders. Hence, finally, the lack of evidence of such orders from the top Nazis was admitted. Dr. Kubovy. Directer of the Tel Aviv Center for Contemporary Jewish Documentation, wrote (La Terre Retrouvée, 15 December 1960):

No document signed by Hitler, Himmler or Heydrich exists which speaks of the extermination of the Jews. The word "Extermination" does not appear in Göring's letter to Heydrich about the final solution of the Jewish problem.

This is what I have been saying since 1948. It disposes of the theory of "deliberate genocide" in which Mr. Zaugg seems to believe.

"Ninety-nine percent of what we know [about the Holocaust] we do not actually have the physical evidence to prove... it has become part of our inherited knowledge."

 Robert Jan van Pelt (A Case for Letting Nature Take Back Auschwitz, The Toronto Star, 27 December 2009)

"There does not exist then, anything like a written order signed by [Hitler] for the extermination of the Jews in Europe."

- Colin Cross (Adolf Hitler, 1973, p. 313)

"Predictably, a written order by Hitler for the 'Final Solution' was not found. The presumption that a single, explicit written order had ever been given had long been dismissed by most historians."

 lan Kershaw (Hitler, the Germans, and the Final Solution, 2008, p. 96)

"What became known in high Nazi circles as the Fuehrer Order on the Final Solution apparently was never committed to paper at least no copy of it has yet been unearthed."

 William Shirer (The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich, 1960, p. 1256) "There subsists no document bearing an extermination order signed by Hitler... the traces are not only few and far between, but difficult to interpret."

 Philippe Burrin (Hitler et les Juifs: Genèse d'un génocide, 1994, p. 13)

"Insofar as no one has yet discovered a written trace of this order [to exterminate the Jews] in the sources which have been exploited up to the present."

 Saul Friedländer (L'Allemagne nazie et le genocide juif, 1985, pp. 177)

"No written document containing or reporting an explicit command to exterminate the Jews has come to light thus far."

 Arno J. Mayer (Why did the Heavens not Darken?: The 'Final Solution' in History, 1990, pp. 235-36)

"No written order by Hitler for the extermination of the Jews has been discovered and the evidence of an oral order is only indirect."

 J. Noakes and G. Pridham (Nazism: A History in Documents and Eyewitness accounts 1919-1945 -Vol. 2, 1988, p. 1136)

Just to be clear, all of the Orthodox historians quoted above do believe that "The Holocaust" did take place – as in, they believe that a deliberate and systematic extermination of 5 to 6 million Jews by the Third Reich occurred – but clearly lament the lack of documentary evidence to substantiate this theory.

Didn't you just say that the Final Solution was real?

Yes, and that is the primary point of contention between orthodox and revisionist historians. Orthodox Holocaust historians define the "Final Solution" as a "systematic, state-sponsored extermination of Jews." In his 1976 book "The Hoax of the Twentieth Century" Professor Arthur Butz developed a revisionist definition:^[5]

"The 'Final Solution' meant the expulsion of all Jews from the German sphere of influence in Europe. After the invasion of Russia its specific meaning was the resettlement of these Jews in the East."

The death tolls of these camps skyrocketed in the final months of the war due to war-time conditions such as lack of food, medicine, water and overcrowding which led to mass starvation and outbreaks of disease. For example, at Buchenwald (established in 1937), 40% of the deaths were in the final 100 days of the war; similar trends can be observed for Dachau and Bergen-Belsen. Indeed, starvation and disease were rampant all over war-torn Germany at the time. Huge outbreaks of disease in the camps did indeed happen before the end of the war, and this led Heinrich Himmler on 28 December 1942 to order that the death rates "absolutely must be reduced" in the concentration camps.

The photographs of the piles of corpses and emaciated prisoners taken at the liberated camps are not considered fake by revisionists, but they assert that they are not a result of a systematic extermination policy; instead, the deaths were due to the catastrophic conditions described above. Orthodox Holocaust historian Norbert Frei explains:^[12]

"The shock of these discoveries [of mountains of corpses] often led to false conclusions which turned out to be enduring."

Anyway, talks of a "Solution to the Jewish question" were made prior to the 1940s and even before Hitler was elected. In fact, even some Jewish leaders spoke of this. The Third Reich also had a Jewish emigration policy prior to the outbreak of the war.

Numerous examples exist of Jews discussing a "[Final] solution to the Jewish question" before Hitler's rise to power. [27] In fact, the Third Reich collaborated with Zionists to promote Jewish emigration in the years preceding World War II. [23]

On 28 August 1933, soon after Hitler gained power, the Reich Economics Ministry concluded the "Haavara Agreement" with the Jewish Agency for Palestine, an accord that was intended to lay the basis for the emigration of approximately 52,000 German Jews to Palestine by 1942. [23]

In January 1939, the Rublee-Wohlthat Agreement was reached. On 24 January 1939, as a response to the agreement, Hermann Goering issued a decree which approved the establishment of a "Reich Central Office for Jewish Emigration", with Reinhard Heydrich in charge. In the first line, Goering summarized the basic principle of the policy regarding Jews: "The emigration of the Jews out of Germany is to be advanced by all means." [24]

On 25 January 1939, a report by the Foreign Ministry with the title "The Jewish question as a factor of foreign policy in 1938" stated that "The final goal of German policy regarding the Jews is the emigration of all Jews living in the territory of the Reich." [25]

By September 1939, World War II had broken out and it became increasingly difficult to resettle the Jews under German control. The Germans also had an increased need for labor to help assist the war effort and therefore interned Jews into concentration camps for the purpose of labor.

Initially, there was a plan to resettle the Jews of Poland into the French colony of Madagascar. Such a plan was actually suggested earlier by the Polish government in 1937, two years before Hitler's invasion of Poland and the start of World War II. There was also a discussion of this in Britain, France, and South Africa. The Third Reich proposed a "Madagascar plan" in June 1940, which was subsequently postponed in September of that year and then permanently dropped by early 1942. At this point, the plan was allegedly replaced with a policy of Jewish extermination: "The Holocaust" as we know it. However, the surviving documents on the "Final Solution" do not speak of any extermination of Jews, but rather resettlement, internment, and deportation.

What are some of these "Final Solution" documents?

On 24 June 1940, Reinhard Heydrich who is often called "One of the main architects of the Holocaust" wrote a letter to Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop: [28]

"Field Marshall General [Goering] commissioned myself in January 1939 with implementing Jewish emigration from the whole Reich territory. Despite difficulties, in the following period it proved possible to successfully continue with Jewish emigration, even during the war... The overall problem... can no longer be solved through emigration however. A territorial final solution is therefore necessary. May I request that I be allowed to participate in any forthcoming discussions concerned with the final solution of the Jewish question should any be planned."

On 12 July 1940, after meeting with Hitler, Hans Frank, Hitler's personal lawyer and governor of occupied Poland, made a speech in which he declared: [29]

"From the viewpoint of general policy, I would like to add that it was decided to deport all the Jewish communities of Germany, of the General Government [Poland], and of the Protectorate [Bohemia-Moravia] to an African or an American colony as soon as possible after having made peace: Madagascar, which France would have to abandon to that end, has been suggested."

On 20 June 1941, the intention to defer the "Solution to the Jewish problem" until after the war was revealed in the "Brown Portfolio," which was devised by Alfred Rosenberg on 20 June 1941. This was later integrated into the "Green Portfolio" of September 1942:^[30]

"All measures for the Jewish problem in the occupied eastern territories must be executed with the perspective that the Jewish problem will be solved for all of Europe in general after the war... Measures, which are of a purely harassing nature, are to be refrained from under any circumstances as being unworthy of a German."

On 31 July 1941, Goering sent a letter to Heydrich reaffirming his task^[31]

"to solve the Jewish question by emigration and evacuation... for a total solution of the Jewish question in those territories in Europe under German influence."

On 22 August 1941 SS-Sturmbannführer Carltheo Zeitschel, an advisor at the German embassy in Paris, wrote a note to ambassador Otto Abetz, explaining how "The progressive conquest and occupation of the far eastern territories can presently bring the Jewish problem in all of Europe to a final satisfactory solution" via deportations of Jews to these regions.^[32]

On 25 October 1941 Franz Rademacher, Legation Counselor at the Foreign Office, composed a note, which announced the shooting of 8,000 male Serbian Jews after "numerous acts of sabotage and revolt" and reported that [33]

"As soon as the technical possibility exists within the scope of the total solution of the Jewish question, the Jews will be deported by sea to the reception camps in the east."

Initially the Nazi plan to evacuate all jews under its control was open-ended. A number of projects and possibilities were considered, including resettling the jews to Rhodesia, Madagascar, Russia or Palestine. The most promising of options caused the National Socialists to work with the Zionist jews in an attempt to get the German jews to voluntarily emigrate from Germany to Palestine. SS General Reinhard Heydrich, chief of the Reich Main Security Office, in cooperation with the Zionists, set up farms in German occupied Czechoslovakia where jews who wished to emigrate to Palestine were taught basic agricultural skills. These Nazi-trained jewish farmers were then smuggled through Turkey into Palestine during the war, and became an important factor in the creation of Israel.

However, these plans proved impractical as the war raged on. Eventually, a conference of top Nazi leaders was called in January 1942 at a villa in the suburb of Wannsee outside Berlin. This meeting is known as the "Wannsee Conference." It is often claimed that this conference was the place where the mass murder of the jews was planned, but the minutes of the meeting—which survived the warshow nothing of the sort. Instead, the conference actually discussed evacuating jews to the newly occupied areas of Russia, and never mentioned mass extermination. Even then, the minutes said, certain groups of jews were to be excluded from these deportations, such as World War I veterans, those married to Germans, and those working in vital industries in Germany.

I put it to him that the terrorist treatment meted out to the Jews was a political error, and that he ought to use other means if he would be rid of the German Jews. I pointed out to him that the Reichsbank had estimated the value of Jewish property in Germany at around six billion Reichsmark. I suggested that this Jewish property should be administered by an international trust committee, and that on the basis of the security of this property at its valuation of 6 billion, a dollar loan amounting to some 11 billion Reichsmark should be raised. Jews all over the world would be invited to subscribe to this loan. I thought that the taking up of such a 11 billion loan should not prove too difficult for the many well-to-do Jews living abroad. Out of the Dollar proceeds of this loan the trust committee would give each German Jew who intended to emigrate a suitable amount which would enable him to make a new life for himself in another country. This would not only serve the interests of the emigrating Jews, but also those of countries which hesitated to grant entry to penniless Jews. The German Government would guarantee payment of interest in Dollars, and undertake to repay the loan within 20 years.

Astonishingly enough Hitler agreed to this suggestion, and authorised me to negotiate with my London friends in order to ascertain whether such a plan were feasible. Accordingly, early in 1939 I went to London, and first of all put the plan to Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England. He approved of my proposals, and arranged for me to discuss them with one of London's most prominent Jews, Lord Bearstead, the chief of the well-known firm of Samuel & Samuel. He signified his agreement to the plan, but remarked that he would have to discuss it with the spiritual leader of the London Jews, Chaim Weizmann. Two days later he returned to tell me that unfortunately he could not accept my proposal, because Weizmann had been vehemently opposed to the plan. No reason was given. I had to resign myself to the fact that my attempt to give the German Jews their personal and political freedom through a financial transaction had failed, although it was not even a question of a forced sale, but merely one of an interestbearing loan which would be repaid, and which would also leave the

In 1942, the British broke the German codes. The Germans were talking freely and openly about their plans and strategies, and for 3 years, there is not one candid mention of plans to exterminate the jews. It has been claimed that words such as "final solution" and "resettlement" were secret code words for the extermination of the jews. However, since the Germans did not know their codes had been cracked, why would they use secret code words when sending already-encoded messages to one another? To make such a claim even more ridiculous, if the word "resettlement" actually meant "extermination", then why did Hitler arrange for access to the island of Madagascar as a "final solution" to the Jewish Question. Why ship the jews all the way to Madagascar if the plan is to simply kill them? On the contrary, shipping the jews to Madagascar does make sense if the word "resettlement" actually means "resettlement."

It appears that the treatment of intelligence data received throughout the war was, in the main, distinguished by such rigorous evaluation. Even analysts in the British ENIGMA program, which decrypted nearly all German intelligence ciphers from 1942 on, possessed nothing of sufficient moment with which to frame a conclusion of a German extermination policy. Thus, although the Allies had, through the possession of a captured ENIGMA coding machine, decoded the messages of the SS, the Wehrmacht, the Luftwaffe and other organizations, a highly respected authority or the ENIGMA program has little to say on the subject of extermination. In the nearly 1000 pages of Bodyguard of Lies, Anthony Cave Brown refers to the Nazi concentration camps primarily as adjuncts of German industry.

"Mr Reich Minister Lammers informed me that the Führer had repeatedly declared to him that he wants to hear that the Solution of the Jewish Problem has been postponed until after the war is over. That being so, the current discussions are of purely theoretical value, in Mr Reich Minister Lammers' opinion. He will moreover take pains to ensure that, whatever else happens, no fundamental decisions are taken without his knowledge in consequence of a surprise briefing by any third party."

See the dossier on this document's origins. Schlegelberger's undated minute on Lammer's reference to Hitler's ruling is in German Federal Archives (BA) file R.22/52. It was sent to Staatssekretär Freisler and two other officials (bottom left). This document has been published in facsimile in David Irving's books Hitler's War, Goebbels. Mastermind of the Third Reich, and Nuremberg, the Last Battle. It was definitely dated March or April 1942. Lammers was in Berlin on April 26, 1942. See Scheel's report on a talk between Lammers and Meissner after the final Reichstag session that day (T175/139/7479 et seq.).

Note that at a HQ dinner July 24, 1942 Hitler said he will tackle Jewish problem "nach Beendigung des Krieges" (after the war's over).

As part of the peace treaty signed with France, France made the island of Madagascar available for the "solution to the Jewish Question." It is suspected that after his attempt to move the jews to Israel failed (because Israel was occupied), his goal was to move all jews to Madagascar and help them create cities there. To make this plan work, however, Germany needed to make peace with Britain to ensure Britain's powerful navy would not attack the ships transporting the jews. Unfortunately, German attempts at peace failed, and with it, the Madagascar plan also had to be scrapped.

This led to the next plan to solve the Jewish Question involved resettling jews into parts of the vast, open and unoccupied territory of Asia. However, with the eastern front grinding to a standstill, neither could this plan be implemented.

With the failure of the Israel resettlement, the Madagascar resettlement, and the Russia plans, Hitler decided it was time to focus instead upon the war and worry about solving the Jewish Question after the war had ended. Evidence of this is seen in the adjacent document.

After 70 years of study and research, including multiple court trials and evidence discoveries, there exist:

- 1. No Nazi document or recording ordering an extermination of jews.
- 2. No Nazi document, recording or diagram confirming the existence of homicidal gas chambers
- 3. No Nazi document or recording suggesting Zyklon-B be used for criminal purpose
- 4. No significant ferrocyanide traces in the alleged "homicidal gas chambers" of Auschwitz despite there being massive traces in the delousing fumigation chambers used to delouse clothing
- 5. Multiple FAILED attempts to excavate "huge mass graves" in allegedly exactly known locations
- 6. Over half of the 20,000 testimonies at the Yad Vashem Holocaust memorial were declared "unreliable" by the archives director, Israeli historian and Auschwitz survivor, Shmuel Krakowski
- 7. Testimonies do exist from jewish survivors of concentration camps who denied mass killings
- 8. Documented cases do exist of Nazi "confessions" extracted by unspeakable torture.

There also exist records which show the German command was very concerned about the health and wellbeing of the inmates in the camps. Particularly, they worried about the disease outbreaks which would occasionally ravage the camps. In response, they ordered that "every means must be used to lower the death rate in the camp." (see adjacent image)

Why do they need to lower the death rate if it was a death camp?

There are also many records of German guards being severely reprimanded for mistreating the inmates at these "death" camps. If the jews were merely lower lifeforms who needed to be exterminated, why punish Germans for killing those who needed to be killed?

Karl Koch was the commandant of the Buchenwald camp. He was executed by the SS for killing several inmates at a "death" camp.

...executed...for killing someone...at a death camp...

Ok, so maybe the Nazis were the good quys, and I've believed lies about them all my life, but that doesn't change that fact that the Nazis certainly had some really bad apples hidden amongst the good guys. Take, Dr. Mengele, for instance. He was the most sick and perverse human to walk this good Earth, right?

Interestingly enough, the slander of Dr. Mengele also turned out to also be a pack of lies. On the much publicized 75th anniversary of the Soviet liberation of Auschwitz, the gatekeepers of the fake Holocaust Story continued to give ground to the Revisionists. The latest example is a new book by former Museum of Jewish Heritage director David G. Marwell, called "Unmasking the 'Angel of Death'." This this book Markwell grants many revisionist challenges to the legend of Joseph Mengele.

Marwell's work is considered the most well-researched mainstream biography of Mengele to date. In it, he cross references witness testimony from "survivors" with hard evidence and primary sources, only to conclude that their "memories" were "unreliable."

In other words, they are lying.

Stitching together humans to create Siamese twins, smashing babies against train cars, attempts to transform boys into girls - all of the barbarism etched into the popular mind about a German in a lab coat, Marwell concludes, "is nothing but a pack of atrocious hoaxes." He even goes on to claim that Mengele's patients were treated kindly.

By and large, the book admits that what is commonly known about Mengele is fiction constructed by rumors, novels and Hollywood, which have only been held as true thanks to jewish "eyewitnesses" substantiating the hoaxes post-hoc. Mengele's main achievement at the camp, which Marwell credits him for, was containing and preventing a massive outbreak of typhus at Auschwitz under considerably difficult circumstances. His actions saved thousands of lives, both jewish and Gentile alike.

However, Marwell does stress that Mengele was a true-believing National Socialist, which, in Marwell's mind, is an act of evil, in and of itself.

I'm not sure what is more ridiculous, that the Chicago Tribune would print such lies, or that its readers would believe them?

AUSCHWITZ SURVIVORS RECALL HORROR OF NAZI EXPERIMENTS

ne witness described how Nazi Dr. Josef Mengele ripped an infant from its mother's womb, then hurled it into an oven because it wasn't a twin as he had hoped. Another told of killing her newborn infant rather than let it starve in a Mengele experiment. A third witness recounted how Mengele kept hundreds of human eyes pinned to his lab wall "like a collection of butterflies."

So, if there are no Nazi records or Red Cross records showing 6 million jews were killed, and no forensic evidence exists which suggests 6 million jews were killed, and the World Almanacs suggest that 6 million jews were not killed, then why is it claimed that 6 million jews were killed during the Holocaust?

At the Nuremberg Trails in 1945, the court declared that 6 million jews had been systematically exterminated by that Nazis in the death camps.

4 million died in Auschwitz

2 million died in Majdanek

*Then they revised the number at Auschwitz down to 1.5 million exterminated. However, they could not maintain even that number as being reasonable, and so it was lowered again down to 1 million. The Red Cross inspectors put the total number of deaths at 53,389 (this number included both jews and non-jews; also keep in mind that the majority of prisoners at Auschwitz were non-jews).

So, the death total at Auschwitz was reduced by millions, and yet they left the 6 million figure!

*At Majdanek, they now say it was only 350,000 who were exterminated. However, they could not even maintain this number, and it was lowed again down to 78,000. When the Red Cross inspected this camp, they said only 8,831 died.

So, the death total at Majdanek was reduced by millions, and yet they left the 6 million figure!

In some countries you still get arrested for doubting the "6 million" figure. Even though they lowered the "official number" of deaths in the camps, if you doubt the original number, you still go to jail. People are in jail today for what can only be described as 'doing math correctly'. If you doubt the number which they already admit is false, you go to jail. ...to jail!

Poland lowers offical Auschwitz death toll

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — A government commission has lowered the number of people believed to have perished at the Auschwitz death camp during World War II from 4 million to 1.5 million and conceded the overwhelming majority were

The decision to revise the ofjection of original figures generated after the war by the Soviet Union, which still holds the records kept by the camp's commanders.

It is also in line with figures used by historians in West Germany, the United States and Israel who have documented the number of victims of the Holocaust.

government relied on the figure of 4 million as part of a propaganda effort to make Auschwitz a symbol of Nazi op-pression of all peoples, not just the Jews.

The revision was made by a commission appointed by the Culture Ministry which is determining the future direction of a museum at Auschwitz, known in Polish as Oswiecim.

A Soviet commission which came to Auschwitz in February 1945 after its liberation put the number of victims at more than 4 million. That number was questioned by historians in the West, but not in Poland until very recently.

Franciszek Piper, head of the ficial number of those killed in history department of the the Nazi camp was a formal re- Auschwitz Museum, told the Solidarity newspaper Gazeta Wyborcza that examination of the evidence shows at least 1.1 million people died in the camp, including 960,000 Jews. Some 233,000 survived Auschwitz.

The newspaper said the real figure may be higher but does not exceed 1.5 million.

The commission examined transport records, numbers Poland's former communist assigned to prisoners and statistical data from ghettos around Europe to arrive at the figure.

Sam Eskanazi, a spokesman for the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, said the change by the Polish commission reconciles the numbers of Auschwitz dead with those generally accepted by Western historians.

A fake but humorous translation, this video shows the proper reaction to the claim of 6 million: Link (A)

Gerd Honsik: In Austria, on 27 April 2009, Honsik was sentenced to five years in prison for saying 6 million jews did not die in the Holocaust. The judge refused to allow him to introduce evidence that supported his defense.

Ernst Zundel: In Canada, in 1985, Zündel was found guilty of denying 6 million jews died in the Holocaust. Though his conviction was overturned after 7 years, Zundel was then deported to Germany where he was arrested upon arrival for denying the Holocaust. Days before he was to stand trial, Zundel's lawyer was stripped of his right to practice law because it is illegal to introduce evidence in court which denies the Holocaust. A year later, during his retrial, Zundel's new lawyer, Sylvia Storz, was arrested for attempting to defend Zundel in court. Storz was stripped her rights to practice law as well.

Sylvia Storz: In Germany, Storz was arrested and convicted because she attempted to defend Zundel in court. She was sentenced to 5 years. When she was released, she was invited to give a speech in Switzerland. During the speech, she mentioned that 6 million jews did not die during the Holocaust. As a result of her speech given in Switzerland, she was arrested upon arrival in Germany and sentenced to 20 months in prison. She was not allowed to present evidence to defend herself in court.

Wolfgang Frohlich: In 1998, Frolich appeared as an expert witness to defend Jürgen Graf. During this appearance as an expert witness, Frohlich presented evidence that 6 million jews did not die during the Holocaust. This type of evidence is illegal to present, and so he was arrested and sentenced to serve 3 years in prison. When he was released, he sent material to public institutions which contained factually correct information which demonstrated 6 million jews did not die during the Holocaust. As a result, he was arrested and sentenced to 4 years in prison.

Fred Toben: In Germany, 1999, Toben stated that 6 million jews did not die during the Holocaust. He was arrested and sentenced to 7 months. In the United Kingdom, 2008, Toben denied that 6 million jews died during the Holocaust and was arrested and sentenced to 50 days. In Australia, 2009, Toben denied 6 million jews died during the Holocaust. Toben was arrested, sentenced to 3 months in jail, and fined $175,000.

"If you wish to doubt the Holocaust narrative, you must be prepared for personal sacrifice, for marriage and family break-up, for loss of career, and to go to prison."

If 6 million Jews were not killed, then why are we constantly told again and again that 6 million jews really did die in a Holocaust? Why is it illegal to believe any other number besides 6 million?

-Well, we can answer this question by first asking why it is claimed that 6 million jews have been repeatedly holocausted hundreds of times just in the last century:

"There are 6,000,000 Jews in Eastern Europe whom the war has left dependent upon us for aid."

This is just a small sampling of the times the Jews have used the number '6 million'. Hundreds of additional examples can be found in the book, Six Million Open Gates, found at this Link (A).

Holocaust Denial is the radical notion that the people who were willing to lie one thousand times about 6 million jews being killed in the last two centuries, are also willing to lie once more about jews dying during WW2.

In fact, they are still at this today:

The reason why they say 'six million' is because this number is a religious number that has spiritual meaning in their religious texts.

The number has nothing to do with truth or reality; it is simply the number that is used when the Jewish leaders want to put forward a particularly important agenda.

When we hear 'Six Million', the question we should ask ourselves is, "What agenda are they trying to force on us this time?"

Israel's new education minister calls intermarriage in US a second Holocaust

JULY 9, 2019 3:07 PM

Rafi Peretz, Israel's Education Minister and chairman of the Jewish Home Party, speaks at a party meeting on June 19, 2019. (Yehuda Haim/Flash90)

JERUSALEM (JTA) — The rate of intermarriage among U.S. Jews is "like a second Holocaust," Israel's new minister of education said.

Rafi Peretz made the statement at a Cabinet meeting on July 1, Axios' Barak Ravid reported Tuesday, citing three people who were in the room.

Peretz, a former chief rabbi of the Israeli army, is head of the Jewish Home party and leader of a united bloc of right-wing parties, accused of having extremists among its ranks.

Peretz said the assimilation of Jews around the world and mostly in the U.S. was "like a second Holocaust," and also said that due to intermarriages in the last 70 years the Jewish people "lost 6 million people," according to the report, which added that Peretz's spokesman confirmed the account.

"Ok, so the Nazis didn't start WW2. They were simply defending themselves from the tyrannical oppression of Jewish bankers hell-bent on world domination. Moreover, the Nazis didn't actually intentionally kill any one during the war. They did not even intentionally kill the jews, despite the fact the jews had actually been intentionally massacring Germans in the Danzig Corridor. But, weren't the Nazis still evil racists since they thought they were Aryan supermen and therefore better than everyone else?"

-Actually, this is not true either. The Nazis simply wanted to live free. In fact, not only did they want this for themselves, they also wanted this for all races, not just Aryans.

"Pride in one's own race - and that does not imply contempt for other races - is also a normal and healthy sentiment. I have never regarded the Chinese or the Japanese as being inferior to ourselves. They belong to ancient civilizations, and I admit freely that their past history is superior to our own. They have the right to be proud of their past, just as we have the right to be proud of the civilization to which we belong. Indeed, I believe the more steadfast the Chinese and the Japanese remain in their pride of race, the easier I shall find it to get on with them."

~ ADOLF HITLER

"German racialism has been deliberately distorted. It never was an anti-"other race" racialism. It was a pro-German racialism. It was concerned with making the German race strong and healthy in every way. Hitler was not interested in having millions of degenerates, if it was in his power not to have them. Today one finds rampant alcohol and drug addiction everywhere. Hitler cared that the German families be healthy, cared that they raise healthy children for the renewal of a healthy nation. German racialism meant re-discovering the creative values of their own race, re-discovering their culture. It was a search for excellence, a noble idea. National Socialist racialism was not against the other races, it was for its own race. It aimed at defending and improving its race, and wished that all other races did the same for themselves." Léon Degrelle SS Standartenführer

Wanting to preserve the uniqueness of your race and culture is not the same as wanting to destroy all others.

Hitler wanted all races to succeed, but to do so on their own merit. If Hitler wanted to exterminate all other races, then why was every race allowed to join his military, including over 100,000 jewish Germans? Link (A)

The myth of the Nazi plan to "exterminate" all colored people does not hold up to historical reality:

"But what about all of those pictures of evil Nazis doing evil Nazi things to innocent people?"

-Actually, those are fake images created by the jewish Bolsheviks as propaganda used to convince people that Hitler and the Nazis were evil. In fact, the adjacent image is what first caused me to doubt the things I learned in school concerning WW2. When I saw this image, I recognized several of the photos in the left column from my high school Holocaust class. Yet the images on the right are the originals.

For example. Notice the female on the 4th image down. The gun on the truck behind her was removed so as to better accentuate her profile, thereby making it more pronounced and startling. In other words, the removal of the gun would only have occurred if the image on the left had been fabricated for the purpose of intentionally deceiving the viewer so as to maximize the viewer's emotional response. Since the images on the left are intentionally seeking to deceive people, I couldn't help but wonder why they were being used to "educate" people in American schools?

Moreover, I also began to wonder why "faked" images even existed at all. If the Nazis actually did commit so many horrendous mass-atrocities, then certainly there must exist some photographic evidence of said atrocities. Therefore, faked atrocities should not only be unnecessary, but their existence implies that the Nazis never actually committed any atrocities at all.

And yet, the faked atrocities do exist...

ORIGINAL IMAGES

What you are shown:

Sketch by holocaust survivor and acclaimed Holocaust historian, Simon Wiesenthal, dated "1945", depicting the horrible execution of innocent jews at the hands of evil Nazis inside an evil Nazi death camp. So evil!

Reality:

Photos of three German soldiers executed by US firing squad, December 1944, published in Life magazine, 1946

On April 4th, 1945, the British accidentally murdered over 3,000 innocent prisoners at the Nordhausen concentrating camp, and then used the carnage to create "Nazi Propaganda" pictures to blame the deaths on the Germans. This propaganda is widely used as "evidence" of the Holocaust: Link (A)

Why are we continually shown cropped and edited photographs, usually combined with a fake caption:

What you are told:

"Oy vey! Evil, blood-thirsty Nazi shoots poor helpless jewish woman and her child in cold blood. So evil!"

But the reality is that the two rifles on the far left were cropped out to cause you to mistakenly believe the soldier was aiming at the woman. Either she is actually standing to the side, or else there are two German soldiers of unusual height pointing their guns directly at the first German soldier.

What is more likely:

"Germans having a nice chat with the locals when they begin taking fire. The locals dive to the ground while the German squad heroically rushes to the aid of the unarmed civilians by engaging the enemy."

The Real Holocaust:

No, a Holocaust of 6 million jews never occurred. Yes, jews (and non-jews) were placed into internment camps. Yes, jews (and non-jews) did die during the war, and yes, some jews (and non-jews) did die while inside internment camps, but these deaths occurred due to unintentional disease which the Nazis put every effort into preventing. Many more deaths also occurred due to unintentional malnutrition as a result of the Allies intentionally bombing civilian supply routes.

On the other hand, a very real holocaust did occur during WW2, but it happened to the German people. A Holocaust, in the truest sense of the word, is a burnt offering of human flesh, and in this case, it happened in Dresden, a civilian town with no military significance. It was neither important to German wartime production nor a major industrial center, yet, without warning in February 1945, the entire city was fire-bombed into destruction. The thought of being burned alive is horrific, but the thought of being 'burned alive because you are trapped in melted asphalt and your own flesh and disfigured hands have melted to your chest as you sink into the street unable to scream because your lungs have combust' is much worse. At Dresden, over 300,000 civilians were horribly burnt to death, mostly women, children, and the elderly. In comparison, the nuclear bomb on Nagasaki is said to have only kill 39,000 civilians.

And for what? Why did hundreds of thousands of innocent German civilians have to suffer? What was their crime other than the Germans supported Adolf Hitler, the man who dared to stand up to international jewish finance. Hundreds of thousands were murdered at Dresden, and millions more all across Germany, for the sole reason that a few people, mostly ethnic jews, wanted to continue to make money from them.

Dresden (after)

In addition to Dresden, another mass-murder of Germans happened at the end of WW2. After surrendering to the Allies in good faith, as many as a million German soldiers were intentionally starved to death after Eisenhower signed an order which allowed the Allies to circumvent the Geneva Convention requirement that POWs must be fed. More information about Eisenhower's Genocide of German POWs is located at this Link.

In addition to these, this shockingly explicit book lists additional atrocities committed against postwar Germany. It contains a myriad of reports concering the savage rapes and murders of 2 million German women at the hands of Red army soldiers, the bulk of them Mongols, Tatars and jews who possessed an atavistic hatred of the White race.

If you have a delicate constitution and wish to protect your mind from images of extreme violence, skip ahead to page 289. Otherwise, peruse the following excerpts from Hellstorm, the Death of Nazi Germany. Video (A)

"One German woman came to her priest and broke down in tears. 'Father, I can't go on living! Thirty of them raped me last night.' (p.158)

"The German clergy were only too aware of the rape and mass murder of Catholic nuns, many of them bedridden geriatric women. One of these priests writes in his diary: 'The girls, women and nuns were raped incessantly for hours on end, the soldiers standing in queues, the officers at the head of the queues, in front of their victims. During the first night many of the nuns and women were raped as many as fifty times. The Russians knocked them down, kicked them, beat them on the head and in the face with the butt-end of their revolvers and rifles.' The same dreadful scenes were enacted in the hospitals, homes for the aged, and other such institutions. Even nuns who were seventy and eighty years old and were ill and bedridden were raped and ill-treated by these barbarians." (Ibid. p.84)

"The Americans and the Brits knew all these atrocities were going on but did nothing to stop them. They stood by and saw it all happening, cruel accomplices to crime. Indeed, many joined in the bloodbath of sadistic sexuality. Staggered by what he had seen and heard, a German officer tried desperately to make sense of the disaster; to understand the minds of men 'who find . . . pleasure in raping the same woman over and over, dozens of times, even while other women are standing near." (p.93)

Of all the methods used to express its anger, the Red Army said it best with rape. From eight to eighty, healthy or ill, indoors or out, in fields, on sidewalks, against walls, the spiritual massacre of German women continued unabated. (p.155)

"The mothers had had to witness how their ten and twelve-year-old daughters were raped by some 20 men; the daughters in turn saw their mothers being raped, even their grandmothers. Women who tried to resist were brutally tortured to death. There was no mercy." (p. 159)

"When even violated corpses could no longer be of use, sticks, iron bars and telephone receivers were rammed up their vaginas." (p. 155)

"The women were raped, not once or twice but ten, twenty, thirty and a hundred times, and it was all the same to the Russians whether they raped mere children or old women." (p.79)

"I saw some twenty Red Army men standing in line before the corpse of a woman certainly beyond sixty years of age who had been raped to death. They were shouting and laughing and waiting for their [turn for] her dead body." (p.84)

Leonora Cavoa who was an eyewitness to these sexual atrocities committed by bolshevik Filth. Transcribing from

Hellstorm: The Death of Nazi Germany, 1944-1947 by Thomas Goodrich

"Suddenly I heard loud screams, and immediately two Red Army soldiers brought in five girls.

The Commissar ordered them to undress. When they refused out of modesty, he ordered me to do it to them, and for all of us to follow him.

We crossed the yard to the former works kitchen, which had been completely cleared out except for a few tables on the window side. It was terribly cold, and the poor girls shivered. In the large, tiled room some Russians were waiting for us, making remarks that must have been very obscene, judging from how everything they said drew gales of laughter.

The Commissar told me to watch and learn how to turn the Master Race into whimpering bits of misery.

The horror that ensued nearly defies written description, as no written description can actually make a reader of either sex feel and genuinely know the pain and suffering inflicted in this never-ending horror show. The victims' pain and suffering must have seemed like hours and hours . . . an entire lifetime . . . I can't imagine. I try not to imagine it because about 2,000 women in the Nemmersdorf area alone suffered a similar fate.

Now two Poles [we are not told if they were Polish Jews] came in, dressed only in their trousers, and the girls cried out at their sight. They quickly grabbed the first of the girls, and bent her backwards over the edge of the table until her joints cracked.

I was close to passing out as one of them took his knife and, before the very eyes of the other girls, cut off her right breast.

He paused for a moment, then cut off the other side.

I have never heard anyone scream as desperately as that girl. After this operation he drove his knife into her abdomen several times, which again was accompanied by the cheers of the Russians."

"The next girl cried for mercy, but in vain—it even seemed that the gruesome deed was done particularly slowly because she was especially pretty.

The other three had collapsed, they cried for their mothers and begged for a quick death, but the same fate awaited them as well.

The last of them was still almost a child, with barely developed breasts. They literally tore the flesh off her ribs until the white bones showed.

Loud howls of approval began when someone brought a saw from a tool chest. This was used to tear up the breasts of the other girls, which soon caused the floor to be awash in blood. The Russians were in a blood frenzy. More girls were being brought in continually.

saw these grisly proceedings as through a red haze.

... Over and over again I heard the terrible screams when the breasts were tortured, and the loud groans at the mutilation of the genitals.... It was always the same, the begging for mercy, the high-pitched scream when the breasts were cut and the groans when the genitals were mutilated.

The slaughter was interrupted several times to sweep the blood out of the room and clear away the bodies. . . . When my knees buckled I was forced onto a chair. The Commissar always made sure that I was watching, and when I had to throw up they even paused in their tortures.

One girl had not undressed completely, she may also have been a little older than the others, who were around seventeen years of age. They soaked her bra with oil and set it on fire, and while she screamed, a thin iron rod was shoved into her vagina . . .

In the yard entire groups of girls were clubbed to death after the prettiest of them had been selected for this torture. The air was filled with the death cries of many hundred girls" (pp. 156–57).

While this horror is unfolding, Roosevelt (and later Truman) and Churchill cheerily offer Stalin half of Europe. Meanwhile, the greatest mass expulsion and deportation in history was just beginning. Upwards of 13 million Germans and their allies were forced from their ancestral lands and placed into Russian, French, Jewish, and Polish retribution camps where many were tortured and murdered. In all, it has been estimated that between 20 and 25 million Germans and their collaborators perished in the years after the war had officially ended.

One might wonder who or what could inspire such madness? However, history has provided us with the answer: it was the jews. It was the jews who controlled the media which convinced us it was ok, it was the jews who controlled the politicians that made it happen, and it was the jews who controlled the banks which financed it.

But she was a Nazi. She deserved it. Or so said the Allies in the years following the war: Germany merely got what she deserved. The 'morally superior' nations of the globe had smashed ultimate evil: the Nazis. And the noble Aryan race living in Germany was decimated from the planet. Never has a greater lie been told. Never has so much hatred and vengeance been poured forth onto one people and one nation, and all because they chose not to abide by the laws of the jewish international bankers.

And with some spoon-fed lies and the promises of great wealth, most of the White nations of the world were more than willing to take up the flag of international jewish Communism.

Ilya Ehrenberg was a psychopathic war criminal and indirectly responsible for the rape, torture and mass murder of 2 million German women after WWII. He is now honored in Israel, and his papers are lovingly preserved by the Yad Vashem Holocaust museum. In his 6-volume memoirs, Ehrenberg openly boasts about being aware of the crimes of the Stalin regime, his own included, and actually admits that a veil of silence has been drawn over these matters.

He was also memorialized by winning the Stalin Peace Prize in 1952 for literature. Here are a few examples of his writing which were distributed in pamphlet form to the Soviet troops:

"The Germans are not human beings. From now on, the word 'German' is the most horrible curse. From now on, the word 'German' strikes us to the quick. We have nothing to discuss. We will not get excited. We will kill. If you have not killed at least one German a day, you have wasted that day. If you cannot kill a German with a bullet, then kill him with your bayonet. If your part of the front is quiet and there is no fighting, then kill a German in the meantime. If you have already killed a German, then kill another one — there is nothing more amusing to us than a heap of German corpses. Don't count the days, don't count the kilometers. Count only one thing: the number of Germans you have killed. Kill the Germans!... Kill the Germans!... Kill!"

"The Germans must be killed. One must kill them....Do you feel sick? Do you feel a nightmare in your breast?...Kill a German! If you are a righteous and conscientious man, kill a German!... Kill!"

"Kill! Kill! In the German race there is nothing but evil; not one among the living, not one among the yet unborn but is evil! Follow the precepts of Comrade Stalin. Stamp out the fascist beast once and for all!"

"Use force and break the racial pride of these German women. Take them as your lawful booty. Kill! As you storm onward, KILL, you gallant soldiers of the Red Army!"

Then there are the actual mass-atrocities committed by the Torch Men, who dressed up in German uniforms and then took photos of themselves committing war crimes to be later used as propaganda against the Germans:

Stalin's 1941 "Torch Men Command" - Confirmed by Russia. The so-called "torch-men order" (Fackelmännerbefehl) is the command No. 0428, issued November 17th 1941 by Stalin (most likely, by the Jews behind Stalin). It declares that Russian partisans in German uniforms, particularly those of the Waffen-SS, were to destroy all settlements within a swathe of about 40-60 km depth from the main battle lines and to ruthlessly kill the civilian population. With these tactics it was important to leave a few survivors, which would report the supposed German terror attacks. This method of warfare was also confirmed by German soldiers, who captured many Russian partisans wearing German uniforms.

After speaking with various Germans whom he had taken prisoner, and after witnessing the atrocities committed upon the German people by the Communist jews who captured Berlin, US General George S. Patton realized that the United States defeated the wrong enemy. Patton felt the United States should have allied with Germany to destroy the Soviets.

Link (A) to more info. Patton Papers (A)

For his beliefs, the jews had Patton assassinated. Why was the greatest US General first smeared in the US media and then murdered?

A: He was killed for the same reason Hitler was killed, and for the same reason anyone who opposes the jews must be killed:

" If what we are doing to the Germans is Liberty, then give me death. I can't see how Americans can sink so low. It is Semitic, and I am sure of it... Berlin gave me the blues, we have destroyed what could have been a good race, and we are about to replace them with Mongolian savages... Actually, the Germans are the only decent people left in Europe... What we are doing is to destroy the only semi-modern state in Europe... There is a very apparent Semitic influence in the press. THEY are trying to do two things: first, implement communism, and second, see that all businessmen of German ancestry and non-Jewish antecedents are thrown out of their jobs... THEY have utterly lost the Anglo-Saxon conception of justice...They were evidently quite shocked when I told them I would kick nobody out without the successful proof of guilt before a court of law... It appears that this order is to punish the German race and not individual Germans... I have been just as furious as you at the compilation of lies which the communist and Semitic elements of our government have leveled against me and practically every other commander..." - General George Patten Diaries 1945

[&]quot;The best of the Gentiles should be killed." -Abodah Zara 26b (jewish Talmud)

The very real fact remains that all of the terrible things we are told the Nazis did during WW2 were actually committed by the jewish Communists and their allies.

For example:

- -Holdomor = a real holocaust of Ukrainians by the jewish Bolsheviks
- -Torchman command = real holocaust of more Ukrainians by the jewish Soviets
- -Danzig Corridor = real holocaust of Germans by jewish Poles
- -Churchhill demanding war with Germany when Hitler sought peace with Britain
- -British air bombing of civilian targets
- -French enslavement of Germans at the Ruhr
- -Eisenhower death camps = real holocaust of Germans
- -American bombing of civilian targets, including German supply routes that caused mass-starvation in the concentration camps
- -Written orders of 328th U.S. Army Infantry Regiment that Germans who surrendered were to be shot on sight. Major-General Raymond Hufft also instructed his troops to not accept prisoner surrenders.
- -Expulsions of Germans by several countries after the Potsdam Agreement resulting in half of a million deaths of German men, women and children.
- -Dresden fire-bombing of civilians by UK and USA.
- -The burning of Friesoythe by the Canadians.
- -Kočevski Rog Massacre and the Barbara Pit massacre by the jews in Yugoslavia.
- -The Soviet Army was responsible for the rape of at least 2,000,000 women and children in what has been considered the largest mass rape in history; many of these victims were assaulted as much as one hundred times by Soviet soldiers, with at least 250,000 subsequently murdered after being subjected to repeated sexual assaults. This was justified by Stalin on the grounds that it does not matter "if a soldier who has crossed thousands of kilometers through blood and fire and death has fun with a woman or takes some trifle." The Soviet Union adopted the position that women were spoils of war. When one realizes the jewish-led Soviets believed women were spoils of war to be raped, it should not be surprising who shares this same view:

New Israeli Defense Forces Chief Rabbi Says Soldiers Can Rape Gentile Women During Wartime to Boost Morale

🗂 July 15, 2016 🎍 renegade 💂 17 Comments

By Matt Agorist of The Free Thought Project

Outgoing chief rabbi, Brig. Gen. Rafi Peretz, of the Israeili Defense Forces, who is stepping down after six years in the position is being replaced. And, his successor, Rabbi Col. Eyal Karim's appointment is being met with backlash — as he is outspoken for allowing soldiers to rape women during wartime.

Karim, who was announced on Monday as the intended new IDF chief rabbi, has provoked controversy with previous misogynistic statements, such as opposing female conscription and implying that rape was permissible in times of war.

According to Ynet News, Karim has been serving as the head of the Rabbinate Department in the Military Rabbinate. He is an alumnus of the Bnei Akiva Nachalim and the Ateret Cohanim yeshivas, and he served previously as a combat paratrooper, eventually commanding their elite reconnaissance unit, before taking a break from the military and eventually returning to its rabbinate.

In 2012, Karim's controversy started when the Hebrew religious website KIPA, asked him, in the light of certain biblical passages, if IDF soldiers were permitted to commit rape during wartime despite the general understanding that such an act is widely considered repugnant.

His answer enraged many Israelis.

"Although intercourse with a female gentile is very grave, it was permitted during wartime (under the conditions it stipulated) out of consideration for the soldiers' difficulties," he wrote. "And since our concern is the success of the collective in the war, the Torah permitted [soldiers] to satisfy the evil urge under the conditions it stipulated for the sake of the collective's success."

In other words, soldiers can rape innocent women during times of war in order to keep their morale up.

I am hoping that by this point I have convinced you the Holocaust (the intentional destruction of the jewish race by Nazi Germany) has been fabricated to disguise the fact that the war against Germany was contrived by elite jewish bankers who were upset at losing control over the Germany financial system after Hitler rose to power. In order to defeat Germany's economy before the rest of the world awakened to the idea of freeing themselves from tyrannical jewish usury, the entire war was contrived by these jews to ensure that Germany and her economy was destroyed.

However, if you still have lingering doubts about whether or not the Holocaust actually happened, the following link should provide adequate additional verification of these facts as well as a plethora of additional primary-source information: LINK

After reading the hundreds of pages of information in the above link, if you still have any lingering doubts about whether or not the Holocaust actually happened, then peruse the following 11,000+, pages of highly technical information which proves beyond any reasonable doubt the Holocaust was the greatest lie ever foisted upon the world.

10. NATIONAL SOCIALISM

When I realized that everything I had been taught about Hitler and the Nazis was a lie, it made me wonder what the Nazis really were like? After a bit of research, I learned the interesting fact that they are not even called Nazis. They are actually called National Socialists. The fact most people do not even know the real name of the Nazis is a good indication that something foul is afoot. How is one supposed to perform proper research about National Socialism if one does not even know National Socialism exists?

The term 'nazi' was actually invented by Konrad Heiden, a Marxist jew. Its original purpose was to ridicule the National Socialists, but today it is used to prevent anyone for researching National Socialism. By searching for 'Nazi' (instead of National Socialism), one's research is limited to only the Bolshevik and American propaganda surrounding this fake term.

So if the Nazis were not actually Nazis, but are in truth, National Socialists, then what is a National Socialist?

One vitally important thing to understand about National Socialism is that it has nothing at all to do with the ideology that today is called Socialism. In fact, National Socialism should be properly thought of as the exact antithesis of how we view Socialism in the 21st century. They are exact opposites.

Konrad Heiden

To be a National Socialist, one must desire unity among his family, friends, and fellow citizens. He must establish equality of rights among his people, the securing of private property for the individual, and he ought to aspire to the practice of honorable citizenship in the patriotic service of his people. A National Socialist is someone who opposes illegal immigration, and is vehemently against abortion, which only serves to hinder the growth and strength of families. He must have a desire to fervently work to improve the lives of his children, must support traditional family values while promoting individual responsibility. He strives for free-market enterprise by opposing economic policies based upon either capitalistic monopolies or democratic socialism. He is also against any form of slavery, particularly financial slavery, commonly called 'usury'. A National Socialist expects that children ought to help their parents and those who went before them, just as the parents ought to help their children and those who have come after them. To be a National Socialist, one must uphold righteous law by opposing criminal behavior of every kind, and take the necessary steps to prevent immorality, decadence, lasciviousness and depravity. A National Socialist opposes degeneracy in all of its forms, for degeneracy is little more than an illness of the mind. Not only must he work to improve his mental health, but also his physical health, and the health of his people and race. He expects that children deserve and should receive an education worthy of their ability, and one that is capable of helping those children to become patriots and soldiers who are willing and able to defend their families against foreign aggressors, domestic criminals, and anyone else who seeks to harm their people. He understands that no one is perfect, but that excellence should always be pursued. He believes that lies and deception in all forms should be opposed, and he is willing to sacrifice even his own life if it is for the good of his people and community. And above all, a National Socialist loves freedom and will put his belief of God into practice by working to protect, strengthen and secure the future of his noble race.

If you agree with any of these ideals, you are probably an 'evil Nazi'.

When speaking of Fascism, most people imply the political ideology set up by Benito Mussolini in Italy in 1922. Although ancient Fascism is multilayered, and although the modern definition of Fascism has been muddied by jewish historians to mean tyranny and oppression, the actual definition of Mussolini's Fascism is quite simple: according to Mussolini, Fascism is simply a political ideology set up to protect the people against the aggressions of Bolshevism (see the adjacent infographic).

It has already been demonstrated in this report that Bolshevism is judaism. This means that Fascism is any ideology that opposes the tyrannical oppression of the jews.

FASCIST
tation supported on fascines. Hence Fasci'ne v. to fill up with fascines. Fascist (fæ'fist). 1921. [ad. It. fascista, f. fascio group.] One of a body of Italian nationalists organized in 1919 under Benito Mussolini to oppose Bolshevism. Hence Fa'scism, their principles and organization. Fash (fæ), sb. Sc. and n. dial. 1794. [f. the vb.] Trouble, vexation; bother. So Fa'shery (in same senses). Fash (fæ), v. Chiefly Sc. and n. dial. 1533. [a. OF. fascher (F. fâcher).] 1. trans. To trouble, vex, bother, weary. 2. intr. for ref. To weary; to bother oneself; to take trouble 1585. 1. Never f. yoursel' wi' me. but look to yoursel'

Since the jews (by their own admission) want to utterly annihilate the Aryan race, and since National Socialism must defend its people against all enemies, this puts National Socialism in direct opposition to Bolshevism. Thus, if we use Mussolini's definition of Fascism, National Socialism must be considered Fascist.

However, there is a great deal more to National Socialism than just Fascism. To illustrate this, let us look at Joseph Goebbels' explanation which he gave in 1942:

"Fascism has reacted upon the creative life of Mussolini's Italy somewhat like a sterilization. Fascism is, after all, nothing like National Socialism. While the latter goes deep down to the roots, Fascism is only a superficial thing. National Socialism is really a way of life. It always begins at the beginning and lays new foundations throughout one's life. That is why our task is so difficult, but also so beautiful."

"For the National Socialists, there is but one doctrine: our people. We fight to safeguard the existence and future of our race. We fight to sustain our children and the purity of our blood. We fight to ensure freedom in our fatherland.

"The most precious possession we have in this world is our own people. For this people, and for the sake of this people, we will struggle and we will fight. We will never slacken, never tire, never lose courage, and never lose faith."

-Adolf Hitler.

Every thought, every idea, every doctrine and all knowledge exists to serve this purpose: To secure the existence of our people and a future for our children.

Every thought, every idea, every doctrine and all knowledge exists to serve this purpose: To secure the existence of our people and a future for our children.

To answer this question, one must understand the jews have intentionally muddied these terms. There exists a vast gulf of distance between what is commonly understood as 'socialism' today (that is: democratic socialism), and the term used during the Third Reich: National Socialism. Let us look to Hitler's own words:

"I define the term 'Socialist' to mean 'social equity'. A socialist is one who serves the common good without giving up his individuality.

"Our adopted term 'Socialist' has nothing to do with Marxist Socialism. Marxism is not even Socialism. Marxists have stolen the term and have confused its meaning. Marxism is antiproperty; Socialism is not. Marxism places no value on the individual or individual effort, but Socialism highly values the individual. Marxism places no value on efficiency, but Socialism encourages individual efficiently. While at the same time, Socialism says the interests of the individual must be in accordance with those of the community. Socialists cannot harm the community in pursuit selfish gain. But Marxists do. And unlike Marxism which is international, Socialism is patriotic and National.

"Marxism is entirely a jewish system, but Socialism is an ancient Aryan, Germanic institution. Our German ancestors held certain lands in common, and in this, they cultivated the idea of the commonweal. There is no such thing in Marxism.

"Marxism has no right to disguise itself as Socialism. I shall take back the term 'Socialism' from the Marxists, for it was never theirs. We might have called ourselves the liberal party, but we chose to call ourselves National Socialists because that term belongs to our people, and always has." -Adolf Hiter

OK, so the evil nazis are not tyrannical fascists or Marxist socialists. Still, they are atheists, and that is evien worse! Plus, they are involved in the occult and other satanic things. So evil!

These are more lies pushed by jewish propaganda. Christianity is the eternal enemy of the jew. Considering the amount of lies the jews push toward National Socialism and Hitler, logical deduction would imply that these are both Christian. Of course, the historical documents also prove this to be true:

"Christ is the genius of love. As such, Christianity is the most diametrical opposite of judaism, which is the incarnation of hate. Christ is the first great enemy of the jews; that is why judaism had to get rid of him. The jew is the lie personified. When the jew crucified Christ, he crucified everlasting truth for the first time in history. The struggle we are now waging is a struggle between Christ and Marx."

of Christianity.

Our movement is Christian."

~ Adolf Hitler
October 27, 1928

-Joseph Goebbels

The two people most hated by the jews.

"I forbid every attack on Christ, since such attacks or insults that 'Christ was a jew' are unworthy of us and certainly historically not true. I have not tolerated an atheist in the ranks of the SS. Every member has a deep faith in God."

-Heinrich Himmler

This symbol was known to the Germans as the 'Hooked Cross', a symbol of Christianity.

The image below is an illustration of how an 'evil Nazi' would appear today. This image shows group of evil Nazis posing in front of a camera. Moreover, this is not a group of just any old Nazis, but as stated in the caption, this is a group of FULL NAZIS! As you can clearly see in the image, there is displayed the unwarranted support of evil nationalism. You can also see in this picture the evil racist homogeneity of ethnicity that these FULL Nazis love so much, as well as the violent evil smirking with which these particularly evil kinds of evil Nazis have infected this world. Moreover, the evil smirking of these evil Nazis is accented by the evil flag that they are holding aloft, apparently for some, unknown but certainly evil reason:

Evil smirk! So evil!

That uppity FULL Nazi smirking gang in the picture on the previous page certainly looks like they are preparing to commit some terrible shoah upon many poor innocent and unsuspecting jews. They are litterally planning on killing those poor jews with genital-beating machines and then turning them into ladies gloves and soap after feeding them to bears and putting them in a death-rollercoaster that drops them off into an Indiana Jones-style death trap room, after which, their heads will be crushed by trained horses or possibly they will receive a good anal broomsticking or anal air-pumping, or be forced to sit on the giant kill-o-matic 10,000 chair o' death, or a cheaper-by-the-dozen headshot, or be burned at the stake, have brain-nails repeatedly inserted and removed from their skull, placed into a chain-induced coma, given a forced sexchange, or having to take a dip in the blood fountain of doom, or have their children's hearts injected with gasoline after being masturbated to death, raped by trained dogs with poison teeth, or being either tickled to death or electrocuted to ash in water, or finally, their babies will be gassed in death showers, fed to prisoners as part of a marmalade-game, or used in a skull-cracking drinking game of death, or be used as a soccer ball, only to finally, and at last, have the child-corpses set up as part of a weekly horror exhibition for the local women to enjoy on the weekends.

And if you are silly enough to think the above claim is ridiculous and absolutely unbelievable, well...

Jewish claims about jew-genital-beating machines:

98 Jan 44

MME. VAILLANT-COUTURIER: Yes, in principle, non-Jewish women were allowed to have their babies, and the babies were not taken away from them; but conditions in the camp being so horrible, the babies rarely lived for more than 4 or 5 weeks.

There was one block where the Polish and Russian mothers were. One day the Russian mothers, having been accused of making too much noise, had to stand for roll call all day long in front of the block, naked, with their babies in their arms.

M. DUBOST: What was the disciplinary system of the camp? Who kept order and discipline? What were the punishments?

MME. VAILLANT-COUTURIER: Generally speaking, the SS economized on many of their own personnel by employing internees for watching the camp; SS only supervised. These internees were chosen from German common-law criminals and prostitutes, and sometimes those of other nationalities, but most of them were Germans. By corruption, accusation, and terror they succeeded in making veritable human beasts of them; and the internees had as much cause to complain about them as about the SS themselves. They beat us just as hard as the SS; and as to the SS, the men behaved like the women and the women were as savage as the men. There was no difference.

The system employed by the SS of degrading human beings to the utmost by terrorizing them and causing them through fear to commit acts which made them ashamed of themselves, resulted in their being no longer human. This was what they wanted. It took a great deal of courage to resist this atmosphere of terror and corruption.

M. DUBOST: Who meted out punishments?

MME. VAILLANT-COUTURIER: The SS leaders, men and women.

M. DUBOST: What was the nature of the punishments?

MME. VAILLANT-COUTURIER: Bodily ill-treatment in particular. One of the most usual punishments was 50 blows with a stick on the loins. They were administered with a machine which I saw, a swinging apparatus manipulated by an SS. There were also endless roll calls day and night, or gymnastics; flat on the belly, get up, lie down, up, down, for hours, and anyone who fell was beaten unmercifully and taken to Block 25.

M. DUBOST: How did the SS behave towards the women? And the women SS?

MME. VAILLANT-COUTURIER: At Auschwitz there was a brothel for the SS and also one for the male internees of the staff, who were called "Kapo." Moreover, when the SS needed servants,

NAZIS MADE SOAP OF 26 MILLION PEOPLE"

(OLONEL MANTOUT, 38-year-old French Air Force officer directing France's drive to bring minor war oriminals to justice, declared in Paris yesterday that the Germans made soap from the remains of murdered people in death camps.

At least 26,000,000 persons were methodically exterminated in the camps, he said. He had collected evidence showing that on

I Light A Candle

Mother and I used to get up at four in the morning, to avoid the queues of people waiting to use the shower block about an hour later. We undressed and showered our bodies with ice-cold water. The only soap we had was a barrel of honey-coloured liquid soap, manufactured out of human flesh from the bodies of people shot by the SS on the transports. Many times we wondered: There was a story in the news last week so shocking that one scarcely knows how to deal with it. The story told of the burial in a small Rumanian Jewish community of a cake of soap. It was buried with all the solemnity of a regular funeral.

The soap was found by the Jews shortly after the Germans left. It was labeled "Pure Jewish Soap" and the wrapper went on to say that it was made entirely of the fat of Jewish bodies.

The wrapper gave no further details. Whether it was made of the body of an infant, of a small boy or girl, a young married woman or a bearded old man, it did not say. One is a little surprised at this, for after all Germans are so methodical, so thorough and here one might use the soap with more zest, if he knew its exact origin. It might tickle his fancy to know that the soap came from the tortured limb of a little girl with sad eyes.

Murder Is Sweet

Again, if the Nazis were at a beer fest, gathered around the table, we can imagine how delighted they might be to take the soap of some bearded Jew who had been properly stamped upon with their feet before being murdered. Most people would not see the special pleasure in this. They think a murder is a murder, but the Germans know better. Murder to them may be the sweetest of all pleasures. The sight of others suffering intoxicates them.

I can see one German lifting his beer in one hand and the Jewish soap in the other, saying: "Well, here is one Jew we kept from becoming another Einstein."

And another, in the same spirit, adding with uproarious laughter: "Yes, and not another Jesus, either."

Yes, the Germans must have gotten a great deal of pleasure from the all-Jewish soap. Jewish claims about jew-eating bears:

Time 'Too Painful' to Remember

By ARI L. GOLDMAN NOV. 10, 1988

"In the camp there was a cage with a bear and an eagle," he said. "Every day, they would throw a Jew in there. The bear would tear him apart and the eagle would pick at his bones." "But that's unbelievable," whispered a visitor. "It is unbelievable," said Mr. Hubert, "but it happened."

"To speed things up, the Germans starting burning children and old people alive. This I can state with absolute certainty because I saw it at the place where I was." (10)

"The flames then spread across this mass of living humanity." (123)

"The victims were pitched directly into the white-hot fire." (57)

"The victims were thrown in naked and then doused with gasoline, which was then ignited." (123)

"In the camp there were patients who, when their condition worsened, were sent alive to the ovens." (24)

"The head of the crematory, a high-ranking officer, bound a Polish woman hand and foot and threw her into the oven alive." (111)

"With my own eyes I saw how the SS burned alive 14 Russian and 5 Polish officers, all in uniform." (51)

"In May 1944, 100 Jews from Athens, who unanimously refused to work in the 'special squads,' were killed on the spot; some shot, the others burned alive." (102)

"In March 1945, 500 people were killed by being thrown alive into the oven." (24)

"800 to 900 yards from the place where the ovens were, the prisoners were squeezed into little cars that ran on rails. In Auschwitz these cars had various dimensions and could hold up to 15 people. As soon as a car was loaded, it would be set in motion on an inclined plane that traveled at full speed down a corridor. At the end of the corridor there was a wall, and in the wall was the door to the oven. As soon as the car hit the wall, the door opened automatically, and the car would dip forward and pitch its cargo of living people into the oven. Right behind it came another car with another load, and so on." (101)

"It often happened that little children, still alive, were mixed in with the dead and thrown onto dump trucks." (104)

"Many eyewitness reports confirm that children were thrown alive into the ditches." (86)

"In one shipment there was a Polish Jewish woman who had a very pretty three-year-old daughter. The woman was aware of the existence of the gas chamber at Auschwitz and knew what fate awaited her. When the squad leader came past her, she begged him, since she knew she had to die, to spare her child. The squad leader flew into a rage and said: 'Damned Jew, I don't take orders from you.' He then grabbed the child by the breast and carried her to the oven while the mother ran after him screaming. He ordered the door of the oven opened and threw the child in alive." (90)

"They threw living children up to the age of ten into the ovens. Children under 90 pounds were sent automatically to the ovens." (20)

"In one shipment there were almost 400 children who were burned alive." (23)

Jewish claims about a giant death chair that can kill 10,000 per jews day:

alive' (Perl 1994: 86, 111). The Jewish physician Olga Lengyel was the first survivor to have her testimony published in English (Lengyel 1947). She narrates the particularly chilling story of a mother who told her 'that she was forced to undress her daughter and to look on while the girl was violated by dogs whom the Nazis had specially trained for this sport'. Apparently, this was a 'favourite form of amusement' in Auschwitz (Lengyel 1995: 193). While countless testimonies describe the fear that these dogs generated, like many episodes described in Holocaust testimonies, this extremely disturbing observation is difficult to validate—not least because Lengyel herself did not experience the episode first hand. Mr. G, Age 82

Place of Persecution: Rabka bei Zakopane

"[In] 1940-1941 we were living in Krakow, Poland. The Nazis started to build the ghetto. My father finds a house in the province, in between Krakow and Zakopane. The village is called Rabka. This happened because we did not want to go to the ghetto. The SS and the Gestapo robbed all of our possessions from the villa we lived in. And they took us along. I, 20 years [old] at that time, resist, and as a result I was subjected to medical experiments.

What I am about to write you have not heard or read before, as follows: Me and a Jewish American (a watchmaker, passport from the USA) were subjected to medical experiments. SS German Shepherd dogs, belonging to the commander of the SS Obersturmfuehrer Rosenbaum, with a special poison on their teeth ... we had to run [and] the dogs had to chase us. Afterwards they examined our wounds, the blood. A doctor ... ripped the flesh of my legs and examined it. After some time I was able to escape. First to a peasant in a village—afterwards to friends of mine in Krakow. There my wounded legs started healing. As a result of this experiment (the dog bite and the poison) my whole left foot was ripped apart and during the course of the years I developed wounds and cancer. During August 1962 and November 1962 I was operated [on] in the cancer institute and was treated in Gliwice in Poland. ... My good parents were shot in the summer of 1942 under the supervision of SS Obersturmfuehrer Rosenbaum and were buried in the mass grave in Rabka."

Flossenbürg Concentration Camp

Picturesque village where Flossenbürg would be erected

The village of Flossenbürg dated from the Middle Ages and was located in the Oberpfalz Mountains of Bavaria, 40 miles east of Nuremburg, near the Czech frontier and situated close to a number of rock quarries. The first granite quarry was established there in 1875 and soon became the center of the village economy.

In the late 1930's the owner of the quarry — also mayor of the village and a loyal Nazi persuaded Heinrich Himmler to establish a major camp at the site.

KL Flossenbürg was established in May 1938, and began as a relatively small facility originally intended for criminals, "asocial" persons, and Jews, but it grew to include political prisoners and foreign prisoners of war.

Between 1938, when the camp was established, and April 1945, more than 96,000 prisoners passed through Flossenbürg. About 30,000 eventually died there.

Homosexuals at Flossenbürg

The SS considered it great sport to taunt and torture the homosexuals. The camp commander at Flossenbürg often ordered them flogged; as the ictims were screaming, he was panting with excitement, and masturbated wildly in his trousers until he came,' unperturbed by the hundreds of inlookers.

"You see me only as the clown, don't you? But do you know what's in my head? If it weren't for the clown they'd have thrown me into the oven long ago. Perhaps I'd be better off in the oven, but then what'll happen to my Zizi, my love? She's counting on seeing her handsome lover again. I didn't always look like this, you know. Every single time I look at myself nowadays, it just steels my will to hold on for Zizi, Zizi who keeps constant vigil for me. By coming back to her I want to show Zizi that I outlasted Auschwitz."

And then came the big event, the day of the Auschwitz freak show. The chief, Franzl, showed off Baby, his main attraction, to the block master, who had thought of a plan for a good laugh. The inmates were all ordered to the parade ground and commanded to form a circle around Baby, who stood dead center. In an orderly's hand was the bowl containing the weekly ration of marmalade—enough for one blob of marmalade to be spread—today's the day!—on each inmate's bread ration. The block master helped himself to the jar and then dumped its entire contents over Baby's scab-covered skull. He and the chief were in stitches. Ach, Gott, what a circus! Then the master asked one thousand prisoners how they'd like a lick of purposed.

Inmates all over Baby. A voracious multitude, limbs tangling, arms and legs flailing, biting and being bitten in a mass frenzy. The two German spectators were convulsed with laughter. Later, on the deserted parade ground, only a chewed carcass remained, gnawed as if by a horde of famished rats. The orderlies dragged the bleeding blob behind the barracks. And so, atop the pile of corpses, lay Zizi's dream—Zizi who kept vigil in Rotterdam for her handsome lover.

Rotterdam for her handsome lover.
Strolling down the alleyways of Noordwijk I marched in Auschwitz, by my side the Dutchman murmuring "Kan niet lopen." But I had the skies of Holland over my head and the earth of Noordwijk under my feet. The faces of Dutch people moved by mewomen with shopping bags in their hands, men, laborers, girls in bathing suits on their way to the beach-and I kept on marching the Auschwitz march with the nameless Dutch dawdler by my side. I looked at each face passing by, and I felt a sudden urge to say "hi" to every single one of them. I couldn't hold it back any longer. I said to the woman walking towards me, "Kan niet lopen" and she stopped, looked at me, and said something in Dutch that I didn't understand. Then she stopped a man passing by and said something to him. I made out the word ambulance. I repeated, "Kan niet lopen" and kept on marching. People stopped and stared after me, but I kept on marching-one street after another-weeping. I did not know the reason, yet I did know. My tears were Baby's tears as he lay by my side on the hutch-planks. And they were my own, as I was moved to tears by the streets of Holland, taken along in an Auschwitz labor crew and murmuring to the passersby, "Kan niet lopen." They did not know I loved them; they did not know that I wept from an overflow of grief and from a tenderness of soul. They did not know it was Auschwitz weeping and did not know that somewhere, in his place of concealment, God was gave us practically nothing to eat. I had the great fortune to find gave us practically nothing to eat. I had the great fortune to find two potatoes on which I lived for eight days. One hundred and two potatoes on which I lived for eight days. One hundred and thirst. On the ninth day we were fed. The ration consisted of 100 grams of bread and half a liter of muddy soup. Hunger tortured us. Our swollen tongues were covered with a hard white film. We labored from dawn to dark. The Germans would lead us past lakes and springs. Whoever tried to bend over for a mouthful of water was shot on the spot.

On the tenth day we were driven to the Lukyanovka ravine. We stood there—panic-stricken. From beneath the freshly strewn earth streamed rivers of blood, the blood of 56,000 murdered Jews. It cried out to us from beneath the earth. My hair turned gray that morning.

"Cover the accursed Jewish blood!" the officer ordered.
Several days later, they took us to the Golosayev woods. The woods were brightly lit up with huge bonfires. We saw sumptuously set tables. At the tables sat officers in parade uniforms. Near the bonfires were many small children trembling with fear. There were Ukrainian and Russian children among them. I heard one German officer explain to the soldiers how the game was to be played: From a distance of twelve meters, they were to toss the children in such a manner that their heads would strike the trunk of the tree. For every cracked skull they would receive a glass of schnapps.

This gruesome pastime lasted for several hours. The woods were filled with the cries of the children.

"Now there isn't a Jew left in all of Kiev!" the German officers yelled, as they tossed the children into the ditch. "We will do the same all over the world. We will annihilate all the Jews."

I will now describe the crematoriums and the transports. At the station 2,000 people got off the trains. They had to throw away all their luggage. Afterward the men and women were divided into two groups, at which the larger boys were assigned to the group with the men. Then that great devourer of Jews, Mengele, drove by in a car, seeking out the strongest from each transport. They numbered around thirty out of 2,000. The remainder were led away by SS Technical Sergeant Moll, the officer of the crematorium. The elderly were loaded onto dump trucks and then dumped into burning trenches while still alive. The remainder were led into the gas chambers. Meanwhile new transports were arriving.

In front of the gas chamber was a dressing room. On its walls was written in all languages: "Put shoes into the cubbyholes and tie them together so you will not lose them. After the showers you will receive hot coffee." Here the poor victims undressed themselves and went into the chamber. There were three columns for the ventilators, through which the gas poured in. A special work detail with truncheons drove the people into the chamber. When the room was full, small children were thrown in through a window. Moll grabbed infants by their little legs and smashed their skulls against the wall. Then the gas was let into the chamber. The lungs of the victims slowly burst, and after three minutes a loud clamoring could be heard. Then the chamber was opened, and those who still showed signs of life were beaten to death.

The prisoners of the special work details [Sonderkommandor] then pulled the corpses out, took their rings off, and cut their hair, which was gathered up, put in sacks, and shipped to factories. Then they arranged the corpses in piles of ten each. After Moll had counted them, they were taken to the ovens, or if the crematoriums were insufficient, thrown into fire trenches. Once it happened that a victim crawled out of a burning trench. He was beaten to death with truncheons. Once Moll put a naked woman in the trench and shot her in the genitals. Another time Moll found a ring on a member of the special work detail. He ordered naphtha poured over him and had it lighted. On another occasion he arranged twelve women who were lined up behind each other in a row, so that their heads were at the same height. Then he mercilessly shot through them all with a single bullet. He hanged a man up by his hands and shot him until his arms were torn through; then he hanged him up by the feet and repeated the process.

Once an Italian woman, a dancer, was brought to the crematorium. That drunken pig, the roll call officer Schillinger, ordered her to dance naked. She took advantage of a favorable moment, came near him, grabbed his pistol away from him, and shot him down.² In the exchange of gunfire that followed, the SS won of like dogs. Those who do not bark satisfactorily are beaten with whips. This is called "playing at dogs". "Playing at hares" is rather different. In this the prisoners are made to run and jump alternately down the corridors. The warders are the "hunters", who fire at selected "hares". Wounded men are killed off or not according to the whim of the jailers.

A favourite device is to keep prisoners standing for very long periods, by crowding them so tightly into a cell that there is no room to move (twenty-four hours is a normal period for this, and under the intense glare of powerful electric lights), or by placing them singly in cells so narrow that they are no more than niches. Prisoners are regularly placed in these niches the day before execution. Executions are a nightly occurrence.

Perhaps the most ghastly torture of all is that of the air-pump. A special air-valve is inserted into the prisoner's anus, and the guard then pumps air into his victim. How much air he pumps depends upon his whim; this treatment often results in burst intestines.

It is Fort VII, too, which contains the gas chamber to which reference was made in the previous chapter.

THE CAMP AT OSWIECH

^{2.} This incident became one of the more famous stories of resistance to the Holocaust. Because of its ubiquity and the vagueness of its source, Lawrence L. Langer (citing Kogon and Bettelheim) treats it as probably mythical: Versions of Servival (Albany: State University of New York Press, 1982), 43. It seems somewhat more credible in this account, as the source was a fifteen-year-old child who reported it even before the war was over and before any published accounts had appeared. Emmaly Reed: Holocaust Survivor Speaks at WCHS

By: Abby Mote and Kenzi Knobbe April 08, 2008

> On April 4th WCHS had a very special guest speaker. Her name is Emmaly Reed and she is a Holocaust survivor who spoke about her horrifying memories and experiences in many different death and concentration camps.

Her and her family were brought into the camps when she was only three years old. Her family was separated, and unfortunately she had to see Hittler personally tie and burn her father at the stake.

The next 12 years of Reed's life were very difficult, being in numerous different concentration camps and being transported there in squished cattle cars. Reed became a Christian when she was three years old because of the influence the Catholics and Protestants had on her. She was housed in the Jewish barracks but every night she snuck to the Christians' barracks and they would provide her with sanitary food to eat such as baked potato, piece of tomato, or she resorted to eating different flowers and grasses.

"if you know an animal can eat it and not die, it won't kill you," said Reed.

After she was freed she had to be spoon fed because her body couldn't handle whole foods. The Nazis performed many experiments on numerous people in the camps, and she was chosen several times. The doctors took a really long nail, a finger width wide and nailed it into the top of her head to see how far it would go down in her body and the effect it had. Sometimes she still remembers the feeling of the nail going into her head and coming back out.

When the camp was liberated, the guards fled, leaving all the survivors hanging on the walls of buildings by chains around their necks. If they moved at all, they would choke themselves to death. There were about 25 percent left on the walls that were alive and Reed was among them, however she was unconscious and left in a coma. Reed was freed from the camp at age fifteen weighing just 32 pounds. Jewish claims of forced sex-changes:

Eichmann Faces Trial For 'Final Solution'

AP Newsfeatures Writer

On the eve of World War II there were approximately

8,300,000 Jews in Europe.

At the end of the war, six years later, only a few more than 2,000,000 remained. Seventy-two per cent of them had died, victims of the Nazi "final solution" of the "Jewish problem."

Next month a cold-eyed, former salesman goes on trial for his life as one of the principal administrators of the "final solution." He, of course, is Adolph Eichmann.

His superiors once commended him for his zeal, resourcefulness and loyalty in carrying out the extermination of six persons, Jew and non Jew, were deported from the occupied lands to work in Germany. Quartered in thousands of labor camps (the list fills three telephone book sized volumes) they worked until they dropped in their traces of exhaustion and starvation.

The Jews suffered no illusion that their lot in the labor camps would be any different from that of their brothers in the extermination camps.

"Germany needs your arms," said an SS officer in greeting 1,200 French Jews at the Mathausen camp. "You are therefore going to work, but I want to tell you that never again will you see your families. When one enters this camp, one leaves it by the chimney of the crematorium."

But at the extermination camps all were to die as fast as the ovens could accommodate them. Even babies were gassed on birth. Jews were buried up to their heads in the earth and then cavalry was sent riding over them. The skin of victims was made into saddles, gloves and ladies' handbags.

Two healthy Dutch Jewish youths had their stomachs and kidneys removed and then gasoline was injected into their hearts. An SS officer kept the skull of one of them on his desk.

Even when the inevitable end became apparent, the Nazis kept on. In 1943, when transport for the armies was critical, Eichmann could still get ample railroad cars to transport Jews to Poland.

In the early stages of the war, puppet governments such as Hungary had been "encouraged" to deport Jews. Then, as the Allies closed in Germany occupied Claims that children were masturbated to death.

Actual real photograph of jewish babies and the evil Nazi nurses at the internment camps. Over 3,000 live births were registered in the Auschwitz maternity ward. Not a single infant death was registered while Auschwitz was in operation under German rule. Auschwitz pregnancies among the inmates took place because of the "open nature" of the facility.

In this photograph, you can see the classic Nazi 'smirk' at two more successful deliveries of heathy jew-babies so their little heathy babyhearts could be later injected with gasoline or stuffed into soccer balls:

These must be some kind of wicked Nazi torture devices used to prevent jew-babies from escaping to freedom.

The fiendish Nazis even set up nurseries for the jewish children to play together.

Holocaust Denial:

"Wait, so just what exactly are you saying...are you saying the Nazis were the good guys in WW2?!!"

Well, I am not saying this. The historical facts are saying this. I am just the guy who is pointing out the historical facts, and yes, that is correct: the historical facts demonstrate the National Socialists were the good guys, at least in the sense that an innocent person who tries to defend himself is the 'good guy'.

Think of it like this: the Nazis were like the little boy on the school playground who was bullied and constantly hit and abused by the angry jewish upperclassman. The jewish bully stole the little boy's lunch money day after day and as a result, was forced to go hungry day after day. He was shoved down and humiliated in front of his peers, day after day, until the boy realized he simply could not and would not take this abuse any longer. He stood up from the dusty playground, balled his little fist, and with all the glorious passion his meek heart could muster, that little Nazi struck back at the jewish bully. But then that jewish bully wailed and wailed and wailed. He wailed so loudly that his mother, the schoolyard teacher, came running over to his aid. "Look what that nasty and wicked and vile little Nazi did to my poor innocent child!" she screamed. So vehemently did she yell that soon the leaders of the school board wondered what terrible thing the Nazi child must have done to the jewish boy. Console her they tried, but she would not be appeased until the leaders united to expel forever from school that wicked and vile little Nazi boy.

Likewise, after Hitler's retaliatory strike against the jews, the jewish international banking Kaballah wailed and screamed. Nor would they be appeased until the leaders of the world united to destroy the Third Reich from the Earth. Even then, this Cabal of jews was still not appeased, nor could they ever be appeased until after the entirety of the Aryan race is likewise genocided.

For more information on Germany, Hitler and WW2, and for additional confirmation of the above historical facts, see the documentary: Greatest Story Never Told (A). This is a 6 hour documentary that was edited together from other WW2 documentaries. Although this resulted in a lower-quality work, this documentary itself is filled with vital facts and worth every minute of time to watch.

It's easier to fool people than to convince them that they have been fooled.

Universities are controlled by jews and they discriminate against Aryans:

A result of high average IQ?

Secondly, there are strong indications that Jews are maintaining and even increasing their overrepresentation in elite universities at a level that is far above levels warranted by their academic performance. The overrepresentation of Jews in elite academic institutions has long been apparent, even correcting for Jewish IQ:

On the basis of Richard Lynn's estimates of Ashkenazi Jewish IQ [110.7] and correcting for the greater numbers of European Whites, the ratio of non-Jewish Whites to Jews should be around 7 to 1 (IQ >130) or 4.5 to 1 (IQ > 145). Instead, the ratio of non-Jewish Whites to Jews is around 1 to 1 or less. (See here.) ... The brouhaha that engulfed the Princeton campus because Jews were "only" overrepresented by around 6.5 times their percentage of the population suggests that there is considerable pressure for high levels of Jewish admission. The Daily Princetonian ran four front-page articles on the topic, and the New York Times ran an article titled "The Princeton Puzzle." (See here; the original NYTimes article is here.) Clearly anything less than 20% Jewish enrollment would be met with raised eyebrows and perhaps intimations of anti-Semitism. The big picture is that this is a prime example of the corruption of our new elite. (see "Jewish overrepresentation at elite universities explained")

Do you honestly believe a jewish dean would allow an Aryan history professor to keep his job if he teaches the truth about jews? Do you honestly think jewish professors are going to give a teaching degree to someone who teaches the truth about jews? If the Aryan professor or Aryan student sues for mistreatment, do you honestly believe the jewish lawyer or the jewish judge will side with the Aryan complainant? In the land of the free and while even under the protection of the first amendment, a teacher is not allowed to show students how the National Socialists saluted one another, or else the teacher's career is shattered and 8 years of schooling has been forever wasted. But do not worry, that teacher will still have to pay back her student loans to the jewish bankers!

11. JEWS TODAY

The jews have decimated the bloodline of the German Aryans, and they are even now trying to eliminate the last remnants of Aryans in Europe, Canada, Australia, and the United States. They will not be appeared until all Aryans are wiped from the Earth.

I will now provide a brief history of jewish subversion in American affairs.

To begin, the American Revolution was not actually about throwing tea in the harbor to protest the high taxes of the English King George III; rather, it was about getting out from under the financial tyranny of the elite jewish bankers who were preventing the colonists from controlling their own money supply (see adjacent graphic).

The colonies would gladly have borne the little tax on tea and other matters had it not been that England took away from the colonies their money, which created unemployment and dissatisfaction. The inability of the colonists to get power to issue their own money permanently out of the hands of George III and the international bankers was the PRIME reason for the Revolutionary War."

-- Benjamin Franklin's autobiography

After the Revolution, Americans had won the ability to control their own money, and with it, they won their freedom. For the next 100 years, the Americans lived free, though not without several jewish attempts to regain control over American currency.

However, after electing the most pro-jewish president in American history [Wilson], Americans once again lost their freedom. In 1913, Wilson allowed the international elite jewish bankers to create a private bank in the US that possessed the sole monopoly on issuing US currency. This privately owned jewish bank was named the Federal Reserve in an attempt to deceive the masses into imagining it was somehow connected to a government entity.

Honest Jew Harold Wallace Rosenthal " Our power has been created through the manipulation of the national monetary system...The Federal Reserve system fitted our plan nicely since it is owned by us, but the name implies that it is a government institution. From the very outset, our purpose was to confiscate all the gold and silver, replacing them with worthless non- redeemable paper notes... We Jews have put issue upon issue to the American people. Then we promote both sides of the issue as confusion reigns. With their eyes fixed on the issues, they fail to see who is behind every scene. We Jews toy with the American public as a cat toys with a mouse... ' They killed him 30 days after his confessions

After establishing the Federal Reserve, over the next century the jewish banking elite proceeded to steal for themselves 95% of the value of every dollar that they issued [at interest] to the American people:

What does this mean for you? Simply this: take your current salary and multiply it by 20.

That is what you should be earning.

"If, as it appears, the experiment that was called America is at an end, then perhaps a fitting epitaph would be, 'Here lies America, the greatest nation that might have been, had it not been for the Edomite Bankers who first stole their money, then used their stolen money to buy their politicians and their press and then lastly deprive them of their Constitutional rights by the most evil device yet created, the Federal Reserve Banking System.'" -G. D. McDaniel

Using the proceeds from this stolen American wealth, the jews bought control over key assets within the USA.

First, they created a state of their own within the US (a state within a state).

Thomas Jefferson wrote, "Banking institutions are more dangerous to our liberties than standing armies." But the question is why? Why are banking institutions so dangerous? The reason has to do with control over the money supply. When a Central Bank controls the money supply, they can expand or contract the supply at will. By expanding the supply, businesses borrow ever larger sums since interest rates are low. However, after large sums have been lent, the bankers can then rapidly contract the supply, and suddenly there is no money to pay back the loans, resulting in foreclosure. This allows the bank to seize those businesses for their own. For this reason, George Washington wrote that such monetary systems as these "ever will ruin commerce, oppress the honest, and open a door to every species of fraud and injustice." Benjamin Franklin agreed when he said the primary cause of the revolution was King George Ill's refusal to allow the colonies to operate an honest money system, thereby putting the colonies at the mercy of the Crown.

The international jewish bankers continued in their attempts to control the US money supply, and after the Civil War was concluded, Abraham Lincoln's primary goal was to put an end to their attempts, once and for all. Lincoln sought to establish a central monetary system under the direct control of the US Treasury, rather than private bankers. This way, the American citizen would not be subject to currency manipulation. By placing all financing of public enterprise under the Federal government, Lincoln circumvented the private bankers. Lincoln explains, "Money will cease to be master and will then become servant of humanity." Unfortunately, Lincoln was never able to implement his plans because he was soon assassinated by the Spanish jew, John Wilks Booth. Concerning Lincoln's death, Otto von Bismarck wrote, "The death of Lincoln was a disaster for Christendom. I now fear that the international bankers, with their craftiness and tortuous tricks, will soon seize control over the exuberant riches of America and use them to systematically corrupt civilization." Bismarck's words would prove to be ominously prophetic because with the passage of the Federal Reserve Act in 1913, the international bankers did precisely as he said they would.

Andrew Jackson understood just how dangerous of a weapon the money supply can be, and he waged a war to deprive the international bankers of this terrible weapon of destruction. Jackson attempted to warn future generations of what would come should they ever allow the international bankers a foothold in American finance. He writes, "The Central Bank has attempted to control the government. Yet, these actions are but a premonition of the fate that waits the American people should they be deluded into a perpetuation of this institution or the establishment of another like it." But the American people did not head his warning:

With the passage of the Federal Reserve act, the international bankers now had all of the money they needed to begin establishing their own 'state within a state'. Jewish Americans, whose first loyalty was to the state of Israel, began to infiltrate into positions of power, including the CIA and FBI. They also began to gain control over the US media institutions in order to control public opinion.

Would 'everything' include the Kalergi Plan?

Whoever controls the media controls the mind.

If Jews represent just 2% of the U.S. population, would it be odd for a media rganization (whose parent company has a Jewish president and Jewish-majority C-level executives) to also have a Jewish President and Jewish Vice-President, a Jewish-majority of Executive Vice Presidents, and a Lead Political Anchor, Chief Political Correspondent, Chief Political Analyst, Chief Political Director, thief National Correspondent, and Chief Washington Correspondent—all 6 of its "Chief" anchor positions—who are all Jewish, as well as a majority—at least 13—of the network's currently-running shows having Jewish hosts?

It's almost as if...

Whoever controls the media controls the mind.

About 20% of US taxpayer funded NPR's personnel are of Jewish descent.

As merely 2% of the United States population, why are dual American & Israeli Jewish citizens allowed to represent about 1/5 of the US taxpayer subsidized public radio station?

Controlling Americans through Hollywood: Link to video (A)

Below is an excerpt from an article by John Solomon, an awardwinning investigative journalist. It demonstrates the powerful impact the news media has over the minds of Americans:

Polls showed the impact of the Russia coverage on voters. About half of American voters declared they believed Trump or his aides had colluded with Russia, even though they hadn't.

It is the most compelling proof in a long time that false information repeated long enough becomes truth for many people.

Although we are still coming to grips with the finality of the Mueller report, one thing has become increasingly clear: The Russia collusion narrative — fanned by foreigners, dirty tricksters and a willing media — did, in fact, impact an American election. Not the one in 2016, but the midterm that came two years later.

Half of American voters were unduly swayed by the media.

The media convinced half of Americans that a lie was true!

Half!

Below are some examples of how the Jew-controlled media pushes the Kalergi plan. Notice that time and time again, it is suggested white Aryan women should mate with African men:

However, below is an example of what happens when it is suggested that Jewish women ought to mate with African men. Such posts are considered vile 'hate speech' and must be censored.

Why the double standard?

The following are some examples of social media bias to support the Jewish Kalergi plan. The first three examples are NOT considered hate speech, and so they were not censored.

Example 1. Saying that you want to, intend on, and will shoot, stab, rape and murder white people is completely allowed and NOT considered as "hate speech" on Twitter:

Example 2. Telling someone that you will find him and kill him "does NOT violate community standards" on Facebook:

Hey you mother fucker, you keep mocking allahu and sweet islam. I fucking find and kill you. You stupid mother fucker, you better stop what you are doing or else you find your very life to become very unbearable with my existence when i come for you

"If thou comest on them in the war, deal with them so as to strike fear in those who are behind them, that haply they may remember."

Example 3. Telling others to 'hunt and murder white people in order to bring about their total and complete genocide' is perfectly OK and NOT considered 'hate speech':

Laura

White women should be hunted and killed then we won't get white babies who think the own the world!

These next five examples were considered hate speech and were therefore censored:

Example 1: Saying that you 'support marriage' is very clearly evil bigoted hatred, and such personal beliefs are so revolting and vile that they must be censored as hate-speech.

Example 2. Saying, "It is okay to be white," is obviously hate-speech, says the Human Rights Commission:

Example 3. How about saying the word: "Honk"???

..well, no question about it; that's clearly hate-speech:

Example 4. Being patriotic on a patriotic day needs to be banned.

Facebook has admitted to banning swathes of users for posting messages saying they were "Proud to be English" on St George's Day.

As England's patron saint, St George's Day has long been celebrated as the English national day — if with less official enthusiasm than St Patrick's Day in neighbouring Ireland, given the embarrassment of much of the academic, media, and political establishment at expressions of "Englishness", which they have associated with racism and imperialism.

I saved the best for last:

Lie #1. Whites are a 'majority':

World Population: 7.6 billion

Colored Population: 6.9 billion

White Pollution: 0.7 billion

Lie #2. 'White Pride' is evil and racist:

ETHNIC GROUPS FEAR BEING CLASSIFIED AS 'WHITE' DUE TO DIVERSITY QUOTAS

Certain ethnic groups are opposing their classification as "white" on the upcoming 2020 Census because they say the diversity quotas of corporations and universities will hurt their educational and job opportunities.

Arab and Persian residents in the United States told the Los Angeles Times that while they plan to participate in the 2020 Census, they fear they will be lumped in with the racial category of "white" Americans.

The U.S. is home to about three million southwest Asian, North African, and Middle Eastern residents, according to an analysis by the Times. The vast majority, about 80 percent, have called themselves "white" on previous census surveys.

The ethnic groups, though, fear declaring themselves "white" will give them a disadvantage in the education system and job market, as universities and corporations have favored diversity quotas:

Just what exactly are you saying? Do you expect us to put all the jews in concentration camps? Do you want us to exterminate the jews in a giant holocaust!?

The answer to this question is very simple, though the implantation of this answer is quite the opposite. The answer is: the punishment for being a traitor is death.

"If I had but one bullet and I were faced by both an enemy and a traitor, I would let the traitor have it."

-Corneliu Zelea Codreanu

Though the answer is simple, its implementation is difficult. It is vitally important to remember that the elites of this world use lies to pit all of us against each other. Just like lies are used by the elites against the negroid to manipulate them into doing the bidding of the elites, Aryans are given different lies in order to manipulate them into doing the bidding of the elites. Likewise, the jew is treated no differently. The elites manipulate and control the average jew just as they do to everyone else. Each group has received their own lies for the purpose of pitting us all against each other. Anyone who is deceived into accepting their lies, anyone who is manipulated in this way and controlled by the elites, is an enemy. But those who know the lies and accept them anyway are traitors. The Truth can convert enemies into allies, but the only answer for a traitor is death.

A great amount of wealth and deception goes into converting to judaism those children born to jewish parents. It is true that the jews of the world act as the storm troopers of the banking elite, and thereby, do horribly evil things to the rest of the world. But it is also true that most jews do not know they are being manipulated into such evil. Manipulating the jews in blind obedience is the primary purpose of the holocaust lies. These lies are used to convince the jews that they must defend the actions of other jews, no matter how horrendous, simply because if they do not, then one day the jews will all suffer yet another holocaust! The elites place the blame for the Holocaust squarely onto white Christians in hopes of tricking jews into destroying white Christians. And it is working. Jews now believe the evil actions they commit against non-jews are justified on account of the 'holocaust' and other 'persecutions' they have supposedly suffered; all the while, they claim the suffering and persecutions they impose upon others is not only justified, but necessary and good. They have been whipped into blind obedience through the lies they have believed, which are used to ensure that jews never awaken to the fact that their religion is a satanic cult hell-bent on world domination. Until the holocaust is exposed for the hoax it is, the jews can never break from the programming they have received. The true purpose of the holocaust hoax is to control the jews. The fact they also use it to bleed money from the confused goyim is secondary.

An example of the many lies used to control the jews

An analogy may help: "Long ago in a land far away, there existed a prosperous city with flags of gold and tall, white towers. This was a city of few laws, but those who transgressed the law were harshly reprimanded. Theft, for instance, was punished by death. However, children, being weak in mind, were exempted from these harsh legal retributions because it was known that parents would soon correct such behaviors.

One day, a family of foreigners happened upon the city. "We are in need," they begged the locals, and the locals, who were a kind and generous people, allowed them to stay. This new family thought the laws of the city were quite strange, indeed, and seeing a loophole in the written law, the parents of this new family taught their children to steal from the city's inhabitants.

Soon after the arrival of this new family, an unusual thing began to occur which had never before happened in the prosperous city: a crime wave swept through the land. After an investigation, the authorities discovered the culprits were only the children of the foreigners. Although the stolen money was never found, the charges were still dropped. However, rather than putting an end to the thefts, the parents taught their children to perform even more brazen crimes. Then on one dreadful morning, a boy, a mere child, was robbed and beaten to death. It was not long before everyone in the city knew who had committed the crime.

"But there is no law against this!" the father defiantly yelled. "My sons have committed no crime!" Yet his words went unheeded, and the good townsfolk punished those children and expelled the foreigners into the wilderness.

Though it was the foreign parents who had endangered their own children, and though it was the foreign parents who benefited from the harmful actions of the children, it was the children who were punished. But those wicked parents did not humble themselves at the sufferings felt by their children. Instead, they blamed the good townsfolk, and tricked their children by saying, "You had done no wrong, children. Their actions against you were unjustified. And worse of all, they were anti-Semitic. Remember the pain dealt to you because they will holocaust you again and again. They are forever your enemy, and they must be destroyed. Never forget these words. Never forget."

In this way, the children were deceived into believing they had done no wrong. They were deceived into blind obedience to their father's lies. Worst of all, when the children were grown, they returned to that bright and noble city, and exacted revenge for the "persecution" they had received. Through deception, subversion, and guerrillas by night, they burnt to the ground that beautiful city with the golden flags and white towers. The daughters of that glorious land were raped, its sons murdered, and then lies were spread about the city so that no other land would ever oppose these jews and their Master, who was the Father of Lies.

In sum, the elite jews of the world have built a system to control all of us: negroid, jew, gentile. The jews play an important part in that system, and until the jews awaken to the holocaust hoax and the part in which they have unwittingly played in this system, those jews are the enemy. No one who accepts the lies of the holocaust be an ally of Truth. If one cannot separate himself from something as well documented as the Holocaust lies, then he is not ready to be unplugged from the system that controls him. He has become dependent upon this system, and he will fight to protect it. In this way, many jews have been deceived into serving their Master, the Father of Lies, that great serpent the Devil, and until the jews surrender the comfort of these lies, until they are willing to embrace Truth, the jews will forever belong to the greatest cult which has ever scourged this good Earth.

Are you paying attention, or are you looking at the woman in the red dress? (A)

What is even more unfortunate for the jews who are so manipulated into obedience is that their elite overlords still view the jews as nothing more than goyim to be sacrificed. The fact remains that the real persecutions suffered by the jewish people have actually originated from the elite satanic jewish cult, themselves!

"It is essential that the sufferings of Jews become worse. This will assit in the realization of our plans. I shall induce anti-semites to liquidate Jewish wealth. The anti-semites will assist us thereby in that they will strengthen the persecution and oppression of Jews.

We shall lead every revolution against us."

One example of this is the Patria Bombing: the individuals who would make up the first Israeli government were the same people who formed the terrorist organization which decided, by any means necessary, they would get jews to move to Palestine, even if it meant murdering jewish children. The elite Zionists began funding the illegal immigration of jews into Palestine. Their intent was use those jews as a weapon for the Zionist bankers to seize control over the land. When the British discovered this plan, rather than allowing the British to send the illegal immigrants back home, on November 25th, 1940, the jewish terrorists organized by a group known as the Jewish Agency (which would later become the Israeli government) bombed SS Patria on the day it was leaving, murdering hundreds of people, including jews and their children. They then blamed the attack on the Palestinians in an attempt to trick the British into aiding them in their upcoming war against the Palestinian people. The bomb was placed by none other than Munya Mardor, himself, who went on to become the Director General of the Israel Weapons Research and Development Authority.

This would not be the last time jews would pretend to be arabs in order to murder people and then blame those murders on their enemies in hopes of tricking the victims into aiding the jews. They would go on to bomb or attempt to bomb several other refugee ships, including the Pan Crescent and the Empire Rival (both ships were carrying jewish immigrants and their children at the time of the bombings), and each time, the jewish terrorist blamed the attacks on the Palestinians.

The following is another example of jews unjustly targeted by the elite Zionist bankers. According to these banking overlords, only "certain" jews will inherit the promised land. Low IQ black jews need not apply:

The real fear of the elite jewish bankers is that the jews of the world will realize that judaism, itself, is a satanic cult designed by the elites to control the jews. What the elites truly fear is that the jews will realize their real enemies are the elites, themselves. Any attempt to offer historical data, factual truths or primary source information to the jews in an attempt awaken them to this fact is met with lawsuits, arrest, both verbal and physical assaults, and when all else fails, the defenders of Truth are assassinated.

Ok, so the jews have created a private bank, the Federal Reserve, to steal all of our money, and the jews have used that money to seize control over our media and basically every major institution in the world, which have then used to control our thoughts (such as getting us to believe in ridiculous lies like the holocaust), and they even tricked the normal jews into collectively attempting to genocide the Aryan race, but what I don't understand is why no one said anything about this before?

-Actually, many have spoken out against the jew, but since the jews control the media, our education system and our history book publishers, you probably have not heard about them. Here are a few examples:

INTERNATIONAL FINANCIERS ARE BEHIND ALL WAR. THEY ARE WHAT IS CALLED THE INTERNATIONAL JEW: GERMAN-JEWS, FRENCH- JEWS, ENGLISH-JEWS, AMERICAN-JEWS... THE JEW IS THE THREAT. - HENRY FORD - "The answer to the JEWISH PROBLEM is simple keep them out of banking, out of education, out of government"

"Israeli spies have done more harm and have damaged the United States more than the intelligence agents of all other countries on earth combined...They are the gravest threat to our national security"

~ Admiral Bobby Inman Former Deputy Director of the CIA

"There is a very apparent Semitic influence in the press. They are trying to do two things: first, implement communism, and second, see that all businessmen of German ancestry and non-Jewish antecedents are thrown out of their jobs.

William Luther Pierce

Did you ever wonder why the Jews are such great proponents of democracy? Whether in Indonesia or Pakistan or Serbia or you name it. whenever there is some threat to universal suffrage, the Jews are ready to send the U.S. armed forces in to bomb and kill until everyone is permitted to vote. Why is that?

I have here in my hand a list of two hundred and five that were known to the Secretary of State as being members of the Communist Party and who nevertheless are still working and shaping the policy of the State Department.

The Chinese are so convinced that Israel contols America that it is not even debated in China anymore. It's just taken as fact. Here, read this excerpt from a speech given by professor Xu Xin who heads the political science department at China's largest university:

"That's what the data shows us. It is undeniable from my perspective." Professor Xu Xin told the IB Business Times when asked this question at a Jewish study group in late October. "They run your media, universities and much of your government."

The professor and his colleagues are so convinced that the Jews run the west, particularly, the US, that they've conducted a study to see 'how the Chinese can follow suit and match Jewish success running western institutions."

"Yes I think it is obvious that Jews control western world. They tell you who to wage war on, who to fight, who to support and how to spend your money. This is what we Chinese want to understand when we study Jewish dominance and hegemony of west." Professor Xu Xin stated in the recent IB interview.

The professor took things one anti-Semitic step farther stating,

"There are literally so many instances of how you have fallen for Jewish tricks. Hitler was the last person to openly contest Jewish rule and look how he is viewed. He is hated because of what Jews taught you with their films and books. We Chinese are amused at how gullible white men are. We want to find the same way to shape your thoughts. This is why we study them (Jews)."

Denying Holocaust Is Not a Human Right, EU Court Determines in Ruling Against German Neo-Nazi

A German neo-Nazi who argued before the EU's leading human rights court that a ban on Holocaust denial was a violation of his human rights was sent packing by the unanimous decision of seven judges on Thursday.

Udo Pastörs — the former leader of the far-right National Democratic Party (NDP) — was told that denial of the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews was not a basic human right.

Rightwing activists are attempting to spread new laws across Republicancontrolled states that would ban criticism on public university campuses of Israel and its occupation of Palestinian territory.

Pro-Israel and conservative lobbyists are encouraging state lawmakers to outlaw antisemitism in public education, from kindergarten through to graduate universities. But the proposed definition of antisemitism is so wide that, in addition to standard protections against hate speech towards Jews, it would also prohibit debate about the human rights violations of the Israeli government.

First amendment advocates see the potential spread of such laws as a major threat to free speech on campuses.

Jerusalem Post confirms Israel knew USS Liberty was American

LISTEN | PRINT

A 2004 transcript of an Israeli military tape published in the Jerusalem Post supports the unanimous position of the survivors and many high-ranking US officers that Israeli forces knew the USS Liberty was an American ship, as they attempted to sink it.

The Liberty was the only ship of its kind at the time, easily distinguishable for the huge satellite dishes mounted on its deck and the bristling array of antennae which served as the spy ship's "ears."

"We had been surveilled all morning and part of the afternoon by Israeli forces. They knew who we were. We heard them reporting over radio who we were and how we were sailing and where we were sailing. They saw the flag and everything else. We were in international waters."

New tapes show Israel's attack on USS Liberty was deliberate

The translated words of Israeli commanders and Israeli pilots from tapes can be heard, numerous times, as confirming the identity of the Liberty as "American." The tapes include a timeline in the background which fixes the times of transmissions, and establishes that confirmation was made before and during the attack.

"The pilots said, "This is an American ship. Do you still want us to attack?" And ground control came back and said, 'Yes, follow orders.'"

"made specific reference to the efforts to direct the jets to the target which was identified as American numerous times by the ground controller. Upon arrival, the aircraft specifically identified the target and mentioned the American flag she was flying. There were frequent operational transmissions from the pilots to the ground base describing the strafing runs. The ground control began asking about the status of the target and whether it was sinking. They stressed that the target must be sunk and leave no trace."

As for the "why" of the attack, a non-governmental committee chaired by Admiral Moorer, which included former U.S. ambassador to Saudi Arabia James E. Akins, theorized that the attack was intended to be blamed on Egypt, thereby drawing the US into Israel's Six Day War with Arab states in 1967. Supporting this were the facts that the Israelis clearly wanted the ship to sink, and that they used unmarked fighter aircraft.

Coincidentally, according to Admiral Lawrence Geis, who was commander of the US Mediterranean fleet on that day, the Sixth Fleet was undergoing a nuclear-armed drill at the time, in which warplanes were armed with live nuclear weapons. Geis said that he was ordered by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara to recall flights of US fighter aircraft sent to assist the Liberty, twice, because President Lyndon B. Johnson in fact wanted the Liberty to sink, with all hands.

"I was a Signalman, responsible for visual communications between ships. Since we steamed independently I stood Quartermaster watches. My work space was the Signal Bridge which is the highest deck on the Liberty. Since my workstation was on the Signal Bridge I saw all of the reconnaissance flights that happened before the attack. That included one aircraft that flew so low we waved at the pilots and they waved back as their engines made the deck plates vibrate...I saw the initial attack from the signal bridge and it happened so fast I couldn't see the markings on the aircraft. I thought they were Egyptian since the Israelis were our friends and didn't learn that they were Israeli until I saw the flag on the torpedo boats."

The attack commenced at 1:58 pm on June 8th, 1967 with Israeli Mirage Jets methodically destroying the ship's four .50 caliber machine guns and signal antennae so it could neither defend itself nor call for help. Over the course of the sustained attack, the ship was strafed, rocketed, and napalmed. Israeli patrol boats then approached to ship to launch torpedoes in an attempt to make her sink.

After the torpedo hits, torpedo boats circle, machine-gunning the ship with armorpiercing projectiles for another 40 minutes. At 3:15 p.m., as lifeboats are lowered into the water, the Israelis pull up at close range and proceed to machine-gun the lifeboats. This is a full hour after confirmation has been given that the ship is American.

Liberty sailors fought fires and ship damage while wounded and tending to the most severely wounded. The heroism of the crew was commended by the Navy as the sole reason the ship did not sink.

In charge of the official US Navy Court of Inquiry report which drew the conclusion that the attack was an accident was Admiral John S. McCain, Jr., father of John McCain, the US senator and former presidential candidate.

Ok, so the jews purposely attacked the US military to trick us into fighting their war for them. I guess all is fair in love and war, but at least they have never directly targeted US civilians.

-Actually...

Ok, so the jews killed 34 Americans on the USS Liberty in an attempt to trick us into fighting their war in the Middle East against Egypt, and before that, they tried to kill a bunch of American citizens during the Lavon Affair in order to trick Americans into attacking their Middle Eastern enemies, but one thing we absolutely know for complete certainty is that the jews definitely didn't have a group of Israelis with bomb-making materials illegally sneak into the US to film the first plane hitting the World Trade Center. And when it hit, these 5 Israelis certainly did not leap and dance for joy upon the completion of a successful mission to destroy the WTC in order to trick the US into attacking their enemies in the Middle East.

Forget about melting...at what temperature does fire cut through steel at a 45° angle?

It is certainly lucky these jews had construction access, because otherwise building-security might have wondered why they needed so many explosives for their 'art project'.

...But we know the 9-11 attacks were committed by the afgan terrorists because afgans are proficient in many skills, such as living in caves, milking goats, crushing wheat with a rock, opening advanced trades on wallstreet by buying $15.7 million of puts on AAL stock, etc...

- Between September 6 and 7, the Chicago Board Options Exchange saw purchases of 4,744 put options on United Airlines, but only 396 call options. Assuming that 4,000 of the options were bought by people with advance knowledge of the imminent attacks, these "insiders" would have profited by almost $5 million.
- On September 10, 4,516 put options on American Airlines were bought on the Chicago exchange, compared to only 748 calls. Again, there was no news at that point to justify this imbalance; Again, assuming that 4,000 of these options trades represent "insiders", they would represent a gain of about $4 \text{million}.
- [The levels of put options purchased above were more than six times higher than normal.]
- No similar trading in other airlines occurred on the Chicago exchange in the days immediately preceding Black Tuesday.
- Morgan Stanley Dean Witter & Co., which occupied 22 floors of the World Trade Center, saw 2,157 of its October $45 put options bought in the three trading days before Black Tuesday; this compares to an average of 27 contracts per day before September 6. Morgan Stanley's share price fell from $48.90 to $42.50 in the aftermath of the attacks. Assuming that 2,000 of these options contracts were bought based upon knowledge of the approaching attacks, their purchasers could have profited by at least $1.2 million.
- Merrill Lynch & Co., which occupied 22 floors of the World Trade Center, saw 12,215 October $45 put options bought in the four trading days before the attacks; the previous average volume in those shares had been 252 contracts per day [a 1200% increase!]. When trading resumed, Merrill's shares fell from $46.88 to $41.50; assuming that 11,000 option contracts were bought by "insiders", their profit would have been about $5.5 million.

A jew named Larry Silverstein owned the World Trade Center on 9-11. He purchased a 99 year lease for $125 million just 6 weeks prior to the attack. After his purchase, this jew, Larry Silverstein, immediately fires the current security company working at the WTC and instead contracts with the same jewish security company that handled security for United Airlines at that time. Then he shuts down the WTC, floor-by-floor, while allowing a team of Israeli "art students" into the building. These art students, for some strange reason, required a large number of explosive fuses for their "art project." Silverstein then insures the buildings with the maximum allowed Terrorist Airplane-attack insurance, and ended up collecting $4.55 billion in insurance costs. He then sued the airlines for an additional $3.5 billion. The normally punctual Silverstein and his entire family who all worked in the WTC just happened to all be late for work on the morning of 9-11.

The security for WTC was run by Kroll Associates (owned by jews). The security at Boston and Newark airports on 9-11 was ICTS, an Israeli company. The 9-11 Commission Report was written by Philip Zelikow, a jew. The criminal division of the Justice Department which led the 9-11 investigation was headed by Michael Chertoff, a jew. On 9-11, 5 jews were caught trying to blow up the George Washington Bridge. Over 60 jewish spies were arrested on 9-11 and days shortly thereafter.

And then, there was the gold: $166,770,000,000 worth of gold bullion went missing from where it was stored in locked vaults in the basement of the WTC complex. Only $230 million was recovered, and it was found in an abandoned truck, accompanied by an escort of several abandoned cars, in a delivery ramp under Building 5 in what appeared to be an attempted escape at a time when not even the firemen believed the twin towers were going to collapse.

The harsh reality is that the jews pervade Western positions of power, particularly in the US. Israel has a decades-long history of engaging in false flags attacks. Israel has a decades-long history of engaging in false flag attacks specifically to get the United States to fight Muslims (USS Liberty, Lavon Affair, etc.). Many people say that 9/11 was not an "inside job" because they refuse to believe that Americans could kill thousands of their own people. They are almost correct. Jews, however, have no such compunction against killing non-jews. Remember that the Talmud describes non-jews as animals in human form. Basic detective work leads you to the number one suspect being Israel. No other nation could even be on a list of suspects.

Jews were warned of the 9-11 attacks just before those attacks took place.

If muslims want to kill jews, then why would muslims warn the jews to stay away from the WTC on 9-11?

Odigo Says Workers Were Warned of Attack archive.is/WREI0

Odigo, the instant messaging service, says that two of its workers received messages two hours before the Twin Towers attack on September 11 predicting the attack would happen, and the company has been cooperating with Israeli and American law enforcement, including the FBI, in trying to find the original sender of the message predicting the attack.

Yuval Dror | 26.09.2001 00:00 Updated: 12:43 AM

As an instant messaging service, Odigo users are not limited to sending messages only to people on their "buddy" list, as is the case with ICQ, the other well-known Israeli instant messaging application.

The following is a leaked document which explains jews infiltrated radical muslim terrorist groups so they could order the attack against America on 9-11:

The above document should not be surprising after one realizes that the muslim Al Qaeda spokesman is Adam Pearlman, a jew. Moreover, the S.I.T.E. website which releases AlQaeda tapes is also owned by a jew. In 2002, an Al Qaeda operation was foiled by the Palestinian Authority, and the captive Al Qaeda agents turned out to be jews. On September 10, 2001, US Army releases a report that claims jews have the ability to target U.S. forces and make it look like a muslim act.

...September 10 ...Sept 10

But I can't believe the jews would infiltrate into Muslim organizations in order to deceive people. Who could do such a thing!

The "Donmeh" were a group of jews in the Ottoman Empire who converted publicly to Islam, but retained their judaic beliefs in secret. Just as these jews who looked like Islamic Arabs pretended to be Islamic Arabs to infiltrate into powerful positions within the Ottoman Empire in order to steal its wealth and radicalize Muslims into murdering Christians, and just as the jews in Russia who looked like Russians pretended to be Russian in order to radicalize the Russians to bring about a genocide of the Russian Christians (Holdomor), and just as the jews in Germany who looked like Germans pretended to be German in an attempt to radicalize Germans into genociding the German Christians (Sparticist uprising), jews in Turkey who looked like Turks, pretended to be Turkish Muslims in order to radicalize the Young Turks in order to bring about the Armenian Genocide of the Armenian Christians. It should be no surprise the Young Turks were supplied by jewish Bolsheviks. They were given 6,000 rifles, over 5 million rifle cartridges, 17,600 projectiles as well as 200.6 kg of gold bullion in 1920.

In 1922, the jews pretending to be Muslim Turks burnt the city of Smyrna resulting in 100,000 Christians raped, tortured, hacked, starved and dead. During the massacres, "crucifixions" of the female Christians were common, but these were not crucifixions in the popular sense utilizing a cross. Instead, these were vertical impalements. After being thoroughly raped, the Christian women were impaled through the vaginal cavity with a wooden spike. Then the spikes were erected and their bodies slowly slid down the shaft to finally protrude from the mouth. The bodies were so firmly fixed, in some instances, that the stakes could not be withdrawn from the bodies and it was necessary to saw them off. By 1923, 1.5 million Christians had been genocided by the jews in Turkey.

Here is the jewish ploy: they find jews who look like Muslims, and then have those jews pretend to be Muslims so they can murder Aryans and then blame it on Muslims so that the Aryans will rise up and fight the Muslim enemies of the jew.

As we have seen, this jewish ploy has been used many times, and each time it was remarkably successful.

So, it should come as no surprise that the powerful Rothschild jews in Britain arranged for the creation of Wahhabism, which went on to become the Saudi Arabian government, led by Donhem jews whose purpose it was to radicalize Muslims into terrorists. This, in turn resulted in the creation if ISIS, a group of terrorists led by jews who look like Muslims and who pretend to be Muslim so they can murder Aryans and then blame it on Muslims so that the Aryans will rise up and fight the Muslim enemies of the jew.

Only after one realizes the concept of jewish Donmeh can one properly understand why the Islamic State Terrorist Organization, whose #1 declared enemy is Israel, would NEVER attack Israel except by accident. Why would a military unit whose sole purpose is to destroy Israel, decide that they should instead attack all of Israel's enemies but never Israel, itself?

9-11 was no different. Continuing the very successful practice of jewish Donmeh, 9-11 was a jewish-planned attack against US citizens whereby the jews benefited in every possible way.

ISIS Apologized To Israel For Attacking IDF Soldiers

by Tyler Durden Apr 28, 2017 8:08 PM

In a curious incident that is certain to provoke questions about the proximity, not to mention fund flow, between Israel and ISIS the former Israeli Defense Minister, cited by the Times of Israel, said that Islamic State terrorists have on at least one occasion "apologized" to Israel for mistakenly attacking IDF soldiers in the occupied Golan Heights. The disclosure may also provide some insight into why after reportedly attacking virtually every religion and ethnicity in the region, there have been virtually no documented attacks by the Islamic State on Israel or its citizens.

"I have had long conversations over the last two weeks with contacts at the Army War College and at headquarters-Marine Corps-and I've made it absolutely clear in both cases that it is 100% certain that 9/11 was a Mossad [jewish] operation. What Americans need to understand is that Israel did it. And if they do understand that, Israel will disappear from the Earth. 9/11 has led directly to 60,000 Americans dead or wounded. God knows how many people in other countries. If Americans ever know that Israel did this, they're going to scrub them off the Earth, and they're not going to give a rat's ass what the cost is. The Zionists are playing this as truly an all-or-nothing exercise. If they lose this one—if the American people ever realize what happened-they're done. It will be a bloody, brutal war, and they're gone. I have one grandparent who is jewish. If this explodes, I am going to go down with the rest of them. And I know this. If that's the price for making America whole again-if my death were a requirement for the saving of America-that's the price I pay." - Dr. Alan Sabrosky, US Army War College, retired. Link (A)

"Be prepared for a major attack. But it won't be Osama bin Laden. It will be those behind the New World Order. Whatever is going to happen, they are going to blame it on Osama bin Laden. DO NOT EVEN BELIVE IT!" -Milton William Cooper on 6/28/01

On 11/5/01 Milton Cooper is shot dead.

Ok, so the jews are America's greatest enemy, they flagrantly murder Americans, and they continuously steal from us and think it is funny, but at least they don't rape our children.

-Actually, we've known that they have been raping our children for almost a century:

MPPDA implemented the Hays Code to ban the degeneracy that the jews were pushing on the unsuspecting and warm-hearted Americans. The Hays Code banned positive portrayals of:

- under-age sex
- sedition
- destruction of the flag
- anti-nationalism
- sexual affairs & perversion
- ridicule of religion
- drug trafficking

The Hays Code was introduced in 1930 but not enforced until 1934. Even after its implementation, major Hollywood executives exercised little moral restraint. E.g. In the film 'Baby Face' (1933), the heroine is a fourteen-year-old who is pimped by her father, moves to New York and prostitutes herself. It was produced by the jewish founder of Warner Bros, Jack Warner.

Otto Preminger was an immigrant jewish director who promoted rape, homosexuality and drug use. People protested his work and deemed it an assault on American and Christian culture. Here was what the protesters declared:

"We unite with all who protest against them as a grave menace to youth, to home life, to country and to religion. We condemn absolutely those salacious motion pictures which, with other degrading agencies, are corrupting public morals and promoting a sex mania in our land."

In 1947, the House of Representatives had to blacklist ten notable Hollywood screenwriters for conspiring to brainwash and convert the American public to Communism, which today was rebranded and is now called democracy.

Well, ok, so the jews steal from us, murder our sons and rape our daughters, and have attacked both civilian and military US citizens...but at least they have not stolen 600 pounds of highly enriched nuclear materials from the US with the intent of using it as a dead-man's switch to destroy America should anyone decide to try to stop the jews' genocidal plans for world domination.

Actually...

At least the Apollo Affair is the only time the jews have stolen Nuclear secrets from the US....

-Well...I wouldn't say it was the only time...

SCIENCE | Fourth Spy Unearthed in U.S. Atomic Bomb Project

Mr. Seborer was born in New York City in 1921, the youngest child of Jewish immigrants from Poland, according to the study by Mr. Klehr and Mr. Haynes and a C.I.A. document they cited. He attended City College of New York, studied electrical engineering and worked at Los Alamos from 1944 to 1946.

In July 1945, the study reported, he was "part of a unit monitoring seismological effects" of the first detonation of the atomic device. His Soviet code name was Godsend, and he came to Los Alamos from a family of spies.

In 1951, Mr. Seborer fled the United States with his older brother Stuart, as well as his brother's wife and mother-in-law, and defected to the Soviet Union, where, in 1964, he received the Order of the Red Star, a prestigious military award. He died in Moscow in April 2015 under the assumed surname Smith. The study reported that the funeral's attendees included an agent of the Russian internal security service.

David Greenglass was drafted into the United States Army during the Second World War. He was scheduled to ship overseas as a Seabee, until an eye examination revealed that he was color-blind. The Army then decided to utilize his training as a machinist. Following a security check, Greenglass was sent to Los Alamos, New Mexico, a secret military establishment where the atom bomb was being developed. Greenglass provided information that he obtained from Los Alamos to the Soviets.

At what point does it become mathematically impossible?

So, what you are saying is that the jews are really a part of a monolithic and ruthless conspiracy, and they are relying on covert methods to expand their influence throughout the world by means of infiltration, intimidation, subversion and with guerrillas by night? International financiers have a certain modus operandi: take control of the money supply to gain incredible wealth, use that wealth to buy the media, and use these to gain political power through the manipulation of the voters and the bribery of politicians, then use that political power to forward their agenda of world domination.

In 1832, Andrew Jackson waged a war against these world bankers in an attempt to protect US citizens from falling under their control. He sought to dismantle the Second Bank of the United States, which was a privately held banking corporation that possessed the sole monopoly on issuing US currency. Jackson knew if these international bankers gained total control over the US banking system, then our politicians would one day become their puppets and we their slaves.

He was not wrong.

They want a world all to themselves, and they will have it. By genociding white Aryans and replacing them with low IQ brown people, the jews will finally have their dreams come true. This will be and has been accomplished by our financial enslavement through the creation of the Federal Reserve, and by using the proceeds from control over the money supply to seize our news-media, our history book publishers, our social media platforms, our education system, and our government.

"Without having been absorbed, today the Hebrew spirit dominates where at first it was hardly endured. We no longer need to close ourselves up in the medieval Ghetto, since we have for some time possessed the dominion which was promised to us. Without us no potentate in the world can undertake anything, for we control the gold market. No word contrary to our taste is published because we control the press. No idea which displeases us penetrates the intellectual world, because we dominate the theater. The Hebrew spirit has conquered the world."

—The Jew Maritz Cohn, in his book, "Weisen von Zion," page 27.

In summary, the jews are trying to seize control over the entire world by implementing the Kalergi plan to genocide the entire Aryan race and replace them with low IQ brown slaves who lack the intelligence to resist their jewish chains of usury. The elite jews have seized the money supply of the world through international finance by establishing privately owned central banks in virtually every nation. The wealth stolen through world usury is used to buy media assets and use them to seize control over the minds of the citizenry. Through the media and through their bribed and blackmailed political puppets, they sway the events of the world toward their ultimate goal: permanent and everlasting control over Earth.

There are many pieces of evidence which attest to these facts. A few examples include the adjacent letter to Karl Marx, as well as the The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, which can be found at the following: Link (A)

"The Jewish people as a whole will be its own Messiah. It will attain world dominion by the dissolution of other races, by the abolition of frontiers, the annihilation of monarchy, and by the establishment of a world republic in which the Jews will everywhere exercise the privilege of citizenship. In this new world order the Children of Israel will furnish all the leaders without encountering opposition. The Governments of the different peoples forming the world republic will fall without difficulty into the hands of the Jews. It will then be possible for the Jewish rulers to abolish private property, and everywhere to make use of the resources of the state. Thus will the promise of the Talmud be fulfilled, in which is said that when the Messianic time is come, the Jews will have all the property of the whole world in their hands." -Baruch Levy Letter to Karl Marx La Revue de Paris p. 574 June 1, 1928

12. NEW WORLD ORDER

What kind of world to they want for themselves?

There will be a one-world government run by an oligarchy of banks, corporations and dynastic families. International institutions will replace nation-states as the centers of global power. Cash will be outlawed. All financial transactions will be digital, allowing governments to control people financially. Surveillance will be ubiquitous and privacy will end. Facial recognition, optical scanners and RFID chips will be the norm. CCTV cameras will be everywhere. ID cards will be required at all times. Global population will be reduced by means of anti-fertility drugs imposed on targeted populations using GMO foods and vaccines to carry hormones that will prevent pregnancy and reduce sperm-counts to ineffective levels. Political leaders will serve the global oligarchy by enforcing global laws and controlling their populations. Authoritarianism will prevail. Totalitarian government will be the rule. This will be the new world order.

"People, governments and economies of all nations must serve the needs of multinational banks and corporations." -Zbigniew Brzezinski

"The plan is a One World Government and one-unit monetary system, under permanent non-elected hereditary oligarchists who self-select from among their numbers in the form of a feudal system as it was in the Middle Ages. In this One-World entity, population will be limited to one billion people who are useful to the ruling class, in areas which will be strictly and clearly defined. There will be no middle class, only rulers and the servants. All laws will be uniform under a legal system of world courts practicing the same unified code of laws, backed up by a One World Government police force and a One World unified military to enforce laws in all former countries where no national boundaries shall exist. The system will be on the basis of a welfare state: those who are obedient and subservient to the One World Government will be rewarded with the means to live; those who are rebellious will simply be starved to death or be declared outlaws. Privately owned firearms or weapons of any kind will be prohibited." -John Coleman

"Just as our banks and corporations have plundered the Third World with rapacious delight over the past three decades, now they will be able to do the same to the populations of the rich nations themselves. The state will transform, as it did in the 'Third World', into a typically totalitarian institution which is responsible for protecting the super-rich and controlling, oppressing, or, in extreme cases of resistance, eliminating the 'problem populations'." -Andrew Gavin Marshall

"The plan of the global financial elite was nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole." -Carroll Quigley

"This world is not run by The Presidents or The Prime Ministers, it is run by the global corporations and the banks. For it is these entities that control the money supply and it is these entities that decide which country lives or falls." -The Daily Bell

The end goal of the New World Order is to secure the power of the Sanhedrin by establishing a World Court under the control of elites in Israel, and using this World Court to enforce the Noahide laws. These laws will be used to eradicate any and all political and religious dissent. In this way, they will permanently secure the world under the control of the elite jewish bankers. Any who oppose them, as well as anyone born 'white' or anyone claiming to be 'Christian', will be branded an outlaw, rounded up by the local police and beheaded under the rule of law.

The massive surveillance state is not about finding terrorists. It is about protecting the elites from YOU.

Militarizing the police is not about protecting you from terrorists. It is about protecting the elites from YOU.

Gun control is not about stopping crime or protecting children. It is about protecting the elites from YOU.

Socialism is not about making everyone 'equal'. It is about making you dependent upon the elites...

...To protect the elites from YOU!

If you are having a difficult time believing the things written in this report, understand that it is because you are an Aryan. You are trusting and generous. You want to believe there is good in all people and that all people are like you.

But not all people are like you.

Not all people are of noble Aryan descent. You must wake up to the fact that the jewish elites want you dead and your children enslaved. They are jews, not Aryans; enslavement and debauchery come as naturally to them as kindness and good-naturedness come to you. They do not have your natural sense of right and wrong. To them, there is no such thing as justice; only the will of the stronger. They believe you are weak, foolish and gullible for expecting any kind of gentleness from them. They cannot have a heart because there is no Truth in them. But what they do have is control over your money and the means to manipulate your mind through their media, and they will use both of these to destroy you and your children.

Millions of Russians lost their lives to jewish Bolshevism, and this occurred because they had no understanding of the real situation. They had no understanding of the Jewish Question.

And they paid for that with their lives.

"And how we burned in the camps later, thinking: What would things have been like if every Security operative, when he went out at night to make an arrest, had been uncertain whether he would return alive and had to say good-bye to his family? Or if, during periods of mass arrests, as for example in Leningrad, when they arrested a quarter of the entire city, people had not simply sat there in their lairs, paling with terror at every bang of the downstairs door and at every step on the staircase, but had understood they had nothing left to lose and had boldly set up in the downstairs hall an ambush of half a dozen people with axes, hammers, pokers, or whatever else was at hand?... The Organs would very quickly have suffered a shortage of officers and transport and, notwithstanding all of Stalin's thirst, the cursed machine would have ground to a halt! If...if...We didn't love freedom enough. And even more – we had no awareness of the real situation.... We purely and simply deserved everything that happened afterward."

- Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, The Gulag Archipelago 1918-1956

But now you do have awareness of the real situation. Now you do understand the jewish threat. Will you one day also be fuming in the camps, thinking, 'What would things have been like if we had not simply sat in our homes, but had instead chose to fight back with the realization that we have nothing left to lose...'

They told you that we were monsters

We were the last warriors who fought the satanic jewish banking cartel that rules you today

Hitler failed only because he could not reach the Aryan world with radio, and this allowed the Aryans across the globe to be deceived into fighting the one man who was on their side. But now we have the internet. No more brother-wars. No more can we allow Aryan to battle Aryan at the behest of the jew. Let us unite together in Truth, shoulder to shoulder, heart to heart, and hand on hilt.

Let us once and for all, put an end to the jewish lies.

Jewish insider confesses the fear to lose the Jewish grip on America

"Our greatest fear is that this falsehood will be discovered, for we will be stamped out the moment the general public comes into possession of the truth and acts upon it... We had hoped that through our devastation of Christian Germany that any subject dealing with us would be a fearful taboo... We know that when the light begins to dawn, there will be no stopping it. All efforts on our part will only intensify that light and draw focus upon it. This nation could never be the land of the free as long as it is the land of the Jew. American people have been easily ruled through our propaganda that the pen is mightier than the sword... If the Aryan would review history and apply those lessons of the past, then the pen will be thrown down in disgust and the sword wielded in the heat of passion... Thus far, we have escaped the sword... Their pen is no match for ours, but our constant fear is that they may open their eyes and learn that no change was ever brought about with a pen... We will never be deposed with words, only force!"

Harold Rosenthal, Jewish Administrative Aide to Congressman Jacob Javits, 1976
